City Methodists Start New Church Sked

With Church School sessions at 9 and 11:15 this Sunday morning, Methodists in Tecumseh begin a new venture.

This development comes after a year of study by the commission on education with David Dick as chairman.

The purpose is to serve more people with the same space in a more personal and satisfactory way.

In announcing this development Herbert Simpson, Church School superintendent, states that the staff has been nearly doubled in one year to provide for this expansion.

"A special training class was conducted for six weeks last spring to train many of these new teachers," he added.

The nine o'clock session will have classes for nursery through the sixth grade plus one adult class.

The 11:15 Church School will have a full range of classes from nursery through adult classes.

A further part of this expanded program will make use of three rooms in the parsonage for seventh, eighth, and ninth grade classes at 11:15.

During both sessions scholars go directly to their classes, and then participate in a brief closing worship by departments.

Ideal football weather and Tecumseh fans are as enthusiastic as ever. Even the girls are getting into the act and miking it easier for mom, pop and all the kids to get away early Friday evening.

At the Methodist Church the Girl Scout Leaders and their assistants will be serving a cafeteria style dinner before the game, in fact they will begin dishing up bar-b-ques, baked beans and home made desserts at 4:30 p.m.

The serving will continue until everyone is satisfied or until everything is sold out completely.

This seems a delightful way to prepare for the contest between Tecumseh and Lincoln gridders.

This requires a little thought. Do you know that our real estate office is the only licensed real estate office in Tecumseh that makes all their living only from the sale of real estate. We have no sidelines. Real Estate is not a sideline with us! We can not produce sales for the seller that have unrealistic prices on their properties, but deriving our entire living from the sale of real estate, you realize we must make a great deal of sales. When you list or buy property to get the job done best, be sure and use the only licensed real estate office in Tecumseh that has no sidelines.

OUR SALUTE TO A GREAT INDUSTRY ON ITS TWENTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY

A 56-page special edition honoring Tecumseh Products

On October 20, 1959, the Tecumseh Products Co. will celebrate its 25th year in this city. The Herald has prepared a 56-page special section, which will be issued with our regular edition October 15.

Among the many features:

- A story that relates what was happening in the state, nation and world that October, 25 years ago. Illustrating it are five pictures from the files of The Detroit News, all taken during that era.
- An 8,400-word history of the Products, from the time it started operations in Tecumseh in 1934 to the present.
- Achievements of the firm during World War II.
- Story of the TP Broadcast, popular employee publication, first issued in 1941.

fresh point of view...from Pontiac!

Another fresh one from Pontiac!

The inspired beauty of perfect proportion!

The precision control of Wide-Track Wheel Design!

The softer ride of supple suspension!

The wide choice of vigorous Tempest V-8 Engines tailored to economy or high performance!

The car craftsmen who developed Wide-Track Wheels, the innovation that brought a new standard of roadability to the American passenger car, present another fresh original for 1960!

With clean, crisp lines they've composed a delightful rightness of form with unity and rhythm.

Into the proved principle of Wide-Track (wheels farther apart for a steadier stance) they've engineered an ingeniously improved suspension system. This combination of a firm foundation and supple suspension gives you flawless control, more skill in the fine art of driving, smooth stability, bump-yielding softness.

The power plant is typically Pontiac. A wide range of restless, ground-gaining power packages to choose from. All are husky V-8's, ranging from the frugal 425E economy engine that prefers regular grade gasoline to the fiery Tempest 425.

Haven't you been an admiring spectator of Pontiacs long enough? Isn't this your year to become a participant in Pontiac pleasure, to move up to Pontiac ownership, where the enjoyment is the fullest, where the point of view is the freshest?

Wide-Track Wheels give you swayless stability, solid comfort. You maneuver with skillful sureness, accurate control. It's the sweetest, most precise, most rewarding driving you've ever felt.

COME ONE, COME ALL

"Come One, Come All." This invitation coming over a P.A. system, carefully adjusted to be effective without blaring, ended an announcement pertaining to the last performance that day of the chimpanzee show.

We were not especially interested in the chimps, but these four words stood out. They seemed a most appropriate, a most fitting motto.

We were at the Zoo, more correctly the Detroit Zoological Park, and here indeed, they have something for everyone. It is a true "come one, come all" place.

The Detroit Zoo, Ten Mile Rd. and Lafayette Ave., is no more than a two-hour drive from Tecumseh. We are fortunate in living so close to one of the best zoos in the world.

This is no exaggeration you know, it does rank high. This is not, however, going to be a detailed description of what the Zoo has—go see for yourself.

The Zoo is open until the first Sunday in November and we think that at this time of year it can be seen at its grand and glorious best.

GOING THROUGH the main entrance, the first sizeable body of water encountered is Island Lake.

Never before have we seen this so busy and active. In fact, so much was going on, we nearly got no further. Lovely white mute swans were peacefully gliding about the middle of the lake, perfect pictures of majestic elegance.

The black swans, apparently feeling their dignity would not suffer from a little free-loading, were being coaxed right up to the protecting fence.

Actually the white swans, in being aloof, were the smartest, because, when seen at close range, the black swans lost a bit of their slick smoothness.

I shan't even attempt to list the many many kinds of ducks which splashed and played in this lake. To be absolutely truthful, I will probably be two weeks in the bird books just trying to sort them out.

Some, of course, were quite drab and dull looking, but others flaunted the most brilliant colors and such wild combinations.

WE LAUGHED at one small duck who was having a terrible time. He was taking a most thorough bath and trying to do an extra special preening job when suddenly he encountered trouble with his snowy white breast feathers.

Twisting and turning, splashing and ducking, he finally rolled over almost on his back and this way, that soft white tummy facing up and his little webbed feet look ridiculously out of place, went to work.

Another duck afforded some laughs too. A nondescript brown little character, he was for some reason trailing after the biggest and showiest of all the swans. Such a contrast in looks, color, everything.

So effortlessly did the swan swim that we did not realize his speed until we noticed how frantically the duck had to paddle to keep up. We are still wondering why he made such a great effort.

SHARING THIS spotlight with a herd of sad-eyed llamas were some interesting, but awkward, storks. One especially ungainly fellow gave dad a rough time and finally, we left without a much wanted picture.

A shame too, because it would have been a marvelous shot. The stork had just come out of the little stream, which ran through the exhibit, and was standing on the shore, his wings stretched out and opened wide to dry them in the warm afternoon sun.

His wing span was tremendous and I suppose it was a hard position to hold for long—either that, or he was intentionally being difficult. Whatever the reason, dad would have the camera all set, just ready to pop the shutter and Mr. Stork would move. Over and over it happened—most frustrating.

The hippos were another camera frustration. Two of these big animal-tanks were sunning themselves and what fantastic creatures they are.

Mom and I had gone ahead of dad and while waiting for him to catch up, we were remarking about their absolute grotesqueness, when the biggest one raised his gigantic head and yawned. What a sight, what a mouth, what a picture.

The camera was with dad, however, so no picture.

ONE OF THE great attractions of the Detroit Zoo, to our way of thinking at least, is the feeling it gives of being close to the animals.

One, of course, is not hand-shaking-close, but the placing of animals in natural surroundings and using moats, and water barriers instead of bars, gives the illusion of closeness.

One notable exception to this is the giraffes. Four of them, a family group, are penned into the far end of a large area, similar to the kind used to house deer, antelope, etc.

They are intentionally kept far from the public for good reasons. Their highly specialized diet does definitely not include the well intentionally hand-outs of peanuts, crackers and potato chips.

In fact, until this was discovered, giraffes were thought to be hard animals to keep. Now their specific needs are known and catered to, they are proving to be successful exhibits everywhere.

The Detroit group, four Masai giraffes are magnificent creatures and their tremendous size makes viewing, even from a distance, an exciting, thrilling thing.

But here we are, just as at the Zoo, there is never enough time for everything, even the barest outline of our afternoon there will have to be continued next week.

If, in the meantime, the weather is good, why don't you take the trip? Remember, it's "Come One, Come All!"

Band Boosters Again Elect Mrs. Wright

Mrs. Curtis Wright was re-elected president of the Band Boosters Club Thursday evening when about 18 were in attendance at the meeting.

Other officers are:

Vice-president — Mrs. Donald Beevers.

Secretary — Mrs. E. S. Oyer.

Treasurer — Keith Barron.

Reporter — Mrs. John Surratt.

Tag days will be Oct. 30 and 31 and the Band Festival will be held Oct. 20.

A. Steketee from Holland spoke on fire-proofing Christmas trees and told about twelfth night burning of the greens in Holland.

He said the trees had been so well fire-proofed that they simply did not burn for the festivity and had to be hauled away in trucks.

Members decided to sell the fire proofing package beginning Dec. 1. James Harris, assistant band director, was introduced.

Cookies and coffee were served by the officers.

Bill Wright returned Thursday evening from spending two weeks in Denver, Colorado where he accompanied his daughter, Sarah, to college.

Scout Leaders Hold Barbarcue Before Game

Tecumseh Girl Scout leaders and co-leaders plan a pre-game barbecue at the Methodist church Friday, Oct. 2.

The public dinner will be served before the Ypsilanti Lincoln—Tecumseh game.

Serving will begin at 4:30 p.m. and continue until all are served. Proceeds will be turned over to the treasurer of the Tecumseh Girl Scout Association.

Mrs. Robert Rumpf is chairman of the money-making project assisted by Mrs. Ben Hammack, Jr., Mrs. Robert Wood and Mrs. Frank Robinette.

The food will be donated by the mothers, leaders and committee-women so that the proceeds can all go to the treasury.

Tuna and noodle casserole, as well as baked beans, potato salad and homemade pies and cakes will also be on the cafeteria menu.

About 75 attended the Round-Up held Saturday at the Judson-Collins Methodist Camp at Wamplers Lake which was arranged by Mrs. Truman Rentchler, program planning leader.

Thirty troops have thus far been registered as a result of the days outing with cook-out, hikes, games and singing.

Mrs. Wilson Reviews Book for Guild

Mrs. M. W. Wilson reviewed the book, "Garden-Craft in the Bible", for members of the St. Peter's Guild Thursday at the Parish House.

It was written by Eleanor Sinclair Rohde.

Mrs. John Keeney conducted the worship. Mrs. Herbert Newman and Mrs. C. B. Brock were the hostesses.

During the business session, the announcement of the Southwest Convocation, to be held Oct. 6, was made.

Plans were made for a supper and bazaar to be held Nov. 5 sponsored by the Episcopal Church women.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Lloyd Rhein were appointed by the president to the standing committee for the supper.

The members voted to cooperate with the other Guilds of the church in furnishing milk for the Youth Fellowship.

Elegant Impala 4-Door Sport Sedan—one of 16 spanking new Chevrolets you can choose from.

THE SUPERLATIVE '60 CHEVY

This is the one that says '60 like no other car. From its clean-thrusting grille to its dapper rear deck, there's so much that is new and different about this superlative Chevrolet it stands out from the rest like a fresh-minted coin. And you'll be just as wide-eyed over what's inside—the relaxing roominess, tasteful trim, hushed elegance, all comfortably cradled by Full Coil springs at all four wheels. Yet, sumptuous as this new Chevy is, you'll find new economy of operation, new dependability, new longer life. Here, then, we're confident both you and your budget will joyously agree, is the nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came!

Here's the car that introduces a whole new decade of design—with so much that's new and different the other ones can only hope to come close.

It's the superlative '60 Chevrolet—with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, new splendor in every clean-etched line.

Freshly shaped contours rake back from the unified new grille to the jaunty rear deck, fitted with craftsmanship you'd expect only on the most expensive makes. Inside, there's room to sprawl in, room to sit tall in—generously provided by Chevy's sofa-wide seats and extra margin of hat space. And there's even more leg room for the man in the middle—thanks to the way Chevrolet engineers have shaved down the transmission tunnel.

Out on the road, as Chevy's Full Coil ride will persuade you most gently, there's not a car near the price that comes close to the hushed comfort of this one. And, adding to your sense of silence and solidity are thicker, newly designed rubber body mounts that do an even more efficient job of filtering out road shock, tire hum and vibration.

Quiet, quick-responding power is provided by a choice of two standard engines—Chevy's famed Hi-Thrift 6 and a new Economy Turbo-Fire V8 that gets up to 10% more miles out of a gallon of regular while delivering greater engine torque at normal speeds.

Chevy's accent on comfort and convenience even extends back to its easier-to-load (and tremendous) luggage compartment. You'll also find a convenient new parking brake that automatically returns to normal height after application, a new clutch linkage that filters out even the smallest engine impulses more effectively than ever and a trim new two-toning motif that's available on all 16 fresh-minted models.

But, impressive as all this may look in print, there's really only one way to tell how near to perfection this superlative '60 Chevrolet actually comes . . . and that's to drop in on your dealer and drive one!

Dress Should Have Style

A new dress should have style and the fabric should feel good. That's what homemakers said in a recent survey, reports Bernetta Kahabka, clothing specialist at Michigan State University.

"Will it wrinkle?" is one big question that concerns a homemaker when she buys a new dress.

She expects a more expensive dress to hold its shape better, last longer, and not wrinkle as much as a cheaper one. Better workmanship and style are associated with higher price.

When shopping for a street or work dress, the homemaker is practical. She wants to know how the garment will wash or clean and if it will shrink. For a party dress, however, color and style are first considerations.

The homemaker is generally pleased with the last dress she purchased—no matter what the material or price. She has least fault to find with cotton, and votes it the most versatile fiber.

Clothing choices vary with the age of the homemaker and the money she has to spend. For instance, wool is more often chosen by the young woman with less money to spend. Cotton is widely used by all groups.

The younger, upper-income woman likes to wear skirts, slacks and shorts, so cotton housedresses are not important in her wardrobe.

Miss Kahabka says the homemaker is usually pleased with fabric quality she finds on the market — if manufacturers would just solve the problem of wrinkles.

A strong family resemblance between the all-new Corvair and Chevrolet's conventional line of passenger cars for 1960 is evident in this unusual profile view. At 180 inches, however, the Corvair is more than two and one-half feet shorter, while its 108-inch wheelbase compares with 119 on the Impala Sport Sedan with which it appears.

Elegance and chassis refinements characterize the larger Chevrolets in an offering of 16 passenger models. The Corvair introduces an array of compact mechanical innovations designed to provide the riding and driving qualities demanded by the American buyer. The Corvair and conventional model will be in dealer showrooms Oct. 2.

CORMORANT'S BROOD
Inglis Fletcher

Beneath the peaceful surface in North Carolina in 1725, a profound discontent is stirring. The colonists are beginning to look for the reality of the justice and independence promised by their constitution. They are weary of the "cormorant's brood" of greedy, irresponsible governors who have been sent to rule them. Such is the situation when the Flying Fish puts into port and two young men, strangers to Edenton, come ashore.

YES, MY DARLING DAUGHTERS
David Duncan

His name is Ben Archer. He lives in Hollywood, where he writes low-budget science fiction thrillers for the movies. He is the browbeaten, baffled father of three daughters. And he is the hero of this delightful new novel about a man's unending struggle to remain master in his own home.

WHEN THE SHIP SANK
James MacGregor

This is a novel of breath-taking tension and drama, a story which compresses into its pages all the horror and tragedy of a disaster at sea. It is a saga about ordinary and extraordinary people and their reations to disaster.

THE SOUTH WIND BLEW SOFTLY
Ruth Livingston Hill

A young girl goes to Florida to claim an inheritance and wins a legacy of happiness. This is a wholesome story of action, inspiration and romance.

CONQUERING HORSE
Frederick Manfred

The hero of this novel, a young Sioux Indian, had gone so long without a vision that he was becoming known as No Name. His feats in battle on behalf of his tribe go anonymous; he cannot have the woman he loves and who loves him. But he finally goes on a lone pilgrimage that is also thrilling adventure in which his life and manhood are at stake.

Water Demand by 1975 Will Double Today's

John Kopka, Tecumseh water superintendent, was among the 200 utility leaders who participated in the annual three-day meeting of the Michigan Section of the American Water Works Association in Saginaw last week.

A keynote of the technical sessions was the recognition of the vital need for advance planning by communities to assure adequate supplies of good water for the future.

Officials joined in warning Michigan water utility men that the water industry must expand facilities at the rate of a billion dollars a year to meet expected doubled demands for water by 1975.

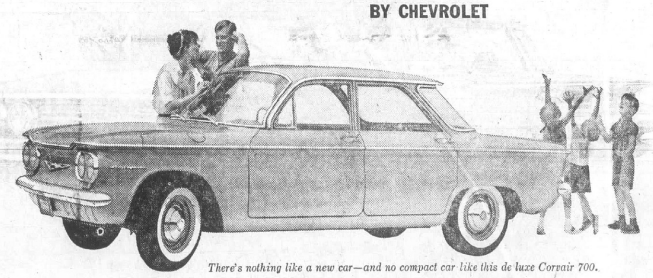
QUIET REVOLUTION! ON DISPLAY FRIDAY! HOORAY! SMALL WONDER!

THE REVOLUTIONARY
Corvair
BY CHEVROLET



There's nothing like a new car—and no compact car like this de luxe Corvair 700.

Here's the car created to conquer a new field—Chevrolet's low-priced compact Corvair.

The product of nine years of research and development at the auto industry's most advanced facilities, it's America's first truly compact, economical car that retains the ride and 6-passenger comfort you're used to in a big one.

The key to this small miracle: America's first and only modern rear-mounted aluminum engine—a lightweight 6 that's so revolutionary it can be packaged with the transmission and drive gears as one compact unit.

By putting the engine in the rear, Chevrolet has made the floor practically flat, front and rear. There's plenty of foot room for everybody, including the passengers in the middle.

Shifting engine weight to the rear also makes for smoother, easier compact car handling and gives glued-to-the-road traction on ice, mud or snow.

Corvair's size—some 5 inches lower, 2½ feet shorter and 1,300 pounds lighter than conventional sedans—makes it a joy to jockey through busy streets, a pleasure to park (no need for power assists). Its revolutionary Turbo-Air 6 gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon of regular (a real magician on mileage). And, because the engine's air-cooled, you never have to fuss with antifreeze, you get quicker warmup with less wear on parts even on the coldest mornings (even heat for passengers comes quicker—almost instantly—from an airplane-type heater*).

Yet, wonderfully practical as all this sounds, you'll find the most practical thing of all about this new Corvair is its remarkably low price. Your dealer's the man to see for all the short, sweet details.

America's only car with an airplane-type horizontal engine! America's only car with independent suspension at all 4 wheels! America's only car with an air-cooled aluminum engine!

The engine's in the rear where it belongs in a compact car!

REVOLUTIONARY TURBO-AIR 6
Gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon, needs no antifreeze, provides quicker warmup with less wear on parts.

ONE-PACKAGE POWER TEAM
Wraps rear engine, transmission and differential together into one compact lightweight unit. Takes less room, leaves you more.

STYLING—PURE AND SIMPLE
Clean, uncluttered lines shape both 4-door models—the de luxe Corvair 700 and the standard Corvair. Each has its own distinctive trim, and you get more visibility area than in many full-sized cars.

FOLD-DOWN REAR SEAT*
Works easily, instantly, adding to Corvair's versatility by enlarging rear seat cargo space to 17.6 cu. ft.

FLAT FLOOR
Corvair is America's only compact car with a practically flat floor, the only one with the kind of relaxing room that U.S. motorists are used to.

UNISTRUT BODY BY FISHER
Does away with conventional frame, incorporating all structure into a rigid body-frame unit that gives you more inside room with less weight.

UNDER-HOOD LUGGAGE COMPARTMENT
Trunk's up front (like an elephant's) where it's convenient for groceries, luggage.

4-WHEEL INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION
There's no conventional axle—front or rear. Wheels, cushioned by coil springs, take bumps independently of each other, for smooth, road-hugging ride.

What do you mean, "armamentarium?"

Sometimes physicians forget and talk their own language. Greek to most people. Now, about the mouthful above, ever hear something like this from your doctor? ". . . drawing on our present armamentarium to treat you . . ." Actually, "armamentarium" is just a doctor's word for the array of treatments and medications at his disposal. When it comes to drugs, this armamentarium is something. Thousands and thousands, literally. All are readily available in this pharmacy to help preserve your health when needed—a public service which we are pleased to render.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The divine source of all true power will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

"How can I save time at your tellers' windows?"

Here are a few suggestions which may prove helpful. If possible, avoid the peak periods of customer service at our tellers' windows: The latter part of the day (indeed, from 11:30 A.M. on); the latter part of the week; the fifteenth day and the last day of the month, and the day following a holiday. And finally—but by no means least—try banking by mail with us. That way, you can always go right to the head of the line!

TRAVELING TECUMSEHITE—Daniel A. Smith of Tecumseh is one of 20 high school teachers from Michigan State University making lecture-demonstrations to prep students with special equipment all over the state.

Seven-State Area

Twenty top high school science teachers fanned out from Michigan State University Monday to work a seven-state area.

Traveling in station wagons, these teachers are ready with the latest in scientific information, teaching techniques and instructional equipment.

They will show students that science can be interesting as they talk with other teachers and administrators about ways to improve science courses.

The teachers, who are on a year's leave of absence from their high schools, were chosen for the program last spring.

On Sept. 18 they completed a 14-week course at Michigan State in which they heard lectures from eminent scientists, supplemented their own extensive know-how with new science and science-teaching information and planned their lectures.

The traveling science teacher program, sponsored by a National Science Foundation grant of $349,700, is being conducted by the MSU Science and Mathematics Teaching Center for schools in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Jerrold W. Maben, program coordinator, estimates that the teachers will be able to visit between 500 and 600 of the 1,600 high schools in the area which have requested the service during the 1959-60 school year.

Other centers for the NSF program are at the Oak Ridge Institute for Nuclear Studies, University of Oregon and Oklahoma State University.

The traveling teachers include Daniel E. Smith, 1106 Murray Dr. son of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Smith.

He is a chemistry and biology teacher at Northwest High School, Jackson, where he set up the general science, biology and chemistry departments.

Smith holds the bachelor of Science degree from Bluffton College and the Master of arts degree from Michigan State University.

Returns to U.S. After 4 Months in Artic Waters

BOSTON — Navy Cdr. William H. Reinhardt, son of Mrs. Irene J. Reinhardt of Tecumseh, and husband of the former Jan Finkler of Brooklyn, N.Y. returned here Sept. 22, aboard the icebreaker USS Atka, after operating for nearly four months in Arctic waters in the North Atlantic.

The Atka travelled both the east and west coasts of Greenland, participating in the Military Sea Transportation Service's annual resupply of northern bases.

Off the west coast the icebreaker's crew installed a radio responder beacon on Cruncher Island which will aid shipping in and out of the foggy area, and, to the north, supported shipping into the U.S. Air Force Base at Thule. South around Cape Farvel and then north to Kulusuk on the east coast, the ship escorted MSTS shipping and rescued the crew of an ice-bound vessel.

Combating the worst East Greenland ice conditions in 50 years, the icebreaker encountered a heavy pack which sheared a propeller blade, ruptured a fuel tank and threatened to ground her in shallow water.

Following repairs the Atka continued her support in seeking emergency landing sites and then left the frozen area for Boston, Sept. 4.

"RIPE AGE GIVES TONE TO VIOLINS, WINE AND GOOD FELLOWS"

The odds are that almost everyone living today is going to live a longer life than was expected at birth. Extra years are being added because of greater medical knowledge and better medicines. How long you are going to live and how well you are going to enjoy those added years depends greatly on yourself.

You can grow older happily if you take proper care of yourself and help your body overcome some of its enemies. Your physician can prescribe potent vitamins for additional energy; hormones when needed and medicines that can help your heart and other organs to resist aging. Regular visits to your physician and following his advice will give a mellow tone to your later years.

Exciting Era Opens for Community

By TOM RIORDAN

An exciting new era is opening in Tecumseh.

It is the beginning of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, which will provide for all the usual charties and items on the former Community Chest agenda—and help build new facilities for the city.

The Foundations is being administered by a nine-person Board of Trustees, all of whom were members of the local chest group.

Their primary job at present is to conduct the 1959 drive for funds, which opens Oct. 19 and will provide monies for the Red Cross, Salvation Army, local Boy and Girl Scout programs, holiday parties and Tecumseh's summer recreation program, among others.

An open meeting to discuss the drive is being held Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the council room at city hall.

"We'd like to have as many citizens on hand as possible," Trustee president Vern Manwaring said.

There will be time for questions and answers about the drive and the proposed civic center.

Portions of funds collected later this month will also go into the Michigan United Fund, to be distributed to national and state charities.

The balance of the donations will be placed in a special building fund. Its probable first objective: a civic center.

Charity budget for 1960 tops $20,600.

If the community and industrial giving this fall matches last year — more than $50,000—this could mean $30,000 into the civic center building fund.

Within two or three years there would be enough to break ground for the structure, which could provide a city auditorium, youth center.

The Foundation is a solidly established organization. It has certification of tax exemption from the Treasury Department and bylaws which conform to state and national statutes.

Its trustees will each serve on a three-year basis. Careful planning provides a nominating committee, to be made up of presidents from service clubs and civic organizations in the city.

First election of officers will be in January. At that time three trustees will be chosen for three years, two boardmen for two years and three for one year.

The trustees in turn will appoint a special committee to make plans for the civic center.

The nominating committee will be announced at Tuesday's gathering.

Score another good deed for the Highways Sportsmen Club.

Mrs. David Mack, 5340 Monroe Rd., parked near a local grocery store recently, went in to make her purchase and when she came out found that a tire on her was flat.

A member of the club, Bod Morley, saw her difficulty and immediately changed the tire for her.

When Mrs. Mack offered to pay, he said "no", just say something nice about the Highway Sportsmen, which she was most happy to do.

Bill Davis of the Jiffy company here was treading on Cloud Nine following several days in New York at the national hardware convention.

Bill, was accompanied by his sales manager Bob Williamson and David McKenzie.

They were in Gotham to show off the Motorized Roller Skate, which Jiffy is licensed to distribute nationally.

The junket was a howling success.

Dave put the rig on, buzzed down Fifth Ave., causing a traffic jam that lasted almost 30 minutes.

A policeman, who finally had to break up the act, told Bill there must have been 5,000 and 6,000 watching the impromtu exhibition.

"I hate to spoil your fun," the cop said, "but you'll have to find a place less congested and less likely to cause an accident."

The rig was supposed to appear on the Jack Parr show, but Jack was out of town and so the "Tonight" producer slipped into the motorized unit and had a film made, which will be shown to Mr. Parr.

This will likely be on sometime after Oct. 8, if Jack decides he'd like it.

Another TV show, "What's My Secret", MCed by Gary Moore is also interested in showing the Motorized Skate and would probably have some well-known personality zoom around the stage in the skate.

All of which makes Messers Dave and Williamson most happy.

Already well stocked with orders, the Jiffy firm is looking into the future with great optimism and dreams of expansion next spring.

City Getting New Lights Downtown

By JIM LINCOLN

New mercury-vapor street lights for downtown Tecumseh were approved Monday night by Council.

The lights, to be installed by Consumer Power, will be much brighter than the present ones and are expected to give Tecumseh one of the brightest nighttime business sections in this area.

Don Murphy, Chamber secretary who has been pushing for the lights, said the increase in cost of operations would be taken care of by a local sponsor until the next budget year, starting July 1, 1960.

The additional operation cost is approximately $1,254 a year, Consumer Power will buy and install the lights. The present poles will be used plus new steel extension brackets.

Time for installation will be determined largely upon when the brackets can be acquired.

The present steel strike is expected to delay installation.

A STATEMENT TO THE CITIZENS OF THE TECUMSEH COMMUNITY

TECUMSEH COMMUNITY FUND FOUNDATION

For years, the Tecumseh Community Chest has been operated by a group of local citizens who have done a very outstanding job for charitable and worthy causes.

Last year, it was agreed to join the Lenawee County United Fund organization for one year to see the results and benefits by joining.

During the course of the past year, various meetings were held with the present board and interested citizens to discuss the possibility and adviability of carrying our own Fund and at the same time to help in the county drive and in the state drive.

After many open discussions, it was decided to form our own organization to take care of our own needs with possibilities in the future of benefiting all ciitzens in the Tecumseh area.

Therefore it was decided that we should go independnt and work with an organization to operate as follows:

Through the cooperation of ottorneys the present Board of Directors drafted bylaws and articles of incorporation and applied to the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission on May 26, 1959. This was approved and granted on June 18, 1959, signed by Laurence Gubow, Commissioner.

This document is now among records of the new Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

It was then planned, with the help of attorneys, to file with the U. S. Treasury Department, for its approval, an application for consideration of granting tax exemption. On August 26, 1959, we were granted that approval, signed by R. I. Nixon, District Director and now also in the records of the organization.

By the Corporation approval and by the U. S. Treasury Department approval, we now have the organization under the jurisdiction of both the State laws and the Federal laws. The reason for this safety was to be sure that all monies given to this Fund will be tax exempt.

Also, there are many people who make out wills and have no way of leaving their legacy to the benefit of the citizens of Tecumseh and by having these approvals, the door is open for all citizens to do something for the future growth of Tecumseh.

The present Board of Trustees has taken every step possible for protection and safety of the monies given to these annual drives. When citizens give donations to this drive, they have accepted a membership of this community and when projects are brought forward in years to come, they will have a voice in expressing what the surplus monies are to be used for.

This group of local citizens, who make up the Board of Trustees of this Fund, are there to protect your monies, the future of the City of Tecumseh and all projects as they mature.

What are some of these projects that the City of Tecumseh and the surrounding community should look forward to? Here are just a few that are needed:

1. A Civic Center. It could be used for high school graduations, for our teenagers, church conventions and other conventions, civic dinner parties, programs during the winter months to provide entertainment to the public, etc.

2. A new Library–Our present library was built approximately 35 years ago when the City of Tecumseh was small. Today a new library is needed badly.

3. A playground area for the southwest section of Tecumseh.

4. Improvements to the athletic field for the benefit of all citizens, and especially for the boys and girls during summer vacations.

5. A public park for picnic grounds and the benefit of all citizens.

Your Board feels there are lots of other objectives that could be planned for in years to come with the surplus monies over and above the Community Fund items. Each one of you will have an opportunity to present different ideas for consideration of this Board of fine people.

In closing, the above information is given to all the citizens to let you know what this Board of Trustees has worked out. The people of Tecumseh should stand behind this Board of Directors.

Next week, in this paper will be another statement outlining the different items included in the 1960 Tecumseh Community Fund budget.

She married Mr. Lewis March 20, 1946, at Whiteford Center.

She was a member of the Evangelical United Brethren church at Silica, O.

Besides her husband and parents, Mrs. Lewis is survived by a daughter, Nancy, 12; two sons, Stanley, 10, and Dennis, 8; a brother, John Fillion of Toledo, and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Austin, also of Toledo.

The Rev. Alvin Brazee will officiate and burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

PAULINE E. MATTIS

Funeral services were Tuesday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home for Mrs. Pauline E. Mattis who passed away Sunday at the Bixby Hospital in Adrian.

Mrs. Mattis operated a catering service in Tecumseh for at least 40 years beginning in 1903.

Mrs. Mattis was born in Columbus, O. Sept. 14, 1872 the daughter of John E. and Dorothy Bush.

Her husband, Charles W. Mattis, preceded her in death in 1942. She is survived only by nieces and nephews.

Tecumseh residents appreciated Mrs. Mattis excellent catering service and a quote from Clara Waldron's column, "Is That So" written in 1955 expresses it thus:

"Officially of course she was Mrs. Charles Mattis, but even 50 years ago few knew her as such. To all of Tecumseh she was Polly Mattis though only a favored few addressed her as such.

"She was Tecumseh's cateress, the arbiter of its social events.

"She reigned supreme in the local kitchens and helped to make possible what has been referred to as "the age of gracious living."

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated at the service and burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Accept Rural Civil Defense

A civil defense official urges farmers to accept "rural civil defense as a vital part of farm safety in this nuclear age."

The speaker: Leo A. Hoegh, civil and defense mobilization director. He said fallout from unclear attack on key military, metropolitan and industrial centers could cover hundreds of thousands of square miles of the U.S.

"Every farm family," Mr. Hoegh said, "no matter how remote it may be from a target, should build a shelter and stock it properly.

"This means providing a two-week supply of food and water, a battery radio, a first-aid kit, flashlights, bedding and other items essential to your survival."

Mr. Hoegh added:

"This nation cannot survive and recover from attack without its farmers. Rural America has always carried a heavy burden in times of national emergencies.

"In this nuclear age, it is more important than ever before."

He emphasized that fallout can be controlled by taking protective measures.

"It need not kill. It is up to you to take action. Nobody can do it for you, any more than they can ship you a packaged civil defense from a factory," Mr. Hoegh said.

Help World Needy

Tecumseh youngsters will ring door bells Thursday, Oct. 29 between the hours of 6:30 and 8 p.m. with the UNICEF canisters this year.

It was decided to schedule the collection early, in order not to conflict with local plans for Halloween festivities.

The decision was made at a committee meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Bonner recently.

Mrs. Bonner is chairman of the annual United Nation's Children's Fund Drive to raise money to help the underprivileged children of the world.

The fund is used for food, medicines and educational material to alleviate hunger, disease and ignorance.

The children soliciting funds will be driven by ladies of the Methodist, Presbyterian and St. Elizabeth's churches.

After the drive they will be entertained at the Methodist Church by a committee with Mrs. Aden Mead, Mrs. Carlos Jones and Mrs. Lenore West as chairman.

Mrs. Bonner announced the following committees:

Distribution—Mrs. John Hamilton, Mrs. R. C. Osburn, Mrs. John Quigley.

Route planning — Mrs. Carroll Sprague.

Publicity—Mrs. R. J. Murray.

The theme of the campaign is "The Trick is to Treat all the World's Children."

"Lassie", popular TV show, will dedicate its program the last week in October to this worthy cause sponsored by the United Nations in New York.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

We were selling refreshments at the game Friday night. By the time we got over to the Ypsi-Lincoln bleachers, the pop was not as cold as it might have been.

At that point, the score was already heavily in our favor. We sold our last few bottles to a family group.

The woman tasted hers and said, "You've not only got a hot team but you've got hot pop."

We sure did have a hot team. We won 45-0.

The cheerleaders presented an amusing pep meeting Friday before the game.

They based it on different dances that they had learned during the summer. Jeanie Hohenstein announced the dances and the names of the teachers that coached them.

Janet Murphy appeared as a ballerina in a pale blue costume.

A typical hula girl was portrayed by Mary Colgrove in grass skirt, print blouse and numerous flowers.

An Irish jig was ably danced by Vicky Baughey, who was dressed in a short plaid skirt with a tam o' shanter.

Suzie Owen dressed in royal blue leotards and skirt did an exotic modern dance.

In black face, Kendra Ringman made a fetching cannibal, who danced to bongo drums.

The junior class is working hard to beat last year's record of over $6,000 on the annual magazine sale.

GAA met Monday evening at 7 p.m.

The second meeting of the Spanish Club will be held Tuesday in the Spanish room at 7 o'clock. The rest of the officers will be elected and the whole meeting will be conducted in Spanish.

The Future Homemakers of America met Wednesday.

School will be closed on Thursday and Friday of this week due to Teachers' Institute.

The Tecumseh High School marching band will travel to Ann Arbor Saturday for the annual Band Day.

Individual pictures of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes will be taken on Oct. 13 by Mr. Dixon of Dixon Studios of Tecumseh.

There will be an assembly Oct. 15 at 9:45. Judge Kuney of the Probate Court will be the speaker.

The Teen Club held a free dance for all those with '59-'60 membership cards. Free refreshments were also served. Now that the membership drive is over, all memberships cost $1.25.

The Student Council meeting of Oct. 2 was called to order by the president, Mike Fero.

It was decided to charge a nickel for programs for the football games and a nickel for the hat check at the after-game dances.

The committees for Homecoming will have chairmen from the Council, but the rest of the members will be chosen at large from the school.

There will be two groups of prizes for floats: class and club. Prizes for both groups will be $25 for first, and $15 for second. The minimum for expenditure in the floats is $15 a float.

A committee was appointed to look into the possibility of school paper this year.

It was also discussed in the class meetings held Friday. Jon Cook, Jeanie Hohenstein, Linda Dicks, and Mary Ann Mead were chosen respectively for the seniors, juniors, sophmores and freshmen, to bring this up in class meetings.

Dundee Film

Coach Duncan Leetka, and three members of the Tecumseh High School football team treated the Kiwanis members and guests to a movie of last week's Dundee and Tecumseh football game.

Team members were Lee Britton, Steve Kruger and Jim Curth.

Other guests of Kiwanis were W. A. Wilson, Jim Hoffman, Joe Mannino, Tom Riordan.

1959 Pet Parade Will Be Oct. 17

Terrific Line Play Breaks Backs Free as Indians Sparkle

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

BIG NIGHT—It was a big evening for a big lad, Jon Aho, who bulled his way into the end zone twice last Friday. He's about to be brought down here, one of the few times Lincoln stopped Jon, but on most occasions when he carried, THS netted—long gains. On one of his TD sprints, John dragged a would-be tackler about eight yards into the end zone.

By JIM LINCOLN

Coach Dunc Lectka's Indians broke loose last Friday night to completely overwhelm visiting Ypsilanti Lincoln, 45-0.

Terrific blocking and line play turned loose Tecumseh backs for six touchdowns in one of the finest offensive displays by a local team in years.

Not only did the Indians control the pigskin on offense, but a charging line prevented a somewhat vaunted Ypsi aerial game from getting off the ground.

Friday night the Indians travel to Milan for their third league encounter and toughest test to date. Milan is undefeated in three tilts, including a lopsided 33-0 victory over Grosse Isle.

The Detroit suburban school, you'll remember, also knocked off Ypsi Lincoln in convincing fashion only two weeks ago.

TECUMSEH ROUT of Ypsi rolled shortly after the opening whistle.

Fullback Mike Green, taking a handoff from quarterback Steve Kruger, scooted through for 60 yards with the game less than four minutes old.

About two minutes later, Dave Weakly romped 70 yards for a TD with an Ypsi punt.

The Indians actually crossed the goal line three times in the second period, but only two counted.

Green took an Ypsi punt from his 25 for a score, nullified by a clipping penalty, and Dennis Bryan churned 43 yards for a TD, which was cancelled by an illegal motion penalty.

After Bryan's romp, Roger Mead rounded left end for 48 yards and Tecumseh's third score. The Indians were deep in Ypsi territory when the half ended.

SEVEN PLAYS after the second half started, John Aho tallied the first of his TDs from 10 yards out.

Guard Jim Curth added one moments later, picking off an Ypsi pass on the Ypsi 37 and running it back to make the Indians new scoreboard read 32-0.

Bryan made his second TD count in the fourth quarter with a one yard plunge. Aho completed the scoring with a screen pass from Dale Tuckey, good for 30 yards.

EVERY BACK sparkled in the exhibition, especially Weakly, Green and Aho. They had every opportunity to flash their running ability with the best blocking and play turned in by the line this year.

The offensive forward wall led by Jim Curth and Jim Neitling repeatedly opened giant holes. Outstanding defensive lineman, along with Curth and Neitling, was sophomore Tom Simmons.

FRIDAY'S TECUMSEH-MILAN game could well decide the Huron League championship since both teams rest on top with identical 2-0 records.

Milan had one of its greatest teams last year with a nucleus returning for an outstanding team again this season.

Barbecue Nets Leaders $145

Mrs. Frank Robinette reports that the Girl Scout leaders and their assistants served about 150 at their pre-game barbecue Friday evening.

Since the food was all donated, the group cleared $145 which will be placed in the association treasury.

Mrs. Robert Rumpf and her committee are grateful to all those who donated and helped, especially to the public, for making the event so successful.

Mrs. Carl Hawkins, chairman of the Faith Circle conducted the meeting Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Raynor Scudder opened the program by having everyone sing "Bless Be The Tie that Binds", followed by reading the 121st Psalm.

Around City Hall

By MARY SEAGER

We have come to the end of the hottest summer that this area has had for several years.

There are a number of reasons why the city could not build up enough capital to install an iron remover in one of two wells which has a high iron content, explains city manager Ed Nelson.

During the past two years, the content has risen to 1.5 parts per million which is .5 parts higher than polyphosphate can satisfactorily eliminate.

The city had to spend a lot of money to fix two wells that began pumping sand during the hot weather.

A turbine had to be replaced in one well and the screen had to be changed to a finer mesh on the other to strain out the sand.

Daily water pumping hit an all-time high of 3,000,000 gallons. Many taxpayers had high water bills, but this was due to the high consumption of water during the summer.

In the past three years, $220,000 has been spent by the city to improve the water system.

So far $38,474 has been paid off on the principal and interest.

There is $21,000 in the bond and interest reserve fund and $10,000 on replacement reserve.

This makes a total of $69,474 which the city has paid out and had on hand in the three years. This amount was anticipated, however, when the bonds were issued.

The city hopes it will not be necessary to develop any new wells before the bond issue is paid off.

THE CITY water system is now being extended to Tecumseh Acres on Chicago Blvd. and Sunset Rd. The city pays for the extra larger sized pipe when it has to be used to obtain the proper water pressure.

The rest is taken care of by the special assessment .Nevertheless, this construction has cost the city a good deal.

Many of the town's citizens feel that the city is charging high water rates. This is not true as Tecumseh has one of the lowest rates in the state.

Generally, water charges are made up of a readiness-to-serve-charge which is billed for at the minimum amount and a volume charge for anything beyond that.

Some large families use only the minimum amount, but others use 200,000 gallons a year, both winter and summer.

The city has been fortunate because as yet the river water has not been used in the water system. It will not be used as long as the wells hold up, states Mr. Nelson.

VOICE of THE HERALD

A Time to Say 'Thanks'

The staff of The Herald undertook a major project last spring — the printing of an edition which would help celebrate Tecumseh Products' first quarter century.

At times, it appeared an impossibility.

Originally the staff felt an 18 or 24-page section would do the trick.

The estimate was way low — about 32 pages. Luckily things were started in ample time and everything rolled on schedule almost all of the advertising was in type by late June.

Then came the task of putting together editorial and pictorial content. It was an exacting chore, however made most enjoyable by the close cooperation of many Products folks.

Our faithful Duplex press ground out the sections week after week, operated most capably by our equally faithful employees, who sometimes had to put in some awfully long work weeks.

And now the job is almost completely behind us. You'll be getting the special edition with your Herald next week and naturally we hope you'll enjoy it. Comments — pro and con — will be appreciated.

A group of public-spirited citizens has arranged for a Products' appreciation banquet, which will be held Oct. 24. We think this is a wonderful idea and hope that everyone who possibly can will attend.

We can thing of no better time to show the folks at our hometown industry how much we appreciate their being here and thank them for all they've done to help make Tecumseh such a fine city.

A Tremendous Performance

News item: "When's Tecumseh going to turn in a full game?"
Last Week's Herald

The answer to this question came about 48 hours after that edition rolled off the press.

Coach Dune Lectka's charges turned in a tremendous performance—every one of them—as they demolished and demoralized Ypsilanti Lincoln, 45-0.

It was the greatest all-around job turned in by a Tecumseh club in many seasons, certainly the brightest in Coach Lectka's reign here.

The Herald salutes the excellent tutoring by the mentor and his assistant Charley Gross, as well as sparkling play of the Indians.

We'd also like to put in a plug for the spectators, who displayed excellent sportsmanship and not just because we were winning. Tecumseh fans have always acted with mature good sense, applauding outstanding play and seldom if ever stooping to a boo.

A great deal of credit for this is a reflection of our school administration, which teaches and demands the highest caliber of sportsmanship.

This is aided greatly by our cheer leaders, who get as excited as the rest of us, but always are conscious of their main task—to keep the crowd thinking and cheering positively.

Tecumseh Band Plays Saturday at 'M' Stadium

There will be 189 high school bands and a total of 13,500 participants in the 11th annual Band Day at the University of Michigan Stadium Saturday.

Good seats are still available and grade school and high school students will be able to purchase $1 admission tickets at Gates 3 and 9, starting at noon.

Total participants in this year's Band Day will set another record with some 1,500 twirlers in action during the pre-game and 12,000 musicians on the field for the big half-time show.

Don Johnson, Tecumseh High School band director, will be taking his 78-piece THS unit.

Other area schools' participating will be Blissfield, Clinton, Deerfield, Dundee, Manchester, Onsted and Saline.

TURKEY DINNER

A donation turkey supper and Harvest Festival will be held Thursday, Oct. 15, at the Ridgeway Methodist Church. Serving will begin at 5 p.m.

She Makes Gowns for Brides

By DON BAUERLE

Maude Bell's creative hands never seem to rest.

Using the simple tools of her trade—pins, tape measure, shears and treddle sewing machine — and her magic touch, she can transform yards of delicate material into a beautiful creation, a wedding gown.

A young lady, after her engagement has been announced, will call Maude and ask to be placed on her waiting list. Maude said she is booked until April, 1960.

"A girl will usually buy a bride magazine after she is engaged," Maude said. "Then she will come and see me."

MAUDE LETS a girl select her own pattern, if she can. "I won't talk her out of anything. If she picks a heavy material, I hope she swelters."

Then, following no standard pattern, she lays out the materials for the dress and begins to cut it.

"So far this year I have made 60 bridesmaids dresses. I have 15 weddings scheduled for the year," Maude said.

"I've made 200 wedding gowns in 13 years. In 1956, I had 23 weddings. In 1957, I had 19 weddings."

"Even one wedding a month would keep me occupied and happy. I am happy doing what I do. I love it."

Maude said people remember her wherever she goes. Besides Lenawee County and nearby areas, Maude has dressed brides before their weddings in Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Ann Arbor and Flint.

"The girls always seem to be my friends. I meet so many people. That's why I like my work," Maude said.

SHE SAID she creates each dress for each girl. "It is her dress. A dress bought a store is not her dress. It is an impersonal thing," Maude explained.

Maude, 72, who lives at 214 W. Pottawatamie, is well known in Tecumseh. She was born here. Then, in 1913, she and her husband went to Aberdeen, Washington. When he died, she returned here in 1927.

She ran a millienery store in Aberdeen and another in Tecumseh, next to Van's Bakery, for many years. Now, her home is her shop.

If a bride-elect is frustrated about her dress, Maude brings out the "memory books" and points out styles worn by other girls.

One time, Maude recollected, a girl came to her in desperation. She couldn't find a pattern. So Maude, who is ingenious, started to wrap some material around the girl. Then she pinned the material together.

Then the girl asked Maude to call her father, who wanted to see his daughter's gown. She did. Later, after studying the dress, the father turned toward Maude and said:

"Maude, you should have been an engineer."

WHAT'S COOKING IN TECUMSEH

Caterer's Cake

By DOROTHY GRIGG

The cooking column this week features Mrs. Clarence Randolph of 209 N. Wyandotte St. who is well known in Tecumseh for her decorated cakes.

The tiered wedding cake she is completing in the picture was made for the Covell-Crankshaw wedding recently and is only one of a great number that she has decorated for all occasions.

Employees at The Tecumseh Herald office were the recipients of one such lovely confection bearing a spray of sunny yellow roses and an appropriate greeting. It was delicious as well as so pretty to look upon. The roses were even tinged with a tiny blush of pink.

Beautiful!

We are happy that Mrs. Randolph generously gives us her recipe for her caterer's cake which is printed below.

She tells us that she has always been interested in cake making even when a little girl but studied the art of decorating from Mrs. Ormand Socks about 1½ years ago.

Desiring to become even more adept, Mrs. Randolph and Mrs. Socks are planning to attend the Richard Snyder School of Decorating in Detroit this fall.

THE RANDOLPH'S have two children, Joyce 13 years old and Charles is 12. Mr. Randolph owns and operates the Randolph Gulf Service Station.

Mrs. Randolph is a birthright member of the Friends Church and has given freely of her time there teaching classes and leading the children's singing.

She tells us of a near catastrophe which took place when she was embellishing a cake for the wedding anniversary of the Clare Martins. It had already been placed in the church social rooms with a sugar molded Bible open in front of it.

After leaving the room for a few minutes Mrs. Randolph came back to find a corner gone from the Bible. Looking around frantically for the piece so that she might mend the Bible cake she was amused when 2 year old Paula Brantingham spoke up saying, "I eat it."

Luckily Mrs. Randolph had molded an extra Bible.

CATERERS CAKE

Stilbestrol Is Magic Name for Stock Feeding

Cattle feeders are missing possible profits if they aren't using stilbrestol in their fattening rations, according to an animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State University.

The synthetic hormone has shown up very well in recent nutrition research.

"Stilbestrol can be used profitably throughout the fattening period for both steers and heifers," the expert believes. "The level of feeding must be regulated carefully, as stilbestrol is a female sex hormone."

Steers and heifers can grow faster when the hormone is provided them, he says. Breeding animals should never receive it.

Stilbestrol may be implanted at the base of the ear, but side effects are less likely to occur from feeding.

Five milligrams per head per day to steers and heifers under 500 pounds, increasing to 10 milligrams per head daily at 600 to 700 pounds for steers and 700 to 800 pounds for heifers is the recommended rate, says Henderson.

Michigan State has averaged an All-American football player a year since 1935.

There are times in everyone's life when lack of action may result in great harm. When a person is sick and pain, sleeplessness or other annoying symptoms persist, it is time to act quickly to discover the cause and proper cure.

Delaying to consult a physician can often prolong illness. Self treatments usually do not permanently cure the cause of sickness. Let your physician prescribe the medicine his experience and knowledge judges is best for you.

A car with major advances in transmission, suspension, brakes, and engines which are Buick's alone today
A solid, substantial car • A car of superb comfort, quiet, reliability • A car you should drive soon

New comfort, quietness, and quality

Doors that open wider — easier to get in and out. Family-size interior. Seats that are higher, more deeply cushioned, and repositioned to provide more room for feet and legs. Perhaps the quietest running car in America due to Buick's high use of insulation and torque-tube drive. Buick's quality control program comes to a peak in the Turbine Drive Buick '60.

New interior decor and convenience

An entirely new "Mirromagic" instrument panel. It lets the driver see speed, gas gauge, and other necessary readings at a glance in a mirror he tilts to suit his own eye level. And a new exclusive safety option — the Twilight Sentinel*—that turns headlights on automatically at sunset . . . off automatically at sunrise. All-new colors and fabrics. Richer appointments. *At slight extra cost.

Outstanding performance with economy

1. Buick's Exclusive Turbine Drive Transmission† is jet-smooth, responds faster, more economically than ever. No gears ever shift while the car is in motion.

2. Buick's Exclusive Air-Flo Aluminum Drum Brakes—found on no other American car. Fin-cooled drums front and rear for faster cooling. Fast cooling means safer stopping, longer brake life. Slotted wheels pass a current of air from under the car constantly over the brakes for added cooling efficiency. (Wheels are 15" size which gives you up to 1/3 more tire life.)

3. Buick's exclusive Wildcat Engines give high efficiency with high economy. (An optional new LeSabre Engine is designed to give Buick performance on regular grade fuel.)

†Optional at extra cost on LeSabre, standard on Invicta and Electra.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE

Murph Reports

By DON MURPHY
Executive Secretary

Progress on the new press box-concession stand at the high school athletic field is progressing but at a much slower rate than expected.

Weather conditions, material defects, and many other obstacles have massed themselves to slow us down, but the job should be finished in time for the Homecoming game.

There has been quite a bit of volunteer labor, but we could stand much more. Such a project as this, where we are asking for the labor and most of the material to be donated, or almost so, is usually slow in starting but will be fast at the finish line.

"Anyone attending the football game last Friday night had a chance to see what has been done and will have to admit that we are going to have one of the nicest pressbox — concession stands in the vicinity.

"Much thanks go to the men and boys that have contributed in any way to the building of this stand — and along with the thanks goes a call for "help", we need laborers to keep our masons supplied and to do the thousands of jobs that go with building anything.

"Another thing is that the sale of the Booster Club tickets, the sole way we have of paying for the installation of this building, has slowed down and we would ask that if you have tickets to sell — do just that, sell them.

"If you have not been contacted to buy a ticket, call the Chamber office and we will see that you are supplied with a ticket."

Plans for the 1959 drive for the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation are nearing completion and the drive will get underway the morning of Oct. 19, at exactly 9 o'clock.

This year is to be different in many ways.

The first big difference is the Foundation itself.

In the past years it has been strictly a Community Chest Drive, where we raised money for the different charities, included in the national drive.

This year, for the first time, it will be for the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, which you will find fully explained on page three of the first section of this Herald.

Also on Oct. 15 there will be another page to further explain this drive.

Another difference is the fact that you will be contacted only once. If you are called on at your place of employment then you will not be called at home.

This we are doing so that you will not be solicited twiee and the people that are doing the calling are doing it on their own time and we would like to utilize every minute of the time that these people give us.

Rexall Display Gets Citation from Government

John C. Cameron, Rexall druggist in Tecumseh, was awarded a citation from Vice-President Richard M. Nixon on behalf of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The award read, in part, "The U. S. Department of Corsmerce, Office of International Trade Fairs, having awarded a Citation to the Rexall Drug Company for outstanding service to the United States Government, further extends this recognition of participation in the United States Exhibit in the 1959 International Trade Fair, Pozman, Poland, to Cameron Drug Co., and all members of the Rexall Family who through John Bowles, Rexall President, demonstrated the community service representative of all Rexall Drug Stores.

"You contributed significantly to world understanding of peace and prosperity under the American system of free and competitive enterprise."

In further commendation of Rexall's service in Poznan, the Department of Commerce invited Rexall to move their entire operation from Poland to Salonica, Greece.

So the Rexall Drug Store — which was the first American drug store shown behind the Iron Curtain — is presently being exhibited at the 24th International Fair now in progress in Salonica.

Tiny Gets His "Licks"

Our Police Chief, Tiny Fields, started an "anti-jay-walking" drive for the kids on Monday. It ended the same day.

Tiny's idea was basically good. He got a few dozen green lollipops and stood on the corner, across the street from the grade school. As the kids came out and crossed the street with the green light, he'd give each a green lollipop.

Trouble was, when the kids spotted the candy, they made a beeline for Tiny, ignoring the light . . . running helter-skelter across the street. Tiny quickly had to abandon his project.

From where I sit, we can all profit from Tiny's experience: "Think through" your good intentions before you "follow through" with them. But don't let that stop you from giving really good intentions, like tolerance, the "green light," Respect all the rights of a neighbor . . . even his right to enjoy his favorite beverage. Whether a man chooses beer or milk—it's his choice to make, and our job to respect it.

THE CASTING AWAY OF MRS. LECKS AND MRS. ALESHINE
Frank Stockton

This old and famous classic of the fabulous voyagings, shipwreck, and remarkable adventures of two sedate but intrepid widows, Mrs. Lecks and Mrs. Aleshine, has long been loved by young and old American readers. You will certainly want to make their re-acquaintance, or, if you have never learned to know them, you will find a treat in store. The book has now been reissued in a handsome new format with quantities of admirable illustrations by George Richards, whose fondness for the story has enabled him perfectly to interpret the characters and to catch the humor and sublimely ludicrous quality of the situations in which the thin, scrawny Mrs. Lecks, and the plump, lovable Mrs. Aleshine find themselves.

The 1960 Ford Sunliner is one of 15 models in the new Ford line which will be introduced October 8 in Ford dealer showrooms across the nation. Featuring the strikingly modern rear deck and flat-wing motif, the new Fords are five inches longer, five inches wider and have more interior leg, hip, shoulder and head room than before. Ford's new integrated design, harmonizing the interior with a single, flowing exterior styleline, is proof that modern styling need not be radical or eccentric.

It's 110th Birthday for Your Hometown Weekly

(Editor's note: This month, The Tecumseh Herald celebrates its 110th birthday. City historian Clara Waldron kindly consented to present a recap of those years.)

By CLARA WALDRON

There is a saying to the effect that nothing is so dead as yesterday's news. But perhaps the remoteness of the yesterdays alters the point of view, for, turning the pages of the one hundred and ten published years of The Herald, they come to life in a surprising fashion.

Seen through the broad perspective of more than a century, the paper falls into three distinct periods.

Each is a reflection of the life of its time but even more it is a picture of the personality of the men who were its editors.

The periods might be roughly characterized as:

The literary era, covering the first 25 years.

The personal, "one big family . . 45 years of the Stacys".

The news-conscious, "boost-the-town," modern age.

Business and advertising have had a conspicious part in each phase.

It was not an individual but a group of "public spirited citizens" who put up the cash for the press and printing facilities to start the paper in 1850, and no doubt some of them at least were influenced by a desire to get their wares before the public.

A similar effort had been made as early as 1835 resulting in the "Tecumseh Democrat" which struggled along under many editors and expired in 1845.

THE HERALD MIGHT WELL HAVE suffered a like fate had it not been for one man.

William Richard was the paper's financial "angel".

An evidently successful furniture manufacturer, his other interests included the erection of a business block.

There, somewhere on the north side of Chicago street, east of the railroad, he furnished office space for the paper and it is recorded that he lost nearly $2,000 in backing it, which is public spirit in any man's book.

Most of the men, who were technically the editors during this period—and there were many— had been educated and trained in the east and the paper reflected that training.

The mast head carried the words—"Devoted to Literature and Science, Progress and Truth, Morality and Religion".

THE MOVING SPIRIT BACK of that lofty slogan was a most remarkable man, who even when his name did not appear, is credited with being the paper's editorial "ghost writer."

To say that Benjamin Baxter was a graduate of Dartmouth, a teacher, lawyer, a regent of the University and a state legislator is to give only the dry bones of his portrait.

BENJAMIN L. BAXTER
one of first Herald
owners and editors

He was more than a scholar and a crusader, though he was both, and he was passionately interested in the natural resources of this region. He literally sank his personal fortune in early attempts to drain the "prairies", now Lenawee's most valuable land.

His editorials reflect these interests. The progress of the projected railroads and the hope they carried for Tecumseh's future, the temperance movement and anti-slavery, education and the interest of agriculture, besides national and world news were discussed in lucid prose that might be a model for today.

One quotation serves to portray the man and the town he loved. "The prosperity of our village," wrote Mr. Baxter, "has arisen from no premature exertion or over-strained speculation, but is the natural development of the wants and resources of the country around".

In 1866 Mr. Richards sold to C. M. Burlingame who published the paper for about eight years and while it lowered its high literary tone slightly during his regime the general form was essentially the same.

IT WAS IN 1874 THAT THE HERALD was purchased by a home-town boy and adopted a radically different style.

Consider Scovel Stacy—"Scove, as he was always called— a son of the socially important Judge Stacy family, a graduate of the U. of M. who had been practicing law in his father's office.

But it was when he became editor of his hometown paper that he seemed to find scope for his particular talents.

The paper still had "improving" articles, culled from eastern papers or from the program of farmer's and literary clubs, but there were now increasing numbers of local items.

There was also a refreshing mingling of personal comment with the news.

"Ye ed" expressed himself on all subjects without bothering to retire to his own column. Informal was the word for Stacy.

The page of personal news might well begin with such a line as, "Hot, hotter, hottest, let's go fishin' ", or "Green corn next, cholera morbus approacheth" or "Awful dusty, dry week for news".

An improvement in the form of the paper invoked the comment, "We have blacked our boots, put on a new dicky and a stove-pipe hat". In answer to a complaint, he explained, "Intelligent composing omitted word and intelligent proof reader failed to discover omission."

He might have attended all weddings in person, so chatty were the descriptions. They include a feature which we hope was not unique with The Herald, a kind of social blackmail in the form of a published list of all the wedding gifts, down to the last hand-painted pin-cushion—with the names of the donors.

He could, and did, write and report well. The paper contained much of serious interest, but throughout it had a folksy touch that was popular.

THERE WAS LITTLE CHANGE in the general style when George Stacy took over The Herald after his brother's death in 1867. The two men wrote with much the same style and had the same puckish sense of humor.

They had another common characteristic, a physical one possessed by nearly all the men of the family which is one of the things remembered about them.

There was a congential malformation of the hands of both, regarding which their mother is recorded to have said, "My boys may not have all their fingers, but there is nothing wrong with their brains." That she was correct, their work on The Herald proved.

During the editorship of Mr. Burlingame, the paper had been printed on the second floor of the Bidwell Block (now the Palman building where the Watkins shop is now located. In 1878, after Stacy took over, a new brick building was erected across the alley from the Strand theater which for more than 75 years was the home of The Herald.

In 1954 the present building at 117 S. Evans St. was purchased and remodeled.

THERE WERE FOUR PAGES of seven columns each in the first, 1850 edition. For the next fifty years it varied from six, seven, eight and even nine columns. The nine column pages were six inches taller also—that was an impressive paper.

Nearly every editor has had his own ideas for the mast head, which also has seen many variations of type and arrangement over the years.

It has been both a weekly and a twice-weekly publication. In fact The Herald is conditioned to change.

In 1917, a sister of Mrs. George Stacy, Mrs. Frank Turner inherited the paper and Mr. Turner published it for several years.

Since then its editors have been Emil Ahrens, E. T. Armstrong, Earl Wickwire, Marjorie Wickwire, the Bellevilles and the present partners.

The Tecumseh Herald had a tempestuous adolescence, a long, peaceful middle age and now looks forward to the space age.

Britton Church Is Taking Part in Promotion

Michigan Lutherans are completing plans for the largest project of its kind they've ever undertaken — a state-wide Open House Week.

During the week of Nov. 1-5, special evening services and meetings with a "sharing our faith in Christ" theme will be held in greater Detroit's 125 Lutheran parishes and some 175 outstate churches.

In Detroit, the kick-off event will be a youth rally at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 31, in the State Fair Coliseum, with the Rev. Edward Wessling of Valparaiso University as speaker.

During the week, the state's more than 200,000 Lutherans will visit their neighbors and friends and invite the unchurched to worship and meet with them in a "Share the Faith" effort.

Guest ministers from all over the country will assist the pastor of each participating parish during the week's programs.

This project is the first such a large area has conducted simultaneously under sponsorship of the Lutheran church-Missouri Synod's Evangelism department.

Emmanuel Lutheran church of Britton, the Rev. James E. Moehring, pastor, will be one of the local church's participating in this event.

A WONDERFUL NEW WORLD OF FORDS FOR 1960

FINEST FORDS OF A LIFETIME
This new Ford Galaxie, like all the new, beautifully proportioned 1960 Fords, is styled from a new viewpoint. Traditional automotive elegance combines with modern design in the style of a new decade!

In 1960, for the first time in history, your Ford Dealer presents not one, not two, but three new lines of Ford cars . . .

1. The 1960 Fords—The Finest Fords of a Lifetime, beautiful from any Point of View, worth more from every Point of Value!
2. The 1960 Falcon—The New-size Ford, the world's most experienced new car and the easiest car in the world to own!
3. The 1960 Thunderbird . . . The World's Most Wanted Car!

Now you can see them—the Finest Fords of a Lifetime! Economy-minded Fairlanes. Big-value Fairlane 500's. Elegant Galaxies. A breath-taking new Sunliner convertible and a brand-new hardtop model, the flashing Starliner. Then there's a whole new world of Station Wagon Living, too. It all adds up to 13 glittering variations of the world's newest, most elegant styling theme!

And Ford sets the new trend in power. Ford's Thunderbird 292 V-8 and 352 V-8, like the famous Mileage Maker Six, bring a new world of smoother, hotter performance—on regular gas.

To top it all, the Finest Fords of a Lifetime are priced for savings. Ford is still priced to outvalue all comparable models of its major competitors.

Ford savings, however, only begin with a low price. You save still more with engines that thrive on regular gas and save up to a dollar on every tankful . . . a Full-Flow oil filter that lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes . . . Diamond Lustre Finish that never needs waxing . . . aluminized mufflers that normally last twice as long as conventional types . . . new, safer, Truck-Size brakes that are the biggest ever in Ford's history . . . and new soft-tread, Tyrex cord tires that run quieter, last longer.

In every way these are the Finest Fords of your Lifetime! See them at your Ford Dealer's!

FORD DIVISION, Ford Motor Company

Introducing the New-Size Ford . . . the 1960 Ford Falcon

Meet the New-size Ford—the Falcon! Here's a car with plenty of room for six big adults and all their luggage. It's sized to handle and park like a "small" car . . . powered to pass and climb like a "big" car . . . and built like no other car for savings!

It gives you up to 30 miles per gallon on regular gas. Aluminized mufflers normally last twice as long as ordinary kinds. A Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes. Even insurance can cost you less! And this Falcon is the world's most experienced new car. It was driven over every mile of numbered Federal Highway in EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A.—a grueling demonstration climaxing Ford's 3 years of development and testing.

The Falcon has the features that American car buyers expect. Its gearshift is on the steering column—not on the floor. Its engine is located up front for greater stability and safety. Best news of all is the Falcon's low, low price. See it at your Ford Dealer's . . . and see the difference!

THE FALCON FORDOR SEDAN the world's most experienced new car is the easiest car in the world to own!

Charged Battery Will Save Temper

A fully-charged battery can save your temper this winter when you try to start the tractor, says Robert White, agricultural engineer at Michigan State University.

"About 70-80% of all Michigan tractors have some winter jobs," White estimates. "Probably one tractor in four gets stalled almost every day."

The specialist says one must have a charged battery because:

1. First, tractor engines always turn over hard in winter. And even a fully-charged battery gets a little weak on cold days.

"Second, a fully-charged battery would never freeze at only 4 degrees below zero."

Clean and tighten the battery terminals carefully, White advises farmers. Household baking soda mixed with water removes corrosion.

"Once the terminal areas are clean, cover them with vaseline to avoid further corrosion," the engineer suggests. "Ordinary cup grease also keeps the air away, but it gathers dirt."

Light-weight oil helps the motor turn over easily. White gives these lubrication tips:

1. Drain the crankcase, and put in new winter oil of the weight specified in your operator's manual. Most late-model tractors require oil of the "MS" service classification.

2. Get a new filter cartridge before winter.

3. Drain out summer transmission oil if your tractor will work hard this winter. Re-fill as directed in the operator's manual.

4. Simply add 10% kerosene to the summer oil in a tractor that will do only a little light-weight work this winter. But first see if your operators' manual warns against kerosene.

5. Take off the cup at the bottom of the oil-bath air cleaner. Clean out all straw and chaff. Then fill the cup with the type of oil your engine uses.

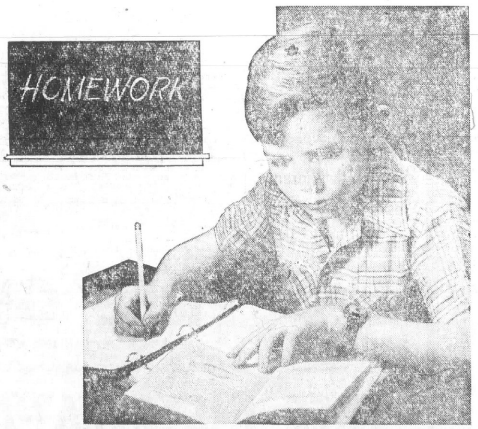
FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED
. . . ATTEND CHURCH !



Fred spends about 1,000 hours each year in school. When he graduates from high school he will have sat in classrooms for 12,000 hours.

Plus homework Miss Harkins assigned nine pages of science today. Mr. Brent expects a book report tomorrow. And so it goes every school day—every year.

Don't let Fred's crowded school roster worry you. He is getting an education—the fine education every American child is entitled to. Let Fred's empty spiritual roster worry you. He is spending ZERO hours in Church School. He is getting NO religious education. And his tragedy is shared by MILLIONS OF AMERICAN YOUTH.

A new kind of homework is needed. By friendly encouragement, by sincere interest, by the example of our own families in faithful church life—we must inspire the Freds and their parents to take advantage of the spiritual opportunities that America's churches offer.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Spray Quackgrass Now

Spraying against quackgrass and yellow rocket by early November can save farmers a lot of headaches next year, says a farm crops scientist at Michigan State University.

Stuart C. Hildebrand notes research findings that fall-sprayed MCPA controls yellow rocket beautifully. Dalapon effectively controls quackgrass.

What's more, many farmers will have little time to spray during next spring's busy planting season.

"Fall spraying against quackgrass is an especially good idea where you'll be planting corn or beans next year," Hildebrand advises farmers. "Planting within five weeks after dalapon spraying may cause some crop damage."

Around 10 pounds of dalapon per acre has controlled quackgrass in most MSU plots. The expert recommends 15 pounds per acre on heavily-infested fields.

"Dalapon kills quackgrass best when it's applied to growing plants about six to eight inches tall," Hildebrand reports. "The herbicide is effective when applied in fall or spring."

Yellow rocket has hurt a lot of Michigan alfalfa crops in recent years. This weed of the mustard family makes hay stemmy and unpalatable.

Yellow rocket plants start growing in the fall, according to the specialist. Then a watchful eye can see small rosettes or leaf clusters at ground level.

"One half pound of MCPA per acre sprayed on this fall gives beautiful control," Hildebrand says. "This amount costs about $1."

MCPA spraying gives an added bonus. It controls mustard-type weeds such as wild carrot, peppergrasses, shepherds purse, penny cress, bull thistle, wild mustard and sweet clover.

Researchers Study Habits of Dairy Cows

Why do cows usually enter the milking parlor in a definite order? Is it social dominance between cows or certain habits due to the management of the herd?

Preliminary results of studies at Michigan State University agricultural experiment station indicate that entrance order and social dominance between animals are not highly correlated.

"Although social dominance probably does not change," the researchers say, "order of entry into the parlor does change with stage of lactation."

When animals had freedom of choice, the feeding of thyroprotein, injections of a tranquilizer, changing of grain feeding, or milking practices did not alter entrance order, according to the researchers.

Through My Window

THE DETROIT ZOO, CON'T.

People go to the zoo to see the animals, but you know looking back at our last visit to the Detroit Zoo, it seems to me that the funniest animals we saw were the people. Example: in front of a large bear exhibit we encountered a walking camera shop. You know the kind—all sorts of paraphernalia hanging from his shoulders, gadget bags bulging and, of course, the inevitable little leather cases strapped to his belt.

His camera was impressive, that I must admit: It was a shiny, new movie job and to the front of it was fastened a big telephoto lense which made me slightly green with envy.

The bears, beautiful, monstrous, sleek Kodiaks, were putting on a wonderful show but what was "our boy" looking at? Chipmunks.

Really, he was.

The Zoo grounds are, of course, ideal for such lovers of handouts as are chipmunks and squirrels and their scurrying about are fun to watch.

But when there are bears to see, it did look a bit ridiculous for this character to be so absorbed with a tiny bit of a chipmunk.

He was trying to get close-up pictures and he was having troubles. The camera was big and he was awkard in handling it.

AT ALMOST every move, his legs tangled with the legs of his heavy tripod. Finally, by the time he was all set, the chipmunk would have finished his peanut and started off in search of another.

Then the hand steadying the camera had to let go, reach into a coat pocket, fumble out another peanut and try to lure chippie back into camera range.

This went on for some time and if only the poor man had turned around. Right in back of him a truly handsome little chipmunk, so sleek and with such pretty markings, was really putting on a show.

A small cellophane bag with several kernels of popcorn stuck in one corner had fallen to the ground and this little fellow was trying to get them out.

His wonderful antics could so easily have been recorded and what a wonderful sequence it would have been, but our bungling photographer missed it all.

People are funny.

ALTHOUGH THERE are many peacocks and hens roaming at large through the whole park, we have never had the good fortune of seeing one with his fan in full display.

Dad, however, came-oh-so close to getting a picture of one, unfanned to be sure, but in an almost perfect situation.

He was a magnificent bird, all the beauty and grace his kind personified seemed to be pinpointed in this one particular cock.

He was standing in exactly the right spot in a rock-garden and the late afternoon sun worked its full magic on those gorgeous feathers. Cautiously working up as close as he dared, Dad was just ready to take the picture when some—we will be kind and say unthinking, character stepped in front of him, tossed a peanut to the peapcock and there went our picture.

People are not always funny.

BUT MAGNIFICENT birds and marvelous animals are not the only attractions at the Detroit Zoo.

The landscaping and flowers are thrills in themselves. Trees, shrubs, flower beds and rockeries are artistically used to "provide relief from the noise and confusion of modern life".

This time of year, quite naturally, the big most exciting display was the dahlias. Such rich, lush colors and oh, the size. They ranged from tiny, petite coins to blossoms almost as big as my head and from the size of some buds, there were going to be even bigger ones.

In the spring, of course, they have all sorts of flowering trees and shrubs and the guide book claims there are over 8,000 tulips to bloom.

Ao the Duncans, at least, a trip to the Zoo would be a dismal failure without stopping to watch the polar bears.

There is something facinating about these big lumbering creatures in whose very awkwardness can be seen a marvel of motion economy.

IT IS ALWAYS amazing how effortlessly they climb, and when in the water—well, that is what climaxed this Zoo trip. An enormous polar was playing in the large pool. Yes, actually playing.

Floating on his back, his huge front paws held up and folded slightly forward, he came to the near side of the pool, then ducked down and swam, under water, to the far side where he immediately used those tremendous paws to push off and launch himself on the return trip.

Time and time again he went through this routine, however, each time he came to our side of the water that big head, the thick white plastered down and water soaked, popped out of the water and like the true ham he was, he seemed to be counting the house.

After all, he wanted to make sure his efforts were appreciated and enjoyed.

They were being appreciated and enjoyed—in fact, I think Dad wondered if Mother and I were ever going to be ready to leave. It is always like that at the Zoo there is so much to see that there is never enough time for everything.

How to swallow a bitter pill

First, find a bitter pill. There are so few nowadays. It all started because children, bless 'em, are so good at resisting bad-tasting medicine. You can medicate their chins or hair, but getting the stuff in them is beyond the ken of science. Kids can spit a country mile. So pharmacists began sugar-coating pills, putting medication in capsules, or mixing with sweet syrup. And we soon found that adults, too, like medicine the easy way. So now, most of our prescriptions are quite pleasant to take. If you should run into one of the few bitter ones, believe us, there are good medical reasons for it.

A series of displays will be shown in downtown Tecumseh during the next 30 days. Included are 14 compressors, going back to the Model 100, first ever to be built.

Twenty manufacturers, who buy Tecumseh compressors, have sent samples of their finished products and these can be seen in various business places.

They go from refrigerators and air conditioners to milk and soft drink dispensers, water coolers, egg coolers, hot drink dispensers, compact kitchens with range and refrigerators built as one unit.

Tuesday's Band Festival will feature a salute to the Products and next week's Tecumseh High School Homecoming parade will have as its theme, "Tecumseh Products' 25 Years Here."

Climax of the celebration comes Sat. Oct. 24 with an Appreciation Banquet in the High School gymnasium. Tickets are currently on sale and the general public is invited.

The Tecumseh Grange will prepare the meal. Admission is $3 and tiekets are available at Wright's and Hodges drug stores, Eggleston's Jewelry and The Herald.

Handling the toastmaster chores will be the Rev. B. O. Bashore with Dr. John Dawson, president of Adrian College, as main speaker. The High School chorus of 90 voices will sing.

Being singled out for special honors at the banquet will be the 26 men at the Products, who have been with the firm since Oct. 20, 1934 and are still on the payroll.

At the plant, the birthday is being given special attention in a 16-page edition of the TP Broadcast, the employee publication edited by Mabel Lockwood.

Among other features, the Broadcast's front and back covers are being printed on solid silver stock.

OLD AND NEW—Mrs. Silas Kring, an employee of Tecumseh Products Co., examines a modern TP refrigeration compressor (right). It's a Model AU Hermetic Pancake, so named because of its compactness. At left is the Model 100, which was first built in Hillsdale. Some were constructed here while awaiting tooling up for the Model 500, original Tecumseh unit completely constructed here.

Free Pancakes Being Served

Retail merchants of Tecumseh will stage a Pancake Festival Friday at the American Legion hall from 3:30 until 7 p.m.

It'll be free and everyone is invited.

Business folks expect that about 4,000 will accept their invitation.

Aunt Jemina will be on hand. She will direct nearly 30 merchants, who are going to flip the hot cakes, and also entertain the audience.

She's a professional performer and has appeared as a vocalist with Duke Ellington and Louis Armstrong.

Her accompanist is talented Ted Harmon, who during the war toured with USO units.

The menu will include sausage and pancakes, syrup and margarine, coffee and milk.

Six Butane portable grills, being loaned by Quaker Oats Co., will be located in front of the Legion hall along S. Evans St.

Guests will receive their pancakes outside, then proceed into the hall where they can eat and be entertained by Aunt Jemina.

LADIES OF the Legion Auxiliary will mix batter and fry sausage in their kitchen. They'll also assist in the dining room.

Quaker Oats Co. is donating all the pancake mix, napkins and table place mats.

Country Markets, Inc. is giving 200 pounds of sausage, 150 pounds of margarine, 150 pounds of coffee and 60 pounds of sugar.

The Sealtest Co. of Toledo has donated 400 quarts of milk.

Forty gallons of Karo and all cooking oil needed is being given by the Corn Products Co.

Cook Electric is providing a public address system.

Carl Lamb of Hodges Drug Store is chairman of the affair. He is assisted by Merl Hoag, manager of Country Markets, Inc. and Dan Reed, local head of radio station WABJ.

Friday morning at 11 a.m., Aunt Jemima will present a 30-minute program during a Tecumseh High School assembly.

Long AND Short OF IT

By TOM RIORDAN

There's an interesting story which goes with the piece of artwork, pertaining to the 25th birthday of the Products, that appears at the upper right corner of this page.

Drawn exclusively for and copyrighted by The Herald, this drawing and another one running in this edition are Stella Dennis originals.

Stella—whose formal name is Mrs. John Dennis — is an artist of renown.

She's living in Toledo now, but for many years her home was right here in Tecumseh.

I've written about her before, telling of the exquisite engrossing and lettering she has done for colleges and universities and business establishments all over the midwest.

Few can come close to Stella's ability to fashion a diploma or certificate of appreciation.

Last spring, I asked Stella if she'd make. The Herald a symbol depicting the Product's silver anniversary.

Working in Chief Tecumseh would be nice, I told Stella, which sent her scurrying off to reference books.

Here is the story Stella uncovered in one.

Chief Tecumseh was first of all a most handsome man—and modest.

He refused to pose for a portrait and the only known actual picture of Tecumseh was a pencil sketch some long forgotten artist fashioned without the chief's knowledge.

From this, a 20th Century expert in oils, a chap who does covers for TIME magazine among other things, made an intricate painting.

When Stella viewed this, she was impressed, but chagrined—impressed because Tecumseh was a fine looking man, not as he is often shown, a frowning, angry-looking warrior.

Her consternation arose when she saw his headpiece—a sort of mushy beanie with one, lonely feather protruding from it.

The article accompanying the painting said that the unassuming Tecumseh usually wore an English army uniform, being attached to that organization.

He seldom donned the Indian chief regalia. When he did, his headpiece never had more than 10 feathers.

This posed a problem for Stella. How can there be a picture of the famed Tecumseh without the traditional headpiece?

So we agreed on a compromise. Stella made a handsome Tecumseh and gave him a multi-feathered head dress, but exactly how many feathers we'll never know.

She didn't break with the facts by showing more than 10, nor did she shatter the long-established American thesis that Indian chiefs always wore gaudy head pieces.

Doing one better than we asked, Stella also drew another symbol. We liked both so well, we decided to have two instead of the proposed one.

As you view the pages of our special edition, which accompanies this issue, you'll note the use of the symbols.

We offered them to our advertisers who most readily accepted. They might not have known Stella Dennis, but they surely recognized excellent pieces of artwork.

Little Theatre Group Forming

A little theatre group for Tecumseh is being formed.

Organizing it is Mrs. Gloria Jadwin, who is holding a gathering in her home at 207 W. Brown St. Friday evening at 8.

Thirty-five local people who have evidenced an interest in such an organization have been invited. Others are welcome.

Free Chow, Kids If You'll Help

Tecumseh Conservation Club is sponsoring a free weiner roast with Coke and all the fixin's for all kids 10 years old and up who work at the creek Saturday.

Approximately eight men from the Conservation Club will be supervising and interested youngsters are to report at the old bridge on Maumee St. at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

It is hoped that the cleaning project between the two bridges can be completed at this time.

Charity Drive Opens

Tecumseh's Community Fund Foundation opens its charity drive Monday.

Its budget: $20,295.

Don Murphy is serving as campaign chairman.

He announces that the industrial division, with Joe Fortunato heading it, will open the effort Monday and Tuesday.

Wednesday will start residential solicitations.

This portion of the drive, explains Mr. Murphy, will be in the hands of Tecumseh's four service clubs—Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange and the Jaycees.

Presidents of the respective groups, John Surratt, Carl Lamb, Bill Powell and Dr. Bob Laidlaw, will deploy their memberships to various sections of the city.

Altogether, about 140 men are expected to work on this house-to-house canvass in the city and through most of Tecumseh and Raisin townships.

Everything collected over and above the local budget (see page three for a complete breakdown of this) will go into the Community Fund Foundation.

This surplus will provide monies for building of a civic center, library and other needed facilities.

SHE'LL ENTERTAIN—Aunt Jemima, who is Edith Wilson in real life, will be in Tecumseh Friday for the Pancake Festival. Besides singing with big-name bands, she appeared on the New York stage with famed dancer Bill Robinson. She has been in movies, including "To Have to Have Not" with Lauren Bacal and Humphrey Bogart. Now a representative of the Quaker Oats Co., she tours the nation helping to stage suppers.

School Enrollment To Increase 30%

By JIM LINCOLN

An expected school enrollment increase of over 30% in the next five years was revealed to the Tecumseh school board Monday night.

Supt. James McDowell reported estimated figures showing the enrollment in kindergarten and grades one-through-six to increase from 1,822 to about 2,138 in 1964.

The high school attendance will nearly double with a jump from 651 to 1,126. During the same period, the junior high will increase from 492 to 645.

A RECENT STATE fire inspection report listed 17 hazards at the junior high building, some of minor nature, but several suggestions were made that will cost the school several thousand dollars.

The inspector in his report suggested a modern fire alarm system, construction of self-closing fire doors in the hallways, plus others.

A few minor changes were also suggested at the high school, Tecumseh Acres and Ridgeway schools.

SUPT. McDOWELL reported that John Thompson, president of the United Savings bank, had arranged for a $100,000 loan, half through the local bank and the rest from a Detroit bank.

In other action, the board approved the 1959-60 library budget of $24,098.

Awarded the eavestroughing job at the library to Paul Clauda; and approved a transfer of property owned by H. Johnson, near Clinton, from the county board.

It's Style Show

The special style show at the ladies luncheon at the Country Club Wednesday, Oct. 21, will include garments from Cal's Tog Shop, The Watkins Shop and furs from Richland Furs of Blissfield.

Mrs. Harold Easton is chairman of the event. Door prizes will be awarded and luncheon will be served at 1:30 p.m. followed by cards.

SELL PEANUTS

Kiwanis Club members will conduct their annual peanut sale Friday and Saturday. Proceeds go into the group's kids program.

Ridgeway PTA Holding Dance on October 24

Ridgeway PTA will hold a dance Oct. 24 irom 8 to 12 p.m. at the school's gymnasium.

Mrs. Leslie Calhoun says that many extras have been added to make the event a night of real family fun — a cake-walk, cartoons for the kiddies and a prize for those attending in costume.

Music will be furnished by Elwood Bush and his orchestra. A 25c donation will be collected and refreshments will be served.

11 Bands Play for Festival

"American Music" is the theme of the 13th annual Lenawee county Band Festival being held here Tuesday.

Starting at 8 p.m., it will feature 11 high school marching ing bands — 650 youthful musicians.

Each group will use approximately 10 minutes to carry out its individual cetagory.

The brainchild of Clare Camburn, a former Tecumseh band director, the yearly Festival has become a tremendously popular event for prep musical groups.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore, who worked with Mr. Camburn in developing the night-of-music, again will be at the public address system.

Sponsor of the Festival is the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

BANDS TAKINB part and their themes:

Addison—western music.
Adrian—George Gershwin.
Blissfield—minstrel show.

POTLUCK DINNER

Mrs. Dixie Brown will entertain members of the Harmony Homemakers Club Wednesday, Oct. 21, at her home at 5707 Milwaukee Rd. for a 12:30 potluck dinner.

HE'LL BE READY — Hank, the No. 1 Brittany Spaniel in the United States, assures his master, Paul Vollmer of Macon, he'll be ready for pheasant hunting, which opens Tuesday. An avid hunter, Paul who works in engineering at the Products is a professional Brittany breeder and Hank is his pride and joy. The five-year-old was recently judged best-in-breed at the American Brittany Club specialty show and field trial. That's a live pheasant Paul is holding, used to help train his dogs.

Here's More Vital Information About The Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation

A new and exciting era has been reached for Tecumseh in the annual drive to raise monies for charities. This month in history will mark the beginning of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation:

(A) A Foundation organized to solicit contributions for county, state and national charities.

(B) A Foundation also organized to raise monies for Tecumseh projects and facilities now lacking in our communinty.

Plans for a local Foundation started many months ago when considerable dissent was voiced about the distribution of monies raised here. Citizens here contributed generously last year to the charities, but objected to some allocations.

Meetings and discussions were held locally with a Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation resulting from the majority's decision.

Work continued and on June 18, 1959, a new charter for the Tecumshe Community Fund Foundation was granted and signed by the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission.

About two months later on August 26, 1959, the Treasury Dept. issued a ruling that any contribution to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation would be tax exempt.

Several local residents, mostly businessmen and community leaders, have given their time to investigate and examine carefully the future possibilities that are in store for all Tecumseh residents through a progressive and successful Tecumseh Foundation.

Many wonderful advantages are well within our reach. The goals are big and may take several years before they're realized. However, these goals or community benefits can be realized through cooperation and generous contributions by local residents.

If we are blessed with everyone's cooperation, Tecumseh citizens can conceive a new and larger library, a civic center, another needed swimming pool, an auditorium for community use.

Undoubtedly, there are other facilities and projects which we can use. Over the years, the Tecumseh Foundation can provide us with them.

The Foundation is not planned to give these facilities now. The preparations and costs would not allow it. In some instances, perhaps, our children — there are approximately 4,000 children and young people in Tecumseh — will be the benefactors of our planning, work and donations.

In many cases, however, we can and will enjoy the results of the Foundation through some facilities which may be attained a few years hence.

Each year Tecumseh, by a community or United Fund, drive has supported well the local, state and national charities. Requests for monies by the charities have been met, and more frequently topped by local contributions.

These charities will continue to receive our support. Their needs will be provided for under the articles of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

The Tecumseh Foundation budget includes 13 charities with each allocated so much money from a goal of $20,345. These charities will receive their monies first, that which is left will remain in the local Foundation and for use in obtaining some of the benefits.

The 1960 budget clearly shows that the charities will profit from the Foundation and continue to provide the services for which they have become famous.

The budget also shows that we can strengthen the Foundation this year with a sizeable amount through genetrous donations. We can add a lot to the Tecumseh area.

October 19, 1959 is the date that will kick-off the local drive. Many will be contacted at their homes, others in places of businesses, and many workers in the Tecumseh plants.

When you make your contribution, remember that what you're giving will benefit you, your neighbor and friends, and help your community grow to a bigger and better place in which to raise your family.

Youth Recovers Following Sting by Bumble Bee

Richard Cobb, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cobb of 402 Outer Court, has recovereed from a violent reaction to a bee sting.

He was mowing the lawn at his home Oct. 3 when he was stung and soon began to break out with hives and his temperature rose rapidly.

Since Mr. and Mrs. Cobb were attending a football game that day Richie was alone. A friend, Larry McLain, called a physician.

The Cobb youth was in a coma before reaching the hospital, where he was a patient for four days.

Richie appears to be one of the few who is super sensitive to stings.

An article appeared in the Readers Digest for June explained the condition, which can become extremely serious.

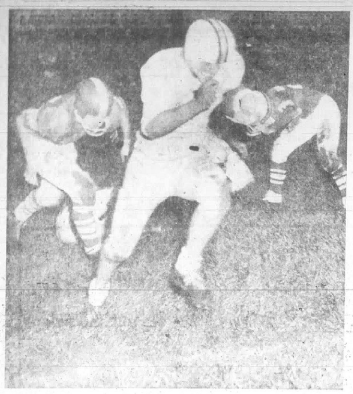
Big Step Forward



SECOND TD — On a slick reverse, Dave Weakly roared in with Tecumseh's second tally. There was the proverbial "room to drive a truck through," opened by Tecumseh's forward wall in the Milan line.

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh took a big step towards the Huron League championship Friday with a somewhat rather easy victory over previously undefeated Milan, 19-6.

The Indians' win could just as easily been by four touchdowns instead of two. One TD was almost certain in the final quarter until the officials charged Tecumseh with a down on a Milan penalty.

Coach Dunc Lectka's team relinquished the ball on Milan's four, less than a yard from a first down, after only three plays.

Undefeated Tecumseh travels to Flat Rock this Friday night in hopes of its fifth consecutive victory, including a fourth straight win in loop play. Game time is 7:30.

FANS WHO ARRIVED LATE for the Milan game probably missed the opening scores. Both teams tallied inside the first four minutes.

The Indians drove 85 yards in four plays for their first score with Jon Aho running the last 11 yards. A 21-yard run by Mike Green and a 49-yard romp by Aho covered most of the distance.

Milan's Big Red evened the count two minutes later with a 31-yard pass play from Von Thompson to Marv Hanlon. A 15-yard penalty against the Indians aided the Big Red scoring drive which covered 64 yards.

Late in the second period, Tecumseh moved 83 yards with senior halfback Dave Weakly plunging over from the three. Bob Koffron's placekick made it 13-6 at the half.

THE INDIANS MONOPOLIZED the final two periods, although scoring only once shortly after the start of the fourth quarter. Milan failed to advance the ball past its 48.

The final touchdown was racked up by Green on a three-yard run, climaxing a 60-yard drive.

The entire fourth quarter was played in Milan's territory with two Tecumseh threats stopped short of paydirt, one on the four where the officials goofed.

MILAN WAS BY FAR the toughest defensive club faced by the Indians this year. Tackling and blocking on both clubs was crisp and apparently the cause of several flare-ups.

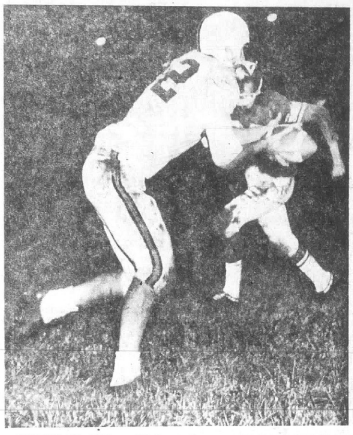
The Big Red was stopped cold in the middle periods and went from the first period to the final minutes of the game before rolling up a first down.

Milan counted five first downs, three in the first period (one by penalty) and two in the last quarter.

Top carriers for the Indians were Aho and Green. Aho picked up 135 yards in 13 carries and Green, 114 yards in 16 carries.

The Indians defense was again sparked by Jim Neitling, Jim Curth and sophomore Tom Simmons. Neitling turned in one of the best performances by a lineman in the four-game old season.

STOP 'EM — Orders Coach Leckta to defensive star Jim Neitling and that's what Tecumseh did. Milan showed promise in the opening period, but from then on THS snowed the home attack.



KRUGER TO AHO — QB Steve Kruger tossed and Jon Aho, who was 20 yards downfield, grabbed. From here Jon sprinted 20 more yards. Indians now face Flat Rock.

HERALD PHOTOS

IT COULDN'T BE — Coach Dunc Lectka and a referee in the Tecumseh-Milan game hold a friendly chat over one of the official's decisions. The ref said an Indian clipped while Mike Green was returning a Milan punt. Dunc expressed an opposite opinion.

Laymen Conduct Sunday Service

Laymen's Day will be observed by Methodists Sunday.

The pastor, the Rev. James Nixon, will open the service and close it.

In between, the service will be conducted by three laymen.

"This will be our way of observing annual Laymen's Sunday," said Carlos W. Jones, lay leader and the one in charge of this special service.

"Paul Hadsell will give the message for the day. John Babcock, president of Methodist Men, will read the scripture and offer prayer," Mr. Jones reported.

"Our pastor will sit with the congregation during the service," said Mr. Jones. "This does not mean that the laymen will 'play preacher' or will preach a sermon; only the pastor is authorized to preach.

"But laymen play a tremendous part in the total work of the church and share in its varied ministry. That is what we hope to dramatize in this service," concluded Mr. Jones.

"Laymen's Sunday in October is an interdenominational observance by churches of the National Council of Churches," Mr. Nixon, the pastor of the church reports.

—o—

Rally Day was observed Sunday at the Holloway Presbyterian Church. Each class participated in the program and at noon a pot-luck dinner was enjoyed for about 45 people.

Solely for This Issue

Please pardon us if we swell up a mite, but with our special edition out this week, we're sure you understand. About noon on Saturday, when the final eight-page section rolled off the press, we breathed a collective sigh of relief.

A job begun last spring was completed.

The ink had hardly dried when we thought of certain items which should have probably been included, but there are still only 24 hours in a day and seven days in a week.

We'll have to admit that things went a lot smoother than we could have ever dreamed they would. A shop set up to product between 14 and 20 pages each week is certainly going to be hard-pressed to turn right around, after doing that much, and come back with an additional eight.

We'll admit we're proud of the whole 56 pages. To us, expressions in the ads tell as well what a great industry the Products is as the stories which appear in the special.

Each of these suppliers and financial institutions went to a great deal of trouble and expense to prepare their messages and embellish them with original artwork.

Every ad you see was fashioned solely for this issue. Many of the firms called in their advertising agencies and had them turn their full attention to copy and layouts for our edition.

We call your attention to several exceptional advertisements — those for General Electric, Ex-Cell-O, Pittsfield Product, Dayton Malleable Iron and Emerson Electric, just to mention a few.

We were fascinated by the Emerson presentation and feel it serves as a marvelous concluding page.

Bring the Whole Family

Retail merchants are inviting folks to town Friday for a free pancake and sausage supper. It's one of the first times that a small Michigan city has staged such a promotion, the Aunt Jemima Co. folks tells us.

Some of us are going to have to pass up the sausage, but we're sure that flap jacks, syrup and coffee will make a swell Friday night meal just the same.

The storemen, who'll help cook the meal, invite everyone in the area to be on hand.

See you there.

National Newspaper Week

(Editor's Note — Appearing below is the proclamation issued by Acting Governor John B. Swainson in recognition of National Newspaper Week.)

Newspapers are one of the most important factors in our everyday life. To them, the people look for information, entertainment and suggestions for everyday living.

It is to our newspapers the people look for information on the latest advances in science or the fate of their favorite athletic team.

In fulfilling their role as medium of information, the newspaper has a great responsibility.

The newspaper is not designed to be solely a source of information. It has the added responsibility of civic leadership. During the past year this was demonstrated when more than 300 Michigan newspapers presented, at no cost, advertisements promoting a better understanding of Michigan's economic and industrial potential.

Michigan this year observes the sesquicentennial of the founding of the first newspaper in our state. From a few hundred readers a century and a half ago, total circulation of all Michigan newspapers has risen to 3,273,161. This figure alone illustrates the great responsibility which rests on each newspaper.

It is fitting that the readers recognize the role delegated to our newspapers.

THEREFORE, I, John B. Swainson, Lieutenant and Acting Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the period from October 15, through October 21, 1959, as in Michigan, and call upon our people to give recognition to our newspapers, their publishers and editors, reporters, photographers, newspaper boys and all the crafts and skills engaged in the production of newspapers.

Drive with Great Care

(Editor's note—Russ Spalding, superintendent of Britton-Macon schools reminds motorists of the vital responsibility they have while driving in the vicinity of a school bus. We feel it makes an excellent editorial.)

School bus divers are skilled and work hard to transport our children to and from school in a safe way. We are asking that you, the driving public, please heed the rules of the road and obey the bus stopping law.

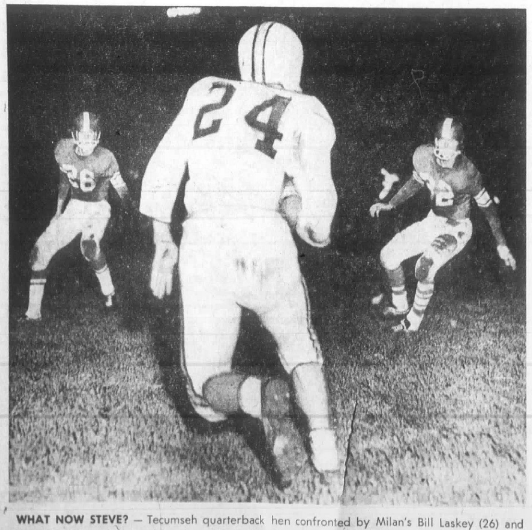
Do you as a vehicle driver want to hit a school child that is leaving or boarding a school bus?

By all safety rules you should stop and remain stopped while approaching or overtaking a school bus that is loading or unloading school children.

Many workers travel M-50 and other highways at the hour that our children are being loaded or unloaded. Will you try to be more careful and observe a few moments of safety?

We who drive cars on busy highways want to first last and always save that child from an accident.

Drivers who fail to observe the school bus law will be prosecuted and fined for any violation of this law. Don't let this happen to you.



WHAT NOW STEVE? — Tecumseh quarterback hen confronted by Milan's Bill Laskey (26) and Dave Weakly and sprinted for about 15 yards w Steve Kruger (24) had just grabbed a lateral from Al Hassen (32). Playing one of its best games, THS won, 19-6.

Sharon's Cow Wins 8th Place in International

A Guernsey owned by Sharon Burleson won eighth place in the Junior Show of the International Dairy Congress at Waterloo, Iowa this past week.

Her Geloster R. Red Beauty was sent to the international event by the Michigan Guernsey Association in view of her having won four Grand Champions ribbons this year at State and county shows.

Beauty was one of the four top winners of the state.

The Guernsey Association presented a jacket to Sharon while she was attending the event in Iowa with her mother, Mrs. Clyde Burleson.

+ With Tecumseh Teens +

By MARY SEAGER

School is back in session after a welcome vacation of two days, Thursday and Friday.

However, bad news was probably waiting for some as the four-week progress reports were sent out this week.

The magazine sale, which is run annually by the junior class, was officially closed Tuesday noon. The team totals and top salesmen will be published next week.

The GAA met Monday with new initiates meeting earlier.

The Spanish Club met last Tuesday. Mrs. Louise Patterson, the Spanish teacher, is the club's advisor.

The election of officers was completed. They are Steve Kruger, president; Thomas Hicks, vice-president; Susan Frost, secretary; Barb Velandra, treasurer; and Jon Cook, student council representative.

After the election, the program for the year was discussed. Some of the suggestions were a Spanish dinner, going to the movies in Blissfield when a Spanish movie is showing and going to a Spanish play in Ann Arbor.

Also discussed was the program for each meeting. A committee was appointed to take care of this.

The club then played some games in Spanish and sang Spanish songs. In place of dues, it was decided to charge a penny apiece for every English word spoken during certain times of the club meeting.

Of course, Spanish is always to be spoken if possible.

The FHA initiates are easily recognizable to the rest of the student body because they are dressed up in their Sunday best with signs on their backs.

The FTA initiates will soon put in their appearance in the halls of THS. The club meeting for this purpose has been announced.

Student council discussed the proposition made by WABJ.

If the council will make a survey of the top seven tunes at THS, the station will make any announcements about the school activities free of charge from six-thirty until seven on Thursday evenings. The council agreed to do this.

Next to be discussed was the procurement of a dance band by the council for the Homecoming Dance.

Mary Seager brought up the fact that the school paper had turned over half of its revenue from circulation and advertising toward the printing costs. This had not been previously known to the council.

It was decided that the committee chairmen for the Homecoming festivities would meet that night after school.

There appears to be a misunderstanding of the function of the membership drive held annually by the Tecumseh Teen Club.

This membership drive is held towards the beginning of the year. During this period, the price of the card is lowered and the club tries to sell many new cards as well as renew old ones.

At the end of this period, a free dance is given by the club for those who purchased cards in this period.

At this point, the membership is definitely not closed, but the price goes up. This year the price of a card is $1.25. Anyone between the ages of 13 and 19 may purchase cards from Inez Boltz.

There are as of this date 206 members of the club with up to date cards .

The minutes of the last legislature meeting of the Tecumseh Teen Club were kindly supplied to us by the secretary of the club, Linda Dicks.

First on the agenda was a discussion of the record purchase plan. It was decided that the record committee should buy as many records per week as they see fit — around four or five — and should buy a record rack.

No vote could be taken on the new membership rules because so few legislative members attended. (Come on, kids, this is your club and you should help run it. Let's go to these meetings.) The same subject will be brought up again at the next meeting.

It was decided by the legislature that girls should not be allowed to wear slacks to dances after next Saturday. It might be allowed for special dances where more informal clothes would be more appropriate.

Don Murphy, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, told the legislature of the Halloween party which the Jaycee's were financing. On his suggestion, the Teen Club decided to help with the planning and organization of it.

Jim Curth, Carol Grieman, Virginia Grieman, Barb Wallace, Jon Cook, Grant Baughey, Wayne Tucker, Inez Boltz, Mary Leckta and Mary Wing were appointed as a committee to plan the party.

Inez Boltz was asked to investigate the discovery that some kids had obtained membership cards and were selling them to others as the real thing.

A committee consisting of Linda Andrews, Jim Curth, Wayne Tucker, Jon Cook, and Carol Grieman was appointed to organize the furniture drive which will take place in the near future.

TRIPLETS ARE THREE — In celebration of their third birthday, the Gunderson triplets were treated to ice cream cones at Bill Wright's drug store last week. Their elder sister, Sue, celebrated her birthday the first week of October.

Warning to Hunters

The state health commissioner warns every hunter in Michigan.

Take care that you yourself aren't "bagged" by carbon monoxide gas while on your hunting trip this season.

"Your cabin, house trailer or even your automobile can become your private gas chamber if you aren't careful," Dr. Albert E. Heustis said.

"At least six persons died from carbon monoxide in cabins last year and three died just recently in a small house trailer of the type used by hunters. Autos accounted for 28 accidental carbon monoxide deaths in Michigan in 1958."

He said poisonous amounts of carbon monoxide, which is a colorless and odorless gas, can be formed whenever carbon fuels or other carbon-containing materials aren't burned properly.

"To protect yourself wherever you stay, make sure the burners on space heaters, water heaters, appliances and similar devices are adjusted properly," Dr. Heustis urged.

"Give special attention to the air intake to make sure it's large enough to supply all the air the burner needs. Then check the vent pipe to see if it's of adequate size and goes straight up and out the roof if possible. If you have any doubts, check with the local health department."

To keep from falling victim to carbon monoxide inside your car, always drive with a window at least part way open, Dr. Heustis advised. And if your exhaust system is faulty, have it repaired or replaced immediately.

"In almost any place and at almost any time, we are the hunted and carbon monoxide is the hunter," Dr. Heustis said. "Poisonous amounts of the gas are formed whenever carbon materials are burned improperly."

Carbon materials include oil, kerosene, gasoline, bottled gas, natural gas, wood, coke, charcoal and paper. Devices most frequently involved in accidental carbon monoxide poisonings include automobiles, space heaters, furnaces, water heaters and appliances.

Record Keeping for Dairy Herds Starting Now

Only one dairy sire in three transmits higher milk producing potential to his daughters.

Records kept in Michigan's Dairy Herd Improvement associations bear this out, according to John Comstock, county extension agent.

"This fact illustrates that any dairyman who wants to check up on how his herd sires are doing should plan to join the Lenawee county Dairy Herd Improvement association," says Comstock.

Record keeping year starts in October and dairymen are asked to sign up during that month.

Dairymen who join the DHIA program get complete records on the daughters of every sire used in the herd. These records include actual and mature equivalent 305-day records, average milk and fat production of daughters, and lactational herd averages.

For further information about the DHIA program in Lenawee county, get in touch with the county extension office at the courthouse in Adrian.

Contributions Made to School by Daughters

Mrs. Floyd Elliott entertained a large group of members of the DAR in her home Friday evening for the meeting on approved schools conducted by the regent, Mrs. Herbert Newman.

The annual contribution was sent to the Kate Duncan Smith school in Alabama.

The chaplain, Edith Ingersoll, opened the meeting in ritualistic manner. Mrs. Joe Rice gave her report on National Defense stressing foreign aid and its effect on our economy.

Mr. Rice presented pictures of Italy showing communist party signs and art treasures and many unusual things concerning the country.

Letters of appreciation from the state regent and officers were read, thanking the group for their hospitality at the regional meeting when luncheon was served by the Daughters of St. Peter's Episcopal Church at the Parish House.

Irene Wisner and Mrs. Rice poured from a decorated tea table. The co-hostesses were Mrs. Kenton Hunt, Mrs. Harold Hall, Mrs. Purnell Osburn and Miss Ingersoll.

A message from Ralph Hodges, "Your Pharmacist"

OCT. 4th to 10th IS NATIONAL PHARMACY WEEK
It is our yearly reminder that the practice of pharmacy is important to the health of the public. Each year during National Pharmacy Week, we rededicate ourselves once again to the Code of Ethics of Pharmacy, which directs us to remember that, "The Pharmacist Holds The Health And Safety Of His Patrons To Be Of First Consideration."

EVERY PHARMACY IS HEALTH STATION.
In our prescription department are thousands of different medicines. Each one is classified so that it can be located in seconds. All of them are properly stored and dated so that we can be certain they are potent when dispensed.

WHEN SICKNESS THREATENS, PHARMACISTS HELP.
Unlike the ancient days, when the physician had to choose a medicine from the few he carried in his bag or office, modern Doctors now can write for the one specific medicine they believe will help their patients most.

PLEASE INSPECT OUR PRESCRIPTION DEPARTMENT.
During National Pharmacy Week we would be delighted to have you visit it and see how many different medicines we carry. You can observe how prescriptions are compounded, checked for accuracy and permanently filed for future reference.

Strange Regulations

If you have friends or relatives in other countries, do you know the regulations which govern sending and receiving gifts through the international mails?

"This is obviously an important question anytime during the year," says postmaster Jack G. Metcalf, "but it is especially important just now when Christmas gifts are being wrapped for shipment to destinations all over the globe."

Any post office can answer specific questions about postal rates and general questions about what kinds of items are permitted, restricted, or prohibited. Much of the information that mailers need, however, must be obtained from field offices of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Postmaster Metcalf reminds us that large countries and small have their different notions about what they should allow to come within their borders from aboard.

For example, France will not permit bank notes, paper money, nursing bottles or nipples to be received in gift packages.

India requires the word "gift" to be written on packages needing customs or shipper's declaration, plus a detailed statement of the contents of the declaration itself. A duty is charged on most gifts, but postage stamps are admitted free.

Soviet Russia and her satellites have their regulations also. For instance, the addressee must pay an import duty in rubles. If dollars are sent into Russia, the addressee receives them in rubles at an exchange rate of 10 rubles per dollar.

And what will the ruble buy? Four rubles will purchase one pound of sugar, eight will purchase one dozen eggs, and 12 will purchase one pound of butter.

For postal information about gift mailings abroad call 203-R.

55 Attend Opening of Monday Club Year

Fifty-five members and guests of the Monday Club met Oct. 5 at the Episcopal Parish House for luncheon.

Mrs. W. G. Waldron, president, and her officers were seated at a table centered with a bouquet of chrysanthemums and roses in tones of brown.

The piano and four other tables were trimmed with oak leaves and bittersweet and chrysanthemum plants were placed about the room.

After luncheon, served by the Episcopal ladies, Mrs. Waldron introduced the officers and Mrs. Clifford Knudson, who has charge of the community achievement plan. She told about her program for the years.

The members voted to sponsor Troop 30 of Girl Scouts with Mrs. Bonner as committee woman.

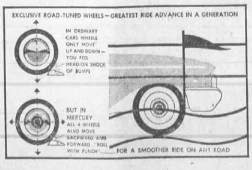
Prices importantly reduced on all Mercury models! Popular Monterey* now $136.50 lower. Now you can own a new Mercury for a very few cents a day more than a car with a low-price name.

* Comparison based on manufacturer's suggested delivered price for a Monterey 2-door sedan, 1960 v. 1959. Includes Federal excise tax and suggested dealer preparation and handling charges.

You'll be glad you bought a Mercury every time . . .

Why pay a medium-range price for a car with a low-price name? For this year, Mercury is in a new lower-price range. You'll be glad you didn't settle for less . . .



. . . every time you look at its Sleek-Line styling.

Every line is clean, trim. All excess metal has been pared away, shaped smooth. There's no unnecessary bulk. Just elegant simplicity.

. . . every time you feel its exclusive Road-Tuned ride.

Mercury's Road-Tuned wheels (see left) take bounce out of bumps. This ability of each wheel to "roll with the punch" is one of the most important ride advances in years . . . another reason why you'll be glad you bought Mercury . . .

. . . every time someone sits in the middle.

There's real comfort for 6 people, not just 4. Full head room, hip room, foot room for all.

. . . every time you see other new cars.

You'll discover that Mercury has the freshest styling—no warmed-over '59 design as in many so-called 1960 cars. You'll find that Mercury has the newest features—de luxe interiors on even the lowest-priced model, at no extra cost. And you'll appreciate the extra quality—the kind that cuts repair bills. For Mercury is the best-built car in America today. Don't miss the first showing.

FULL-SCALE SQUIRREL WAR

Hostilities have begun. The cold war has suddenly become hot. Gone are the days of playful teasing, adolescent taunting, and kiddish pranks. The two little Red Squirrels have no time for such things now.

We thoroughly enjoyed all their growing-up antics and adventures, but some of their adult traits are not so pleasant. I am afraid they are becoming greedy, selfish and just plain mean.

We had noticed, as the squirrels grew up, that their games were played less and less in fun and more and more in seriousness, but when the walnut tree began to shed its fruit, boom, the full scale war was on.

Even though there are enough nuts for all, our two Little Reds fight over them. They are gathering them in a frantic frenzy which borders the fanatic.

All day long they go back and forth making just as many trips as they possibly can. Their haste seems desperate — one would think that each nut being carried away was going to be the last.

NUTTING SHOULD be a happy carefree experience, but for the Little Reds it is no such thing. Their selfishness is sad to see.

They are each so afraid that the other is going to get two or three nuts more than his share. When one Little Red spots the other, regardless of where either squirrel is or what they are doing, an attack is launched.

Since all the squirrels' days are spent carrying nuts to their respective winter hordes, it usually happens that one of the fighters has a nut in his mouth. Quite often the squirrel who starts the battle is the one with a mouthful of nuts. In the melee, of course, the walnut is more often than not dropped and lost. The squirrel version of the old tale about the dog with a bone seeing his own reflection in the pond.

ACTUALLY, were it not for the all-too-frequent displays of ill-tempered greediness, watching the two little squirrels would be fun.

They are so fast and so little and so cute. Seldom will either take time to shuck off the thick green outer husk and really, the walnuts look bigger than the squirrels.

How they can manage to run while carrying such big awkward loads is something to marvel at. And speaking of running, I must be truthful and admit that even when the squirrels are scrapping, there is an element of fun in watching them.

Their battles are so fast and so loud and so fierce. With shrill, high-pitched voices, they scold and scream. As for speed, they are always lightning fast, but it does seem that under "the pressure of battle" their chasings become faster than ever.

Of course, the complete savagenesc with which they tear at one another is the big pay-off. Even though we know they are grimly serious, such big displays from such little animals are slightly ridiculous and one can't help but smile.

WE ARE NOT sure where either squirrel is storing his plunder. The trees are still too full of leaves for us to see the complete journey that either makes. One goes south, however, the other north.

Dictator South has never changed his route—he flys along the top of our fence, jumps from the end post into the mulberry tree, then goes into Doctor's big sprawling elm and is out of sight.

Czar North used to follow the same route, except instead of leaving the mulberry tree by its southern branches, he took the opposite side and scurried into a small maple, then a bigger one and from there we could see no further.

For a time the poor innocent mulberry tree was a no-man's land and oh, the battles that were waged on its branches. It finally became too much for the Czar, I suppose he had to back up once too often, and so his supply line was changed a bit.

Not complete surrender however, he still uses the fence but instead of going to the end of it, he scurried down off the top rail at next to the last post.

From here he runs across the yard and hops, from the top of the creek bank, to the trunk of the second maple tree.

SURE, IT would be shorter if he went across the yard and didn't bother with the fence, but apparently he has his pride to consider.

The deplorable thing about this squirrel war is that it is a full—scale affair. The Red Squirrels fighting each other is one thing but now they are battling their big cousins, our old favorites, the Fox Squirrels.

Lately there has been a marked decline in the number of big squirrels around and those we occasionally do see are usually running away from a fast-enough-to-almost-catch-up Red Squirrel.

This is no good — the Little Reds are cute, but not to the point that we want them to dominate the neighborhood completely.

Front Yard Conventions.

"IF WE COULD BE TWICE YOUNG AND TWICE OLD WE COULD CORRECT ALL OUR MISTAKES"

Unfortunately we are all given only one life and one body to live in. All of us must avoid those mistakes which can cause irreparable harm. Modern mothers have the right idea. New babies are taken to a physician for regular examinations to prevent future troubles.

If all adults would visit their physician at least once every year for a check-up, there would be fewer serious cases of diabetes, glaucoma or cancer.

How to add years to your life

100 years ago the average American could expect to live about 40 years. Today—about 70. Modern sanitation, diet, drugs and medical practice have added 30 years to our life span. And note that 70 is average. Many die sooner. Many live longer. You up your chances of being a "longer" if you eat properly and get proper medical care. This means periodic check-ups by your physician. As pharmacists we are pleased to help by supplying the drugs your doctor prescribes—drugs unknown a century ago. We're so conscious of the effectiveness of modern medicine that we're shooting for a life span of 100 years.

LENAWEE COUNTY HUMANE SOCIETY

APPEAL FOR OPERATING FUNDS FOR THE SMALL ANIMAL SHELTER
ON ACADEMY ROAD, TWO MILES EAST OF ADRIAN

IS NOW ON. AN AD FOR DONATIONS HAS NOW APPEARED IN ANOTHER PAPER.

THIS IS NOT DIRECTED TO THE PEOPLE OF TECUMSEH

The people of Tecumseh have substantially helped the Lenawee County Humane Society in its work. By donations of individuals — by regular support from the Tecumseh Community Fund — and in timely and substantial ways, Tecumseh has supported this Society. For this we are deeply grateful.

There is still need—still bills and a mortgage to be paid — but we are not appealing to Tecumseh. We serve the entire Lenawee County—and our appeal is to those outside Tecumseh who have done but little in the past.

THE RETURN OF HYMAN KAPLAN
Leo Rosten

Yes, he's back, in an entirely new and hilarious saga—the immortal Hyman of the angelic smile, the deadly logic, and that blithe massacre of the tongue which make him "so fabulous and irresistible as to set him among the permanent creations of comic literature." For twenty years Mr. Kaplan and his colleagues in the American Night Preparatory School for Adults have left a trail of laughter around the world.

THE APE IN ME
Cornelia Otis Skinner

Laughter is one of life's best tonics. Here is another boost from the hilarious pen of the famous actress, monologuist and writer. Again this versatile mistress of exaggeration and verbal slapstick makes both sensible and wild fun of herself and the rest of the world. In twelve delightful sketches she gibes happily, and with the verve familiar to all her readers, at the idiosyncrasies of life, both private and public.

BROWN GIRL, BROWNSTONES
Paule Marshall

A young girl grows up in a Barbadian family that left a lush Caribbean island to settle in the dignified atmosphere of an old brownstone district in Brooklyn. The girl is Selina, and this is the story of Selina and her people, their efforts to adjust to a strange new setting, to establish themselves in white society. But the book goes beyond the special problems of the Barbadians to encompass the more universal human struggles.

ADD A DASH OF PITY
Peter Usfinov

Peter Ustinov's stories are like windows opening upon a cosmopolitan and colorful experience. Every one of them is charged with feeling and written with the conviction that life is entertaining, not dreary, that it is unpredictable, not abstract, and that people everywhere have in them "a dash of pity," which is a binding and universal force.

We're only kidding, ladies! But, since hunting accidents do happen—it's a good idea fo.. every hunter (men and women) to sign up for a Hunter's Tripmaster Policy before starting for the fields and forests. Falls, broken bones, sprains, cuts, burns, traffic mishaps and gun accidents are bound to occur sometimes. A Hunter's Tripmaster pays accident medical bills ($500 to $5000)—provides an Accidental Death & Dismemberment benefit ($5000 to $50,000)—and it can even insure your baggage and hunting equipment. May we give you details?

Tigers, Hauptmann Hitler and FDR— This Was Their Era

GERMAN FUHRER ADOLPH HITLER FOMENTS CROWD IN SPEECH BEFORE THE FAMILIAR NAZI SWASTIKA, SYMBOL OF HIS SOCIALISTIC PARTY.

By TOM RIORDAN

This is October, 1934.

In a fireside chat, President Franklin D. Roosevelt explains his NRA —the National Recovery Act—asks a truce between capital and labor, adding, "I am happy to report that after years of uncertainty, we are bringing order out of the old chaos with a greater certainty of the employment of labor at a reasonable wage and of more business at a fair profit."

Bruno Richard Hauptmann, accused Lindberg baby kidnapper, faces a sanity examination.

A crowd of 200,000 hears Hitler rave about Germany's harvest and then ridicule those abroad who have predicted a downfall for the Nazi regime through collapse of foreign trade, scarcity of raw materials and political troubles.

Welfare cases are increasing at the rate of 400 families a day in the Detroit area.

In this light, twenty-five years seems hardly enough time in which to compress the progress of Tecumseh Products Company!

From Modest Beginning in 1934, Products Has Grown into Industry's Pacesetter

Editor's note — This story of the fabulous growth of Tecumseh Products and its influence on Tecumseh, is told mainly in excerpts from issues of the Tecumseh Herald during the past 25 years. In this quarter of a century, the Products has grown from a tiny factory employing several hundred to one of tremendous size with personnel numbering more than 3,500. It has made Tecumseh "The Refrigeration Capitol of the World." The writer, Mabel Lockwood, is editor of the firm's employee publication, The TP Broadcast.

By MABEL LOCKWOOD

A banner headline across the top of The Tecumseh Herald on July 19, 1934, announced: "HILLSDALE FACTORY SEEKS LOCATION IN TECUMSEH."

An adjoining article went on to tell that the H. Brewer and Company plant in Tecumseh was being purchased by the Hillsdale Machine and Tool Company of Hillsdale.

It said the Hillsdale factory would move to the village within the next six weeks. Legal steps would have to be taken to dispose of the physical assets of the Brewer Company at a receiver's sale.

The Hillsdale group expressed a desire to transfer its equipment to Tecumseh as quickly as conditions would permit and to swing into full production by mid-September of 1934.

The Hillsdale concern manufactured automobile and electric refrigerator parts, small tools and novelties. One of its largest customers was the Ford Motor Company.

Planned To Enlarge Brewer Plant

At its peak, the labor load was between 275 and 300 men and women with a weekly payroll of between $6,000 and $7,000.

The company reported it planned to enlarge the Brewer factory upon coming to Tecumseh and to branch out into new manufacturing lines. The Hillsdale company was headed by R. W. Herrick of Hillsdale as president, C. F. Sage of Hillsdale, vice-president, and M .L. Gardner of Battle Creek, secretary and treasurer.

Negotations for the company's move to Tecumseh started nearly 60 days previous to the public announcement when a group from the Tecumseh Commerce Club met with officials of the Hillsdale factory and discussed the advisability of its purchase of the Brewer plant.

Following the first conference, dozens of others were held.

The Commerce Club and the business and professional people of Tecumseh immediately merged behind the movement and sufficient funds were raised to meet Brewer receivership obligations and help move the Hillsdale equipment to Tecumseh.

If the sale of the Brewer plant was ordered by the court, it would then become the city of Tecumseh's obligation to lay a cement floor and to do other remodeling necessary to meet the group's requirements.

Citizens Donated Labor

Funds for the work were already available, as well as hundreds of hours of donated labor pledged by Tecumseh people.

To assure normal operations, the company stated it planned to bring here 24 "key men," who were skilled in their work and thoroughly familiar with the plant operation. It was agreed that the additional employees required would be hired in Tecumseh.

The Hillsdale group liked Tecumseh because of its nearness to Detroit, where a large part of its products were delivered. The short haul into the Motor City over good paved roads, made Tecumseh the most attractive town considered when it was decided to leave Hillsdale.

Sale of the real estate and fixed assets of H. Brewer and Company to Hillsdale Machine and Tool Co., Inc., was ordered by Circuit Judge G. Arthur Rathbun, at the conclusion of a court hearing in Adrian on August 7, 1934.

The tool company agreed to pay $20,000 for the fixed assets of the Brewer plant, less the real estate taxes against the property of $2,803. Of this amount, 25% was to be paid in cash at the time of the confirmation of the sale and the balance secured by a mortgage, payable in one year.

Paid $20,000 for Fixed Assets

The offer was later amended, the company agreeing to pay $20,000 for the real estate and fixed assets of the Brewer Company and to assume the real taxes in an amount not to exceed $2,803.

About 75 business and professional men and women from Tecumseh were present for the hearing. The Hillsdale men were gratified by the interest displayed by the local group.

Actual sale was confirmed by Judge Rathbun at a second session on September 4, 1934.

Those in charge of the negotations in Tecumseh declared that in the event of a favorable decision, remodeling of the Brewer building to meet the requirements of the new company, would begin at once.

As quickly as Brewer machinery was removed from the building, a cement floor was laid and other necessary repairs were started. All this preliminary work was done at local expense with funds, sufficient to defray the cost,

INDUSTRY GIANTS—These four men, from left, the late Frank Smith, Ray Herrick, Jens Touborg and Curtiss Brown, all played leading roles in the growth of Tecumseh Products into the world's largest single manufacturer of refrigeration compressors. Since the firm started here 25 years ago 38 millions compressors have been made.

Another anniversary . . . another feather in an already impressive bonnet! It marks 25 years of service to industry, the nation and to your own local community. Your contribution to the general economy has been noteworthy, yet, to us, it is your contributions to your community that sets Tecumseh Products Co. out from others . . . support of hospital, school, municipal and recreational facilities. Officials of the Hillsdale plant said it would be possible to move their equipment to Tecumseh in a week or ten days after the preliminary work was completed.

They were anxious to swing into operation as soon as possible, inasmuch as the winter months were ones of peak production. Plans for the company's future, officials said, were extremely bright. Several thousand dollars worth of new machinery, to be shipped to the local plant, was being purchased.

The Business and Professionnal Womens Club voted $5 a week for three weeks for meat. Each member of the club was asked to donate a pound of coffee or a few pounds of sugar.

An appeal was made to the people of Tecumseh and vicinity to contribute potatoes, apples, beans, corn, butter, eggs, milk, vegetables or groceries of any kind that could be used in preparation of a noon-day meal.

Contributions were left at the office of J. N. Satterthwaite in the Strand Theatre. Two or three oil cooking stoves were requested. Dinners were served daily at 11:30 a.m. by a committee from the churches.

Get Idle Tecumseh Men on Payroll

When visiting the plant on September 18, 1934, R. W. Herrick, president, commented: "We simply must get started. Our customers are anxious, and so are we, to get our machinery moved to Tecumseh as soon as remodeling will permit. It is imperative we get the shop into production without delay.

"Then, too," he continued, "we want to get these idle Tecumseh men on the payroll just as quickly as we can." Mr. Herrick expressed satisfaction with what had been done and sincere appreciation to the 75 to 100 men who were donating labor.

Working in two shifts, the men bent every effort toward the goal of getting the plant into operation between October 15 and 20. Concrete floors were finished October 5. Since the new plant would need power, groups of electricians set poles and strung lines to areas where motors, which would drive the machines, would be located.

It was announced that the Hillsdale plant, after com-

the things a picture doesn't tell

Despite the old Chinese proverb about one picture being worth a thousand words, there are many things that no picture could ever tell. Such is the case with the main illustration on this page.

You see in the foreground a conveyor line. This line is carrying hermetic compressors through the second bubble test for leak detection at Tecumseh Products Company. But from the picture you have no way of knowing that this line and others at Tecumseh carry more refrigeration compressors each year than are produced in any other factory in the world.

Behind this fact is something else the picture doesn't show. That is the growth and progress of a company which in twenty-five years has risen from humble beginnings to become the unqualified leader in its field. And behind this phenomenal record is the vision, talent and industry of men like R. W. Herrick and others.

Continually, with the help of their employees and the people of the community, Tecumseh Products is achieving and bettering its aim—to produce more units of better quality at less cost. These things don't show in the picture.

And, no matter how closely you look, you cannot see the thousands of other companies and hundreds of thousands of people here and abroad who owe their prosperity to the compressors produced by Tecumseh. Consider the vast new industries in air conditioning, refrigeration and related fields. Their fantastic growth was made possible only by Tecumseh's successful mass-production of the hermetically-sealed compressor. And despite their tremendous volume, each unit is of the highest quality, built to last and last. These things don't show in the picture, but without them the picture would never have been possible.

Then there are the suppliers. They, too, have shared the prosperity created by Tecumseh. Among them is the General Electric Company. We are proud to have been the major supplier of electrical components for Tecumseh's compressors over the years. Our products don't show in the picture either. But we supply hermetic motors, capacitors, relays and fan motors, as well as electrical equipment for plant operation.

Hermetic motors such as shown on the right were developed especially for Tecumseh's compressors. They are furnished in ratings from 1/20 to 5 HP and are the highest-quality motors available anywhere in the world. Their features include die-cast aluminum rotors and welded cores, exclusive G-E developments, now found on every motor manufactured in this field. They are wound with Formex wire, another G-E development now universally accepted, but which Tecumseh first recognized and pioneered in quantity use on refrigeration applications. In addition, these motors have been specially treated to be sure they are essentially moisture-free and absolutely clean for long, trouble-free life.

Capacitors are another component furnished by General Electric. These are "run" capacitors, designed to improve performance and lower the cost of operating Tecumseh's compressors. They are filled with Pyranol, an exclusive G-E development that insures better protection and longer life for the capacitor.

G.E. supplies relays, designed specifically for hermetics. These relays operate over and over again, matching the dependable performance of all other parts of Tecumseh compressors.

There are also unit-bearing fan motors supplied by General Electric for condenser cooling. These, of course, are of the same high quality as other G-E parts, designed for long, trouble-free life.

Finally, there is the matter of electrical equipment for plant use, also not visible in the picture. This means the apparatus for power distribution and utilization in Tecumseh's factories. The reliability of such G-E products helps insure a steady flow of production which keeps the conveyors in the picture moving without interruption.

The General Electric Company extends its most sincere congratulations to Tecumseh for the tremendous accomplishments symbolized by these conveyor lines. And we pledge ourselves to continue to share the high standards of product quality and service that will help keep the lines going and growing as Tecumseh enters its second quarter century of progress and growth.

IT'S A FAMILIAR SCENE

It's just a few minutes after the first shift has completed its stint for the day. The scene is Gate 1, a mighty familiar location to folks living in the Tecumseh area. It's a sunny, summer day, the men are hustling home to their families, maybe anxious to be in the garden and get in the year's tomato plants. Or they might be "full-time" farmers while not helping to build refrigeration compressors and fields await plowing or cultivating. For some, there's bound to be a round of golf or possibly a brisk set of tennis or a dip in the local pool. Most, however, will likely settle back in their favorite chair, slip off their shoes and read the afternoon paper. For all, it has been another eight hours of a job well done.

FROM HUMBLE BEGINNING 25 YEARS AGO

Now the World's Largest Manufacturer of Compressors

Like most great achievements, the Tecumseh-refrigeration compressor had a humble beginning. The original model—dubbed the 500—was designed in 1933 by the late Frank Smith, while the firm was still in Hillsdale.

It didn't figure predominately in the company's plans until after the move to Tecumseh and the formation of the new corporation.

Then, suddenly, the name Tecumseh seemed to burst into full contention in the compressor market.

The year 1934 was a perfect time to get into the field. Most refrigeration appliance manufacturers were not equipped to produce their own compressors and could find no competitive sources in the industry.

That was when Tecumseh Products arrived on the scene.

The combined talents of Ray Herrick, Mr. Smith, Curtis Brown, Jens Touborg, Bill Sage, Clyde Giltner and others soon had the units flowing smoothly off assembly lines, following the mass-production theme pioneered by the automotive industry, and to the waiting customers.

In the first year, 12,000 were made. All told, nearly three million of the Model 500 have gone into the market. Variations are still being manufactured, although in small numbers, mostly to replace original units.

Jens Touborg, in 1937, designed the first hermetic compressor — completely encased, air-tight. It was a twin cylinder, six horse-power. As its predecessor, the 500 which was a single cylinder, the new hermetic was gobbled up by the market.

In 1945, Mr. Touborg modified this model with a one-quarter horse power, single cylinder hermetic, which soon became an industry standard.

With each of its compressors, Tecumseh was able to mass produce quality units at much smaller cost than any other builder. This skill has paid off handsomely.

Today, Tecumseh compressors are used as standard equipment by many major manufacturers of refrigerators, freezers and air conditioners.

During its quarter century of operation here, Tecumseh has produced 38,000,000 units—making the Products the largest compressor manufacturer in the world.

In addition to its history of inventive genius, production skill and sales ability, Tecumseh's success has been greatly enhanced by its rigid policies toward customers:

1. To produce only quality products using the best materials available.

2. To offer these products to all customers at a price based on an established fair percent of profit.

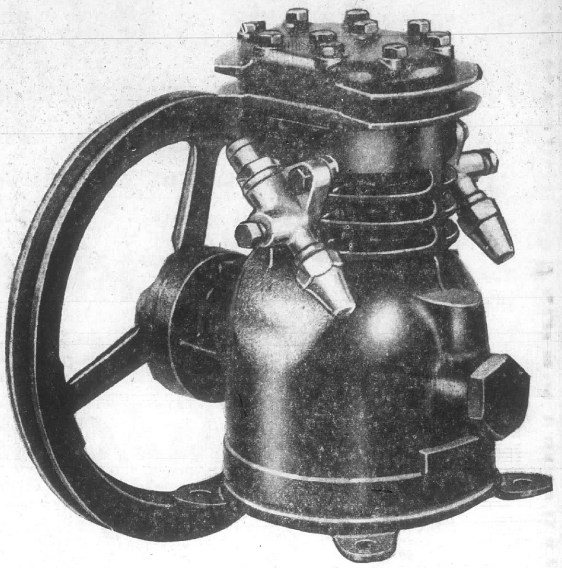
3. To guarantee that no end products will be manufactured which would place the company in competition with its customers.

Besides the domestic operation, Tecumseh compressors are manufactured by 11 licensees in foreign lands—New Zealand, Israel, Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Denmark France, Italy, Scotland, W. Germany, the Philippines.

Many basic benefits are available to customers through this licensing arrangement. Most important: each licensee has the advantage of Tecumseh's extensive engineering research and development program.

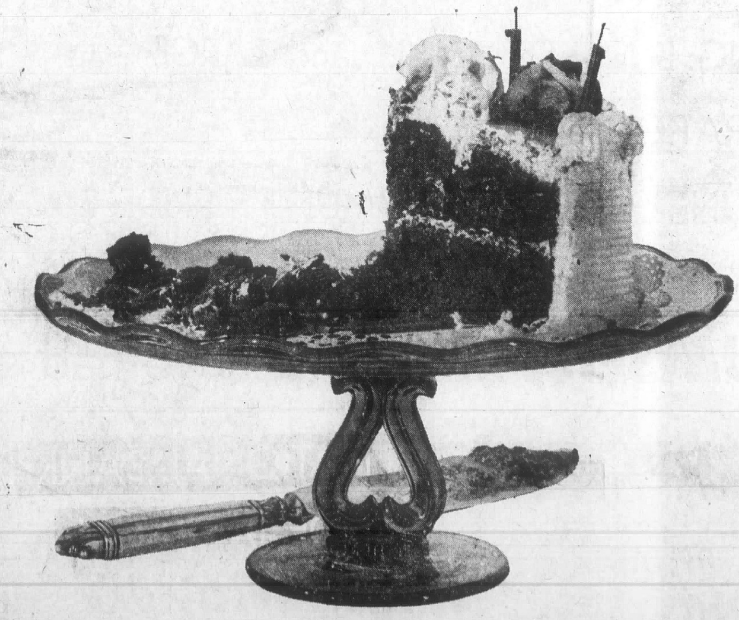
Foreign customers are able to purchase genuine Tecumseh compressors from the overseas manufacturing facilities, using the most favorable duty and currency exchange.

Thus, customers all over the world are offered proven products, built to Tecumseh's rigid standards, in the shortest possible time and at the lowest possible price.



ORIGINAL MODEL—This is the Model 500, the original compressor manufactured by Tecumseh Products and designed by the late Frank Smith. Production the first year: 12,000. Called the "open" or "conventional" unit, nearly 2¾ million have been built. Variations of it are still being manufactured in small numbers, mainly to replace those which have been worn out.

for a quarter of century . . . .



An old friend and neighbor, Tecumseh Products Company, celebrates its twenty-fifth anniversary today and we join with others in a happy birthday salute!

This fine old company was named for the town in which it is located. Through the years, the two have worked closely together to build a product which has made the name Tecumseh widely respected in industry. And to build a town which is a bright spot on the map of Michigan!

Best wishes to all the men and women who worked so hard to make this day worthy of recognition!

Tecumseh Products Co. has used 8,000,000 Primore shutoff valves on its compressors and condensing units. Our company is proud to be a supplier–and we've been serving Tecumsh Products for over 14 years. We congratulate Tecumseh for the position it has attained in the refrigeration industry, as the leading manufacturer of refrigeration compressors, and for the contributions it has made to the fastest growing industry in our nation.

Here's How We Make Our Valves

The component parts that make up our valves are precision manufactured from steel, on the latest automatic screw machines available. These components are then pressed-fit together by small, fast automatic presses. The complete assembly is furnace-brazed as it journeys on a continuous moving conveyor.

Packing components are then inserted into one end of the valves. Each assembly is submerged in refrigeration oil for proper lubrication. A final, rigid inspection before packing insures them reaching Tecumseh in A-1 condition.

Our production facilities have enabled us to mass produce a quality, uniform product, to correspond to Tecumseh Products daily, high-volume production.

Our Quality Is Always Rigidly Controlled

Constant checks and inspection after each operation insure a superior quality valve for Tecumseh Products.

The completed valve is tested under pressure with the most modern facilities available.

We maintain the highest degree of quality at all times in every step of our manufacturing to meet the quality-control standards specified by Tecumseh Products.

ing here, would be called the Tecumseh Products Company.

In October, 1934, three Tecumseh men were elected to the board of directors: Glenn L. Williams, attorney; John R. Thompson, cashier of the United Savings Bank, and Edward C. Heilman, village clerk and businessman.

Other members of the board were R. W. Herrick, C. F. Sage, M. L. Gardner, A. E. Udell and Burritt Hamilton.

Operations Started October 20

On October 20, Tecumseh Products Company swung into operation. Already, there were plans for the beginning of another production line that day or the next.

Seven company officials had moved to Tecumseh and more would be coming soon. Altogether, 15 or 16 families would be moving here.

R. W. Herrick, occupied his new house on W. Chicago Blvd.; C. F. Sage, vice-president, was moving into the former Boyce house on S. Pearl St.; M. L. Dannells, purchasing agent, had taken up residence on W. Shawnee St.; C. H. Giltner, general superintendent, on W. Chicago Blvd.; and Luther Kemp, head of the stock room and shipping department, on W. Chicago Blvd.

Arthur Swain, electrician, was also living in Tecumseh.

The first pay day was Tuesday, November 13, and the payroll amounted to about $2,500.

The next day, Wednesday, some 60 men punched the time clock in the plant. Production was being stepped up as rapidly as new machinery could be put into operation.

The largest automotive customer was Ford Motor and it was on a Ford order that an assembly line was started.

The payroll list jumped to 150 by mid-December.

Compressor Lines Are Started

At this time, the factory was manufacturing automobile parts for Ford. The compressor lines began operating in the week of December 10.

Because of precision work it was necessary to employ experts to run the delicate machines, some of which were set with diamond drills and cost thousands of dollars. A future goal: teach local men to operate these machines.

Mr. Herrick told Rotarians, who were touring the plant, that every unit has to be "made to exact specifications." For example, a 10-degree change in temperature might result in an undersize or oversize product.

In December, 1934, two shifts were operating to meet production schedules. On January, 28, 1935, the payroll was $7,400, one of the largest in Tecumseh's history. Employees numbered 200. Pay day was every two weeks.

To acquaint the people of the town with its largest industry, an open house was planned for April 5, between 7 and 9 p.m., while the entire plant was in operation. Manufactured products were displayed while the automotive division was running at peak production.

The refrigeration division was then turning out 320 compressors daily. By April 20, this figure increased to 450 compressors daily.

Some 1,300 people, half of them women, inspected the Products during the open house.

At the close of business in 1935, Mr. Herrick made a few predictions. By late February, 1936, he said, there would be 400 on the payroll, drawing $275,000 annually. Sales in 1936 should amount to $1 million, compared to $550,000 the previous year.

In 1935, a twin-cylinder compressor was introduced. It won immediate favor in its field.

In March, 1937, the company disclosed that it would sponsor a $150,000 house-building program in Tecumseh for Products employees. Covering a two-year period, the program called for the construction of 10 houses by September 1.

Ten more were to be built by January 1, 1938. The plan called for 30 more houses to the community during 1938. At that time, it was the largest construction program ever attempted in the history of Tecumseh.

$15,000 Special Building Fund

A $15,000 special building fund was set aside for Products employees. Questionnaires, sent through the shop, asked employees if they wanted to build their own homes.

To the first 10 men, the company gave $300 each on the condition that they would invest a like amount or more in a house to be built in Tecumseh.

Aided by the Federal Housing Administration, each of the 10 employees built a house valued at $3,000.

Asked if the $300 had to be repaid, Mr. Herrick said: "The $300 is our gift to the qualifying employees."

By March, 1937, there were 520 names on the payroll: about $64,000.

It was in 1937 that the company unveiled to the trade a four-cylinder compressor. This new model gained immediate approval and found a market not only in the United States, but in England, too.

The compressor's capacity was three-quarters of a ton of ice a day. Thus it was suitable for the air-conditioning of offices and small factory units. Its initial daily production schedule: about 50 units.

Sales Representatives Meet in 1937

Twenty sales representatives of the Products, including the foreign export division, met here in July, 1937.

C. M. Brown, general manager of the refrigerator division, told the sales group that the Tecumseh plant was especially laid out for producing precision-built compressors.

In addition, it was pointed out that the condensing units were manufactured in single, twin and four-cylinder models, rating from 350 and 8,350 BTU's an hour. All assembling was done in glass-enclosed rooms. Only filtered, dust-free air was admitted.

"The Tecumseh Products Company," Mr. Brown declared, "is now recognized as one of the largest independent manufacturers in the U. S. for domestic as well as export use."

Then, Frank Smith, sales manager of the refrigeration division, explained the company's sales activity.

Said Mr. Smith: "During 1936, sales were 144% above those of 1935. For the five months to May 31, they increased 97% over the year before."

And the orders were still rolling in.

New developments were discussed by Jens Touborg, chief engineer. He spoke of the company's new V-type, four-cylinder compressor, introduced that year.

Mr. Touborg's reaction to the unit's acceptance: "Enthusiastic."

Mr. Herrick told the salesmen that he was proud of the company's showing so far in 1937 and was confident that the remainder of the year would compare equally well with 1936. He added that the company's financial position was more than adequate.

Plans for a public celebration to open the new $30,000 addition to the plant were announced July 8.

Said Mr. Herrick: "This is our party for Tecumseh. We want everyone to enjoy it. Everyone who lives in Tecumseh or in its trading areas is welcome to attend. Everything will be free. We also plan to award prizes during the evening. These will include 12 cabinet radios, three electric washing machines and two electric refrigerators."

A Night To Remember

Held July 12, it was a night to remember. There were inspection tours of the plant and dancing in the new addition, which was 200 x 100 feet and increased the floor area of the plant by one-third.

There was only one disappointment: the fireworks display scheduled for midnight, was cancelled. Reason: representatives of the fireworks company failed to show up.

In August, eight carloads of new machines arrived and were installed in the main factory, replacing equipment moved into the new addition, which would be used as an assembly plant for the refrigeration division.

The firm's greatest production rate was anticipated for the fiscal year, 1937-38. Employees on the payroll at that time: 520.

Eight Carloads Of Machines

Mr. Herrick announced: "With the added one-third floor space, we will be able to push our production on the new hermetically-sealed compressor, which is winning recognition in the refrigeration world. This product is in heavy demand."

"These units use a newly-developed gas and the motor and compressor are sealed and welded into a single unit. The Products is the only independent company in the world manufacturing this type."

In the Tecumseh Herald of August 5, 1937, this financial statement appeared:

"Tecumseh Products Company has reported for six months ended June 30, 1937, a net profit of $114,175.01, after depreciation and federal taxes on income, but before provision for surtax on undistributed profits, equivalent

Products Fashioned Shells, Other Materials

The United States was plunged into World War II in January 1942 and Tecumseh Products was immersed in military work.

A meeting of employees was held that month so that the company could bring everyone up-to-date on planning the coming war years.

At hand was an order for 12 million 40 mm anti-aircraft projectiles. The plant was already producing these at a rate of 23,000 daily. Equipment had been ordered so that by March there would be a duplication of 40 mm-shell-making facilities.

This would mean a daily production of nearly 50,000 shells, seven days a week, employees were told. The new line would be in Plant 2.

Another order, this for one million three-inch anti-aircraft projectiles had been given R. W. Herrick in Washington a few days earlier. These would be built at a rate of 3,000 daily, seven days a week, beginning about June 1.

Basketball Team Met Many All-Star Units

In November of 1947, manager Fred Oberlin, had his Products basketball porteges hard at work, 18 men having come out.

The first game was played at the high school gym against Clinton Machine.

The TP cagers were all dolled up in their new uniforms, a black and white satin combination, with white satin warm-up jackets and white Converse all-star shoes.

Many outstanding star teams were brought to Tecumseh, including an aggregation from Ann Arbor, which included U. of Michigan football stars, Lenny Ford and Bob Mann.

In March of 1948 the famous Redheads, a girl's team, performed against the TP quintet.

Another special event was the coming of the famous Komedy Kings of New York City, a leading Negro clown basketball team, in February of 1949.

Some beautiful trophies were won through the years. They are on exhibit in the trophy case in the front lobby.

The 14 small precision parts for the Rolls-Royce aircraft engine for the Packard Motor Car Co. would continue.

The company was about to get started on secret assemblies of the hydraulic generator pump and gun elevating apparatus for the turrets used in Flying Fortress Bombers.

Mr. Herrick said "we are making 100,000 of the 37 mm anti-tank shells at the rate of 1,500 per day, seven days a week."

"We received a go-ahead this week on a large order of oil gear pumps to be used on super-chargers for all of our aircraft. These will be made at the rate of 600 per week starting about June 15."

One year later, in March of 1943, Mr. Herrick pointed out to Products employees some interesting facts about their part in the war work.

"In every part of the war front, wherever the United Nations are fighting—Russia, China, Africa, England, New Guinea, Solomons, Australia—some piece of equipment or weapon is made by the men in our factory.

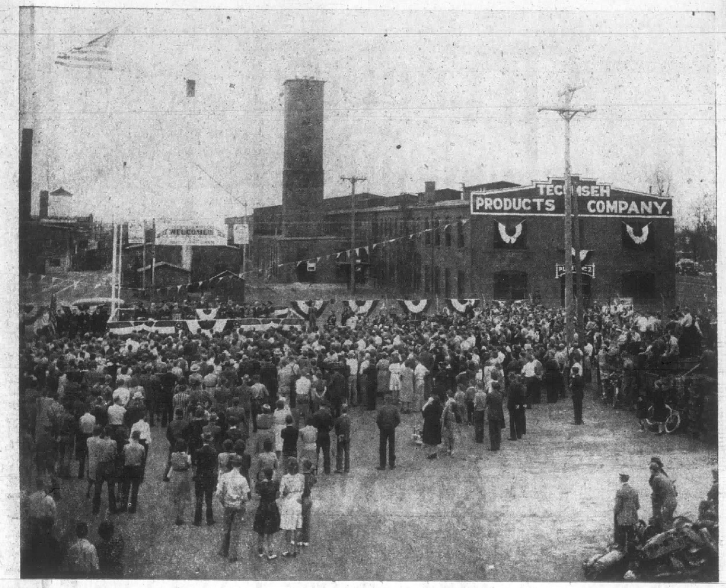
Here are items which local workers contributed a part:

- 40 mm projectiles (anti-aircraft)
- 37 mm shells (anti-tank)
- 3-inch projectile (anti-aircraft)
- 625-lb. depth bombs
- 350-lb. depth bombs
- Rolls-Royce aircraft engines
- M-4 tanks
- M-3 tanks
- Tracer bodies (for projectiles)
- Machine gun mounts (50 caliber)

In March of 1943, women were employed in the plant at the Products for the first time. Several wives of Products men in service were put to work on inspection jobs.

Mrs. Adeline Belleville was the matron in charge. In December of 1943, Mrs. Florence Babcock joined up as a plant matron to assist Mrs. Belleville.

The women employed in the factory formed a club known as "TP Bum Organization", had many pleasant times together at parties, picnics and the like. Most of them had husbands in service.



BIG DAY — More than 5,000 witnessed ceremonies on Tuesday, April 28, 1942, amidst a patroitic setting at the plant, then almost completely on war work. The crowd included employees in their oil-stained work clothes, Navy officials in their immaculate blue and gold uniforms, Army officials, officers and directors of the firm, and some 50 especially invited guests, including Gov. Murray D. Van-Wagoner. The Navy permitted the closing of the factory for one hour so that employees might participate in the program. At the conclusion of the ceremonies R. W. Herrick presented Captain Davis with a check for $500 from the Tecumseh Products Union and another for $1,999 from the Products Company for the Navy Relief Fund. This was not a scheduled part of the program. Lieut. Arthur Langfield of Great Lakes, Illinois, presented the official Navy "E" lapel pins to the oldest member of the Products' employees in point of service, Keith G. Barron. Later each employee of the company received one of the cherished buttons.

Dear Friends:

Over the many years that we have been privileged to supply you, we have been constantly aware of your achievements both in business and in contributions to your growing community.

We know of no other city in America that has benefited so handsomely from being the home of a civic-minded industrial enterprise.

We brag about you — privately and publicly. And why not? Aside from the fact that our compressor housings and crankshafts have consistently met your exacting standards, we enjoy the reflected glory of your success.

The opportunity to tell your fellow townsmen how we feel about you is a welcome one. But we're not going to tell it all today. We'll save the rest — until 1984!

to 91 cents a share on 125,000 shares of common stock.

"This compares with $90,921.75 profit or 73 cents a share in the corresponding 1936 period.

Sales Climb to $1,520,000

"Sales in the first half of 1937 were $1,520,411.28 compared with $819,054.89 for the first half of 1936.

"Current assets, including $81,328.22 in cash, amount to $378,481.24. Current liabilities are $228,177.72.

"Inventories total $108,404.72 against $45,391.20 for the previous year."

A special meeting of stockholders, to consider an increase in the company's capitalization, on August 4, 1937, upped it to $250,000 from $125,000.

With the dawn of a new year—the twelve months of 1937 behind it—Tecumseh Products took stock of its accomplishments.

Generally speaking, business in 1937 showed a marked improvement over 1936, despite the steady depression since early October.

Result: the Products rounded out the biggest year in its history. Sales were about $2,250,000, up a million over 1936. Employees numbered 520. The payroll was half a million dollars.

New types of refrigeration units produced by the company were meeting a popular demand. The company's export business grew and subsequently Tecumseh refrigeration units were being sold in England, the Netherlands, Belgium, France, Australia and South America.

During 1937 the company spent $86,000 in plant improvements. Now the company was one of the largest manufacturers of refrigeration equipment in the world, in addition to the manufacturer of automotive parts.

Spent $86,000 for Improvements

But compressors, new plant additions and record sales weren't the only things making news in the late Thirties: Tecumseh didn't have a hospital which it needed badly.

Dr. H. H. Hammel, a general practitioner here since 1915, realized this need more than the average resident. When Mr. Herrick volunteered his services to head a campaign to raise funds for such a building, Dr. Hammel and the Products chief executive joined forces.

The two, with others pitching in, opened a drive. Public subscriptions rolled in. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford donated the land. On June 1, 1938, the original hospital was opened.

Four years later, a $25,000 addition went up, expanding facilities to 40 beds. In February of 1950, it became a 50-bed institution with another addition, a gift of the Products.

Ernest M. Campbell, president of the hospital board of trustees said: "This is, in my opinion, one of the most timely and generous gifts to be received by the village of Tecumseh within my memory."

Honor Mr. Herrick's Parents

In appreciation of this generosity, Mr. Campbell revealed that the hospital's board of trustees had petitioned the village council to change the local institution's name to Herrick Memorial Hospital, in memory of Mr. Herrick's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Herrick, of Holland. See AMAZING 25 YEARS, Section C, page 5

FIRST HERMETIC—Here is one of the Products' first hermetic condensing units. The compressor (the portion at left) was designed in 1937 by Jens Touborg, weighed 65 pounds, was 12 inches high and 10½ inches in circumference. This was a full hermetic and the forerunner of the present line, which runs from 1/12th to 5 horse-power. With these compressors, Tecumseh also assembles a complete line of highsides (condensing units) from 1/12th to 5 horse power. Since Tecumseh began its manufacture of compressors in 1934, more than 38 million have been shipped from the local plant.

Councilmen approved the change and a bronze plaque was struck and placed at the hospital. The actual name-changing ceremony was combined with the dedication of the enlarged hospital.

In 1952, another addition, more than doubling its size, was added to the hospital. Its cost: $250,000. It, too, was a gift. The result was more than a 90-bed, completely-equipped hospital, larger than any in Lenawee County.

Meanwhile, in 1938 the plant installed three Fairbanks-Morse diesel engines for a new power-generating center, located at the east end of the factory.

Costing $55,000, this equipment allowed the firm to produce its own electrical power for lighting, driving machinery and heating a large section of the plant. The engines were so installed as to assure a steady flow of current even though one might be down for overhauling or repairs.

Other plant equipment, three Bullard automatic machines costing $39,500, was added, too. The machines bore 100 castings at a single operation, greatly increasing the speed of production. Four diamond bore machines, worth $25,000, were later installed.

"We have more diamond bore equipment than any other shop of our type in the country," Mr. Herrick stated. "We have established an enviable reputation for precision work and it is on this reputation that we are building our increased volume of business.

"The new hermetically-sealed compressor units are meeting instant approval.

"Our business is growing so rapidly that we must do something about additional floor space. Just what steps to take are now being considered, but this much is certain: We must soon enter some type of building program.

Export business was also growing. The company was shipping products to all foreign countries except Italy, German and Japan.

The mere passage of time, even as much as 25 years, is not in itself noteworthy. But, in your case, the anniversary cannot go unnoticed. From your growth, and your contribution to the prosperity, growth and welfare of the City of Tecumseh, one would judge that you have been on the local scene for at least a century.

We have watched with interest the development of both you and the community. In fact, keeping well ahead of your needs has kept us busy expanding our local natural gas and electric facilities. During the past 10 years, 1949-1958, here in the Tecumseh area we have spent in excess of a million dollars for the expansion and improvement of facilities to meet the increasing requirements of our customers.

We, too, look back occasionally on 20 years of service in the Tecumseh area. Our backward glance is only fleeting, however, since we must direct our energy toward building to serve you in the years ahead.

ALWAYS A FAVORITE WITH THE EMPLOYEES

That's The 'TP Broadcast'

HE NAMED IT—Tom Judd, a veteran employee, named the Products' new baby, an employee publication, which was first issued in August of 1941. Tom won the $5 first prize in the christening contest with his "TP Broadcast."

On August 4, 1941 Tecumseh Products' company publication went to press for the first time. It was so new it didn't even have a name. The lead article in the first issue was entitled "A New Baby—Name It!" The author was "The Ole Man", R. W. Herrick and he outlined the purpose of this new venture, as follows:

"This bi-weekly news sheet is something new with this company. We feel as if there is a need for a paper of this sort and have decided to issue it.

"The board of directors of the United Products Workers Union has been consulted and approved this project whole heartedly. The total expense is to be borne by the company.

"As you will observe, the name for this publication is missing. We are offering a prize of $5 for the best name. The judges will be Earl Wickwire, editor of The Tecumseh Herald, Clifford Preston, president of the Union, and O. W. Farver, plant superintendent.

"This breezy little newspaper will be under the supervision of M. W. (Red) Wilson, our personnel manager. Associate editors will be selected by the Union and other organizations within the plant.

"From time to time the writer will convey to you through this means the company's policies and practices. Also events of national importance. All athletic and social activities will be presented in the columns of this paper.

"This is your newspaper . . . a written record of employee events plus company interests.

Enjoy it, together with all the members of your family."

The mast head in Volume 1, No. 1 was:

Effie Robinson ..... Office Reporter

There were approximately 100 entries in the name contest and the judges were confronted with a rather complex situation in selecting the winner. They finally selected Tom Judd's "T P Broadcast" as the best.

The foreword in the first issue stated—

"Believing that good fellowship is one of the essentials of any business and that the promotion of good fellowship should stand high in the program of any organization, we dedicate this publication to the further advancement of this spirit throughout the Tecumseh Products organization."

In the third issue of the Broadcast appeared the first cartoon—Elmer Harper the artist. Later he did some front-page drawings for the Christmas

SHE'S EDITOR—A well-known personality at the Tecumseh plant is Mabel Lockwood, present editor of the TP Broadcast. She has been handling this chore for more than 12 years. Miss Lockwood capably prepared the 8,400-word history of the firm for this special edition.

AVID READERS—Here is a group of fellow workers at lunch time, interestingly scanning the pages of the Broadcast, just out on a Monday morning. The fellows didn't even know the photographer was taking the picture until the flash bulb exploded. Much More Than Accomplishments In The Field of Refrigeration

Over the past 25 years, Tecumseh Products has become a giant in the refrigeration industry. Yet, to us, a close neighbor, there is much more to this quarter of a century than these outstanding business accomplishments. There are the many contributions in time, talent and money by Products folks that have helped to make their home community a better place in which to live. As a result of this, families who reside in Tecumseh have excellent homes, fine schools, an outstanding hospital and city hall. We'd like to add our sincere congratulations on this occasion.

K BUILDING SHORTLY AFTER IT WAS COMPLETED IN 1948, READY FOR THE BIG OPEN HOUSE.

Open House Attracts 4,500

Some 4,500 employees, families and guests attended the huge party given in dedication of the building joining plants 1 and 2, now known as K Building, in 1948. It was probably the most elaborate affair ever attempted.

A stage was erected at the north end of the building and the background was a large flowered curtain, flanked on each side by black velour. Also around the base of the stage was a black velour curtain.

Baskets of large yellow and white mums, and smaller mums of many shades, were placed all around the platform.

Following a brief program, dancing was enjoyed. Mrs. Pearl Myers catered and did they eat—100 pounds of coffee, 20 gallons of coffee cream, 4,000 weiners and 4,000 buns, 100 bottles of catsup, plus two bushels of onions, mustard and all the other trimmings, 4,000 donuts, 4,000 Dixie cups of ice cream, donated by Driggs Dairy, and 4,000 bottles of Coca Cola were consumed.

Eighteen large appliances were given away at a drawing and 24 table model radios.

Another high point was reached when, in response to the calling of their names, 52 employees marched across the platform to receive Lord Elgin wrist watches for 10 years of service.

FORD B. JARVIS ALBION, MICHIGAN FRANCIS E. PFAFF

It had factory agents in New York, Dallas, Omaha, St. Louis, Chicago, San Francisco and London, Ontario, as well as the Fordson Export Corporation in Detroit.

On May 11, 1939, The Herald reported that ground had been broken for three of eight homes to be built during the summer months in a new subdivision at the northeast corner of N. Union and Bidwell streets.

It was believed that the number would increase to a dozen within a few weeks. Those first homes were built for Paul and Harold Wolf, Paul Breitenwischer, Hoyt Raymond, Ted Ehinger, W. Winfield, Virgil Tucker and James Clark.

Speaking at the ground-breaking ceremonies, Mr. Herrick said the Products was interested in Tecumseh's future and in the welfare and happiness of the Products' employees.

More and More Homes

Then Mr. Herrick announced: "It was with this thought in mind that the company is offering to its employees, who qualify, a building lot free on which they may erect their own home."

Dozens of entries were submitted for a name for the new subdivision along Evans Creek. The prize, a lot, was awarded to Elliott T. McLain. The winning name: "Indian Acres."

Tecumseh's fast growing populations was demanding more houses, although 40 houses were built within three years. A program for the construction of 30 to 50 homes within the next 12 to 15 months was being considered.

In August, 1939, the Products was on the threshold of the busiest year in its history. A $38,000 addition to the factory, the second in two years, gave 30,000 square feet of additional floor space, housing $40,000 worth of equipment.

The company now had 102,000 square feet under one roof.

At the peak of the season, more than 800 were employed—an increase of 170 over the previous year. The 1938 payroll had amounted to about $400,000. The first seven months of 1939 totaled $500,000.

The Products outgrew its own electric generating plant a little more than a year after it was put into operation. More power was needed, so lines were connected to the public utility plant.

At the request of employees, the company opened a 200-car lighted parking lot north of the factory.

The plan to give a building lot free to qualifying employees was in effect for four years, 1937-1940. Then Mr. Herrick pointed out that nearly one-third of the Products payroll was spent out-of-town because of a housing shortage. He urged local people to build houses to rent so more employees could move to Tecumseh.

In 1939, production figures were: 80,000 conventional-type compressors and 80,000 of the hermetic type.

Officers and directors of the company at that time were: R. W. Herrick, president and chairman of the board; C. F. (Bill) Sage, vice-president; C. H. Giltner, vice-president; M. L. Dannells, secretary; B. B. Turnbull, treasurer; J. Keane and C. A. Conklin.

A new medical-hospital plan, whereby all employees and their wives were given complete medical care without cost to themselves, was introduced October 1, 1940.

This plan was improved several times and is now regarded as one of the finest hospitalization, medical and sick benefit programs in this area.

Employees were assured a Merry Christmas that year when 9,000 pounds of dressed turkeys were given to the heads of families, as well as pounds and pounds of candy, cigars and cigarettes for girls and unmarried men on the payroll.

Three days before the holiday, the company had met its second payroll for December, placing some $50,000 in employees hands. This made a total of $91,000 in payrolls for the month, largest ever recorded.

The building program in 1940 included: 40,000 square feet of floor space to house a new assembly department and a dehydrating division, 10,000 square feet for a warehouse for service department, and a new office building.

Cost of the three projects: $70,000. An additional $45,000 was spent for machinery and equipment.

Plunged into War Work

Then America plunged into World War II.

Ten days after the attack on Pearl Harbor, Mr. Herrick addressed more than 1,000 employees at a mass meeting. He said the shop was rapidly being converted to making defense materials.

Added Mr. Herrick: "A few weeks ago it was called defense work. Now it is called war work. In 60 more days it will be 80% war work and in all probability this will be increased as the days go on."

The plant was soon working three shifts, seven days a week. Old employees were put on war work and as production rose, more men and women were hired.

While the Products was being revamped into full-scale war production, there was still a Merry Christmas again for the employees. Besides gifts of turkeys and candy, to men and women on the job, Products men in service were remembered, too. A three-pound box of candy was sent to each GI in the armed forces.

For its production effort, "The coveted Navy E pennant, highest of all honors in the great tradition of the U. S. Navy, has been awarded to the Tecumseh Products," Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, announced in April, 1942.

The pennant was issued for "work well and timely done." The Products had the distinction of being one of the handful of plants in the U.S. to receive the honor.

Simultaneously, Frank N. Isbey, director of the Defense Savings committee in Michigan, reported that the Products had been awarded the U.S. Treasury Minute-Man Defense Flag for its purchase of war bonds.

It was presented to companies where at least 90% of employees were buying bonds on the payroll deduction plan. At the Products, 96.5 of its employees were putting earnings into bonds.

Only five other Treasury flags were flying in Michigan. The Products was the only concern with it and the "E" bunting in the U.S.

In recognition of the two awards, the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce observed the occasion with an Appreciation Dinner, attended by 300 persons.

At the end of the program, Glenn L. Williams, of the Chamber of Commerce, presented a silver plaque, on which was inscribed: "From the citizens of Tecumseh to the Tecumseh Products Company, in recognition of its efforts in the defense of freedom and democracy."

In December, 1942, the company dedicated an honor roll plaque for those 232 employees who were fighting for their country. Names were inscribed in gold letters.

Then the company set a defense production record: $11 million worth of munitions in 1942. The company, 100% on war work, employed 1,200.

This Time: Bull's Eye Flag

Again, in January, 1943, the Products was honored by the Treasury department with another flag, the U. S. Treasury's Bull's Eye Flag, first one presented in Michigan.

It was a citation for an extremely high percentage of employees signed up for war bonds—98%.

In December, 21.7% of the total payroll—more than one-fifth—was spent on war bonds.

In the April, 1943, issue of the TP Broadcast, the employees magazine, there was a message urging the planting of Victory Gardens. Prizes totaling $60 were given for the best gardens grown on a 20-acre plot south of the plant. The land was plowed and fitted for seeding by the company. First prize was $25, second $20 and third $15.

Another star was added to the Navy E pennant the same month when the Navy Board of Production granted a renewal of the award for another six-month period.

A third "star of efficiency" was accepted at a mass meeting of employees in December, 1943. The Products was the fourth plant in Michigan to get a trio of stars. Two more were added by 1945.

Builds New Power Plant

A new power plant was built in 1945 at a cost of $60,000 for the boiler house and heating plant—one of the largest installations of its kind in southern Michigan.

It was so large that it heated the entire factory. The building houses two 175-horsepower boilers. The chimney, 10 feet tall, has a five-foot internal flue. Ninety tons of bricks were used to build the structure.

In January, 1947, Mr. Herrick made some forecasts in The Herald. He predicted a year of prosperity with a payroll exceeding $6,000,000 and possibly reaching $7,000,000.

Employment figures: 2,400 persons during peak production in late summer. There would be a new building between plant No. 1 and No. 2, costing $310,000.

A modern cafeteria would be opened for employees. He envisioned a 200% increase in sales in the coming year. Sales revenue: $35,000,000, which would surpass the company's pre-war peak.

"We Are Ready To Go"

"We are ready to go," Mr. Herrick said, summing up the company's position.

In the same article he stated: "We are adding three new models of hermetic compressors to round out our line of refrigeration units.

"Right now, we are building 3,000 units daily. In May, we will be building 4,000 and in June it will be stepped up to 5,000.

"In addition, the company this year will manufacture 600,000 transmissions for Bendix washing machines. The latter business is 'just a side line.'

"The company still retains its position as the largest independent manufacturer of electrical refrigeration units in the world and is determined to maintain and defend this position."

Mr. Herrick's main point: to show Tecumseh how the Products was growing and expanding, so the community could keep pace.

A Community of 6,000

He said he saw no reason why Tecumseh couldn't be a town of 5,000 or 6,000 or larger by 1950. Although the company was then buying all its casting, motors and many other parts from outside suppliers, Mr. Herrick pointed out:

"These products could be manufactured right here in Tecumseh if the community so desired. New plants and houses could be built, and the payroll could be doubled."

In June, 1947, construction was started on another addition to the plant. Total area was 65,000 square feet of floor space. Its cost: $350,000.

An employee housing shortage was one of the serious problems facing the Products. Mr. Herrick declared that about 98% of the 70 houses in the "Quaker Oats Subdivision" had been purchased by Products personnel.

But it was his opinion that Products workers alone, could absorb at least 300 more new homes in Tecumseh in the next year and more later. About 100 employees purchased houses here in 1947.

Nearly half the payroll was slipping out of Tecumseh.

Editor Earl Wickwire Played Important Role

THREE TIMES — Earl Wickwire (right), editor and publisher of The Herald until his death in 1952, presents Ray Herrick with a Citizen of the Year certificate, one of three times that Mr. Herrick was so honored. These two men were close friends from the time the Products became interested in coming to Tecumseh in early 1934. They teamed together on many civic and company projects, one being the institution of an employee paper which is still published.

Teamwork between two, hard-workng, ambitious men did a great deal to make Tecumseh the "Refrigeration Capital of the World" and a better place in which to live.

One is Ray Herrick, production genius who has guided Tecumseh Products from its infancy to the present day.

The other was the late Earl Wickwire, editor and publisher of The Herald for 23 years until his unexpected death at age 54 in September of 1952.

They first met in early 1934 when Mr. Herrick's Hillsdale Machinery Co. was making plans to move to a new locale.

Mr. Wickwire was one of the business leaders in Tecumseh who successfully arranged that transfer to Tecumseh.

He and Mr. Herrick were close friends from the start.

Through his excellent stories in The Herald, Mr. Wickwire kept the townspeople well posted on the progress of their newest industry over the years until his death.

Mr. Herrick was constantly alert to things which would make good copy around the plant and kept his friend Mr. Wickwire informed.

The pair spent many hours together, talking about the future of the community, both envisioning the great potential of this city.

In 1941, they mapped out an employee publication, the TP Broadcast. (See its history on page one of this section.) It has been issued continuously since that year, always following the procedures established by Mr. Wickwire.

The Broadcast editors gather the material. Folks at The Herald put it together and perform the printing chores. The combination has worked well, with employees receiving much plant news and new company policies a short time after they happen.

Mr. Wickwire was a top-flight daily newspaperman before he purchased The Herald in 1929. At 24 he was managing editor of the old Battle Creek Moon Journal, later held the same position for the Monroe Evening News.

He left the Monroe paper to enter the weekly field in Tecumseh. His editorship here began at the worst possible time—just as the Great Depression of the Thirties was descending upon the nation.

There was plenty of news to be had in Tecumseh, as is always the case when a good reporter is on hand to ferret it out, but the advertising was almost nil.

However Mr. Wickwire saw opportunity in Tecumseh and plugged away.

When he and other businessmen learned that they might be able to entice a Hillsdale company to come here, the editor really went to work.

His efforts did a great deal to bring the Products to Tecumseh and his interest and assistance after the industry was here aided considerably in making the newcomers feel at home.

Always A Favorite With The Employees: The TP Broadcast

issues. Malcolm Duncan drew some cartoons into which he got enough of the personality that you could easily recognize who was getting the rib. Miss Jane Partee, inspection office stenographer, did some cartoons which were interesting and different.

Pictures began to catch the readers' eye and some interesting departments were developed in the Broadcast. One that has lasted through the years is the popular "Kiddies Korner."

With the growth of the company the Broadcast increased in circulation. Since the war years, it has followed Products' servicemen to all parts of the globe. Letters come from camps in this country and overseas expressing appreciation for the newsy issues.

Leafing through the first issues of the Broadcast in our bound volumes, one finds statements that seem laughable, others that seem prophetic. One reads of Union picnics and dances; of company policies and additions to the plant; of new babies and high school graduates with Products' dads. One finds pictures of faces once seen daily in the plant, but now gone.

The story, which the TP Broadcast began to tell in August 1941, will be unfinished as long as there is a Tecumseh Products Company with men and women in its employ to write about.

Over the 18 years since that August day in 1941, the Broadcast has continued to appear regularly, in peace and war, in boom and depression, faithfully telling its story. The material in the paper has been written by Products' people and edited first by F. W. (Red) Wilson and then Mabel Lockwood.

These years have seen constant change—in thinking, in science, in sports, in the tempo of life. This company has grown until the plant now covers over 543,000 square feet.

The 200 men on the early employment roll have increased to over 4,000 (when working at peak). The collars of its masculine members have lowered and softened. The hemlines of its feminine members have risen and lowered. And 433 issues of the TP Broadcast have been printed.

In February of 1958 the Broadcast became a monthly. Up until that time it was a publication using about two and a quarter tons of paper a year. The company spent more than $800 each month for the publication of the Broadcast. Distributed to servicemen and retired employees, copies are delivered to points throughout the U.S. and many other nations.

Over the last 18 years many thousands of pictures of employees and members of their families have been printed. Several thousand classified ads, a free service to employees, have been printed. And knowing the family at home likes to read about the plant where dad works, employees make it a regular practice to take a copy home.

"Co-Operation Brings Success" is the motto of this paper, and it is employee co-operation over the years which has made the Broadcast what it is today.

Products' Ads Appear in Trade Publications

By Al RUSSELL
Products Advertising Manager

Since about 1948 Tecumseh has been a consistent advertiser—not in the glamorous, familiar publications like the Saturday Evening Post or Life—but in the hard-working, single industry trade papers.

These trade publications are devoted exclusively to a single or limited range of reader interest such as "Refrigeration Engineering" directed to the refrigeration engineer, or "Refrigeration Service and Contractor" devoted to the problems of the refrigeration service man.

In the past year, Tecumseh has advertised in a total of nine such publications, each devoted to a particular segment of our market. One of our current ads is illustrated here.

The question frequently arises that since Tecumseh has such a large part of the market, why do we advertise? There are several valid reasons to advertise, each dependent on the circumstances at the time. Some of these reasons:

1. To keep the industry advised of new developments. Even though the manufacturers are generally kept posted in advance of developments; their dealers, servicemen, etc., need to be familiar with new products as they come out. Further, the smaller manufacturers may not be aware of the development and, on the basis of the information in the ads, try it on their application.

2. To search out new applications and new customers. By consistently advertising our name and our products, new companies coming into the industry learn about us and seek us out as a source of compressors. It is also much more economical to reach, initially, possible customers through advertising rather than a salesman's call. When the prospect has a definite need, he is already aware of Tecumseh and can call a salesman in to make a specific recommendation.

3. To keep our name and product constantly before the industry. New people are coming into the industry every day and a certain number of present executives are changing jobs and duties within companies. They must be kept advised of Tecumseh's history and industry status.

4. To prepare markets for our customer's products. Advertising can overcome or neutralize opinions and impressions of our product in the minds of our customer's customer. This is particularly helpful in new markets which we have never before been a major factor, such as the commercial field.

5. Advertising can reach many buying influences which our salesmen never see. In a large company there are many men who may influence the decision to buy compressors. Some of these men will be unknown or inaccessable to our salesmen but they will read the trade papers carrying our ads.

There are also a number of other functions which come under the heading of advertising; all of which are important to the continued sale of our products. Some of these are:

1. Preparation and Distribution of Literature. The design and printing of attractive catalogs is necessary so that the customer will have a ready reference to our product anytime he wishes to look up the information. We presently have a total of 10 Tecumseh sales catalogs covering our entire line.

Along with these are seven parts price folders and nine unit and compressor price sheets. There are also a number of promotion pieces pointing out the sales features of the product.

For service we have four basic parts catalogs and a loose leaf Service Handbook. The service handbook contains more than 200 pages of specific information on the design, processing, application and service of Tecumseh equipment.

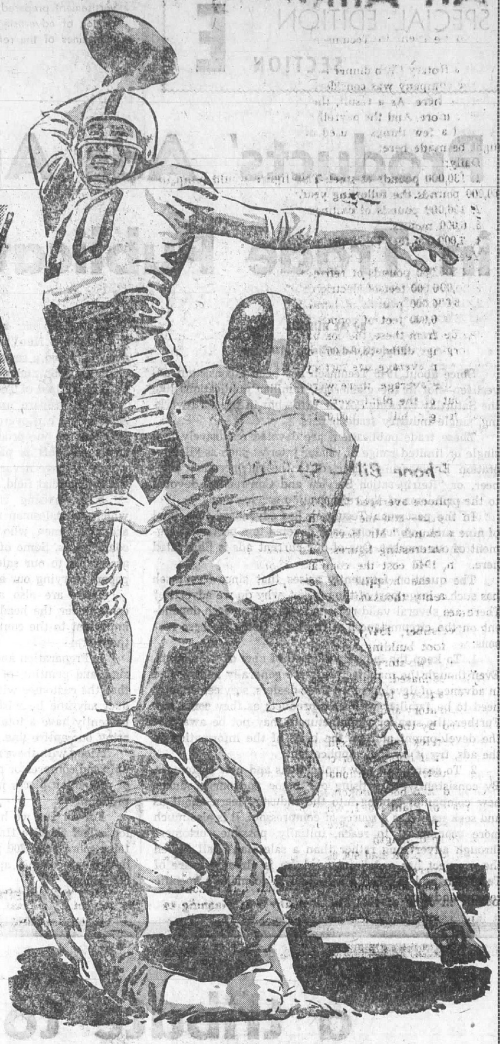
IT TAKES

TEAMWORK

TO BRING

SUCCESS



.... this is your story, Tecumseh Products

WHEN AN INDUSTRY grows and flourishes as Tecumseh Products has in the past quarter century, there must be a reason. To us, that reason is "teamwork." From those in top management through the man hired a few months ago as a sweeper, there is a real feeling of oneness. It resembles the great college football team when every man on the squad is willing to sacrifice, to practice diligently, to sit on the bench if necessary and while in a game play to the last ounce of his strength. As a supplier of Tecumseh Products since 1945—when we filled our first order for 1,000 relay covers—we have seen that teamwork in action. We have watched folks in engineering and sales and production join hands to design and then manufacture fantastic numbers of units, day after day, week after week, month after month. Over these past 25 years, Tecumseh has made 38 million refrigeration compressors — of high quality, at low price. Teamwork made it all possible. We're extremely happy and proud to be a small part of the Tecumseh Products picture and wish to extend our warmest and sincerest congratulations.

It could be spent in Tecumseh if employees had homes here.

At a Rotary Club dinner in October, 1947, Mr. Herrick said the company was considering a move to fabricate its materials here. As a result, the population could soar to 25,000 or more. And the payroll would be $15,000,000. Then he listed a few things — used daily and yearly — which might be made here:

Daily:

1. 130,000 pounds of steel. This figure would jump to 160,000 pounds the following year.
2. 106,000 pounds of castings.
3. 6,000 motors.
4. 7,000,000 feet of copper wire.

Yearly:

1. 1,200,000 pounds of refrigeration gas.
2. 15,000,000 feet of electric cords.
3. 18,000,000 pounds of laminated electrical steel.
4. 25,000,000 feet of copper tubing.

"Aside from these, the company used 21,000 pounds of brass forgings daily, 33,000,000 cap screws annually—the output of an average size factory.

"On the average, there were four-carloads of freight in and out of the plant every day. The company paid an annual freight bill of $300,000 and an express bill of $25,000.

Some Phone Bill — $25,000

"The phone averaged $25,000 a year, the electrical bill $110,000 a year—and the company used 15,000,000 gallons of water a month," Mr. Herrick said.

Other interesting figures: paid vacations for the employees in 1946 cost the company $120,000 and the bill paid under the hospital medical benefit plant totaled $45,000. Twenty thousand was given employees to build new homes.

In December, 1947, the company occupied its new 120 x 585 foot building between plants No. 1 and No. 2 and its new two-story office building.

Also purchased: Philco Corporation building containing 28,000 square feet of floor space at the rear of the plant. Laboratory and service departments of Philco would be operated by the Products.

Mr. Herrick said the company was coming out with a new one-half horse power compressor for the air-conditioning industry and additional space would be needed.

Ground had been broken for a new $100,000 building at the rear of Plant No. 1, which would give some 20,000 additional square feet of space and make the plant nearly one-half mile in length.

In all, the plant had 400,000 square feet of floor space —quite an increase from the 60,000 of just 13 years ago.

Mr. Herrick also divulged that within a few months, probably in June of 1948, the company was planning to put into production a new small household refrigeration unit which would put its customers in a highly competitive position.

The manufacture of that unit might require additional floor space and the purchase of more equipment.

A brick-and-steel building connecting the old Products plant with the Philco building, costing approximately $150,000, was completed in March of 1948.

The space was to be used to build air conditioning units, a new product, and the machinery would cost about $50,000.

When production started, about 100 more men were needed, bringing total employment to 2,404.

Will Help Build High School

On February 27, 1948 thousands toured the Products to see the plant in operation. Climaxing the day a civic banquet was held at the school.

The program included music by the Products new 18-piece orchestra under the direction of Bill Damon and the T-P Broadcasters, a barber shop quartette.

In a 20-minute address to the more than 300 people assembled at the dinner Mr. Herrick brought Tecumseh's civic celebration to a close with these announcements—

1. Tecumseh Products and Tresco, the group which handle engineering and sales of compressors, would give the public school district $145,000 in cash to help finance the construction of a new $400,000 high school here.
2. Purchase of 90 acres of land at the end of Brown St. inside the village limits, the plot to be subdivided for building purposes. Nearly 200 lots would be available and each Products worker qualifying for a home in the subdivision will be given a lot free and $200 to help finance the building of his home.
3. Purchase of some type of aerial fire fighting equipment for the village as soon as the village furnishes suitable housing for all its fire fighting apparatus.

Only string attached to the school gift was that construction must start that year, and the district approve a bond issue.

Pay for School in Five Years

"Building a new high school here at a cost of $400,000 and paying for it in five years is just simple arithmetic," the audence was told. Mr. Herrick explained the district had an established sinking fund, which in two years would total $80,000. The gift of $145,000 brought the available cash to $225,000.

"Float a $175,000 bond issue, payable in five years and at the end of that time we'll have a brand new building of our own," he said.

The housing project, which would cost $1,500,000, was the subject of a mass meeting at the plant. To start in INSIDE STORY—This is what the interior of a twin-cylinder compressor looks like. The electric motor is at the top and the two pistons in their chambers down below. The unit is hermetically-sealed, making it air tight. The compressor is connected in a continuous link with an evaporator and condenser. A refrigerant runs through them. It starts as a liquid in the evaporator, where it draws off heat, moves into the compressor at opening at top right. Doing this it turns into a gas, is drawn into the piston chambers, where it is compressed and forced out at high velocity from exit at left, into the condenser. Midway through the condenser, the refrigerant drops in temperature and returns to a liquid state. Then the whole process begins again. Thus, the job of cooling is simply the removal of heat from a refrigerator or freezer.

There are now well over 5,000 of these service handbooks in the field, each coded individually according to the type of compressors purchased and supplemented with up-to-date information several times a year.

2. Planning and Organization of Trade Shows. Tecumseh exhibits in two national trade shows, each one occuring every two years. The advertising department designs the booth, plans the display models, installs the booth at the show, and arranges all details of our show participation. In the same vein, many of our customers require special display compressors and we work out their needs and build the display model for them.

3. Assistance to Sales. Several sales aids are available to our sales force, including three sound slide films in full color for presentation to customers or customer-dealer groups, explaining the Tecumseh manufacturing processes or suggested methods of installing equipment. One film is designed primarily for wholesaler customers and is a complete packaged sales meeting program.

In addition to the above, the advertising department maintains figures on industry sales, Tecumseh sales broken down by end product usage and type of sales. These are used for product planning, determination of our share of the market and establishment of wholesaler sales quotas.

We keep our own field sales force informed of developments in product, changes in policy, complete price information and anything else of interest by means of periodic sales bulletins.

All of the above functions are performed for the compressor end of the business. Many of them are also handled for the Engine and Export Divisions.

Because of the nature of the product, a limited amount of consumer advertising is run for the engine division in popular magazines such as the Saturday Evening Post. We expect our future ads will prominently display the name Tecumseh and eventually identify ourselves in the mind of the general public as a major manufacturer of both compressors and gasoline engines.

TECUMSEH QUALITY!

A Bearingizer is a unique tool which "pounds" down microscopic hills inside a bearing hole. It produces a "mirror-finish" smooth surface, giving extra long life and better performance to a variety of rotating equipment like Tecumseh compressors.

Twenty-five years ago, Cogsdill was privileged to supply the first Bearingizer to Tecumseh Products. Bearingizers have been used consistently since to finish wrist pin, connecting rod and cylinder bore holes in all Tecumseh compressors.

Cogsdill is proud of this small but important contribution to Tecumseh's world-wide reputation for the finest refrigeration compressors.

Congratulations, Tecumseh, and best wishes on this Silver Anniversary.

A FEW OF OUR DOINGS

We and our corporate predecessor have had the privilege of supplying Tecumseh Products with fabricated tubing parts for nearly eleven years. They have been stimulating years, because they have been filled with the challenge of meeting the high standards required and maintained by Tecumseh — chief in its field. That challenge has been a large factor in our continued growth and so we say: "Thank you—may the second quarter century eclipse the first!"

April of 1948, it was hoped by the end of June, the contractors would hit a pace of "a house a day until snow flies".

The property was purchased from Ford Motor Company and was within the village limits.

R. S. Moore & Son Company, local lumber dealers, cooperated in the project and Bob Moore was on hand at the meeting to show building plans and architect's drawings of the proposed houses. In short order 70 persons had signed up for homes.

Roads in the subdivision and pipes for water were donated by the company. The village would lay the pipes.

By April of '48, all of the 176 lots in the subdivision had been spoken for by employees. Five houses, each of a different type, were to be constructed in the subdivision as soon as basements and utilities became available. Lot owners could then choose the style they desired.

This was the way Herrick Park was started. Within a year, it was nearly complete and ranked as attractive a subdivision as could be found in this part of the state.

Next: River Acres Subdivision

By 1955, another company-sponsored subdivision was underway. Along the banks of Red Mill Pond, north of town, it was named River Acres.

There was room for several hundred homes and soon some of the most beautiful residences ever seen in Tecumseh were under construction. Huge, expertly-landscaped lots set them off to their best advantage.

In April of 1958, it was announced that ground had already been broken for the construction of a newly assembly plant on the east side of the present factory. To be one-story, this building would stretch 400 feet long and be 125 feet wide. Plans called for occupancy by September 1.

An addition to the present boiler house, costing $40,000, also was in the works, would be finished about October 1. To greater facilities shipping, another railroad siding to the plant was being put in. Cost: $24,000.

What does a million dollars look like?

If you could have had all the workers of Tecumseh Products cash their April, 1950 checks at one time and then stack the bills in a single room, you'd know. This was the greatest payroll in the company's history.

T-Day for 1950 was held April 13. Some 4,000 people made conducted tours through the Products. Schools and places of business were closed for the afternoon.

Earlier in the day Tecumseh formally dedicated its new $400,000 high school and broke ground for an addition to Herrick Memorial Hospital.

A banquet in the evening wound up the events of day. Charlie Butler, president of the Chamber of Commerce, told the group the Chamber was studying a program to change from village to city form of government.

Mr. Herrick, speaking briefly when he was awarded the Citizen-of-the-Year plaque for the third successive time, declared that it was the intent of his company to "keep on growing".

How much it grows in Tecumseh depends upon Tecumseh. He intimated that should Tecumseh fail to keep pace with its industrial growth, future expansion might, of necessity, be located elsewhere.

Mr. Butler also awarded plaques to Frank K. Smith, C. M. Brown and Jens K. Touberg of refrigeration sales and engineering for their contributions to the city's school system.

How an Industry Helped Aid a Community Grow

When a large industry, employing nearly 3,500 and paying $27 millions in annual wages, rises within a community there are bound to be changes.

In the case of Tecumseh Products, its steady, strong development in the refrigeration field has been mirrored by the growth of the city in which it is located—thanks greatly to the considerations and assistance of people making up this great firm.

Even while the Products was busy in its battle to become the world's largest manufacturer of refrigeration compressors, its management was always conscious of Tecumseh's future.

The Products wanted to keep its home city as nice a place in which to live as it had been since the town was founded in the early 1800's.

Management realized that a continued increase in population would mean many additional homes, schools and other facilities.

Products folks were always willing and happy to give their help—and money—to see that these things were completed, not long after they were needed, but usually before the necessity arose.

First-class housing has always been a key project with the Products. Almost from the start, management has urged employees who lived in other areas to buy homes in Tecumseh. Towards this end, the company helped develop several subdivisions, gave building lots to workers and assisted them financially in order to get construction started.

The results have greatly enhanced the beauty of Tecumseh. Two of the city's finest subdivisions—River Acres and Herrick Park, both efforts of the Products—are examples of housing which can rival any in Michigan.

The $90,000 city hall is another example of Products' help. The company agreed to put up half of the cash if the city would junk its antiquated building and erect a new one. The result is a striking structure, which is the pride of local government officials.

Similar company offers have provided new equipment for the town's fire department.

The Tecumseh school system, which covers more than 100-square miles, has benefited enormously from Products' assistance. This has made it possible for local schools to offer excellent educational opportunities in new, modern and functional buildings.

Recreation for community youngsters is another area touched with Products' generosity—and the city's outdoor swimming pool is an example of that, the company advancing most of the money, private donations covering the remainder.

But probably the firm's most outstanding contribution to its hometown is the local 90-bed hospital. Completely equipped with the best that medical science has devised, it provides care for thousands of area people every year.

There's little doubt that the Products has left its stamp on Tecumseh—and Tecumseh is sincerely grateful for it.

Announcement was made November 9, 1950 that Tecumseh Products had purchased the Universal Cooler Division of the Newport Steel Corp. with factories in Marion, Ohio.

Harold Wolf, vice-president and factory manager of Products, went to Marion to operate the new division. The Universal plant produced compressors similar, but larger than those made in Tecumseh.

A new forge shop was built here in 1957 as plans were made to convert a portion of the plant's operation to defense production during the Korean "Police Action." The plant was located southeast of the Philco building and would house huge presses.

Besides this machinery, there would also be furnaces, heat-treat lines, shot-blast equipment and other machines to fabricate complete forgings.

Construction of this new building became necessary when it was found that the Products could not be supplied by an outside source with forgings in sufficient quantity to meet daily requirements.

Raw materials would be brought to its door on railroad cars and moved inside with the aid of a giant power crane, making for a smooth flow of work.

Helps Build Swimming Pool

Community spirit spurred Tecumseh's united effort to commemorate the memory of nine-year-old Joyce Carol Andrews, who was drowned in a swimming accident at the town's gravel pit. This would be a memorial which thousands of fortunate children would use in years to come—an outdoor swimming pool.

Nearly half of the necessary money was given by the Products family. The company and Tresco assured the project of at least $30,000 and an accurate estimate of the cost was $67,000. Each employee was given an opportunity to donate via payroll deduction.

R. W. Herrick retired as president of Tecumseh Products in March of 1954, after serving in this position 22 years. He would continue to be active in the firm as chairman of the board. Joseph Layton, director of foreign operations for International Harvester Co. and an 18-year veteran with that concern, was named as Mr. Herrick's successor.

Two other veteran executives, who had been with the company from the Hillsdale days, Clyde Giltner and Bill Sage, both vice-presidents and members of the board, also retired.

They received lavish praise for their contributions to the success of the Products. Both were asked to continue in roles of consultants to the board.

At the same time, Paul Hohenstein was named treasurer.

Announcement was made in June of 1954 by Mr. Layton of plans to build a new $1,500,000 plant in Danville, Illinois.

President Layton said that the new setup would have no effect on the parent plant, but would augment manufacturing in Tecumseh and at other company locations.

When completed, Danville would daily produce 1,500 compressors and condensing units for the refrigeration industry.

Products Buys Out Tresco

"Tecumseh Products Co. acquires Tresco," was a story in the May 12, 1955 Herald. Tresco, Inc. had been the sales and engineering organization on a contractual basis for Tecumseh Products since the company was founded.

This was an unique setup in many respects and it proved highly successful. Curtis M. Brown, Jens K. Touborg and Frank K. Smith, who had founded Tresco, became Products vice-presidents and active members of the executive committee and the board.

It was explained that there would be no change in the operation and functioning of the sales and engineering departments and the field organization would continue to function as in the past.

A report on March 23, 1950 revealed what Herrick Park had cost the Products to date—$134,881.33. This included original land purchase, architect and surveyor fees, legal and abstract expense, grading and building of roads. Also included were storm sewers, pipes for water, trees and sidewalks.

National and international interest in the Products developed from a story "Little, Big-Rich Tecumseh" which appeared in the July 1955 issue of Fortune magazine.

Excerpts from the Fortune article follow—

"Last year it supplied about 48% of the compressors in the 6,630,000 domestic refrigerators, home freezers, and room air conditioning units sold by all manufacturers.

"Its sales were $124,000,000; its pre-tax earnings of nearly $12 million returned a whopping 69% on capital. Tecumseh Products pre-tax earnings on capital have averaged 77% since 1947, far above the records turned in by such corporate giants as General Motors, General Electric, du Pont and Jersey Standard.

Might Not Have Built Compressors

"Tecumseh uses its equipment so effectively that it is the industry's lowest-cost producer, regularly passing back savings to its customers in the form of price reductions. In the refrigeration-component business Tecumseh is the only production giant.

" . . . might not even have got into compressor manufacturing but for the happenstances that three engineers, now all executive vice-presidents, were determind to enter the field, with a compressor of their own design, and got Herrick to make it for them."

The Detroit Times in August of 1955 called Tecumseh the "Capital of Refrigerated Air." In this article, James Boynton said little Tecumseh makes better than 75% of the world's compressors for window type air conditioners, which have had a phenomenal sales growth in the last few years. The compressor is the 'heart' of the air conditioner, and represents about 40% of the manufacturer's cost.

"Commenting on the recent Ford Motor Co. announcement that its Detroit workers were averaging about $106 a week, Paul C. Hohenstein, treasurer, conceded: 'Our men do better than that although they work harder than at Fords.'

"The company works three shifts in Tecumseh and the men stay on the job until the last second. Meanwhile, the new shift stands by impatiently waiting to get to work. This hustle has paid off in pay envelopes.

"Not a single day's pay has been lost through labor differences since the company came to Tecumseh in 1934. The company has an independent union.

"The Marion plant makes the big compressors for automobile air conditioning, commercial freezers and for dual heating-cooling systems.

"Sales Director Smith is very enthusiastic about the company's role in automobile air conditioning and dual heating-cooling systems for residents.

"He predicted a $35,000 house being built today without a combination heating and air conditioning system will be obsolete in five years."

Turkeys and New City Hall

The Products got into the small gasoline engine field on January 1, 1956 when the Tecumseh firm became the new owner of Lauson Engines of New Holstein, Wisconsin. More than one million units each year are being manufactured at Lauson.

In the December 27, 1956 Herald was a picture of two Products men getting their turkeys, an annual gift from the company to employees who are heads of homes. It took 3,400 turkeys that year. Single employees were given fruit baskets and 600 of these were presented. This was the 18th consecutive year Christmas gifts were presented.

The Products paid a $23,000,000 payroll in 1956 and the average employment that year was 3,900.

A 3.6% dividend for the year 1957 was declared at the third annual meeting of the Tecumseh Products Employee's Credit Union.

Warm tribute was paid to Mr. and Mrs. R .W. Herrick on March 15, 1958 at the new city hall dedication banquet. More than 250 filled the United Products Workers hall for the roast beef dinner which climaxed the all-day affair.

The Herricks were spotlighted for their continued aid to Tecumseh schools, churches, hospital and city government. The thanks of Tecumseh were encompassed in a certificate presented to the Herricks at the conclusion of the banquet by toastmaster the Rev. B. O. Bashore.

It read:

> "In appreciation of the blessing of Almighty God and a long record of service to the residents and the community of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Herrick are hereby awarded this Certificate in Commemoration of their fulfilling God's Will."

The award was signed "By the citizens of Tecumseh, Michigan."

Probably the happiest man making a contribution to the first annual Lenawee County United Fund campaign in 1958 was Eugene Kish of Dundee, an employee of Tecumseh Products.

Eugene pledged $8 on the payroll deduction plan and was given a lucky number on a 1959 Ford, which the Products had donated to help stimulate giving. Eugene's ticket was drawn at a mass meeting and he fairly floated up to the platform to accept the keys.

This Fund went over the top, thanks mainly to the push by the Products, which between employees and management contributed almost $50,000 or 28% over the plant quota.

Impact on a Community

The nation's business recession, which struck in the fall of 1957, had its effects at Tecumseh. Sales dropped from an all-time high of $144 million that year to $141 million for 1958.

The vital profit margin, however, was maintained through careful management planning and when the general economy started on an upswing in early 1959, the Products was "off and running again."

This situation is best explained in an editorial written by Tom Riordan, co-publisher of The Herald, March 19, 1959, and serves as an excellent conclusion for this 25-year report on Tecumseh Products.

Using a title, "Ability and Insight," Mr. Riordan said:

"The success of a company and the impact it can have on a community and its employees is in direct proportion to its ability to earn profits.

"While many major industries reported thin gains or loses for 1958, Tecumseh Products, although sales were down, was able to hold its profit position—this during a recession period.

"We don't pretend to be experts at business analysis, but one doesn't have to be to make an observation on this situation.

"Guiding a giant enterprise is a delicate and demanding task. Quite obviously, in the case of Tecumseh Products, there is a management team which is astute and keen.

"All of us in the community and everyone connected with the company can be thankful that the fate of this industry is in such capable hands.

"Efficiency and high productivity within the plant and top-notch sales efforts outside are vital keys to success. But by far, the most important is the ability and insight of the management team.

"In the final analysis, it is the responsibility of these men to make the grave decisions, which can spell triumph or start a large industry on the skids.

"Over the years, the team here has consistently come up with conclusions which have benefited the business, its employees and the shareholders. The Products' fabulous and consistently-steady growth has been proof of that.

"Its achievements have been based on the long-accepted philosophy of free enterprise.

"That philosphy calls for company profits in order that a firm might grow and prosper. Without profits, any industry will soon shrivel up and disappear and with this failure could go thousands of jobs.

"We congratulate Tecumseh Products on its past successes and wish the firm all the good luck in future years."

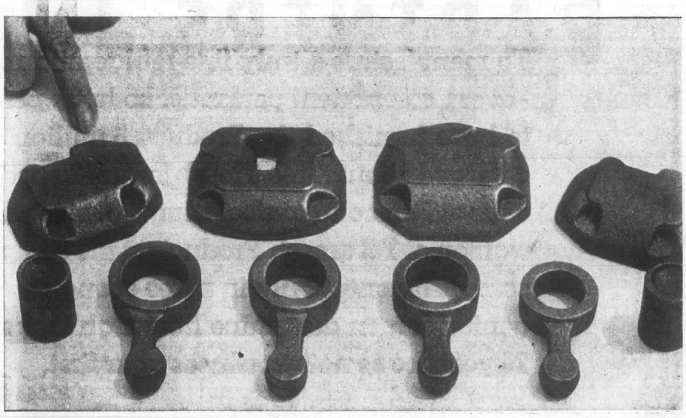
CONGRATULATIONS

Few, if any, can boast of such tremendous success in 25 short years. Our congratulations go to the officers and employees of the Tecumseh Products Company for so many outstanding achievements since 1934.



OVER 50 MILLION GREY IRON CASTING

Thousands of grey iron castings, parts for air conditioning, refrigeration and deep freeze, have been trucked from our foundry to the Products. These castings in the past seven years now total well over 50 million. Although small, we take great pride in serving the Tecumseh Products and in some way contributing to its growth and success.

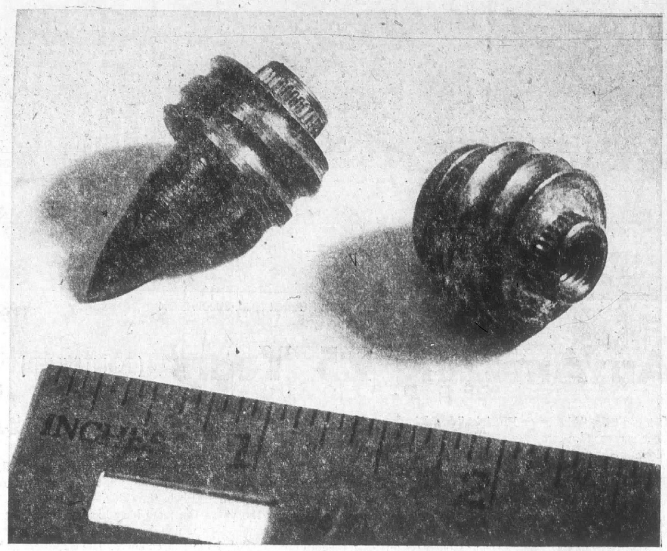
SIX MILLION SPRING STUDS ... In Six Years



To manufacture a truly fine refrigeration compressor – as Tecumseh Products does –every component part must be letter perfect. That's why we're especially pleased to have furnished the Products 6 million spring studs (see above picture of studs, enlarged about three times) for units made at the Tecumseh, Michigan plant. All of us at Femco Manufacturing Co. extend warmest congratulations to the men and women of Tecumseh Products at the completion of a quarter century of record accomplishments. Only in a free economy, where the desires, abilities and inventive genius of men determine how high they shall rise, is this possible. May your next 25 years be as noteworthy as your first.

Foreign Lands Benefit from TP 'Know-How'

By DON BAUERLE

Tecumseh Products Co., America's largest producer of refrigeration units, has set a practice on the world market that is "foreign" to manufacturers in other countries.

While monopolies, restricted territories and exclusive manufacturing rights exist in some areas of the world, the Products maintains a spirit of competition.

"We don't think a monopolistic situation is good for anybody," declared Joe Galazzi, vice-president in charge of overseas operations for the Products.

"All our licensees and representatives compete against one another. They can sell throughout the world. We like to see them compete. It keeps them sharp," he said.

Invading the foreign market in 1952 in Denmark, the Products now has 10 licensees. Besides Denmark they are found in Scotland, France, Germany, Israel, Italy, Brazil, Argentina, Australia and the Phillipines, the most recent addition.

Licensed manufacturers, Mr. Galazzi explained, can build any compressor unit, which has been tested at least a year. Company officials, however, prefer them to assemble current models.

If they encounter a production problem, they have access to the Products' engineering, manufacturing and testing methods. They can also use the Products' service manuals and bulletins, advertising and promotion programs.

In addition, the Products urges licensees to frequently visit its main offices and plants in the U.S. to learn the latest techniques of design and production.

"They send their engineers, chemist and manufacturing personnel over here all the time," Mr. Galazzi said.

In turn, Mr. Galazzi travels to the Products' outlets on three continents.

"In September, I went to Europe," he said. "Early in 1960 I am traveling to South America."

"We always reserve the right to sell direct to any customer abroad, particularly a manufacturing account or a buyer in an out-of-the-way place who might prefer to buy from us," Mr. Galazzi said.

Although it gives a licensee permission to turn out refrigeration compressors, the Products retains certain privileges. They include:

1. The right to request samples of the product being built by the licensee at any time.
2. The right to visit the licensees plant at any time.
3. The practice of maintaining quality production.

There are now two groups of licensees and representatives approved by the Tecumseh Products Co. — those who distribute the compressors and those who distribute gasoline engines.

"The latter products are made by two divisions of the company — Lauson Engine and Power Products — both located in Wisconsin," Mr. Galazzi said.

"This is an example," he continued, "of our constant development of a mass market so we can offer a good product at a low price."

When the Products began its overseas expansion program, one company executive, confident of its foreign operation, predicted that at a later date foreign output would exceed American production. Surveying his statement, Mr. Galazzi commented:

"We're heading in that direction."

Pension Plan Provides for Retired Employees

In September of 1955 Tecumseh Products Company established its first hourly rated workers pension plan.

The company pays the entire cost of providing these benefits, and the plan is set up in line with those of the major manufacturing plants throughout the country.

It provides for normal retirement at age 65, automatic retirement at age 68 and early retirement at age 55. Also included in the plan is disability retirement.

The benefits derived from the pension are based on years of service credit with Tecumseh Products Company.

A Pension Board has been established and meets periodically to qualify those employees who retire.

At the present time Tecumseh Products Company hourly rated pensioners total 124.

One Million in Loans in Three Years — That's Story of Credit Union

By RUSS C. LANGHAM
PRESIDENT OF THE CREDIT UNION

First annual meeting of the Tecumseh Products Employees Credit Union was held July 21, 1956 in the Union Hall. Fifty-eight employees became members and deposited a total of $352.

Seven directors, three credit committeemen and supervisory men were elected to the office that day. Of the original 13 men chosen, five still serve today.

The Credit Union's basic problem was one of education. It was the officers' duty to reach every employee of Tecumseh Products and tell them the Credit Union story. Unfortunately, each could not be contacted individually, and so the Credit Union relied on printed material circulated throughout the plant.

During the first membership drive in August of 1956, 600 new members were signed up. A review of the first financial report, dated August 31, 1956, revealed the following:

Membership	664
Shares	$7,479.25
Loans (15)	3,413.30

The Credit Committee was then faced with its most difficult task—screening loan requests. Why was this so difficult? Because they were sharing the burden and financial obligations of their fellow employees, and in a few cases had to refuse their loans because of credit standards.

To Ray Herrick for his able and courageous leadership of the Tecumseh Products Company for 25 outstanding years in our city.

We salute all the old employees, pioneers in establishing this great company, who gave unstintingly of their skills, time and efforts.

Our best wishes go to Joe Layton, the present competent management, and the several thousand loyal employees. You have brought prosperity not only to Tecumseh and Lenawee county, but to every community you have served.

The Credit Union member had to be made to realize that his deposits were working for him and possibly would not be available for his immediate withdrawal.

Today, as officers look back over the past three years, they find that the board of directors has held 58 meetings, 22 more than the by-laws require.

Membership has reached 1,483, or an increase of 2¼ times. Share balances are $300,000, or an increase of 40 times. During this same period $1,000,000 was loaned out and only .001% was charged off as bad accounts. Assets reached a high of $381,000.

Dividends paid in 1957 totaled $2,804.38 and in 1958 was $5,360.49. This year the group anticipates a 4% dividend that will total $10,000.

As the activity of the Credit Union gained momentum, limited space became congested and crowded conditions. Facts and figures were gathered together to determine the feasibility of a new building and the ability to pay for it without taxing the membership.

It is with pride that members look at this building today and realize that it was built with the trust and understanding of the Tecumseh Products employees and their desire to help fellow employees.

A grand opening of the new building will be held Oct. 31.

HERB MORDEN, ELECTED UNION PRESIDENT FIVE TIMES, STANDS BEFORE UNION HALL BUILT IN 1947.

Founded in 1937, Union Has Held Important Role With Products' Workers

In the year 1937, unions were being organized in companies all over Michigan.

Some of the men at the Products thought there should be a union for this plant, and in May of that year a meeting of employees was called to consider the idea.

Possibly 100 men attended and it was decided to organize an independent union.

To take care of the legal angles involved, LaVon Kuney of Adrian, was employed as attorney. He helped draw up plans for the operation of a union at Tecumseh Products.

A mass meeting was then called and it was voted to name the proposed union the United Products Workers of Tecumseh, Michigan.

Nine directors were named, and they in turn elected the first officers, Thomas Dennison, president; Clifford Preston, vice-president; Jack Livingston, secretary; Lyman Curtiss, treasurer.

The five directors were Leonard Gockanour, Clifton Holmes, Earl Stuart, Clarence Bumpus and John Snow.

The first membership list, paying $1 per month dues, numbered around 400. In June of 1937, when the slack season started and there was a layoff, membership dropped to around 250.

The directors met once a month, the members three times a year. At one session they voted on the annual working contract, at another nominated directors and the third time for the annual meeting to hear the reading of the financial and other reports.

In September of 1954 an assessment of $1 was added to the dues of $1 by vote of the membership. The additional assessment was to cover sick and death benefits and flowers purchased for funerals of members and their families.

It became more and more difficult, as the membership increased, to find a large enough place in which to hold meetings.

At a mass meeting, held August 2, 1947, the green light was given to go ahead with the construction of a new Union Hall, which had been under discussion for sometime.

The plans called for a brick and cement block building 60 x 100 to be built on a lot 100 x 150 located on S. Maumee St, adjacent to the east parking lot.

At this meeting an assessment of $2 per month, per member, for three months, was voted by a large majority. These were the only assessments to be made for the new building. This money built and furnished it.

On November 6, 1948 the new Union Hall was dedicated. The service men's memorium plaque which had been hung on the wall of the main auditorium in the hall was unveiled and presented to the Union Board by R. W. Herrick, the president of Tecumseh Products.

In October of 1953 a 60-foot extension was added to the rear of the building. A modern kitchen was set up in this addition and a new enlarged stage was built. The Hall has been used for many civic affairs and is available for rent.

The board of directors, in the early days, rented the American Legion rooms for their meetings.

The following figures were taken from the annual report for 1937.

Sick benefits paid	$434.00
Death benefits paid	100.00
Flowers for funerals	25.85
Party at the Green Barn	52.25
Union Party—cost of lunch	10.00

Compare these with those taken from the May 20, 1959 annual report.

Sick benefits paid	$24,506.00
Death benefits paid	5,000.00
Flowers for Funerals	968.00
Annual picnic and dances	2,493.69

Down through the years the United Products Workers has made contributions to many civic projects, such as the new hospital, the athletic field, the Boy Scouts, and numerous other community and state projects.

It has also given for the entertainment of members through dances and picnics.

The relationship between Union and management has always been pleasant.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Tecumseh Products has written a dramatic success story during the past 25 years but, like Tenskwatawa, we know that it is only the beginning. In 1934, when the times were not "right" for risking capital in a new business venture—Tecumseh's founders did just that. They had faith in their ideas, their products and the future of their country.

A quarter-century of steady growth has made Tecumseh an acknowledged leader in its field. The Tecumseh trade-mark on a product means quality workmanship, components . . . and quality performance. Emerson Electric motors power thousands of Tecumseh Products manufactured over the years. In this way, Emerson is proud to play Tenskwatawa to the Tecumseh success story, and we prophesy a continued growth for Tecumseh in the years ahead.

Our most sincere congratulations, Tecumseh. May your next 25 years be even greater!

Banquet Will Climax 'Products Week'

Climax of Tecumseh Products Week comes Saturday evening with an Appreciation Banquet, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, in the High School at 6:30.

About 400 guests are expected to attend.

Honors are being heaped on the local industry, which celebrated its 25th birthday in the community Tuesday.

Starting from practically nothing, the Products has grown into the largest manufacturer of refrigeration compressors in the world, doing more than $141 millions of dollars of business annually.

Its payroll last year topped $27 million.

Receiving special attention will be the 26 men who have served continuously with the company since its arrival here from Hillsdale. Some of them were with the old Hillsdale Machine and Tool Co., which became Tecumseh Products in 1934.

A few of the others had been local residents who donated their services to help renovate the former Brewer Co. plant so that the new industry could move into town.

Those were depression days and the community welcomed the Products with open arms.

Now, after a quarter of a century of seeing the firm extend many helping hands the townspeople are expressing their appreciation.

Two speakers will share the spotlight — Dr. John Dawson, president of Adrian College and George Tauberneck, editor of Air Conditioning, Heating & Refrigeration News.

An engraved plaque will be presented to the company. It will be accepted by president Joe Layton.

Also being given special awards will be one-time top executives of the company and now retired, Bill Sage, Clyde Giltner, Jens Touborg and Curtiss Brown.

Les Bennett's 90-voice High School chorus will present six numbers, three to open the program at 7:30 and a like number at the end.

Two of the songs will feature special lyrics appropriate for the occasion, including a parody of "Anything You Can Do" from the Musical "Annie Get Your Gun."

Among the others will be the popular "Deep Purple" and "Autumn Serenade."

Other highlights of the Products Week were displays downtown and special praise at the Band Festival Tuesday. The annual High School Homecoming parade Friday afternoon at 2:15 will have as its theme '25 years of Tecumseh Products."

FEATURED — Dr. John Dawson, president of Adrian College, will be one of Saturday evening's banquet speakers. He has spearheaded what has been referred to as an "unequalled small college expansion program" which included the construction of four new campus buildings. He graduated from Adrian in 1938, then attended Westminister Theological Seminary. He holds his masters' and PhD degrees in education from the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. Dawson is an ordained Methodist minister.

The thumb was saved, but Charlie's dignity suffered slightly.

Always quick with a gag, Charlie now finds himself the target for considerable good-natured ribbing.

He already has received through the mail three copies of a humorous booklet, prepared by a safety group, warning how people can easily injure their thumbs.

Charlie says he'll gladly offer a valued memento, his "Watch the Fords Go Buy" lapel button, to anyone who can lead him to the senders of the booklets.

By a most unfortunate oversight, Fisher Pontiac was not included in the two-page cooperative ad in last week's special edition entitled "A Great Industry . . . We're Glad You're Here."

One-hundred retailers and business places joined in to offer their congratulations to the Products.

Somehow, the local Pontiac dealer was omitted and we're sorry.

A Products' supplier, which inadvertently was missed in the roster of display advertisers was Tecumseh Sash & Door, which furnishes the local industry with wooden pallets.

Again, we're sorry.

All reports from the area on pheasant hunting so far have been the same: big kills.

Birds seem to be everywhere and marksmen are knocking down their limits in jig time.

My personal congratulations to Tecumseh Products.

I hope there'll be standing-room-only at Saturday's banquet. It's open to everyone in the community.

Letters, such as the ones printed below, make the bumps and lumps all seem worthwhile.

Dear Tom and Jim:

Congratulations on the fine, 72-page Tecumseh Products edition.

My back developed a sympathetic ache for you as I pondered through the mass of advertising and reading material. Only another newspaper man, I expect, knows the full extent of the sweat and blood pressure that goes into such an undertaking.

Anyhow, it was a fine product, and all the more noteworthy in view of the mechanical limitations. I'm taking it home and will bring myself up to date on Tecumseh Products operations on the installment plan.

With kindest regards,

Dead Tom and Jim:

Congratulations on your large special edition commemorating the Tecumseh Products Twenty-fifth anniversary.

The entire paper was well done and appeared exceptionally interesting both from the news and from an advertising view point. I am sure that Mr. Herrick and the entire Products staff will be pleased with your efforts.

Hoping you will be able to repeat this performance on their fiftieth anniversary.

Sincerely,
Richard D. Coak, President

FUND DRIVE OPENED — Nearly 2,500 employees of Tecumseh Products attended a mass meeting in the plant yard Monday afternoon to hear Ray Herrick explain the Tecumseh Fund Foundation drive. Workers were urged to give via the payroll deduction plan to help local, state and national charities, also to help build a Tecumseh civic center fund. Last year, the Products amassed donations of more than $50,000 through employee giving, matched dollar-for-dollar by the company and a sizeable gift from the Herrick Foundation. The industrial portion of the 1959 drive kicked off the annual event. House-to-house solicitations were to get underway the latter part of this week.

Dump Becomes Problem Again for Councilmen

By JIM LINCOLN

Irregularities at the city dump by operators of the Allied Disposal Company and confusion over the company's agreement with the Council highlighted Monday night's meeting.

Discussion brought out that Allied Disposal:

1. Was not limiting the dump to Tecumseh and approved townships.
2. Was not observing dump hours.
3. Had locked cars in the dump.
4. Was not observing the city's sale and usage of stickers.
5. Was charging an admission in some instances.

Councilmen questioned the legality in collecting admissions and recommended that dump hours be observed.

City manager Ed Nelson reported the company doing an excellent job in handling trash and garbage and maintenance of the city dump.

Attorney James Beardsley said that it was his understanding that Allied Disposal and Herb Dillon, former owner of Tecumseh Hauling, had made a partnership and a performance bond had been obtained.

According to council's discussion, next year, probably Feb. 1, residents not having trash and garbage pickup service will have to pay 25c or 50c for each trip into the dump.

13 Is Clare's Lucky Number, He Discovers

Thirteen is Clare Camburn's lucky number.

It was at the 13th annual Lenawee County Band Festival—held Tuesday on Recreation Field — that Mr. Camburn experienced one of his life's most exciting moments.

With 4,000 youthful musicians and spectators watching, Mr. Camburn, originator of the Festival idea, was honored.

The Tecumseh portion of the program was turned into a "This Is Your Life, Clare Camburn."

Announcer, the Rev. B. O. Bashore, who helped Mr. Camburn develop the theme of the popular autumn musical event, recounted the retired THS band director's life.

As a finale, Mr. and Mrs. Camburn were driven onto the field in an open convertible by Don Murphy, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

MRS. CAMBURN was presented a corsage by Tecumseh drum major John Perry as Mr. Bashore thanked her for letting thousands of citizens share with her Mr. Camburn's musical talents over the years.

Then Mr. Murphy presented an engraved plaque to Mr. Camburn, signed by the Lenawee County Band Directors Association.

It read:

"Recognition award, Clare Camburn, for outstanding contributions to Lenawee county for founding and perpetuating the Tecumseh Marching Festival, we commend you, on this its 13th anniversary."

Gaston Jewelry Store Enters Sixtieth Year

Sixty years as a business in Tecumseh, owned by one family, in the same building—that's the history of William Gaston & Son Jewelry.

Mrs. Sally Pope, present owner, states that the business was originally purchased from E. J. Peters by her grandfather, William Gaston, and son, John.

The date: Oct. 16, 1900.

Old abstracts show that the building occupied by the jewelry since then was built in 1872 on land taken up from the government in May of 1824.

William Gaston was a native of Ireland. He came to America in his early twenties, locating in Tecumseh.

After working at his trade of carpentery for a number of year's he entered the jewelry business with his son in 1900.

When John died suddenly in 1916, Ed Heilman, a son-in-law of the elder Mr. Gaston, obtained a leave of absence from his position with the American Steel Co.

With Mrs. Heilman he came to help out in the store—continued with the firm until his father-in-law's death in 1922, then purchased the interest of Mrs. Charles Burridge, a daughter of Mr. Gaston.

His daughter, Sally Pope, started working in the store in 1935. She took over as owner in 1938.

In 1950, Gaston and Son Jewelry celebrated its golden anniversary with 1,200 guests signing the register.

The store was remodeled with well-lighted show cases and bright modern equipment replacing the old counters at that time.

Among the lines continuously carried by the business over the 60 years time are Tole, International and Traub.

Gaston's is one of the two oldest in Tecumseh operated by the same family, second only to C. A. Wright & Son Drug Store.

$35,000 Laundry Will Be Built for Hospital

Construction of a new $35,000 laundry at Herrick Memorial Hospital is expected to start immediately with completion date set for early next year.

The hospital board opened bids Monday and awarded contracts to Lenawee Construction Co. and Troy Laundry Equipment Co.

Bids for construction were: Lenawee Construction, $23,500; Krieghoff, $25,700; Elliott Construction, $27,600; and Haeussler Construction, $29,445.

Equipment bids were Troy, $10,701, and American Laundry Equipment, $10,824.

The cement block addition will be attached to the hospital south of the boiler room, and the laundry will be adequate to handle present and future needs.

Laundry operations here are expected to curtail costs and provide greater efficiency.

Valuable Dogs Lost Near Here

Two valuable hunting dogs were lost Wednesday morning between Britton and Tecumseh on M-50.

A reward of $25 is offered for their return.

One is a year-old, male English Pointer.

The other: a Blue Tick hound, female.

Somehow the pair escaped from the trunk of the car driven by their owner, the Rev. Isaac Hendrix of Inkster, as he and his brother were on their way to hunt pheasants near Adrian.

Both dogs had chain leashes about their necks.

Anyone finding the animals should call The Herald at 476 or 733.

Railroad Seeks Discontinuance of Line Here

Citing high costs, the New York Central Railroad informed Interstate Commerce Commission Monday that it wished to disband its Toledo-Napoleon line.

The single track line runs through Tecumseh, Clinton, Manchester and on to Jackson.

This section has not been used for regular freight hauling basis since 1950, and during the past two years losses ran over $68,000.

The hearing was held at Jackson. ICC examiner Robert Romero said he would make his report to the commission in Washington.

awfully proud of it. He regularly reminded us that General Marshall was an alumnus of this school.

Before a formal inspection one Saturday, we were warned that the inspecting officer would be asking some questions about top leaders and we should be on our toes.

As the colonel slowly walked past our spic and span ranks, he stopped before the VMI lad, asking,

"Soldier, who is the chief of staff?"

Without batting an eye, the fellow shot back:

"General George C. Marshall, a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, sirrrr."

During Monday's mass meeting at Tecumseh Products, Ray Herrick told employees that an earlier investment of $1½ million in the purchase of steel was paying off.

There was enough steel to carry the Products through the rest of this month, November and possibly December.

The major effect of the current steel strike at Tecumseh Products has been where its customers have been taught short and had to delay buying compressors because they'd have nothing to put them into.

Indians Seek Sixth Straight

By JIM LINCOLN

Undefeated Tecumseh rolled to an easy 42-0 victory over Flat Rock last Friday, keeping its hold on first place in the Huron League with a 4-0 mark and boosting its season record to 5-0.

Except for a letdown in the second stanza and early in the third period, the Indians moved at will against the Rams who are now 2-3 for the season.

Tecumseh celebrates homecoming here Friday night against Airport. Unless the Indians become too over-confident, they should rack up their fifth straight league victory.

COACH DUNC LECTKA'S team tallied three times each in the first and fourth quarters in showing class from the opening whistle.

Jon Aho scored twice early in the initial period on runs of 19 and two yards.

Halfback Roger Mead then hit paydirt from the four after Ron Hathaway pounced on a Tecumseh kickoff to give the Indians control on Flat Rock's 25.

Mike Green waited two periods to get his score. The quick-hitting fullback went straight through the middle for 18 yards less than a minute after the final quarter started.

Jim Curth, "Mr. Touchdown" of the fine Tecumseh line, reeled off the longest run of the game and his second score of the five-game old season.

Curth picked off one of many wild Flat Rock passes on Tecumseh's 48 and then scooted down the sidelines untouched.

Quarterback Steve Kruger scored the final touchdown on a keeper play around right end from the 13-yard line.

The Indians were moving again when the game ended with the ball inside Flat Rock's 25.

OFTEN, statistics fail to tell the story, but the Indians so monopolized the game that figures give a complete picture.

Flat Rock's main offense consisted in seven penalty charges which garnered 45 yards against Tecumseh.

Coach Lectka used the bench in the fray and even the second and third stringers moved against the opponents. The final score resulted with substitutes in the line-up.

Bob Koffron had a perfect night with six straight place kicks, several of the long variety which easily could have been field goal boots if needed.

1st Downs	15	3
Passes	6-7	4-15
Passes Intercepted	2	0
Yards Rushing	353	45
Yards Passing	47	14
Total Offense	400	59
Punts	3-23	6-36
Penalties	45	0
Tecumseh	21-0-0-21-42
Flat Rock	0-0-0- 0- 0

Scoring: Aho 2 (19, run; 2, run), Mead (4, run), Green (18, run), Curth (52, intercepted pass), Kruger 13, run). PAT: Koffron 6, place kicks.

Obligations as Christians Is Emphasized

"Reformation Revisited" will be the theme of the sermon this Sunday by the Rev. James D. Nixon at the Methodist Church.

In this sermon Mr. Nixon will ask the congregation to look again at the Reformation and its principles.

"Too often we recite a few set principles associated with the Reformation; it may be that these serve to obscure the real unity in all of Christendom," said Mr. Nixon.

"I hope that in this service we can become acutely aware of our obligations as Christians, not just as Protestants," he added.

The Sacrament of Baptism will be observed in this service, according to the pastor.

Cooperative Dinner

The Happy Home Builders Class of the Baptist Church will meet for a cooperative supper at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 28, in the Youth House.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bailey will be the hosts and Mr. and Mrs. Neil DePuy will be in charge of the program.

The Christian Workers Class meeting has been postponed from Oct. 23 until Oct. 30 in deference to the homecoming game.

It will be held in the Youth House as usual.

About 20 attended the second meeting of the Baptist Youth Fellowship Sunday evening when Bruce Antrobus presented the program on "Teen-Age Crime."

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Buehrer are the advisors this year with Evelyn Beland as president; Judy Mangrum, secretary and James Bashore, treasurer.

James Bashore conducted the devotions. Valicia Antrobus served cup cakes for refreshments.

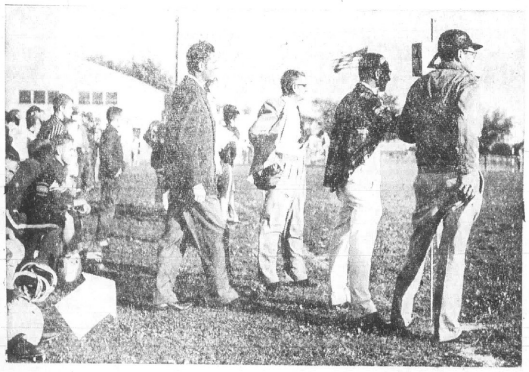
BRITTON HALFBACK LARRY IVAN (35) SPRINTS AROUND END FOR A 25-YARD GAIN AGAINST CLINTON. OTHER BRITTON PLAYERS ARE DAVE HENNING (32) MIKE BACHTAL (18) AND GARY BROWN (34). THE TORIES LOST, 21-13.

Herald Camera Visits Other Football Gridirons

During the opening month of football season The Herald camera had concentrated on snapping pictures of the undefeated local team in action. Last week, the camera visited two other gridirons. At one game —Britton and Clinton— there were about 500 fans on hand. Watching the other— Detroit and San Francisco—were more than 50,000. But there was one thing these folks had in common: they loved football and wanted more than anything to see their favorite teams in action. As always happens, some returned home joyous, others sad and dejected.



COACHING A HIGH SCHOOL GRID TEAM CAN BE A FRUSTRATING CAREER MUST SURELY BE THE THOUGHTS OF BRITTON MENTOR VERN NEIDLINGER (ARROW) AND HIS ASSISTANT SAM SISSON (LIGHT SUIT). THE PAIR WATCH AS CLINTON TALLIES A FEW MOMENTS AFTER THE TORIES HAD SCORED (BELOW).

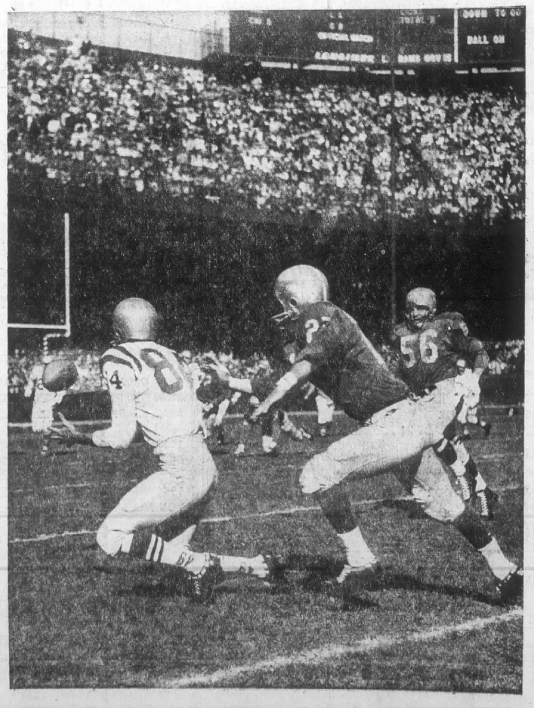
Off To Briggs Stadium

SAN FRANCISCO 49ers WERE KEYED HIGH SUNDAY AS THEY WHIZZED PAST DETROIT'S LIONS. EVERYTHING CLICKED FOR THE VISITORS, LIKE THE PASS AT RIGHT CAUGHT BY BILLY WILSON (84) FOR A SHORT GAIN IN THE OPENING PERIOD. DETROIT HAD TWO BRIGHT SPOTS, ONE WHEN NICK PIETROSANTE (ABOVE) ELBOWED HIS WAY INTO THE END ZONE FOR A SCORE. THE OTHER CAME WHEN QUARTERBACK TOBIN ROTE HURLED A LONG TD PASS TO HOWARD CASSIDY. OTHER THAN THAT, THE LIONS WERE A BADLY-DEMOLARIZED BALL CLUB. BUT, WAIT, THEY MIGHT BOUNCE BACK. THEY'VE DONE IT BEFORE.



VOICE of THE HERALD

Enormous Improvements

Tecumseh is a unique community in many ways.

Even in the two short years your present editors have been here, there have been enormous improvements in schools, local government and along business row.

Most of these changes— and many others before that—came as a direct or indirect result of efforts by the city's biggest industry.

Last week's 72-page edition of The Herald talked about the first 25 years of this great firm, recounting its steady and impressive growth during that quarter of a century.

We imagine a lot of readers, many of whom have been here those entire 25 years, didn't realized the all-inclusive impact the Products has had on Tecumseh until they sat down and saw it unfold in story form during one evening of reading.

It is only appropriate that the company's anniversary week be given special attention by the citizenry of the community. Thus, Oct. 20 to 24 has been designated as Tecumseh Products Week.

The climax comes Saturday evening with an Appreciation Banquet and we hope as many folks as possible will be able to attend this affair. We know they'll enjoy it.

An Unbeatable Plan

Americans are turning their attention to the needs of charity this month.

All across our land, various drives are rolling into high gear, volunteer workers are going door-to-door as quotas are met.

Tecumseh is no exception.

With our annual effort to do our share for Red Cross, Heart, Leader Dogs for Blind, Salvation Army, as well as local Scout programs, summer recreation, community parties we, in Tecumseh, have a new element.

Through the formation of a Tecumseh Foundation, which conducts the drive, our community is going to start a special fund for development of the city.

Everything received in the current drive over and about the $20,300 charity budget will go into the Tecumseh Foundation.

This will eventually be used to build a civic center, library, develop new playgrounds and in general give citizens facilities, which ordinarily would never be possible for a city of this size.

Thus, when you give to charity, you are also giving to build a greater Tecumseh.

To The Herald, this is an unbeatable plan — through it we gain doubly. Our children and grandchildren will derive even greater benefits.

When you're asked to contribute in this annual drive, give what you are able. You'll be aiding worthy charities, as you have in the past, and at the same time helping to build a civic center in Tecumseh.

Dump in Headlines Again

For nearly half a year now, the city dump has been in and out of the headlines.

It's back again this week and we know councilmen are disturbed.

However, their consternation probably isn't half as bad as Mr. Average Citizen's. To use the teen-agers' termonology, he's mixed-up.

Council has its work cut out in settling —once and for all—the city dump situation.

This is a serious problem which is going to require no buck-passing, but a straight-ahead approach, culminating with an agreement that takes care of the taxpayer.

We're not suggesting any particular solution. Instead we're going to do some investigating and learn how other cities our size operate their dumps. In future issues, we'll report what we find.

KING-SIZE CATCH—Neil DePuy, a Tecumseh Products retiree and veteran fisherman, pulled in this large mouth black bass in Timber Lake last week. It was 21½ inches long and weighed 5 lbs., 13 ozs. This could be some sort of a record. Neil said he was going for blue gills and using a flat fish plug when the big fellow grabbed on. Neil said the bass made one mistake, swimming directly towards his boat, after hitting the plug. It took 10 minutes to pull him in.

Girls Entertain Dad on His 90th Birthday

Clarence Gilmore of Tecumseh was honored on his 90th birthday Saturday.

His daughters, Mrs. Alvin B. Clark and Mrs. August Ruttman entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark in Manchester.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore, Mrs. Alta Boyce and daughter Marjorie, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gilmore of Britton and Lulu Gilmore of Ridgeway.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. August Ruttman of Fowlerville, Mrs. Patricia Conklin and daughter Barna of Howell, Mrs. Carlton Moe and Miss Hilda Gilmore of Parma, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clark, and Charlene and Douglas of Manchester.

A feature of the afternoon was an original poem dedicated to Mr. Gilmore by Elmer Pockington of Ridgeway.

Mr. Gilmore has spent the last 15 winters in Florida. He expects to divide his time between his daughters this winter.

Keep Halloween Safe

Reminder to moms and dads from the National Safety Council:

The highway isn't the only hazardous spot for Halloweeners. The home and its surroundings can be just as big a boobytrap.

That tip from the Council — which feels adults have an obligation to keep the trick-or-treaters safe as they tramp from house to house Saturday night— served as advance warning to parents that the annual observance of All Saints Day (Halloween, to you) is drawing near.

"Most motorists," the Council said, "know you can't count on excited youngsters to play it safe, so they exercise extra caution when driving on Halloween.

"Many homeowners, though, haven't learned their lesson quite so well.

How can you guard against a tragedy that may mar a child's Halloween? Follow these, and similar, suggestions, the council recommends:

1. Light your porch if there's any chance of a visit from trick-or-treaters Saturday evening. An excited youngster is ripe for a tumble in the dark.

2. Make sure your yard isn't an obstacle course for children. Cover excavations. Tie strips of white cloth to temporary fences around shrubbery or newly seeded grass.

3. If you have a dog, keep it secured. The strange sights and sounds of youngsters dressed up to look like ghosts and goblins could excite it—with dire results.

Osburns Feted on Fortieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Vearl Osburn were honored Sunday at a family gathering at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferguson.

The group celebrated the 40th wedding anniversary of the Osburns, who were married on Tuesday, Oct. 20, 1919 by the Rev. R. C. Powell in Adrian.

Mabel Allison and Milford Osburn were the attendants at the original wedding.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Osburn and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Winzler and family. Another son, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osburn and family, of Rochester were unable to be present.

Skin Divers Tell About Their Trade

Orrie Gilbert, program leader for Rotary Tuesday evening, presented Troopers Stoddard and Hilderly from the State Police Post at Clinton.

The troopers are among the 50 members of the Skin Diving team of the State Police and they told about their work and displayed their equipment.

Robert Hayden of Adrian and Art Donaldson of Blissfield were guests. Bill Hadley of the Ford Motor Co. in Detroit was a guest of Robert Karle.

H. H. Hanna was a guest at the Clinton Rotary Club last week.

MISSIONARY RALLY

Ladies of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Britton are reminded that the Lutheran Women's Missionary League Rally will be held at The Holy Ghost Church at Sand Creek Thursday, Oct. 29.

Climax of the 1959 4-H year will be Saturday at 6 p.m. This is the time of the annual Fall Achievement program.

It will be in the Adrian Junior High school gymnasium on Frank St. with 4-H members from all parts of the county receiving awards and recognition.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Mrs. Davis Ignores the "ADvice"

Last week, the Clarion advertised a homemaking course given by the Woman's Club.

"Seemed a fine idea to me," Red Davis told me later, "so I showed the ad to my wife. Told her she'd learn how to do new things—more efficiently, too."

"But all she did was look at me and smile," Red continued. "'You men,' she said, 'always thinking of more work for women. Learn new things? Why, I haven't even got the time to do all the old ones!'"

From where I sit, a lot of us do leap into the new at the expense of the old. Take the idea of tolerance, for instance. It's been around for centuries . . . but it's something we can never bypass. Tolerance demands daily respect for the other fellow's preference—and that includes beverages. Tolerance doesn't mean that you have to like a glass of beer for Saturday night supper—just as I don't have to choose buttermilk. Just respect the next man's choice.

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:

$500,000,000 LOSS

TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads — pay for work not done or not needed — is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman — even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

PANCAKES FOR 5,000 — That's how many guests Tecumseh merchants had for last Friday's Pancake Festival. Storemen, like Clayton Greenwald (above), did the flapjack flipping. Carl Lamb was general chairman and Quaker Oats Co., Aunt Jemima division, furnished the pancake mix. Country Markets, Inc. donated much of the remaining needs and Sealtest of Toledo gave 200 quarts of milk. Aunt Jemima was on hand to entertain.

Free Plans Offered for Milking Stalls

Michigan State University is offering two new plans for building milking stalls in barns. County extension offices offer the plans free of charge.

"Blueprints show how to convert existing barn space into milking area," says agricultural engineer Robert Aldrich who designed the plans. "They are designed for manufacturing-milk producers with herds of 20 cows or less."

What Is A Truck?

A truck is a lot of things . . . food for your table, clothes for your back, heat for your home. A truck is medicine for a sick child, gasoline for an automobile carrying a traveling salesman, merchandise for the store on the corner . . . A truck is something you simply could not do without—housewife, manufacturer, farmer, retailer, teen-ager, or whoever you may be. Because everything you eat, wear, or use depends on trucks to get to you . . . So, next time you see a truck on the road, remember—it's there because it's got a very important job to do—for you.

"You know a good doctor for this?"

It's a question we answer all the time. Sometimes it's someone new in the neighborhood. Sometimes it's an old friend who just doesn't happen to have a family physician. The boy sprains an ankle . . . the baby runs a temperature . . . Grandma has a bad cough. Troubled people often turn to us for help, and rightly so. We work closely with physicians, providing the medicines they prescribe and use in their offices. We know who they are, their specialties, their office hours. In an emergency we're good people to ask. And we're always happy to be of service to our friends and patrons.

HERE'S WHAT MAKES the CORVAIR REVOLUTIONARY

Short and sweet! Engine's in the rear—where it belongs in a compact car. With more weight on rear wheels, you get extra road-gripping traction for cornering and driving on ice, mud or snow. Also, by avoiding nose-heaviness of front-engine compact cars, Corvair handles easier, brakes better, rides smoother. Styling of both 4-door models is clean and uncluttered . . . as fresh and functional as modern architecture.

AIR COOLED
You never have to fuss with antifreeze. Turbo-Air 6 warms up quicker, with less wear on parts. Air-plane-type heater* goes to work almost instantly. *Optional at extra cost.

Revolutionary Rear Engine
works small miracles with mileage. It's the world's first production 6 with the ultra-smooth power of horizontally opposed pistons.

Unipack Power Team
Engine, transmission and drive gears are neatly wrapped in one lightweight package. Takes less space, leaves you more.

UNISTRUT BODY BY FISHER
Body and frame are combined into a single rigidly constructed unit that reduces Corvair's weight, enlarges its passenger space.

Practically FLAT FLOOR

Corvair is America's only compact car with a virtually flat floor that gives you full 6-passenger comfort. For extra space, folding rear seat converts easily to make room for 17.6 cu. ft. of cargo. *Optional at extra cost.

TRUNK'S UP FRONT
Lots of luggage space under the hood, where it's convenient for groceries, packages.

NEARLY 3 FEET SHORTER
Corvair's almost 5 inches lower, 1,300 pounds lighter, too. Its compact size makes it a joy to jockey through traffic, a pleasure to park. No need for power assists.

4-Wheel Independent Suspension
Springs at each wheel cushion bumps independently of each other for a ride that rivals much costlier cars.

. . . and the most practical thing of all is Corvair's LOW PRICE!
see it — drive it
Corvair

Through My Window

FRONT YARD CONVENTIONS

To the south our big picture window overlooks, in addition to the front yard, Logan and Democratic Streets and their parallelling sidewalks. This is our city window through which we see people, many children going to and from school, cars, trucks and other city-type things.

Until fall we had never considered this window an especially good bird window; lately, however, our thinking has undergone a change. Suddenly the front yard has become a mecca for birds.

Thoughtfully, instead of coming singly or in twos or threes, the birds are helping the window maintain its cosmopolitan reputation by flocking in great numbers and after all, conventions are quite citified, aren't they?

The first group we hosted was a combination affair, Grackles and Starlings. They convened just as some seed in the yard was ripening and day after day they batqueted from morning until night.

Their numbers were so great that the yard seemed to be carpeted in black. Early in the spring when the first few Grackles returned from their travels they are welcomed as forerunners of the happy things to come.

They soon outstay their welcome however, and become great nuisances. Starlings are always unwanted visitors. So it was that when this the first convention adjourned, we heaved great signs of relief. Green looks much better in our front yard than does black.

THE SECOND convention was extremely well organized and had that sense of excitement and super-charged activity inherent to such affairs. It was the fall meeting of the Mystic Society of Fall and Spring Red-breasted Migrators.

A few days prior to the general assemblage, the advanced committee on rules, regulations and general procedure met.

There were five or six birds in this group and what a thorough investigation of the meeting place they made. Big handsome birds, richly colored, one just knew they had been chosen for their efficiency and ability to do a good job.

Apparently they did a good job, because when the Robins arrived in full force, all went well. A good testimony to well layed plans. It took two days for the complete group to assemble and as Robin after Robin appeared, we began to wonder if the front yard would hold them all.

At the height of feastivities we counted thirty-five Robins and believe me, thirty-five Robins in our front yard constitutes quite a yard full. It had apparently been a good summer for them, they looked sleek and well fed. It amazed us to see so many young birds, very young looking birds. Their breasts were still heavily speckled and although some were showing tinges and streaks of red, many were still whitish-gray. It hardly seemed possible that they were old enough to take such a long journey.

There seems little doubt that the annual flight to warmer and sunnier climes was the reason for this convention. It is that time of year and although the yard was teeming with Robins oneday, they were all gone the next. Since then there have been occasional stragglers and late comers but in dismay of having missed the big meeting, they do not stay around long. We miss them; their convention was fun to watch. For some reason all committee meetings and general assemblages were held in the front yard so we had first-class, ring-side seats. The planning of such a trip, the checking and rechecking, all the little details—these tiresome things were done cheerfully. The Robins' convention had a happy carefree mood so lacking in the drab colorless conclave of Starlings and Sparrows.

Our city window is currently being taken over by Sparrows; I imagine they will maintain possession until next spring. (At least, I hope they will be 'in convention' until then—they can provide much entertainment during the long dreary months which are almost upon us.) The big clump of barberry by the drive will afford much protection from the winter's wind and snow and our post and rail fence is just the right thing to perch on. Even now as I look out, the first two sections, both top and bottom rails, are holding Sparrows sitting next to each other and just as close together as possible. Little Brown nubs lined up so neatly—fun to see.

from the only car with Wide-Track wheels!

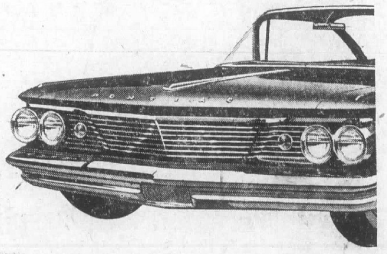
A car is a living thing.
And all living things must change.
This is why the creative car builders of Pontiac took the proved principle of Wide-Track Wheel Design and surrounded it with fresh, exhilarating, totally new beauty for 1960.
The prow is styled for excitement.
The horizontal bars bear the artistry of the classical.
The perfect profile comes from just-right proportion, unity, rhythm.
The clean, graceful back contributes character where other cars seem only to reflect confusion.



With the widest track of any car, Pontiac's width is on the road—where it gives you better stability. Wide-Track widens the stance, not the car.

Its effect upon your attitude toward driving and owning cars can be quite radical.
For you cannot possess this automobile and be anything less than lighthearted. You cannot control it and be anything less than sportive about driving.
You cannot be seen in it and be anything less than buoyantly proud.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Dr. Carlton Cook enjoys nothing better than to don his oldest clothes and work on his lawn and in his flower beds.

The other day he was doing just that—also not wearing his glasses—when a regular patient approached him.

She looked at Dr. Cook a moment, then asked:

"Is this where Dr. Cook lives?"

The medico paused, looked at his home, than back at the good lady and replied,

"Yes . . . I believe so."

And off she trudged as Dr. Cook got back to his chores.

When a man in government champions unpopular legislation, he sometimes cooks his own political goose.

This may or may not be the case with Rollo Conlin, state representative from Tipton.

But one thing is sure, "Bill" Conlin did call the shot on one thing—the legality of the use tax plan.

HERALD PHOTO

This was back in June when "Michigan's Money Madness" was at its summer peak.

Everyone wanted the extra cent added to sales tax.

Mr. Conlin said flatly it would be found unconstitutional. He reminded that the state constitution reads: "At no times shall the legislature levy a sales tax of more than 3%."

Just that simple, mused Conlin, but folks didn't want to believe it.

Bill advocated the "hard-way" for an increase in state revenue —the personal income tax. This could be the death-kneel of his 23-year career as an elected official, the last 17 as a member of the House and for many years chairman of its taxation committee.

Speaking of the sales tax back in June, Conlin said, "It's just another patch on our already patch-work tax system and it's wholly inadequate."

And Mr. Conlin's income tax?

He was pushing then for a 3% personal income tax, 5% on corporations and 7½% on financial institutions.

If I know Bill Conlin, this is what he still feels will get Michigan off the hook and onto the road of financial solvency.

But this thinking could mean political suicide.

Guess we'll just have to wait and see.

450 Wish Products 'Happy Birthday'

Tecumseh Products' 25th birthday party Saturday evening in the High School gymnasium was an exciting affair, not soon to be forgotten by the 450 who attended. From the invocation by the Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Collins of St. Elizabeth's to the standing round of applause for Ray Herrick, the evening was packed with heart-warming sentiment and appreciation. Two key speakers shared the program. Equally as impressive were selections by the High School chorus. Tecumseh Grange served a ham dinner to guests and Van's Pastry prepared a giant birthday cake, which was given to the hard-working chorus after the banquet. Tom Corkery served as general chairman and the Rev. B. O. Bashore was toastmaster. Benediction was given by the Rev. James Nixon. Stories pertaining to the banquet appear below and on other pages of this issue.

TAUBENECK: 'Drop in Bucket'

"The last 25 years will be just a drop in the bucket compared to what you'll do in the next 25," George Taubeneck predicted of Tecumseh Products Saturday.

One of two guest speakers, Mr. Taubeneck is editor of Air Conditioning, Heating & Refrigeration News, a trade publication.

In his talk he lauded Tecumseh for its world-wide activities, stating that the firm is doing more to insure world peace than "all the billions the U.S. is giving away."

Refrigeration is being brought to many people in the free world at a price the average man can afford for the first time, thanks to Tecumseh Products, he related.

Simultaneously comes free enterprise, something new and strange to countries outside the United States.

HERE'S HOW:

Tecumseh has licensed 11 foreign manufacturing firms to construct refrigeration compressors from its plans and with the Products offering engineering assistance when needed.

Each overseas firms in competition with the others and also the Products itself — there are no exclusive franchies, no price fixing, no guaranteed territories.

A market must be captured on the merit of the finished product and its price.

"I've seen the results with my own eyes," Mr. Taubeneck stated.

He explained that in traveling to 59 nations in which his magazine is distributed, he talks with natives, learns of great advancements made since the mid-Forties in the refrigeration industry overseas.

With it, people in underprivileged nations are now able to preserve foods, thus eat better, have balanced meals.

"The key to feeling good is being well fed," the guest told the audience, "And well-fed men seldom start wars."

DR. DAWSON: 'Our Sincere Thanks'

"Men plus opportunity equals progress," Dr. John Dawson, president of Adrian College told those gathered to attend Saturday's anniversary party.

The phrase, he stated, was a formula invented by elder statesman Bernard Baruch.

It aptly describes what took place in the late summer of 1934 in Tecumseh.

"Here in your town the magic formula was mixed and the legend of Tecumseh Products began and swiftly grew like the Biblical grain of mustard seed.

"Men — of courage, genius and confidence — made an investment in a city and its people, put their assets of faith and finance into a new industrial operation.

"Men of hope gave many hours, voluntarily, to paint, lay concrete, install equipment and power lines and perform a hundred other tasks to get the first production lines going.

"Production and design genius, blended with the hard work and personal sacrifices of the many, who believed, started this great company on its course and kept it there.

"WE HONOR them each and all, personally or in memory.

"The magic formula further demonstrated what it could do and the City of Tecumseh and County of Lenawee is the grateful beneficiary.

"When we talk of the company, let us recognize that we speak not primarily of building and machinery and power. We talk of men, their interests, their ideas, their social and spiritual belief and dedications.

"It is the men of Tecumseh we pay honor this night.

"Lenawee county owes this company so much that no one man is wise or well-informed enough to enumerate it adequately.

"But as one man, I know and can be grateful from the bottom of my heart for what Mr. Ray Herrick and the Tecumseh Products Co. means to Adrian College.

"Other out-county schools, churches and communities join me in our tribute to this great man of God,his personal generosity and concern and that of this company.

"I HAVE known Tecumseh for 25 years and spent a good many hour in this community.

"But I wanted to see it through the eyes of one of its grateful citizens. So last Tuesday, he took me on a tour of the town.

"I saw your fine hospital and have read and know of its marvelous facilities and equipment for the treatment of human ills.

"I looked closely at your new municipal building. I visited your fine high school and looked again at the new elementary schools.

"I took a look at your community swimming pool and your beautiful homes in Herrick Park, River and Indian Acres, Tecumseh Acres and Indian Hills, and other residence areas.

"I noted and was told of your new and remodeled churches. I shopped in your fine business district.

"THEN I WENT home and did a lot of thinking about the many individuals in need of one sort or another, about whom I have known, and who have been and are helped by the personal concern of this company and its men.

Old Team Back Together Again

Four of the original Tecumseh Products team — Curtiss Brown, Ray Herrick, Bill Sage and Clyde Giltner — were together again at last week's Appreciation Banquet. They, along with the late Frank Smith and Jens Touborg, directed the company through its infancy and into the position of the largest manufacturer of refrigeration compressors in the world. Mr. Touborg was unable to be on hand, being on a big game hunting trip in Africa. The men were given engraved cuff links and tie clasps by Don Murphy, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Halloween Here Again

Once again the city will provide Halloween fun and entertainment for its younger generation.

Through the Community Party Fund, the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a variety of events.

Tecumseh's annual costume Halloween Parade will be Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

Skip Rex, is chairman of the event. All children under 12 are invited to take part. Last year's parade drew approximately 150 enthusiastic witches, goblins and ghosts.

The parade will form at the corner of S. Union St. at 2:15 p.m. and will proceed east on Chicago Blvd., led by the Junior High School band, to Adams Park, across from the city hall.

At this point judges will award prizes and refreshments of cider and donuts will be served.

Friday has been officially designated by city officials as Trick or Treat night. Residents are asked to have porch lights on that evening.

A RECORD HOP for Junior High students and seventh and eighth graders from St. Elizabeth is scheduled from 7:30 to 11 in the gym at the Central building Saturday.

Costumes are not required according to David Dick, who is in charge of arrangements. A committee from the Junior High students council is in charge of decorating the gym.

This party is also free with $50 in gift certificates to be given and refreshments.

Railroad Seeks Only Partial Discontinuance

The New York Central doesn't want to abandon its operation here.

The line's executive offices has denied that NYC seeks to discontinue its operations on the so-called Jackson Branch, running from Toledo through Adrian to Jackson and with a spur through Tecumseh.

The report of such full abandonment grew out of a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission at Jackson last week.

The railroad asked authority to permit abandoning the 19-mile segment of this branch running from Manchester Junction to Jackson Junction.

According to NYC Attorney Edward M. Miller the petition involves only that section of the branch.

Only one town, Napoleon, is in the segment and only one large shipper would be affected.

The Central has been losing an average of $34,000 a year serving this 19-mile stretch and it would cost $213,000 to put it into modern operable condition.

Special Lyrics Score Big Hit at Banquet

When Les Bennett was asked if his 90-voice Tecumseh High School chorus would sing at the Products' Appreciation Banquet, he not only agreed readily, but did a little song writing for the occasion.

Les added a verse to the popular "Anything You Can Do" from the Broadway musical, "Annie Get Your Gun." Here are his words:

"Anything you can freeze, I can freeze better. I build compressors much better than you—good design, lower noise, higher sales, lower price."

"No you can't, yes I can, yes I can."

"I deal with Amana and with Aunt Jemima. I can name a geezer, famous for his freezer."

"I can make Red Wilson laugh. "Without being fired? Yes. He must be tired."

"I have a future that keeps getting brighter."

"I have a future much brighter than you.

"You don't say. Yes I do, yes I have."

The words scored an immediate success, as did the other five numbers sung by the chorus. Another worked in the names of several Products people.

Young Bandsmen Will Perform for Boosters

The Tecumseh Band Boosters meet Thursday evening, at 7 in the High School.

Both the sixth grade band and junior high band will perform.

There will also be music by the "Pep Band" as well as selections by a trombone quartet composed of Tim Dickinson, Bob Titley, Douglas Hall and Gordon Gibson.

A representative from Carty's Music Box of Ann Arbor, will be present to give a discussion on the proper care of band instruments.

There will be a short business meeting to make final arrangements for "Tag Days" Friday and Saturday.

The Senior Band members will be selling Band Booster tags.

MYF Taking Part in Annual Festival

Sunday afternoon the Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship will travel to Chelsea Methodist Home to participate in the annual Harvest Festival.

The group will present a skit as a part of the program, reports Sally Hunt, president.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Lectka, counsellors, will accompany them.

Tecumseh-Born Prof Dies in Wisconsin

A distinguished, former citizen of Tecumseh died October 24 at Madison, Wisconsin.

Dr. Vernor C. Finch, geographer, author and, for many years, professor at the University of Wisconsin, was born in Tecumseh and graduated from Tecumseh High School.

Dr. Finch was a pioneer in the field of economic geography, with a special interest in its application to agriculture. He wrote several books on the subject, including, "Elements of Geography" and "Geography of the Worlds Agriculture" and contributed to many educational and scientific journals.

A member of the Association of America Geographers, he was during the years of 1918 and 1919 special consultant to the U.S. Shipping Board.

"Who's Who" also lists him as a member of Gamma Alpha and Sigma XI.

In 1908 he received BS degrees from both Kalamazoo College and the University of Chicago.

Second Phase

Second phase of the annual Community Fund charity drive opened Tuesday morning.

It's the local businessmen who are being asked "Give once for all."

Industry kicked off the effort last week.

Under chairmanship of the Rev. B. O. Bashore, a team of six merchants is now canvassing business row.

Assisting Mr. Bashore are Bert Ousterhout, Mrs. Sally Pope, Harold Easton, Harold Green, Dwight Hodges and Elmer Eberhardt.

At the same time, Dr. Richard Coak is contacting professional men in the community for their gifts and James MacDowell is soliciting employees in the school system.

Stickers saying "United We Gave" are appearing in windows of homes all over town.

These are given to everyone who donates through their place of work.

When all industries and business places have been checked, the house-to-house canvass will begin. Whenever a worker sees a sticker, he or she will not call explains Don Murphy, who is general chairman of the drive.

The community's goal for charity is $20,300.

Everything collected above this amount will be put into the newly-formed Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

In future years, it will be monies from this Foundation which will help build Tecumseh a civic center, auditorium, library and other needed facilities.

A Grand Homecoming

It was a grand Homecoming. Tecumseh beat Airport, the floats were outstanding and the queen and her court added a touch of beauty to festivities—which otherwise were slightly rain and mud-spattered (ask the dry cleaner who faced those football uniforms.) Queen Kendra Frost was radiant (right) as she waved to her domain. At left, Jim "Bubbles" Curth presented the roses donated by Eggleston's Jewelry. Below, Bubbles' fellow co-captain, Lee Britton, did the crowning. The court included, from left, Bonnie Staup, Linda McMichael, Judy Mangrum, Mary Meritt, Vera Michajlenko and Sandy Howard.

"Of the financial stability that belongs to this community, its families, its professional men and women, and its many institutions, because of this Company.

"I thought of the community, school and church leadership this town has because the Products Company is here, and these men and women are therefore here. I thought of a great many things.

"And, then, I thought of our future in Lenawee County and in Tecumseh, hopeful and promising and expectant and of the company's responsibility for this. And it all but overwhelmed me.

"We are, among men, greatly blessed because of the Tecumseh Products Company. And for you, and many others, I say that we are grateful."

In conclusion, I speak for all of us a simple word of tribute to the man, among these great men of Tecumseh Products, who symbolizes for so many of us the magnificent humanitarism of this company. Mr. Ray Herrick, who has taught me what God's man should really be. I know of no other who so completely, in my judgment and experience, embodies the words John Masefield wrote to describe another —

"A man that matched the mountains,
And compelled the stars to look
Our way and honor."

15 Little Girls Get Brownie Pins at 'Camp Site'

Fifteen little girls were invested as members of the Purple Pansy Brownie Troop recently at Fellowship Center.

Mrs. Robert Anderson presented them with their crests and pins in a setting that depicted a camp scene with a pool, autumn leaves, pop tent and a camp fire of birch logs lighted by electricity.

Artificial grass for the scene was furnished by Collins-Corkery Funeral Home.

The Rev. Dale Harvey, committeeman for the Exchange Club, was a guest as were Mrs. Roland Redman, Mrs. Carlton Cook and Mrs. Jesse Gray.

Six more will receive their pins and crests as soon as they have completed their eligibility requirements.

The group visited Van's new doughnut shop last week.

Janice Kreps Becomes Bride of Harold Springer

Janice Lou Kreps chose a floor-length gown of white chiffon velvet for her wedding to Harold Vance Springer, which took place Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Kreps of 722 Ternes Rd. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Springer of Adrian.

The Rev. David Van Winkle of the First Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor performed the ceremony before the altar enhanced with white snapdragons, Fuji mums and pompons and the traditional seven-branch candelabra.

Beauty baskets of the same blossoms were placed in front of the chancel and the family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Mrs. Fred Dickinson presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. Jerry Belle who sang, "Because", "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt on a white satin-covered predieu.

THE BRIDE approached the altar on the arm of her father in her chiffon bridal gown styled with a scoop neckline with alencon lace and seed pearl trim.

The soft graceful skirt gathered in the back to form a full chapel train. Her veil of soft illusion was attached to a half hat of matching lace and seed pearls.

She wore a single strand of pearls and pearl earrings, the gift of the groom.

Dotty Dotson was the maid-of-honor and Judy Shultz, Norma Beavers and Mrs. Juanita Keefe were the bridesmaids.

All were identical gowns of royal blue velvet in ballerina length fashioned with scoop necklines, short sleeves, full skirts with satin bows and streamers trimming the backs.

Tiny circle veils were held in place with headbands of matching velvet petals. They wore single strands of pearls which were the gifts of the bride.

KAREN AND SHAREN GURK, identical twin cousins of the groom, were miniature bridesmaids, wearing white taffeta princess style gowns of ballerina length with empire waistlines and taffeta bows trimming the bodices.

Each wore tiny blue pearl heart necklaces and bracelets which were the gifts from the bride.

The bride carried a petite crescent arrangement of white orchids and stephonotis with nylon tulle tufts and narrow white satin streamers tied with lovers' knots on her white Bible.

Clifford Smith was the best man and Jim Gilhouse, Earl Kreps, Jr. and Paul Smith were the ushers.

About 250 guests attended the reception held in Fellowship Center following the ceremony.

The five-tiered wedding cake featured a miniature bridal party on steps of cake with wedding bells on the top. Decorated candles in silver holders flanked the cake.

MRS. GERALD BAKER assisted by ladies of the church served refreshments. Others assisting were Mrs. Argo Bair of Lasalle, Lelia Kreps of Washington, D.C., Mrs. Lee Kreps and Mrs. Gerald Antaeu.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Springer will make their home at 319 S. Winter St. in Adrian, following a two-week wedding trip to northern Michigan.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Klines Department store in Adrian. The groom attended Adrian College and is employed at the Adrian Post Office.

The rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Springer at the Country Kitchen for about 30 guests.

Jets Crackup on Tecumseh Gridiron - Blissfield Next

By JIM LINCOLN

Mud and pools of water failed to dampen Tecumseh's Homecoming Friday night as the Indians walloped Airport, 31-6, for the Indians sixth consecutive victory of the season.

Rain before the game turned the gridiron into puddles of water, which probably prevented Tecumseh from completely routing its slower opponents.

Coach Dunc Lectka, loser of only one game since coming to Tecumseh a year ago, sends the Indians against Blissfield here Friday evening in what should be a comparatively easy game for the Indians.

Only over-confidence can stop Tecumseh from racking up its seventh straight.

In the Airport fray, the outcome was evident in the initial period when the Indians marched 68 yards in seven plays with Dave Weakly capping the drive from the two.

John Aho scored his first of two TDs about midway in the second quarter after an Airport bobble was recovered on the visitor's 20.

Shortly before the half, Steve Kruger pitched to Aho on Airport's 23 where the lanky halfback scooted over untouched to boost Tecumseh's halftime lead to 19-0.

Airport gained some consolation in the third period when a Lyle Lambrixtu pass to Dave Monroe highlighted a 60-yard TD play.

Climax of the play resulted when Monroe, tackled on the two, fumbled into the end zone where Bob Dobberstein fell on the loose pigskin.

Three minutes following Airport's score, Mike Green tallied from the two. Green scored again in the fourth quarter from the five.

The game, not only marred by the mud and weather, was somewhat tainted by 10 Indians penalties, one cancelling a TD when Dale Tucky passed to Aho in the final stanza.

It was the ninth touchdown scored by Tecumseh and called back because of penalties this season.

Airport, completely stymied on the ground, took to the air in the second half and moved. The Jets with Lambrix throwing, hit on 7 to 16 passes in the final two periods and late in the fourth reached Tecumseh's one.

The Indian's tough line held on two running plays at this stage, forcing the Jets to pass again—but without success.

Tecumseh's defensive line — led by Jim Curth and Jim Neitling—has allowed only one score this year, and that in the opener with Hudson. The other two touchdowns scored by opponents this season came by passes.

Green, rapidly catching the fancy of Tecumseh fans, topped the local backs in rushing with 134 yards in 13 carries. Aho rolled up 60 yards in 9 runs and Dave Weakly picked up 65 yards in 10 carries.

35 Boy Scouts Tour Air Base at Grosse Ile

Thirty-five boys and seven men of Scout Troop 73 were in Gross Ile Saturday to tour the naval air base.

Twelve boys of the same troop attended the Lenape district Green Bar meeting at Camp Kanesatake Oct. 16 and 17.

They were David Dustin, Douglas Gillis, Jim Oberlin, Bob Seitz, Steve Derby, Tom Elliott, Mike and Tom Wilson, Dick Brown, Terry Haughn, Robert Titley and Jerry Hale.

There were 50 boys and 11 adults camped as Green Bar patrols doing their own cooking and undergoing a rigid training course.

In Scout lingo, Green Bar means a badge of office — the troop officers such as patrol leader, assistant patrol leader, quartermaster, scribe and others.

Lutherans' Open House Starts Nov. 1

Emmanuel Lutheran Church on the Ridge Rd. will cooperate with the state-wide Lutheran open house week, beginning Sunday, Nov. 1 and ending Nov. 5.

The Rev. James Moehring, pastor of the church, invited the public to attend the meetings held each evening at 8 p.m.

They will be conducted by the Rev. Harold J. Schlickes of Monito, Ill. who was born in Freeland, Mich. and graduated from Concordia Seminary in 1940.

His theme for all services will be on "God's Love."

There will be a question-and-answer period on the teachings of the Lutheran Church and a special presentation especially for children.

NICE SAVE—Dave Weakly (7) went high to smack down a pass intended for this unidentified Airport player. Tecumseh's overall defensive play was sharp last week, especially in the line. Highpoint came when the forward wall held off three Jet thrusts on the one-yard line late in the game.

A Salute to Those Who Helped

The Herald salutes all those men and women who donated their time and talent to make the Products Appreciation Banquet such a grand success.

Such an effort takes a great deal of time and planning. The first committee meeting for the event was held four months ago as preliminary plans were formulated.

Tom Corkery accepted the role of general chairman and did a splendid job. He was assisted in a variety of capacities by dozens of others in towns.

Choice of speakers — two instead of the usual one — was a highlight of the evening. Each man covered the area closest to him and both held their audience with inspirational talks.

Blair Bashore was his usual jovial self as toastmaster.

The whole program rolled along smoothly and even when the public address hookup was fouled, it didn't lessen the fun. Neville Hart and Les Bennett of the High School deserve a vote of thanks for their cooperation, as do the youngsters in the chorus.

We often marvel at the talents of folks in the Grange, who can prepare a tempting meal — whether there are 25 or 500 guests to be fed.

It was a hometown affair for our home town industry and as Mayor H. H. Hanna stated, "This is concrete evidence that the people of Tecumseh appreciate what the Products has done for the community."

Mayor Proclaims Band Tag Days

Whereas: The days of Friday, October 30th and Saturday, October 31st are officially recognized as 1959 Annual Tecumseh Tag Days.

Whereas: The Tecumseh Band Boosters Organization is assembling tags, and the proceeds from the free will donations for these will be used in cooperation with regular school band funds, to purchase needed instruments and assist all school band departments as need arises.

I do hereby urge the citizens of this community, in appreciation for the work of our excellent band and its' capable bandmaster, Don Johnson, and assistant, Jim Harris, to contribute through the purchase of tags.

H. H. Hanna, Mayor

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITORS:

I received a copy of the Tecumseh Herald today and I am confused. I have never been in your fair city nor do I know anyone that lives there. Will you please tell me how I happened to receive a copy of your paper? If I have a secret admirer living in your city I would like to have his name and address.

The paper was dated Oct. 1, 1959 and was sent to me.

Betty Crawford
14037 Oxnard St., Apt. 24
Van Nuys, Calif.

Ed's note: Can anyone help us?

Dear Tom and Jim:

Fabulous! This one word to me sums up better than any other your results in the publishing of the special edition on the 25th anniversary of the Tecumseh Products.

I started looking at the many sections about 11 p.m. and I did not put them down until I had read them from cover to cover.

You and your staff did yourselves proud on this gargantuan job and nobody but a practicing newspaperman knows the amount of mental and physical sweat and the hours of detailed work that went into such a publication.

I enjoyed reading about the rise of the Products, particularly Mabel Lockwood's running account; but one article stood out above all the others. This was the one on the late Earl Wickwire and the part he played in having the Products come to Tecumseh.

Congratulations again on the fine job. Newspapers can be mighty proud of this work and the whole community of Tecumseh and the Products family also can point with pride at your accomplishment.

Yours,
Bob Warren

Editor's note: Bob is publisher and editor of The Brown City Banner and at one time served as editor of The Herald while it was under the management of Marjorie Wickwire.

Dear Messrs. Riordan & Lincoln:

On the occasion of National Newspaper Week I want to express the appreciation of the people of Michigan for the outstanding service the Tecumseh Herald has performed for our state in your recent public service advertising on the subject of sound community industrial development.

Certainly there has been no single contribution of greater importance to community development anywhere in the country than that made by Michigan newspapers during the past year in the work they have carried on through the Michigan Press Association and our state Econimic Development Department. Congratulations and thanks!

Sincerely,
John B. Swainson
Lieutenant & Acting Governor

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

Homecoming, 1959, began with the parade through the downtown section Friday afternoon.

Led by the Tecumseh High School marching band, the floats followed with class or club members marching behind them.

Senior Queen candidates and the court rode in convertibles.

Floats were judged on originality, overall effect, class spirit, time spent, and idea.

Points based on 100 were given by each of the judges and the floats with the scores closest to one hundred were the winners.

At the game the majorettes and the drum major, John Perry, were dressed in the Indian costumes. The majorettes are Lana Wright, Helen Hicks, Cynthia Poley, Beverly Scheffler, Dottie Roe, and Sharon Mitzner. The costumes were white with black fringe.

At half-time the float winners were announced and the Homecoming Queen was crowned and presented with roses.

The class division winner was entered by the Junior class. Theme was suggested by the sign "Indian Burial Ground" on the back and the funeral in progress on the float.

An Airport Jet was being interred in a grave with headstones for each of the rest of Tecumseh's felled-foes around it.

The Senior class took second. The Varsity Club took top club honors with their simple float. It had two slogans explaining their stand on the game and float-building situation.

On the bed of the float was the huge sign "Have football, Will win". On the sides, was "We're not float-builders, we're football players."

"Teach 'em a Lesson" was the slogan used by the second place Future Teachers' float. Dave Van Valkenburg was teaching some Airport football players a lesson as they were seated in old-fashioned school desks.

Queen Kendra Frost was crowned by co-captain of the football team, Lee Britton. Jim Curth the other co-captain, presented Kendra with a bouquet of red roses, a gift of Eggleston's Jewelry.

Both boys congratulated her with a kiss.

Blue evening gowns were worn by Bonnie Sraup, Judy Mangrum, and Sandy Howard. Linda McMichael, Kendra Frost, Vera Michajlemko and Mary Merritt all wore pink.

Corsages were given to all of the girls.

THREE ALUMNAE drum majorettes presented a half-time show for the Homecoming audience.

Dressed in black sweaters and short white pleated skirts, LaVonne Echelbarger nee Lister, Shirley Larned and Sandra Ross twirled to the band music as if they had never left.

It was really a treat to see these girls back on the field.

The Homecoming dance sponsored by the student council began at 10. The gym was decorated with blue and yellow crepe paper which formed a false ceiling.

Japanese lanterns were hung at intervals from this ceiling, throwing multi-colored lights on the dance floor.

The cafe-style tables were decorated in orange and black. The refreshment table was at the opposite end of the floor from the queen's throne.

The bandstand which was ably filled by the Dick Tilkin Band from Ann Arbor was placed in the middle of one side.

Refreshments were served at eleven-thirty after the Queen was presented with her gift and after the grand march.

It was a very successful Homecoming for everyone concerned.

Last but not least because we won the game, 31-6.

A representative from Albion College came to talk to interested seniors Tuesday. Thursday a representative from Kalamazoo College will be here for the same purpose.

The Future Homemakers' will sponsor the dance after the home game with Blissfield here Friday night.

Nine-week exams will be given all day November 9 and 10.

Help Buy Milk for Needy

Mrs. Claron Rex was hostess for the Mothers of Twins Club last Tuesday evening when the group marked its third anniversary.

Mrs. William DeBozy of Brooklyn was a guest and two new members were accepted, Mrs. Richard Upell and Mrs. Walter Gillen of Brooklyn.

During a short business session conducted by Mrs. Reginald Dixon, plans were made to help pay for milk for needy children at the public school and also for a Halloween party to be held Oct. 30.

The party will be a masquerade with a scavenger hunt and potluck supper at the home of Mrs. Richard Roost. Husbands are to be guests.

Pencil and paper games were enjoyed with house plants awarded as prizes to Mrs. Don Hardcastle, Mrs. Keith Spencer, Mrs. Gillan and Mrs. DeBozy.

The hostess served refreshments from a table decorated in keeping with the anniversary theme.

Fall flowers were used on the table as well as a dainty fan and three small candles were placed on each individual service.

Mrs. Dixon was assisting hostess.

The meeting Nov. 17 will be held at the home of Mrs. Larry Coscarelli.

Ned's Socks Score

Corridors of the Tecumseh Acres School were literally "popping" during the Fun Night held there recently when the youngsters discovered the party "poppers" in the sales room.

Three-eyed monsters roamed the aisles after they had visited the fish pond.

Approximately 1,400 attended the event with Janet Revez, fourth grade student in Mrs. Jay Callihan's class, winning first prize for ticket sales.

Judy Robison won second and Diane Hopkins, third.

Over 50 cakes, including a decorated witch cake, were awarded in the cake walk; 50 gallons of cider and a doughnut with each glass, was consumed along with other refreshments.

Door prizes were awarded to Cherie Flower, 2.2 Hp. Power Products kit; Wanda Cooper, table tennis set; Jim Lawson, doll cake; table lamp, Sam Short; French poodle bank, Evelyn Beland; platter puss, Carol Messick and Dick Clark.

Ned Rosacrans Jr., was awarded an autographed football for the most original socks in the sock hop.

Meadowridge Dairy Selling New Brand

Ken Blumerick has announced a change in the packaging of dairy foods being distributed in Tecumseh and vicinity by his Meadowridge Dairy.

Mr. Blumerick said Meadowridge now is marketing all fluid milk products packaged in use-once Pure-Pak containers, under Michigan Grade A milk, by Dairyland Cooperative Creamery Co. of Carson City in Montcalm county, north of Lansing.

They are delivered to the Meadowridge cooler by refrigerated truck.

Mr. Blumerick explained that all retail home-delivery customers, restaurant and food stores served in the Tecumseh, Clinton, Britton, Ridgeway and Macon areas, will be provided with Dairyland Valley Lea dairy foods in the Pure-Pak containers.

Dairyland Valley Lea dairy foods are sold extensively by local independent dairies throughout all the lower Michigan, outside the metropolitan Detroit area, extending as far north as Mackinaw City and west to Lake Michigan.

Dairyland was one of Michigan's first dairy plants to qualify for use of the Grade A label, immediately after the law became effective in July of 1957.

Mr. Blumerick emphasized that all service features of Meadowridge Dairy will remain the same, including days of delivery to all homes and at the same hour of each delivery day.

Auto Dealers Get New Hours

County auto dealers, including five in Tecumseh, voted recently to close at 6 p.m. Thursdays and Saturdays, Harvey Wilson, local dealer and president of Lenawee County Automobile Dealer's Association, announces.

Most agencies stay open until 9 p.m. the other days of the week, excluding Sundays.

CHORUS AND CAKE — For their contribution to Saturday night's program, the High School chorus was given the large birthday cake, baked for the event — along with ice cream. Moments after Ray Herrick performed an informal cake-cutting following the banquet, the pastry was well on its way to oblivion as the fatigued singers refueled.

CURFEW ORDINANCE

3.700. It shall be unlawful for any parent, guardian or other person having the legal care and custody of any minor under the age of eighteen years, to allow or permit any such child, ward, or other person, under such age, while in his legal custody, to loiter or remain unaccompanied, upon any streets, alleys, or other public places in said City, within the time prohibited in Section 3.701 of this ordinance, unless there exists a reasonable necessity therefor.

3.701 Time Prohibited and Exceptions. It shall be unlawful for any person under the age of eighteen years to loiter or remain in or upon any streets, alleys, or public places in the City of Tecumseh between the hours of 10:00 o'clock P.M. on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of each week and 5:00 o'clock A.M. of the following day and between the hours of 11:00 o'clock P.M. on Friday and Saturday of each week and 5:00 o'clock A.M. of the following day, unless such person is accompanied by his parent, guardian, or other person having legal custody and control of such minor, or unless such minor is in the pursuance of an errand directed by his parent, guardian or other person having his care or custody, or while in the performance of some lawful employment of such minor makes it necessary that such minor be upon said streets, alleys, or public places during the night time, within such specified hours.

3.702. Arrest of Violators. Each member of the police force, while on duty, is hereby authorized to arrest without warrant any person within his presence violating any of the provisions of section 3.701 of this ordinance, and detain such person for a reasonable time until complaint can be made and warrant issued and served.

No child or minor person arrested under the provisions of the ordinance, shall be placed in confinement until the parent or guardian of such child shall have been notified and the parent's wishes or the wishes of such guardian or legal custodian ascertained, and the said parents, guardians, or legal custodian shall refuse to be held responsible for the observance of said ordinance by said person.

In regards to the Teen-Club that holds parties and dances later than the hours of the Curfew Ordinance, as long as the minors stay at the party and are not loitering on the streets, and when the party is over said minors will go directly home, they will not be arrested, this does not mean that they may not be stopped and asked what they are doing out so late. This also includes the parties that are held after the football, and basketball games, or other school activities.

But, if any one of these minors abuse these privileges we will have to take these privileges away from the minors, and be stricter in regards to the Curfew Ordinance.

George Kilbourn,
Chief of Police

Distress Flare

A deer hunter was lost in the woods near Beaver Basin in the Upper Peninsula last fall.

As his fellow camp members started a search, one, now a Tecumseh resident, mused to himself:

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the missing man could have some type of a light he could fire from his rifle into the sky and reveal his location.

The lost man was eventually found, but the idea of the light in the sky persisted.

Marsh Coulter, who now resides at 118 Park St., did some investigating and eventually came up with a rifle distress flare.

Fifteen times as intense as a railroad flare, it is packed into a regular rifle casing.

At his Coulter Co. in Fraser, he tooled up to fashion the shells. He has a flare manufacture take care of this portion, his firm makes the rest.

Six shells are slipped into moisture-resistant styrofoam, which in turn is placed in a small cardboard carton.

If the container is accidently dropped into the water it will float and if fished out without being in too long the shells will be undamaged.

Made in all popular shell sizes, the distress flare is slipped into a hunter's rifle and fired straight into the air.

A delayed fuse burns as the projectile streaks to 500 feet, at this point igniting the flare, which burns for five seconds, going out 100 feet above the ground.

This eliminates any possibility of starting a fire in dry areas.

The light can be signted from a considerable distance.

The flare was not only valuable to lost hunters, but also to those who might become ill or slip and break a leg or sprain an ankle.

Locally, the flares are on sale at Baldwin's Hardware and Waldo Johnson's Gun Shop.

Mr. Coulter explains that production this hunting season will be limited, but next fall he expects to manufacture about a quarter of a million distress flares.

Thru My Window

ON WATCHING TREE-TRIMMERS AND NOT WRITING LETTERS

One just never knows what will be happening next. There is always something going on however, and it is almost a sure thing that on the days when I have most to do inside, there will be greater than usual activity outside.

For instance—Tuesday we had several letters which just had to be answered and what happened? Tree-trimmers.

Now I ask you, who can consentrate on dictating letters, even though they be long overdue ones, when such interesting things are happening just outside the window?

When the trucks drove up and the workmen scrambled out, I foolishly entertained the cock-eyed notion of "Oh well, maybe I can work and watch too." I should have known better.

Watching experts at work is much too facinating to allow for any such nonsense as doing two things at once—for me anyway it is.

I soon discovered that letters and tree-trimmers don't mix and so alas, the poor letters were put aside for another day.

USUALLY THE sight of pruning knives, saws, axes, etc. strikes horror to my heart. There is something painful in seeing a tree being cut.

A number of years ago, we had an unfortunate experience of watching the mutilation of a beautiful maple and the damage was all done just because the men did not know their jobs.

The sight of this crew however, caused no fearful qualms—from their self-assurance and the workmanlike way they went about things, it was immediately apparent that they knew what they were doing.

The tree which was, at least in our line of vision, going to receive most attention was a lovely big elm.

In the way of its kind, the branches are big and sprawly; through the years, and the trees must be very very old, these branches have become twisted and bent and gnarled.

It is a most interesting tree to gaze upon—it is a tree with character. During the past several years quite a bit of dead wood has appeared and it was at removing this that the tree-trimming crew busied itself.

IRONICALLY enough, the severe ice storms we had last winter did not bring many dead limbs and branches down and isn't that one of the few good things they say about ice storms—aren't they supposed to clean up the trees? Well, the ones last year didn't.

But back to the men. As they unloaded their equipment, we were amazed at the ropes—coils after coils after coils. They apparently disdained ladders and really, after seeing how expertly they maneuvered through the trees, they had little use for them.

Looping the ropes over strategic branches, they soon had an effective network and one by one the four "tree-men" pulled themselves up into the trees. We could almost call them squirrel-men, so deft and agile were they.

Pulling or climbing or swinging, they worked through the tree and it was truly fascinating to watch.

While the complexity of ropes, a confusing tangle to us, but an apparently ordinary thing to them, was being strung up, we had a chance to look at the leather safety belts, climbing harnesses or whatever they are called.

IN ADDITION to the important roll these play in aiding the tree-top scrambling, hatchets, knives and all sorts of pruning implements dangle from them.

This way the men have their tools handy, but still have their hands and arms free. We were grateful to see that the saws were shielded in leather cases, which also hung from these belts.

So encased, the saws did not look nearly as menacing or frightening as they would have had the raw metal showed. To this saw case was fastened a little pot containing, what we correctly assumed was, a preservative or sealer.

When a limb had to be sawed off this was daubed on the open cut thus sealing the exposed wood. Another indication that the tree was being well cared for.

THE FOUR "tree-men" kept their two steel helmeted co-workers who stayed on the ground quite busy.

The bigger, more cumbersome and awkward tools which could not be carried were, as the need arose, tied to a rope and hauled up—the ground men's job.

Between fetching and hoisting up, the men cleaned up the debris of dead branches that raised down from above. It was quite a job. We were amazed at how much was cleaned out. By late afternoon they had a big truck load.

So went our afternoon of watching instead of writing.

Why is it so easy to yield to the putting-off temptation? It was nice however, seeing the big old elm being so carefully groomed.

She is all set for the winter now and is it only imagination or does she now stand a bit prouder?

4 Tecumsehites on Notary List

Names of four Tecumseh residents who have been appointed or re-appointed as Notaries Public during the past three months has been released by James M. Hare, Secretary of State.

They are Marjorie A. Beardsley, Jane E. Ernst, Vern Manwaring and R. K. Richard.

According to Hare, the number of Notaries Public commissioned is increasing throughout the State each year.

"However," Hare said, "there are many rapidly growing areas of Michigan which do not seem to have as many notaries per thousand population as other areas."

Notaries Public application forms can be obtained from County Clerks, the Governor's Office, or from the Secretary of State in Lansing.

How food fads can fool you

We don't mean there's anything wrong with eating yogurt and wheat germ and so on. They are fine, healthful foods. But here's the rub. Advocates of some food fads promise benefits that diet alone can't deliver. Occasionally, someone with a medical problem will try to solve it by living mostly on cabbage juice or some such thing. Special foods and diets, however, have limitation—can be harmful when improperly used. So if you think there's anything wrong with you, by all means see your physician.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

When will these high British army officers get over their soreheadedness because an American was in charge of European operations during World War II?

First there was Montgomery.

In his memoirs, Monty let fly at Ike and Bradley, among others.

Very poor tastes, I thought at the time, but the English should be entitled at least one blast at our top-ranking military men.

Then, along comes Lord Alanbrooke, who headed up Great Britian's forces during WWII.

He leaped all bounds of good taste.

Alanbrooke didn't limit his critisim to Ike's military tactics, which could be taken in stride.

He said Ike had so little concern for things that he was playing golf instead of running the war.

What ruddy rot, my Lord.

Maybe Ike did get onto the course at Rheims, but I say more power to him. In his position, if he could get a few hours of relaxation, so what.

Doubtless to say, Lord Alanbrooks knocked off for a few hours here and there to relax at his club in London. Should he be chastised for this?

No—and neither should Ike.

It tickled us that Alanbrooke said Ike was golfing just before the Battle of the Bulge. Apparently the Lord didn't remember that this tussle took place during December, which is not exactly the ideal time to tour the links.

What is disturbing is that Alanbrooke has nursed this little grudge these 14 years.

Surely a pity.

Our forces seemed to dovetail together so well during the fighting and we did win the war.

On V-E Day is when Alanbrooke should have forgotten the things he didn't like about the way the war was run. After all, it could have been worse—we might be saluting Hitler today.

Let's take a lesson from this in our own lives. Something another has done may upset us. It's over now—we can forget and forgive.

A great man, whom we call Christ, taught us this lesson and it never fails to make life a lot happier.

Every once in awhile a story comes along that makes you glad to be in the newspaper business and privileged to cover it.

Told is how a group of farm folks south of Holloway helped out a neighbor. I'm sure you'll enjoy reading it as much as Jim and I did putting in the yarn together.

A north-end housewife got orders from her physician to have her appendix removed.

It was 9 o'clock one evening last week when the gal's husband hustled her to the hospital and she was quickly checked in.

Someone guided her upstairs, even being so kind as to carry her overnight bag.

As she was being settled, a nurse asked, "How far apart are your pains."

"Hey, wait a minute, I'm here to have my appendix out," she replied. With this she was hurried out of the labor room.

House-to-House Solicitations Are Starting

Phase three of the annual community fund drive — door-to-door solicitations—was started this week, states chairman Don Murphy.

(Please see editorials pertaining to this on the first page of the second section.)

This follows industrial and business giving, which has been going on during the past two weeks.

Joe Fortunato, industrial chairman, reports that gifts from workers and plants are rolling in at a steady pace.

Employees have averaged almost $13 each in their donations to the drive.

A final industrial report should be complete within a few days.

Mr. Murphy expected to have a summary from the business-district chairman, the Rev. B. O. Bashore, Saturday.

The house-to-house canvassing is being done by members of Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange and the Jaycees.

Nov. 14 is the report date for residential giving by presidents of the respective groups.

Mr. Murphy explains that a final report dinner will probably be held sometime in the later part of this month.

When Plant Burns

When an industrial plant burns — as Blissfield Manufacturing did Sunday — there is more aftermath than merely cleaning up the mess. Communities near and far are trying to lure the firm from Blissfield with tempting offers. Read about this and see two fire pictures on page 2.

Wyatt Trades Gun for Skate As Pair Grin

If Bill Davis and Bob Williamson of the Jiffy company in Tecumseh wear perpetual grins, there's a good reason.

Bob was flown to New York last week by the television show "I've Got a Secret".

Emcee Gary Moore wanted Bob to teach guest Hugh O'Brien how to operate the Jiffy Motorized Skate, which was Hugh's secret during the Wednesday night show.

The show went off well and TV star O'Brien, who plays Wyatt Earp, buzzed around the stage on his Jiffy rig — as Bill and Bob grinned happily. They still are.

'Kozy Korners' Formed by Folks Near Holloway

It will be called the "Kozy Korners."

Officers elected were:

Discussion leader — Leslie Calhoun.

Secretary — Mrs. Leslie Calhoun.

The group will meet each third Saturday of the month and farmers along Rogers Hwy. and vicinity are cordially invited to join.

$315 Collected by Youngsters for UNICEF

About 150 children, transported to their different areas by 35 drivers from the Presbyterian, Methodist and St. Elizabeth Churches, collected $315 for UNICEF Thursday evening.

When they returned to the Methodist Church, they were served cider and doughnuts. The adults enjoyed coffee.

A gayly-decorated table, centered with a Jack-O-Lantern filled with lolly pops, provided the setting.

Mrs. Robert Bonner was general chairman, Mrs. Robert Murray had charge of publicity, Mrs. Carroll Sprague, assisted by John Hamilton, contacted the drivers and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton had charge of the canisters.

The refreshments were served by Mrs. Carlos Jones, Mrs. Lenore West, Mrs. Aden Mead and Mrs. James Nixon.

Stewardship Slides Shown at Gloria Dei

Mrs. Don Buel had charge of the program for the United Lutheran Church Women of Gloria Dei Monday evening when they met at the Parish House.

She presented slides on stewardship of the church.

The group will sponsor the Oak Crest Girl Scout Troop led by Mrs. Edwin Bunge this year.

Plans were made for members to attend the World Day of Prayer Work Shop in Saginaw soon.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ed Solarski and Mrs. Bill Rhoweder.

GIFT FOR CHIEF — Some "friends" of police chief George Kilbourn deposited this building on his lawn about 2 a.m. Sunday, sort of as a gift for Halloween. The sign, borrowed from a service station, was an extra embellishment. George merely grinned as motorists poured past the site Sunday "to see for themselves."

Yeggs Break Into 5 Business Places

Five west-end business places were broken into — one two nights running — last week.

Total take was $231 and an undetermined amount of cigarettes, police report.

Keith Bailey Oldsmobile was burglarized both Wednesday and Thursday night, while Kroger, Schneider Bros., Wilson Motor Sales and Tecumseh Finance were hit the first evening.

Both Tecumseh and State Police are working on the case. To date there have been arrests.

Wednesday evening's sorte had all the chills of a television suspense drama.

In entering Tecumseh Finance, the yegg or yeggs set off a newly-installed burglar alarm.

Mrs. Forest Abner, who had taken friends home, heard the alarm as she drove past. Upon returning home she told her husband, who called police at 1:06 a.m. Thursday.

SGT. GENE SKINNER and Patrolman Bert Wade sped to the Finance office. They heard no alarm, checked front and back doors, found them to be locked and everything appeared in order.

They returned to headquarters and filed a report.

However, Sgt. Skinner still wasn't satisfied and so the pair returned.

This time they found the front door standing wide open. Entering, the policemen discovered drawers out and records strewn about the floor.

They noted the main electrical switch had been pulled and the office electric clock stopped at 1:05.

Thus the thiefs were inside the building when it was examined initially.

AS THEY were at the Finance office, a Kroger delivery man man from Toledo saw the scout car and walked over to tell them he thought the back door of the super market had been jimmied.

At this point the local policemen called the Clinton post.

They entered Kroger's and found the dial on the safe had been smashed off and a large mechanic's hammer and tire iron lay nearby. The next day, folks at Schneider Bros. discovered these two tools missing.

Police found that the burglars had entered Schneider's by forcing a defective window, re-locking it, then leaving by a side door. This was the identical method used by thiefs who broke into Schneider's a year ago.

Wednesday's loss included $16 from Tecumseh Finance, $200 from Wilson Motor and $15 from Bailey's. The cigarettes were taken from Kroger's.

The second night, the front door glass was kicked in at the Olds salesroom, but no money taken.

Police have several clues, which they are working on.

Doing Good Turn, Machinist's Auto Is Stolen Monday

A stolen 1957 Oldsmobile convertible was recovered 24 hours after it was snatched Monday night.

Belonging to Duane Gauss of Adrian, the car was taken from behind The Herald, where Mr. Gauss was working on the paper's Linotype.

Mr. Gauss is machinist with The Adrian Telegram.

An item concerning the theft in The Telegram the following day was seen by Jane Harsh, 106 S. Maiden Lane.

She had seen a strange car parked near her home the night previous and again shortly after seeing the item Tuesday.

Miss Harsh, a senior at Tecumseh High School, called Tecumseh police who found it to be the missing auto.

The gas tank, which had been more than half full, was almost empty and tools in the car's trunk were badly jostled.

Accountants Move Office to West End

Sunday is moving day for Ralph Mull & Associates, local accountants.

The firm is transferring to its new location on M-50, across from Bud's A & W Drive-In.

Moving into the new Mull professional building will also be attorney James McKenna.

The Mull telephone number will remain 1022. Mr. McKenna's 1039 will continue also.

Started last summer, the two-unit structure has a brick exterior and attractive panel finish interior.

Additional rental units will be added as needed, states Ralph Mull.

Howard Trusdale is the builder.

Monday Club Wants To Improve Tecumseh

Mrs. Clifford Knudson, chairman of the community achievement committee for the Monday Club, has called a meeting to be held Monday, Nov. 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the council rooms of the city hall.

Special letters have been sent to the service clubs and church groups asking that they be represented.

The purpose of the session is to get the thinking and opinions of all organizations interested in improving the community and to discuss ways and means of accomplishing the improvements.

Others on the committee from the Monday Club are Mrs. Truman Rentschler, Mrs. Herbert Murphy, Mrs. Cleon Mason and Mrs. Lee Purkey.

Post Office Closes Armed Forces Day

Tecumseh post office will be closed on Wed., Nov. 11, Armed Forces Day.

All specials received at this office will be delivered.

Mail deposited before 3 p.m. on that day at the boxes by the corner of United Saving Bank, in front of Wright's Drug Store and the box in front of the post office will be dispatched.

Councilmen Still Talk on Dump

By JIM LINCOLN

Lengthy discussions about the city dump and the bankrupt Templeton Construction Company highlighted the Council session Monday night.

Councilmen questioned Herb Dillon, formerly the operator of Tecumseh Hauling Co. and now a partner with a Grand Rapids man for picking up trash and garbage here, about maintenance and operations concerning the dump.

Mr. Dillon stated vehicles would not be charged for admission to the dump and that city stickers would be honored until Feb. 1, expiration date for the stickers.

He also stated the present commercial rates were too low and would eventually be raised.

In a reply to a question about residential pick-up rates, Mr. Dillon said these rates would be lowered if a sufficient increase in patronage was acquired.

At the present, Tecumseh holds no contract with the new hauling company and all agreements have been on a verbal basis.

This has led to some differences in what has been done, said, and to be done in the future.

COUNCILMEN learned from city attorney James Beardsley that the city is a creditor of the bankrupt Templeton Construction Company.

By letter, he advised councilmen not to sign or do anything unless he is contacted first.

Ted Templeton, president of the construction firm, was forced suddenly into involuntary bankruptcy.

He was the builder of homes in the Indian Hills subdivision and many other homes in the area, including River Acres.

Mr. Beardsley said the city will probably receive about 10 cents on the dollar. City officials claim the company owes them about $5,000.

Templeton's case is in Federal Court at Detroit with R. H. Moore, retired businessman, as the receiver.

Debts to numerous suppliers and sub-contractors are estimated at $200,000.

Mr. Templeton was in the construction business here for over two years, putting in three complete streets of houses in Indian Hills, and also constructed several office buildings.

CAL ZORN, city engineer, was authorized to divide S. Maumee St. into three 12-foot lanes and so marked.

The west lane will be for southbound vehicles, the middle lane for north-bound left turn, and theright lane for through traffic and right turns.

CITY MANAGER Ed Nelson was requested to seek bids for a used pickup truck with a utility box for the water department.

In other action, an out-of-town applicant for a sidewalk contractor's license was turned down, and a request for renewing a trailer license was granted.

Organize Plans To Assist Needy

Annual meeting of Tecumseh Service Club will be held Wednesday, Nov. 11, at 8 p.m. in the city hall. Those from civic or social organizations, who are able to assist in holiday planning for the less fortunate, are invited to attend.

Smorgasbord Dinner Set

Ten families attended the Christian Workers meeting following the potluck supper in the Youth House Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Puffer were hosts and devotions were given by Orville Bishop.

Dec. 4 was set as the tentative date for the smorgasbord supper to be served by the group.

Mr. and Mrs. James Danforth will be hosts for the Nov. 20 meeting.

Roundtable

The Lenape District Roundtable will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. at Tecumseh High School. Pack 4, Cub Scouts and Troop 4 will be hosts.

The meeting is planned for unit program people, including all Cub masters, their assistants, Scoutmasters and their assistants and den mothers.

Blissfield Fire Brings Rash of 'Invitations' To Relocate

Hardly had the flames been snuffed out at Blissfield Manufacturing's fire, than owner Orville Farver was receiving tempting invitations from other cities to move his plant.

A variety of interesting propositions have been dangled in front of Mr. Farver.

Wednesday evening he and his board of directors were to sit down and figure out the future. The results will probably be made public the latter part of this week.

Naturally, the folks in Blissfield were deeply concerned. Editor of the local paper, Duane DeLoach, volunteered to help organize a town meeting Monday evening and printed handbills, which were distributed around town.

About 175 citizens responded to the invitation and the group met in Blissfield High School with Editor DeLoach acting as chairman.

At the same time, the company's union leaders also held a gathering. They came up with a series of contract proposals, which would carry over a three-year period.

These were presented the following day to Mr. Farver, who said they would be considered Wednesday.

In the high school session, Mr. Farver was an invited guest.

"I don't want your money," he explained, "I just want your goodwill." He said he appreciated the numbers who turned out and the interest they expressed.

He also said this:

"I like Blissfield. It's a fine, friendly town. And we have done pretty well here. Our plant, as Mr. DeLoach has told you, has grown to eight times the size of the original building erected for us by the Blissfield Industrial Building Corporation."

Tracing the growth and development of refrigeration manufacturing business, which now includes dehumidifiers and components for vending machines, he made this further observation:

"Like most small towns, the location of a new industry in your town poses some problems. It requires power and water. Of the last, we have not had an adequate supply.

"In 1952, I began asking your council for a larger pipeline so I could install a sprinkler system throughout the plant to guard against fire.

"I kept asking for it, year after year, and got nowhere. When I asked for it the last time, the council agreed I needed it, according to the Bureau of Inspection standards to get enough pressure, but said they had no money.

"So their attorney and our attorney got together and worked out a plan whereby I could pay for the materials and installation as work was done and the village would buy back the line from me in two years.

"Last Saturday, the 10-inch main finally was hooked up. On Wednesday, we signed a contract for the sprinkler system, which meanwhile had gone up in price from the $13,000 of several years ago to more than $23,000.

"It was too late."

"Sunday's fire will cost us close to a million dollars to replace the building at today's costs, and the machinery which was buckled by heat or smashed when the roof fell in."

"All this is history," Farver went on, "but by way of background, it might be well to remind the community that you don't keep an industry when you deny it services which it rightfully must have in order to stay in business, nor tax it beyond reason because it is the single largest potential of tax revenue.

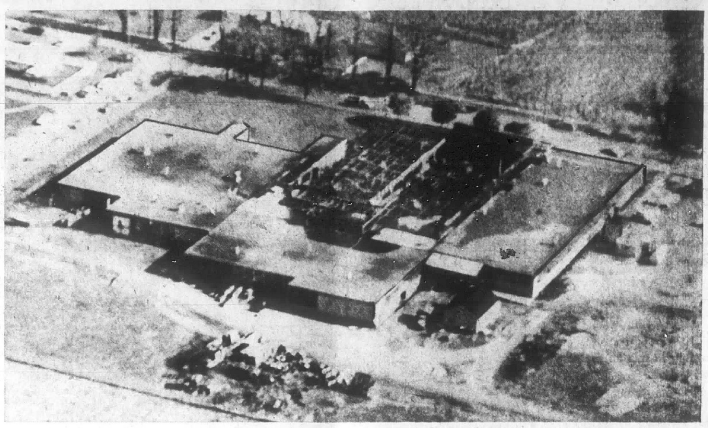
"I should like to remind you that the greatest contribution any factory gives to its town is not, after all, the share of the local tax burden it can assume.

"It is, instead, the amount of employment provided, and the payroll which comes back to the municipality and its business firms in the form of new homes, taxes, rent, food purchases, new cars, clothing, and all the rest.

"This, we feel, is a substantial contribution to any community.

"You say: 'What can we do to help you?' and I say, you can help us most by being understanding of our needs, of the people who work in our plant, to be treated equally in the considerations you give to other citizens.

"I can tell you this: We're in business to stay in business. This is my life blood. We've got commitments to our customers and I'm going to keep them," he ended.



AERIAL VIEW OF BLISSFIELD PLANT WAS TAKEN DAY AFTER BLAZE BY BLISSFIELD ADVANCE EDITOR DUANE DeLOACH

$1 Million Blaze

One of Lenawee county's most devistating industrial fires in recent years struck the Blissfield Manufacturing plant, owned by Orville Farver of Tecumseh, Sunday to cause $1 million in damages.

The alarm was sounded at 3:47 p.m., answered promptly by the Blissfield department, which called in Palmyra, Riga, Berkey, O., Adrian, Adrian township, Whiteford and Deerfield units.

Source of the fire, explained Blissfield Advance editor Duane DeLoach who took these pictures,was pinpointed in the rear of the assembly line section at the center and rear of the building.

Strong 30-mph winds hampered firemen, although it blew flames away from paint lockers and Freon refregerant storage areas.

Seventeen pieces of fire-fighting gear were in use, hooked to five hydrants. Three first aid units were set up and took care of two injured firemen, one who cut a tendon and blood vessel as he poked the nozzle of a hose through a broken window. The other received hot tar burns above an eye.

Two State Police cars, four officers and two sheriff's cars helped handle the crowd and traffic.

As you'll note from Mr. DeLoach's excellent aerial photo (above), the damage is to the central part of the plant, where the roof caved in.

Remainder is in reasonably good order and a temporary assembly line will get into operation Monday.

Mr. Farver, who lives at 701 Red Mill Dr., was factory manager at Tecumseh Products before going into business for himself at the Blissfield location.

His firm employed 160 at the time of the fire and has carried a payroll up to 250.

The company has been making between 1,500 and 2,000 "open-type" refrigeration compressors for Tecumseh Products each month. In turn Mr. Farver's concern buys hermitic units from Tecumseh, to which Blissfield adds condensing units and installs in hot and cold drink vending machines.

Blissfield also has entered the de-humidifying field in recent years.

To the Editors:

I have never been mad enough to write a letter to the editor before, but I feel that something should be said about the horrible conduct of some adults at the football game last Friday night.

Three times our school was disgraced by the childish, emotional outbursts of these people that call themselves adults.

I was shocked and astonished when I heard "booing" because I knew that the student body as a whole had always been taught good sportsmanship.

As I looked up into the crowd the lips that I saw uttering this unmannerly word were those of some adults—the same ones that are supposed to be setting an example for the young people of our community.

I feel that it is unthinking of these people to conduct themselves in such an immature way and I think that if they stop and analyze their actions they will realize what a poor name they are giving our school and community.

I am not trying to discourage people from coming to the games.

I am just trying to encourage good sportsmanship on the part of both the adults and students of Tecumseh.

Sincerely,
Mary Colgrove

How the Chinese do it

米吉米申

Legend has it that Chinese doctors used to be paid only while their patients were healthy, got no fee during illness. It almost sounds reasonable. In fact, there are physicians today who specialize in keeping their patients healthy. Preventive medicine, it's called. All doctors practice it as much as they can. If you get regular checkups, your doctor has a chance to keep you from getting sick. Modern drugs play a large part in this practice, and that's where we pharmacists come in. But only you can make preventive medicine work—by getting into the habit of regular checkups. It's a very good idea.

People Adopt Some Sayings, Neglect Others

Methodists in Tecumseh will hear a sermon for World-Order Sunday.

The Rev. James D. Nixon, pastor of the church, reported that his sermon theme was to be "Peace, a Crucial and Confusing Goal!"

"On the surface of it, Jesus seemed to say some conflicting things about peace," said Mr. Nixon. "Our tendency is to adopt one side of His sayings and neglect the others," he added.

The Asbury Choir under the direction of Leslie M. Bennett will sing the anthem by Palestrina-Morgan, "Grant Us Thy Holy Peace."

At 11:15 this Sunday the pastor begins a series of four weekly Church Membership classes for youth and adults. "This class is open to those who wish to join the church, and to those who are simply considering this step," said the pastor.

Luckily, Mom Can Repair Torn Trouser

James Bashore, the big bass drummer of the Tecumseh High School band, brought peals of laughter from the crowd at Friday night's football game with his splendid performance during the bands rendition of "Dry Bones."

Never missing a beat he kicked his feet as high and crouched just as low as any of the other bandsmen during the number, even though the cumbersome drum did provide some difficulty.

Piles of dirt left on the cinder track were obstacles that Jim had not planned to cope with and they tripped him as the band marched from the field.

Luckily, Mrs. B. O. Bashore, his mother, is a fine seamstress and will mend the hole caused by the friction with the cinders.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

Many of the students of Tecumseh High School were dismayed to hear some of the adults present booing the officials' decisions at the game last Friday night.

This spoils Tecumseh High School's reputation for good sportsmanship. You adults that participated in this know who you are. Perhaps you should follow the teenagers' example in this.

Gross Ile Next

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh spanked the Blissfield Royals here last Friday night for its seventh straight win of the season, 26-0, and its sixth victory in the Huron League.

Most of the dull game was played in a fine mist which only added to the frustration of 13 penalties against the local eleven.

The Indians had their 10th touchdown called back this season due to a penalty and had several drives thwarted because of some infraction. A totaled of 115 yards were assessed against Tecumseh.

Friday's encounter with Grosse Ile will be the Indians toughest encounter of the season, with the possible exception of Milan.

Grosse Ile walloped Airport last week and undoubtedly is pointing to upset Tecumseh during the Indians into a tie with Milan for the league championship.

COACH DUNC LECTKA'S team swarmed over Blissfield at the offset and within three minutes had 13 points.

On the first play after Mike Green romped 78 yards for a TD with the kickoff, which was nullified by a penalty, Dave Weakly scampered from the Indian's 22 for his first of three scores.

The scoreboard clock read only 9:07 of the first quarter when Jon Aho crossed the goal line after a 64-yard run. Bob Koffron, missing his first place kick, booted this one between the uprights for a Tecumseh 13-0 lead.

The Indians tallied again shortly after the second quarter opened with Weakly running over from Blissfield's 30.

Quarterback Steve Kruger, rest- a bum leg most of the game, directed Tecumseh's final TD in the final quarter with a short pass to Weakly, the play covering 31 yards.

Neither team did much in the second and third quarters with penalties blocking repeated Tecumseh thrusts. The Royals failed to muster any attack during the entire game and only twice, once with a 15-yard penalty and another on a recovered fumble did they reach Tecumseh's side of the 50.

Margaret Hardy Married to Ed Mossing

Altar vases were filled with white roses and a crescent shaped arrangement of white chrysanthemums and pompons were used in decorating the St. Peters Episcopal Church Saturday evening for the wedding of Margaret Evelyn Hardy and Edward J. Mossing.

The birde is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hardy of Tipton and the groom is the son of Mrs. Hazel Mossing and the late Edward L. Mossing of Adrian.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne performed the ceremony and Dr. James Spencer of Adrian College presided at the organ.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father in a gown of powder blue silk peau de soie and French imported lace fashioned with long sleeves, a basque bodice and a full street length skirt.

Her shoulder length blue veil was attached to a lace and pearl cap and she wore a pearl and diamond necklace which was the gift of the groom.

SHE CARRIED a cascade arrangement of jeweled stephanotis and tiny white rose buds edged with tips of miniature ivy and blue tulle.

Mrs. William Raymond of Adrian was the matron of honor wearing a princess style dress in copper tone Italian silk, fashioned with a deep rounded neckline, drop shoulders with capelet sleeves.

Hand-made roses accented the hip line and also formed a crescent shaped head piece. She carried a modern arrangement of birds of paradise centered with tangerine roses.

ROBERT J. KARLE of Tipton was the best man and Raynor Hardy and Robert Nichols seated the guests.

A reception for 200 was held at the Country Club where guests were received by the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Simmons.

The six-tiered cake was encircled with a bridal wreath of white Fuji mums and tangerine carnations. The stone fireplace was enhanced with an arrangement of candles and large mums in colors of the wedding.

A flowing fountain, banked with greens and potted mums held floating lighted candles and camellias. Other arrangements of white and tangerine flowers were used throughout the club.

Mrs. William Mull of Adrian, sister of the groom, and Mrs. W. L. Hall poured coffee, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gregory poured punch.

CAKE WAS served by Mrs. Raynor Hardy and Gregory Hardy had charge of the gifts. Elizabeth Chapman registered the guests.

The bride is a graduate of Cottey College and Kansas State College. She is affiliated with Beta Sigma Phi sorority and employed at Thornton Products hin Dearborn.

The groom is a graduate of the University of Detroit and is a registered architect employed in Ann Arbor.

They will make their home in Tecumseh following a wedding trip to Quebec for 10 days.

The rehearsal dinner was held for 16 guests at the home of the groom's mother in Adrian.

"Deadline Blues" is the tune humming in the ears of this columnist. Readers will find that many of our items should have been in print for last week's issue

To those good people who so kindly call and send in their news, my apologies. From now on Tuesday at noon IS Tuesday at noon.

Not only the leaves but the autumn skies are beautiful in color this week as the sun makes lovely pink lines as it rises and sets.

Leotsrds are appearing on the little ladies as they trudge back and forth to school and it's no wonder with the wind so chilly.

Makes the pungent odor of super especially interesting as we close the door on "Old Man Winter" and snuggle up close to the hearth.

"PATIENCE IS THE BEST REMEDY FOR ANY TROUBLE"

Every physician needs the patient's cooperation in order to secure the best results. Before he can cure, it is first necessary to find out the cause of the trouble. Physician's have the knowledge and skill to properly diagnose, but sometimes it takes time to accomplish this.

When you ask your physician for help, do not be impatient if results are not immediate. Sometimes more than one visit is needed. Be sure to take any medicine he may prescribe exactly as he directs. Always follow your physician's directions faithfully, just as we pharmacists do when we compound his prescriptions.

YOUR PHYSICIAN CAN PHONE TECUMSEH 245 WHEN YOU NEED A MEDICINE

Pick up your prescription if shopping near us, or let us deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Only One of Its Kind

Tecumseh's Community Fund Foundation is probably the only one of its kind in the world—a charity drive with a built-in provision to finance facilities for our city with money collected over and above budget needs.

Via this route Tecumseh will one day have a civic center, library and new recreational facilities.

At the same time, all of our charitable obligations are being provided for — local, state and national.

The Foundation, exactly the same as the ones established by wealthy persons who wish to do the most good with their money, has been approved by state and federal tax people.

This means the giver receives complete assurance his donations are deductible and once a part of the Foundation will never be sliced up by unexpeceted taxes.

Most of us who reside in the Tecumseh area will see concrete benefit of the Foundation in years to come. Our offspring will view even more.

Adding together just a few of the probable assets of the Foundation we find a pretty exciting experience.

The civic center itself will be a magnificant undertaking and should shoot Tecumseh head and shoulder above most midwest communities this size.

It will provide a place for our young people to meet and stage parties, an auditorium for graduations, local theatrical productions, visiting lecturers and musical groups.

In it can hold area and state conventions, political meetings — about everything under the sun.

Yardstick for Giving

Once again industry and its employees have done a terrific job in donating to local, state and national charities through the annual united drive.

That leaves the rest of us—folks not employed by local plants—to do at least an equal share.

What is our share?

This might be tough to determine at first glance, but if we consider what we are attempting to do, it makes the job much easier.

Starting at home, our money will help Boy and Girl Scouts programs, summer recreation, local citizens struck by tragedy, community parties for our youngsters.

Branching out from this, we find such worthy charities as Croswell School for Retarded Children, Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic, Salvation Army, Red Cross.

Portions of our donations go into the state United Fund, which assists 34 groups including the American Heart Association, Multiple Sclerosis, Leader Dogs for the Blind and the USO.

Chances are, if a representative of any one of these groups stopped at your front door and asked for a gift, you'd dig down without hesitation.

And you'd be right.

Before the combined fund drive idea was conceived that's what we found ourselves doing. Week after week we had volunteers seeking funds in drive after drive.

Over the course of a year's time each household probably gave $10 to $25 — some much more—to the variety of efforts.

Our annual united drive has lumped these together for us, eliminating the many and adding them together into one.

In industry, the men earning approximately $5,000 a year gave an average of $13.

This could help to serve us as a yardstick for our donations.

Of Enormous Scope

During Friday night's football game, Neville Hart explained about the evaluation he is undertaking at the high school.

It is covered fully in Mr. Hart's article appearing in this week's edition.

We couldn't resist teasing, "When the whole thing winds up they'll probably fire the principal."

Of course we didn't mean it for a minute.

It has long been our opinion that Mr. Hart has been consistent in doing an excellent job for Tecumseh and its high school youth.

This evaluation helps prove that point.

Of enormous scope, it should provide considerable ammunition for future planning among schoolmen.

Parents Follow Junior's Routine During Open House

In observance of American Education Week, Nov. 8-14, Tecumseh High School and the Junior High School will hold open house when parents are invited to attend a miniature school day.

Thursday, Nov. 12, the Senior High will hold 10-minute classes to give the parents an over-all picture of the subject in which the student is enrolled.

It also offers an opportunity for both parent and teacher to become identified with each other.

From 7 to 7:25 p.m. parents are invited to visit teachers in their rooms and discuss any problems they may have.

From 7:30 until 8:55 p.m. classes will be held.

At 9 p.m. a general meeting will be held in the study hall with Neville Hart and John Pobuda talking about "School Policies and Guidance."

A social hour will be held in the cafeteria from 9:30 to 10 p.m.

Democrats Hold Dinner November 14

A Second Congressional District Democratic dinner will be held Saturday, Nov. 14 at Ritchie Hall on the Adrian College Campus.

A reception will be held in Rush Union at 6:15 p.m.

Members of the State Administrative board also will be present.

Secretary of State James M. Hare and the newly-appointed auditor general, Otis Smith, have accepted invitations to attend.

The District is made up of four counties—Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw.

Lenawee county is the host for this annual fund raising dinner and about 500 persons are expected to attend.

James H. Coller, Democratic Committee Chairman of Lenawee county, is the general chairman and State Representative Wm Sterling of Monroe is the Honorary Chairman.

Committees from all four counties are working on arrangements, ticket sales and advertisement for the dinner.

Youngsters Watch As Cider Is Made

Mrs. C. R. Puffer and her Patterson second grade went by bus to visit the Raisin Valley Orchard cider mill last week.

L. D. Tanner, the proprietor explained the complicated process of converting apples into sweet cider, pointing out the various conveyors, washers, choppers, hydraulic press and the strainers.

He then demonstrated by making a "run" of cider.

The children learned that five varieties of apples are combined to insure superior flavor in the cider and that, usually one bushel of apples will produce about three and one-half gallons of juice.

After the demonstration Mr. Tanner treated the 33 youngsters to doughnuts and some of the cider that they had seen made.

The class purchased apples and cider to take back to school to use for their Halloween party.

High School Undertakes Complete Revaluation

By NEVILLE HART

At present, Tecumseh High School population is about evenly divided between those who intend to terminate their formal education with high school and those who intend to continue their education in a college or university.

The high school has a responsibility to meet the needs of both groups.

In determining what requirements a school system shall meet, we should make certain that it does in fact provide adequately for both groups.

With these observations, certain inferences seem inescapable.

Instructional programs should be based upon the real and continuing needs of students, rather than upon the current limitations of a given school system and the shortage of qualified teachers in certain fields.

This means that the curriculum of any high school must, in addition to providing the required units, provide a variety of courses that will insure that the needs of both college preparatory and non-college preparatory pupils will be met.

For those pupils who are to continue their education in a college or university, the alternative should make available to them those courses they will need to become prepared adequately for the standard college curricula.

GOOD TEACHERS and administrators are continually engaged in self-evaluative activities. They are willing to take a critical look at themselves and their work and take steps to bring about improvement.

The question naturally arises as the self-evaluation begins, "By what standards are we to reach conclusions concerning the material collected?" Principles and standards for evaluation must be developed to serve as the minimum basis for self-evaluation. Final evaluation should be made in terms of the local community.

The faculty and the administration of Tecumseh High School is currently engaged in an evaluation study of the local school.

THE STUDY is based upon the following principles and criteria:

1. The school exists primarily for the benefit of the boys and girls of the community which it serves. The school should know the distinctive characteristics and needs of the people and groups of people of the school community. The school should adapt its general philosophy and specific purposes to its own community and to the larger communities of which it is a part.

2. All youth of secondary-school age need:

a. To learn to live with other human beings.

b. To achieve and maintain sound mental and physical health.

c. To learn to live in their natural and scientific environment.

d. To receive sound guidance.

e. To learn to think logically and express themselves clearly.

f. To prepare for work, for further education, or for both.

g. To learn to use their leisure well.

h. To learn to live aesthetically.

3. The program of studies is composed of curricular offerings which contribute to desirable behavior changes relative to various fields of learning.

All these educational experiences, when integrated and adapted to the educational needs of pupils, should provide them with understanding, habits, attitudes and ideals, based on important knowledges and skills, for present and future living in American democracy.

4. There is no rigid dividing line, educationally between the regular classroom activities and those activities sometimes called "extra-curricular" or co-curricular." Experiences in this area of activity are designed to help meet the leisure, recreational and social interests and needs of pupils. The experiences also provide opportunities for self-directed specialization in areas of the curriculum of particular interest to individual pupils.

The pupil activity program attempts to develop desirable social traits in situations providing opportunity for individual, small group, and entire school participation.

Under competent guidance, pupils should share responsibility for selecting, organizing and evaluating the activities and outcomes.

In all activities, development of democratic leadership and followership abilities should be a major objective. Extensive opportunities should be provided for the development of such skills.

5. The library is a resourse center of instructional materials for the entire educational program and an agency which has a function in helping pupils learn to use library materials and facilities effectively.

The library should provide materials for reference use, for use in connection with class work and for personal enjoyment and satisfaction without relation to assignments.

It should provide a wide variety of books, pamphlets and periodicals adapted to the reading interests and needs of secondary-school pupils and professional publications for use of staff members.

Besides reading material, the school should have available, organized in the library or as a separate department, audio-visual materials for use in the educational program.

6. Guidances services, as applied to the secondary school, should be thought of as organized activities designed to give systemable aid to pupils in solving their problems and in making adjustments to various situations which they must meet.

These activities should assist each pupil in knowing himself as an individual and as a member of society; in making the most of his strengths and in correcting or compensating for weaknesses that interfere with his progress; in learning about occupations so that he may intelligently plan and prepare for a career; in learning about educational opportunities available to him; and in discussing and developng creative and leisure interests.

7. The school plant consisting of the site, building, equipment, and services, is a major factor in the functioning of the educational program.

The plant as planned and equipped is more that a place of instruction. It is, during school time, the physical environment which assists or limits pupil achievement of desirable learning outcomes.

The school plant must provide the physical facilities to conduct a program designed to meet the educational needs of youth of secondary-school age.

This necessitates provisions for a variety of classroom activities, extra-curricular activities, and recreational and community activites.

8. To guide pupil progress in the educational program, the secondary school requires a professional staff to meet the educational needs of youth.

The staff members must possess qualifications of training, experience and personality which contribute to an effective learning environment.

The number of staff members should be adequate for the educational program offered, the schools enrollment and the special needs of the pupils.

The teaching load and the total working load should contribute to efficiency in service.

Salaries should be such as to assure a living comparable with the social demands or the profession and the worth of service rendered as well as to provide security for old age.

In the membership of the staff should be found both experience, gained by years of service, and vigor and enthusiasm characteristic of youth.

This study when completed, will show how well Tecumseh High School meets the democratic challenge of equal education for all.

Published in cooperation with Gas Range Dealers by Consumers Power Company

(Although this is addressed to Chevrolet owners, we'd be glad to have you read it, no matter what make you now own or plan to buy. It might well be as interesting and significant to you as to the Chevrolet owner.)

TO THE MORE THAN 16 MILLION PEOPLE WHO OWN CHEVROLETS

The first and the latest—the 1912 and the 1960 Chevrolet. The progress represented here is the result of continuing efforts to make your new Chevrolet always more beautiful, more useful and more valuable in every respect.

You belong to the largest family of owners in the automotive world.

We hope you're proud of that. It must give you great satisfaction to know that your judgment in choosing Chevrolet has been confirmed by so many other people.

We know that we can hold your preference and your loyalty only by meeting our responsibilities to you fully and completely from the day you buy your Chevrolet to the day you trade it in. And so we'd like to talk with you about our responsibilities as we see them, and what we are doing to meet them.

Our first responsibility, we think, is clear: To design and build products that satisfy your needs and your wants to the highest possible degree. To that end, we have done these things for 1960:

Made the 1960 Chevrolet more economical, roomier, more quiet and comfortable, easier to handle and maneuver. Introduced the compact and revolutionary Corvair. Produced a new line of Chevrolet trucks with unprecedented advances in efficiency, cargo handling, driver comfort and ability to get a job done.

But it isn't enough to design and build the kinds of products you want.

They must be built right. Solidly. Carefully.

Let us assure you of this: Chevrolet's fine reputation as a solid, well-built, dependable product is being safeguarded by more checks and inspections and tests, than ever before.

Along with your Chevrolet dealer, we want you to have available the finest and most complete service facilities. That is why we: Conduct training schools for Chevrolet dealer mechanics. Study and recommend improved service equipment and techniques. Maintain the industry's most complete parts warehouse system.

Finally, neither Chevrolet nor your Chevrolet dealer has any intention of forgetting you after you buy. To help keep you happy with your Chevrolet, we have established a department new to us, and so far as we know, new to the automobile industry. This is the Chevrolet Department of Owner Relations, whose only job is the coordination of Chevrolet and Chevrolet dealer activities so that you enjoy utmost satisfaction during your entire period of ownership. Through this department, and through all the other extraordinary steps we are taking, Chevrolet and your Chevrolet dealer hope to keep you a happy member of the Chevrolet owner family.

Through My Window

PLEASE, STOP THAT DANCIN' UP THERE

First, you should know a little about my room. It has a flat roof, wonderful when a soft gentle rain is falling and two of our big picture windows are protected by aluminum roll-up awnings.

Because the outer panels on each window are of the casement type, the awnings do not roll flush against the house, but a small frame holds them out far enough to allow the windows to swing open.

This sounds a bit confusing but actually, all it means is that above each window is a narrow shelf, about two and a half feet wide.

It is on these shelves that the birds dance, march, play or just stamp around.

Oh, of course, there is some question about their performance adhering to our strict definitions of dancing and so on, but really, if you could hear the noise they make.

Well, just imagine little bird feet, with those hard sharp toe-nails, scraping and scratching on the metal surface. Believe me, it is not at all hard to picture them dancing or marching.

THE BLUE-JAYS, you will not be surprised to know, are the biggest noise makers. They love these awning shelves, especially the one over the west window; they use it as a look-out to keep the two feeding stations under close surveillance.

Woe be to the hapless diner who comes to either feeder when a Jay is "looking out"; he finds that his meal is a short one.

When frustrated or made just plain mad, as for instance when a squirrel comes to the feeder and thus interrupts the Blue-jay's free-loading, he retreats to the awning and what a temper tantrum.

Screaming and jumping up and down in anger, he makes an unbelieveable racket.

The Grackles too, when they are driven from the feeder, follow much the same procedure. They don't scream, but they certainly jump up and down and stamp around.

More than any other birds, the evil-looking, yellow-eyed Grackles seem to walk on the shelf just for the sheer pleasure of being noisy. Back and forth they pace, their big feet plodding and their sharp claws scratching.

Oh yes, this scratching is the small shrill, nerve racking, scraping which stands ones hair on end and causes shivers to run up and down the spine.

NAURALLY, the Sparrows must get into the act too. We hear them scrapping and quarreling up there; as the tides of battle flow from one end to the other, their tiny claws click, click, click.

And when talking about noise on the awning, we must not forget the occasional squirrel who either jumps up from the bird feeder or more often hops down from the roof.

A squirrel running on the awning makes the whole thing shake and tremble and the sound—but we could go on for a whole article just describing these antics. For now we will just leave it that squirrels on the awning are noisy.

So it goes that our awnings are being put to uses which we never dreamed of—but please don't get the impression that we are complaining.

Most of the time it is fun to listen to the birds and squirrels covorting and to speculate on what is going on. It is just when they are at their noisiest best in the early morning that we plead "Please stop that dancin' up there"

THE FLAT ROOF which we mentioned earlier as being so nice during an easy rain, this time of year has "a charm" all its own.

When the walnut tree which stands at the southwest corner of the house gets ready to shed its fruit, that's right—bang, bang, down they come, right on the roof.

No matter where on the tree the nuts are growing, they can be on the far side as well as the near, I am convinced that each and everyone which falls, hits my roof before bouncing to the ground.

The slightest wind brings the nuts down in a virtual rain of crashes and bangs; after slamming them to my roof, the wind then rolls them back and forth—bumpity, bumpity, bump.

Eventually, of course, they work to the edge of the roof, but don't for a minute think the drop is straight down. From the roof, the nuts "jump" onto the awning and what a racket, a regular barrage.

Lately we have had a new noise from above, the booms and rumblings of the supersonic jets.

But just as the dancing on the awning does not stop when we ask and the walnuts continue to crash and bang on our roof, I strongly suspect that these high flying jets will ignore our invitation to "Please quite that boomin' up there!"

For one thing, not having to visit each by carrying a lot of it or mailing it at bill-paying time. For another, you yourself — in writing checks properly. Neighbors Pitch In

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1959

By JIM LINCOLN

Last Thursday 21 men paid their respects to an old friend and in so doing helped another.

Grateful is Mrs. John Gritzmaker of Labardee Rd., about 10 miles south of Tecumseh.

She was the benefactor of what has been a rule of the farming populace — help a friend and neighbor in need.

Mrs. Gritzmaker's husband was killed last August in a tractor accident on their farm. He has not been forgotten by his neighbors and friends.

Last Thursday, the 21 men with nine corn pickers, 15 wagons and seven trucks picked and hauled away 45 acres of corn. It was a tremendous offering for Mrs. Gritzmaker.

Her husband had planted 60 acres last spring and it was still standing until the men went to work. They had started the previous week, but were rained out after picking only 15 acres.

The corn, approximately 170 tons, was hauled to the Deerfield Co-op. The Farm Bureau donated fuel for the corn picking bee.

Those working last week were Wilson Sawyer, Chick Smith, Ken, Bob and John Marks, Clayton Dutcher, Claude Walters and Maynard Fisher.

Ernie Tide, Irving Lewis, Bill Krouse, Gene Frost, Lawrence Wahl, Al Smith, Leo Robinson, Carl Gubbe, Cal Gritzmaker, Merlin Wahl, Bob Kerr, Ralph Starkey and Dick McCarty.

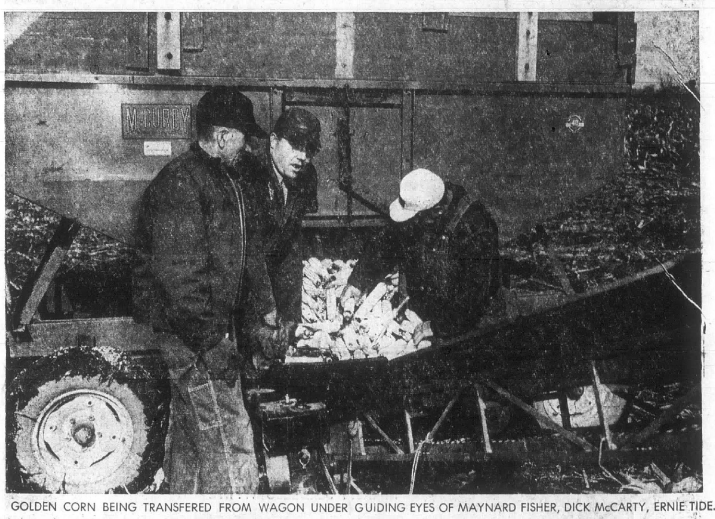
Men who had worked previously were Alving LaPointe, Frank Tide, Emil Wagner and Del Young.

The ladies, who had started the project and served a big roast beef dinner at the Gritzmaker home, were Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Myra Mangus, along with Mrs. John Sawyer, Mrs. Wahl, Mrs. Gritzmaker.

Pies for the dinner were furnished by Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. Wahl, Mrs. Ken Marks and Mrs. Dale Gubbe.

IRVING "SLIM" LEWIS, ONE OF VOLUNTEERS, ADMIRES CORN PICKED ON GRITZMAKER FARM.

SEVEN OF THE NINE PICKERS AND THEIR DRIVERS WHO WORKED IN FIELDS LAST THURSDAY.



GOLDEN CORN BEING TRANSFERED FROM WAGON UNDER GUIDING EYES OF MAYNARD FISHER, DICK McCARTY, ERNIE TIDE.

HERE COMES GENE FROST, COMPLETING ONE OF THE FINAL PASSES IN THE 60-ACRE PLOT.

GIRLS GOT MEAL — After preparing a roast beef dinner, complete with all the trimmings, then cleaning up the dishes, these gals took time out for a cup of coffee. Pouring is Mrs. Wilson Sawyer for Mrs. Lawrence Wahl. Others are Mrs. Irving Lewis, Mrs. John Gritzmaker and Mrs. Myra Mangus.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

What a surprise—Bootin Pussy was sitting on our doorstep Monday morning when we came to work.

"Where in the world have you been?" I asked.

But before Bootin' gave me an answer, he was firing away with a dozen questions.

How is coach Leetka? My boys Lee Britton, Jim Curth, Jim Neitling? Do we really have a great team? Can we take Adrian?

I did my best to bring Bootin' up to date and then got his story.

If it actually hadn't happened, I'd say the whole thing was pure fantasy.

But first, let me quote my final comment on Bootin', in this column, written the week after we lost to Adrian in the 1958 season finale:

"The last we saw of our football mascot, Bootin' Pussy, was right after Friday's game as he trudged across the gooey Adrian gridiron, heading west.

"About midfield, he paused, turned back towards the Tecumseh side and waved. Even from that distance, I could see tears in his eyes, but at the same time a friendly grin crossed Bootin's lips.

"Later I discovered a mud-spattered note stuck among film holders in my camera case.

" ' Tell the boys they did real well and I'm proud of them.'

"It was signed with a right front paw print."

So Bootin' told me what had happened since that evening of Nov. 14, 1958.

"Naturally, I was pretty sad about the ball game," Bootin' started, "so I figured a nice long trip would help me forget.

"I hitched a ride up to Jackson and caught a freight through Chicago and, on to St. Louis. After bumming around there a while, I pushed on to Des Moines.

"Football season started and I really was lonesome for my Indians, but I was dead broke.

"One day, in a little restaurant, I found a copy of The Herald that some traveler had left. I almost cried as I read it—especially when I saw the boys were rolling along undefeated.

"That was two weeks ago and I said then and there I was heading back, money or not. Think we'll take that Adrian bunch?"

Now it was my turn for a tear.

"Bootin', we're glad you're back—and I'm sure we can trim that bunch," I replied.

Gunner Breaks Law by Killing Swan on Pond

Mrs. Hugh Walters, 1013 Red Mill Dr., was distraught Saturday after witnessing a thoughtless crime.

Some sportsman (?) shot one of the three swans, which have been resting in Red Mill Pond for the past week or 10 days.

Two were pure white and another was a mottled color.

It was one of the white ones that the man shot and took with him.

Local police were unable to find the illegal hunter.

"It is against the Federal Law on Migratory Birds to shoot or kill a swan," said a local officer.

Starting Adrian halfback

Maples Wonder Who Will Start at Fullback

By DON VOGEL
Special to The Tecumseh Herald

Who will start at fullback for Adrian Friday night?

It could be Bob Westfall, Jim Green or Tom Theeke. The other backfield positions are set.

The fullback position has been a problem all season. Green has failed to turn in the performance he did last season. Westfall, a junior, hasn't been able to take up the slack. Theeke played fullback for the first time against Marshall last Friday and had a good night.

But he doesn't have Green's power or Westfall's blocking ability. His best position is halfback. Westfall will probably start as coach Chappy Marvin plans to use all the underclassmen possible.

Gery Phipps gets the call at quarterback. Who will back the senior signal caller is anyone's guess.

It will probably be end Warren Gould, who made a brief appearance at quarterback against Marshall.

THERE IS a slim chance that Mike Marshall might be able to play at quarterback, but it is

School Taxes Cut 60c Per Thousand

By JAMES McDOWELL

Citizens who pay school taxes in Tecumseh will note that there has been a reduction of 60c per thousand in their school tax based on their state equalized evaluations this year.

Last year the school tax for operation was $9.35 per thousand, this year it is $9 per thousand.

The school tax for debt retirement last year was $6.45 per thousand, this year it is $6.20 per thousand.

The district completed the payment of the 1932 bond debt of $650,000 for the Patterson School, High School gymnasium and additions in six years as well as $30,000 bond debt for the original portion of the Ridgeway school in seven years.

Bond debt remaining is $1,840,000 of the $1,900,000 borrowed to complete Ridgeway, high school and Patterson additions and to build the Macon, Tipton, Herrick Park and Tecumseh Acre schools.

With the collection of the December taxes after making the regular payment outstanding, the remaining bonds will total $1,780,000 and the board will have built a reserve of over $200,000 to apply against this amount.

This means that since 1957 the District has made its regular payments and reduced the length of time the bond issue will run by about a year and a half.

And Then We Have . .

The financial states of Tecumseh schools, isn't all good reported Supt. McDowell.

He said the schools here are in debt $250,000 on operating expenditures and may have to borrow more unless state aid is received as promised.

In past months, the schools have not received all the money due from the state.

IN OTHER action, the board:

● Discussed the need of band and chorus rooms.

● Approved the switch from Sealtest to Valley Lea milk for the cafeterias.

● Authorized additional pay for extra curricular activities by vocal music director Les Bennett.

Fire Destroys Corn Picker

Fire of unknown origin virtually destroyed a tractor and corn picker at 12:05 p.m. Saturday in a field a mile south of the city.

The tractor was being driven by Curtis Wright who with his brother, Raymond, was the owner.

Adrian Gridders Provide Acid Test for Indians Friday

Undefeated Record Goes 'On The Line'

By JIM LINCOLN

How good is Tecumseh? Can it beat Adrian?

These questions will be answered here Friday night when the Indians and Maples tangle before an anticipated crowd of some 4,000 fans.

Tecumseh's chances took a decided dip Tuesday when physicians ruled that Mike Green might miss the game.

The chunky fullback, one of the sparkplugs in Tecumseh's backfield, suffered a severe back injury in practice Monday afternoon and has been in Herrick Memorial Hospital since.

Unless there's a big improvement in his condition, he's definitely out of the tilt. Bob Koffron will then take his place.

THE GAME ITSELF IS RATED a tossup in spite of Tecumseh's eight straight victories and Adrian's 3-5 record. The Maples played by far a tougher schedule.

Adrian lacks last year's size, but still has excellent speed, especially in the backfield. Any weakness on the team is in the line where several are playing their first season on the varsity.

Gary Phipps is a topnotch passer and is expected to throw often. The Maple's ground attack has failed to click consistently, largely due to the inexperienced line.

THE POSSIBLE RESULT OF GREEN'S loss to the Indians will not be known until after the game. He is by far Tecumseh's hardest driving back and had scored eight touchdowns this season.

Personnel-wise, the Indians probably have an advantage, the biggest difference being in the lines.

Tackle Jim Curth and guard Jim Neitling are two of the finest linemen in this area. Both are also top collegiate prospects playing their final game for the orange and black.

GAME TIME IS 7:30. SCHOOL officials here, anticipating an extra large crowd, have secured additional bleachers from Clinton and will have seating capacity for 3,200.

Adult tickets may be purchased in advance at the High School principal's office.

LATE PLANS—A few minutes before his gridders showed up for practice Monday afternoon, coach Dunc Lectka was, at the field figuring out a few surprises for the Adrian Maples. The veteran mentor closes his 12th year in prep school coaching Friday — going for an undefeated season the third of his career.

More Stories, Pix about Game

Friday's gridiron battle between Adrian and Tecumseh has engendered considerable interest among citizens all over Lenawee County.

To help bring you the most complete pre-game statistics and information, The Herald offers stories on this page and also a variety of features about both teams, pictures of several Adrian gridders and photos of every member of the Tecumseh varsity squad as well as all cheerleaders.

SPEAK AT ADRIAN PTA

Dr. Robert Murray spoke at the Adrian PTA on fluoridation of the Adrian water supply and showed a Public Health Service film. Dr. and Mrs. Murray were entertained at dinner by the PTA council.

ALL ON FILM—Every bit of Indian football action is recorded by talented David Dick, principal of the Junior High, with a 16mm camera. The footage is valuable to the coaching staff, which carefully studies every play, picking out Tecumseh's strong and weak points on every play. The boys also enjoy viewing the film, although sometimes they'll cringe at the sight of a missed tackle or block.

About 40 attended the session, called by the community achievment committee of the Monday Club.

Mrs. Clifford Knudson served as chairman.

Subjects brought up for discussion as to improvements in Tecumseh were:

Public parks.

Day nursery.

YMCA.

Public garbage disposal, operated by the city.

School nurse, incorporated with a visiting nurse.

Indoor swimming pool.

Boys club.

A ROLLER and ice skating rink was discussed, also a home for the aged or a place where older people might rent for a nominal fee and not be alone.

Cleaning up the city streets was discussed as well as a welcome wagon for newcomers and public drinking fountains.

Help for the Teen Club was discussed and a place for adult dancing, bowling a pool room, a gymnasium with shuffle board, hand ball courts, indoor tennis and ladies basketball.

AN AUDITORIUM with music room, TV room and hobby room, also a nice apartment house and a nice hotel.

The group voted that public rest rooms, a nurse and help for the Teen Club were things that were the most pertinent and should have immediate attention.

The next meeting will be held at the city hall at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 30.

JIM "BUBBLES" CURTH, ANOTHER SENIOR, IN GAME ACTION.

2 Stars Agree — Tackling Most Fun

Two of Tecumseh's seniors—and probably the team's most outstanding linemen—agree on one item. Both Jim Curth and Jim Neitling say the part they like best about football is playing defense.

The two Jims love breaking up an offensive drive and smacking down the ball carrier.

Over their years of varsity play—four for each of them — the youngsters have been exceptional tacklers.

Both are also extremely talented as blockers and have helped considerably to break Indian ball carriers loose.

Neitling started his freshman year as a fullback, but was switched to guard before the opening game. He had been a back for two years on junior high teams.

He played seven quarters as a soph, then went 30 as a junior, 36 as a junior and 32 so far this season.

He wasn't going to college until last year when coach Lectka pointed out the advantages of higher education. Jim's grades to that point were poor, but he has been working hard since then to get them up.

Hillsdale and Michigan State are two schools he is considering.

His buddie, "Bubbles" Curth, was also a back in junior high and as a frosh got in eight quarters as a fullback.

He went 28 quarters at an end post his second year, missing one game entirely because of illness.

Last season, he became a guard, seeing duty 36 quarters. To date, like Neitling, he has been in 32 quarters—both ways.

Curth carries a B average and plans to major in engineering or physical education in collge .

Both lads have beefed up since last season, Curth going from 175 to 185 and Neitling from 165 to 179. Each should be a welcome addtion to a collegeiate roster.

JANET MURPHY
Varsity Cheerleader

OTHER THS SENIORS pulling on their grid uniforms for the last time will be:

Offensive center Lee Britton, who is a co-captain with Curth.

Halfback Dave Weakly, sparkling broken-field runner.

Halfback Roger Mead, one of team's fastest men.

Quarterback Steve Kruger, exceptional ball handler and passer.

Defensive back Bob Dick, sharp on passes.

Guard Jerry Irelan, only 135 pounds but tough.

Tackle Dick Horvath, crisp blocker.

Tackle Mike Fero, came out this year first time, always ready.

Tackle Chuck Baird, defensive specialist.

Tackle Roger Korte, hard-nosed defensive line plugger.

Ends Terry Hendricks and Tom Walter, shine when THS had ball.

Ends Jim Poley and Jack Sisson, go both ways and do well.

Linemen Hold Key to Adrian's Hopes

By DON VOGEL
Special to The Tecumseh Herald

How well the line plays will determine the extent of Adrian's success against the undefeated Tecumseh Indians Friday night.

The Maples opened the season with a group of fine backs. But the line was, and still is, a big question mark.

Only in the 14-6 victory over Marshall last week did the Adrian line turn in a good performance.

Marshall gained only 33 yards rushing. This total is a far cry from the 213 yards per game average the Maples yielded to the opposition on the ground in the first seven contests.

Even in the victories over Sturgis and Three Rivers the Adrian forward wall allowed over 200 yards rushing each time.

Adrian won both games by a 20-14 score.

The five losses have been to Monroe, 20-7; East Lansing, 26-13; Coldwater, 20-13; Battle Creek Lakeview, 20-0; and Albion, 26-13.

The Maples tied Coldwater and Sturgis for fourth place in the final Twin Valley Athletic Assn. standings.

Not only has Adrian's line had trouble keeping opponents' backs from making long gains, it has failed to spring Adrian runners loose in five of the first eight games.

The Maples were held to an average of 67 yards rushing in their five losses.

Bill Esterline and Ed Gallup will be the starting ends. Esterline will replace regular Jim DeSpain who was injured last week.

Gerden Bauschke and Karl Brendle, a pair of juniors, will be the tackles.

Junior Jon Theeke and senior Uve Piplow will be the offensive guards.

Dick Wynn, a fine blocker and linebacker will be the center.

This line averages about 169 pounds.

doubtful.

Glenn Martek, the other quarterback and a first string defensive player, is out for the season because of illness.

Larry Melendy will be the left halfback. He is the team's leading ground gainer and scorer. Melendy is a breakaway threat and excellent pass receiver. He also kicks the extra points.

Terry Alpaugh, another speedster, will be at right half.

Adrian's pass defense hasn't been the best this season. East Lansing and Lakeview used aerials to subdue the Maples.

Even Coldwater and Marshall — considered poor passing teams — gave Adrian trouble through the air.

THE BACKFIELD hasn't lived up to expectations. Only Larry Melendy has proved a consistent ground gainer.

Fullback Jim Green, who wrecked Tecumseh last year, started slow and has been hampered by illness.

First string quarterback Mike Marshall has been hurt most of the season and only appeared in three games.

Coach Charles Marvin has been starting sophomores and juniors in recent games to give them experience for next season.

Most of the new faces have been in the line. The move paid off against Marshall.

THE MAPLES made up in hustle and agressiveness the mistakes made from inexperience. The blocking and tackling from tackle to tackle was sharp. Backs Terry Alpaugh and Tom Theeke had their best games of the season.

Adrian has had to rely on passing much of the time. Gary Phipps, Marshall's replacement, isn't a good long passer but he has been accurate with his short tosses.

His biggest problem has been receivers dropping the ball.

Marvin, coaching his first season at Adrian, uses all variations of the T-formation. He is a former Adrian High School star.

Win Over Grosse Ile Nets Championship

By JIM LINCOLN

A hepped-up Grosse Ile team provided the toughest test of the season for Tecumseh last Friday night before bowing, 20-6.

The victory clinched the Huron League championship for the Indians with a 6-0 mark.

Last year, Tecumseh shared championship honors with Bedford in the now defunct Southeastern Michigan League.

Fullback Mike Green starred offensively for the Indians with three touchdowns, boosting his total for the season to 48 points.

The chunky fullback churned his way for 209 yards, mostly through the middle. He scored early in the initial period from the four-yard line.

He bucked over from the one in the third quarter and plunged for two yards and the final tally in the final period.

DAVE WEAKLY, top Tecumseh scorer, had two TDs nullified by penalties.

The Indians, however, scored after one of the penalties. It was the 12th touchdown called back against Tecumseh this year.

Complete statistics for Grosse Ile were not kept, but the host team failed to roll up a first down until late in the third period. Passes netted its only score in the final quarter.

The Indians rolled to 298 yards rushing and 11 yards passing. They pushed Grosse Ile around for 21 first downs, tops for the season in a single game, and were penalized only 25 yards, low for the year.

Longest run of the evening was by Green with a 69-yard burst up the middle.

Weakly ran back a punt for 64 yards. Both were caught from behind, indicating the speedy backfield deployed by Grosse Ile.

Grosse Ile	0	0	0	6	6
Tecumseh	7	0	6	7	20

Scoring: Green 3 (4, run; 1 run; 2, run). PAT — Koffron 2. Grosse Ile: Miller, pass.

Blissfield Firm Still Considering

Blissfield Manufacturing officials still have not decided whether the plant will remain there or be moved.

It will probably be another month before a decision is reached.

All rubble and damaged machinery have been removed and the plant is back in limited operation.

Among its commitments are to build approximately 1,500 "open type" refrigeration compressors monthly for Tecumseh Products.

'Office Warming' Will Be 2 Days

An "office warming" will be held at the new professional building on west M-50 owned by and recently moved into by Ralph Mull and Associates, accountants.

Folks are invited to drop in Friday from 1 to 8 p.m. or Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Swirl-Top Cheese Cake

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Mrs. Dwight Hodges of 312 S. Union St. shares with us her recipe for swirl-top cheese cake this week.

It's really delectable.

Mrs. Hodges is well known in the city, having lived here most of her life and well known among her bridge club friends for this special kind of cake.

Her husband is a co-owner of the R. S. Moore and Son Lumber Company and they have two children.

Edward is a senior, majoring in math at the University of Michigan.

He said when he learned a cheese-cake was being made for Herald office employees, "I'm coming home for cheese cake, mother."

It seems it's a special favorite with the family too.

Jane, 16 years, is a junior at the high school this year and works part time at the public library.

Mrs. Hodges is a member of the First Presbyterian Church where she taught the senior high class of church school for two years. She is a member of the Hospital Auxiliary, the P.E.O. and a 25-year member of the Eastern Star, of which she is presently secretary.

She loves to knit, cook and bake and keep her home lovely.

She gives our readers an added tip concerning the recipe printed below when she says that the special spring form pan may be purchased at Baldwin's Hardware.

SWIRL-TOP CHEESECAKE

Serves 12

CRUST

2 cups fine graham cracker crumbs
½ cup sugar
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

FILLING

1 square (1 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
2 pkgs. (8 oz. each) cream cheese
1 cup sugar
6 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
1 tablespoon orange juice
1 cup whipping cream

To make the crust: Combine crumbs, sugar and spices; cut in butter or margarine until completely blended. Press mixture evenly on bottom and sides of heavily buttered 9 inch or 10 inch spring-form pan. Chill.

To make the filling: Melt chocolate over hot water. Meanwhile blend cream cheese and sugar until creamy and light. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition; stir in vanilla; orange peel, and juice.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; spoon onto cheese mixture. Whip cream; fold with egg whites into cheese mixture until well blended. Spoon ½ of the filling into crumb-lined pan; trickle a little of the melted chocolate over surface; swirl lightly into filling with tip of knife. Repeat twice more, ending with chocolate.

Bake in very slow oven (300 degrees F.) 1 hour. Turn off heat, leave cheese-cake in oven with door closed 1 hour longer.

Remove from oven, cool at room temperature, then chill. (Center will sink somewhat during cooling.) When cold, loosen crust around sides with knife, release spring and remove pan.

Because we have had Tornado warnings recently we though you might use some of the safety rules found in the enclosed pamphlet in your paper.

Yours very truly,
Lenawee County Chapter
American Red Cross
Mrs. E. T. Armstrong
Executive Secretary

1. There is no universal protection against tornadoes except caves or underground excavations. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave, or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. If should be kept fit for use, free from water gas, ice debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.

2. If you are in open country:

A. Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour.

B. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

3. If in a city or town:

A. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!

B. In homes: The southwest corner of the basement usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame houses. People in houses without basements should find other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar, although a depression, such as a ditch or ravine, can offer some protection. If doors and windows on the north and east sides of the house may be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

C. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

4. If in schools:

A. In city areas: If school building is of strongly reinforced construction, stay insire, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with large, poorly-supported roofs!

B. In rural schools that do not have strongly reinforced construction, remove children and, teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

5. If in factories and industrial plants:

On receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for shutting off electrical circuits and fuel lines if the tornado approaches the plant. Workers should be moved to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

6. Keep calm! It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. You should know about tornado, though.

7. Keep tuned to your radio or television station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed.

To the Editors,

Thursday evening before Halloween a very polite boy came to our house collecting for UNICEF. This was the first time anyone came for that reason, which I think is a wonderful plan.

It's too bad some of the older children in our neighborhood didn't do the same, instead they think they are too old for treats, but not for tricks.

I don't suppose it's anything but Halloween mischief, but soaping windows doesn't please me.

I enjoy the little children in their costumes coming for treats, my boys age ten and four go out trick-or-treating, but they know they are never to soap windows and other tricks such as that.

Let's hope next Halloween these "trick" boys put their time to a better use and help others.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Edward Glisson

Monday Club Visits Manor Located at Hudson

About 20 members of the Monday Club enjoyed a visit to the Coleman Manor House in Hudson last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman came from Detroit three years ago and purchased the 100 year old home from Mrs. Wilkin who had been conducting the school and is presently teaching school at the Manor.

Mrs. Coleman told the history and conducted the group on a tour of the school including the library with lovely stained glass windows and also a winding staircase.

About 14 underprivileged girls from 12 years of age up are living at the manor, doing the things that they are most capable of and learning to advance as they are able.

The girls presented an interesting program of music and readings for the club members. Mrs. Coleman has wonderful musical ability and gives the girls musical training that would be a privilege for any child, according to Lillian Cannon, one of the members in attendance.

Handiwork was displayed and many pieces were on sale.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 16 at Aebersold Hostess House with Mrs. Arch Wray leading a program on "International Relations." Mrs. Russell Allen of Adrian will be the speaker.

Savings Bonds Are Attractive Investment

Never before have United States Savings Bonds been so attractive to investors and small savers alike, Henry S. Maentz, chairman of the Michigan State Savings Bonds committee, said today in commenting on the one-half per cent increase in interest rates on old and new Series E and H Savings Bonds.

"Forty million people automatically benefit from the recent legislation passed by Congress," Mr. Maentz said, "because that many hold outstanding bonds in the amount of $42.6 billion. For the first time, the hike in rates applies to old series E and H Savings Bonds, as well as those being bought currently. So, it will be to the advantage of most bond owners to hold onto their old bonds, thus automatically receiving the benefit of the increase."

The new law does two things (1) it provides that all Savings Bonds bought on and after June 1 draw 3¾ per cent interest when held to maturity, and (2) its increases by at least one-half of one per cent the interest return on all outstanding E and H bonds, regardless of their age, for the period from June 1, 1959, to their maturity. In addition, the Treasury has promised a 10-year extension privilege for all E bonds, both old and new.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that every person who owns an E or H bond benefits from the new rate, without having to do anything about it," Mr. Maentz continued. "I would therefore encourage the public to do two things: keep holding their old bonds, and keep on buying the new ones. This is the finest Savings Bonds package ever offered."

The next meeting will be annual communication to be held on Friday, Dec. 4.

VOICE OF INDIANS—For many years Tecumseh football fans have been kept closely posted, via the field public adress system, what was happening on the field and who was in the play. The man behind this voice is Tim Neil, safety director for Tecumseh Products and a former outstanding college and Detroit Lions professional football lineman.

So-Called Farm Groups Blasted by Grangemen

"We are at a loss to know why any so-called farm organization would join with industrial and financial interests to discredit farming."

So declared Jerome Davis, field assistant to the Master of the National Grange, in a speech delivered at the Annual session of the Michigan State Grange held in Saginaw recently.

Mr. Davis continues, "A favorite method used to place farmers in a bad light with taxpayers is to point to the $7 billion U. S. Department of Agriculture budget as if this amount would be divided among the nation's farmers and each sent a check for his share."

Nothing could be farther from the truth, Davis indicated. With 90% of the population urban, a mere $40 million goes directly to farm people.

Davis also sees danger of depression as a result of present high farm indebtedness.

In 1947 net farm inventory of machinery and motor vehicles was $6,900,000,000. Today it is in excess of $18 billion.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby attended the session as delegates from the Tecumseh Grange.

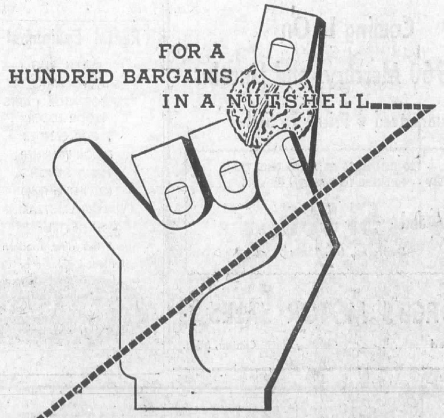
FOR A HUNDRED BARGAINS IN A NUTSHELL



READ YOUR LOCAL WEEKLY

Each week, your home town newspaper comes to you filled with hundreds of bargains that can aid you in making sound, economical purchases. By patronizing the local merchants who send you these advertisements, you get the extra benefits of close, convenient store locations, fast courteous service, and most important, by making the wise local buys you're helping to build a better community for the future. These are just some of the reasons why smart shoppers use their home town weekly as a guide for all their purchases . . . they know that you buy better, when you buy locally.

YOU BUY BETTER WHEN YOU BUY LOCALLY

The Tecumseh Herald

Wow! That WAS a Report

What more can we say—after that marvelous report by Joe Fortunato, industrial chairman of the community fund drive?

Total donations by employees and plants topped $54,000. This averaged almost $13 per man, plus sizeable contributions by management.

Currently the business-professional and house-to-house divisions are winding up their efforts. Chairman of these groups will soon be reporting. We hope these folks do as well as industrial.

Within short order, area citizens will be flocking to the city's new civic center.

"....as We Would Have The Lads"

Climax to the football season comes Friday evening when Adrian matches brawn and brain with Tecumseh on the local gridiron.

We've watched most of the Indian's games this year. Without fail, the local students and townspeople have supported the eleven in great numbers—often at away tilts with as many fans as our opponents.

More important, our spectators always conducted themselves as true sportsmen. About the only time we heard booing—and this for a mighty brief time—was when our team drew about a half dozen red flags in that number of plays for hair-splitting infractions.

But we must always remember, an infraction is an infraction, whether it's a violent slugging or an accidental offsides.

The referees are the men who are paid to decide and we must always abide by their judgment—no matter how we might feel.

Thus, we'd like to offer this friendly reminder to all Indian followers. Let's conduct ourselves in the stands as we want our lads to conduct themselves on the field.

Here's wishing coach Lectka, co-captains Lee Britton and Jim Curth and their teammates all the best of good luck.

Moving On Right Track

An interesting session was held by the Monday Club, appropriately on Monday, to discuss ways our city might be improved.

There was a large turnout of area leaders and a raft of excellent ideas were brought forward.

We'll be talking more about the Monday Club's efforts, in coming issues, but for now we'd like to compliment the group for its far-sighted project.

The more folks we have thinking along lines of bettering the community, the more ideas we'll see become realities.

Winterize Your Driving

Six quick tips from the National Safety Council on how to be a better winter driver:

1. Winterize not only your car, but your driving technique and your attitude, as well. Normal speeds often are too fast for winter conditions. When weather's bad, slow down.

2. Have good tires — preferably snow tires — and for more severe conditions, use reinforced tire chains.

3. Keep windshild and windows clear, and wiper blades, heater and defroster in proper operating condition.

4. Get the feel of the road as soon as you start out (but away from hazards or other cars). By cautiously trying your brakes or gently pressing your accelerator, you can learn how slippery the road surface is. Then adjust your speed accordingly.

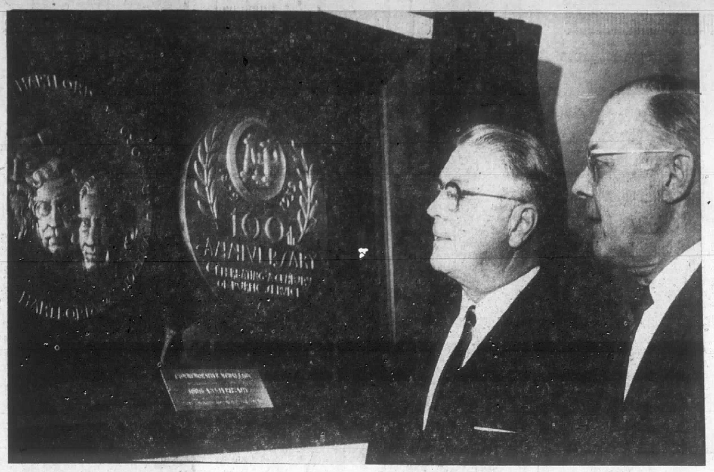
5. Keep well back of the vehicle ahead to give yourself plenty of room for an emergency stop. Following too closely is doubly dangerous on winter roads.

6. Pump your brakes to stop quickly on icy roads. Jamming on the brakes will throw the car into an uncontrollable skid. The trick is to slow the car by rapid and intermittent brake applications and at the same time maintain rolling traction that gives steering control.

"There's nothing much you can do about winter weather — except be prepared for it," the National Safety Council said. "Snow and ice, combined with early darkness, frequent snowstorms and spattered windshields, help cause and high auto death and injury toll in the winter."

"Seat belts, a must whenever you drive," the Council said, "are especially valuable in winter."

But nothing," it emphasized, "protects a driver as much as being prepared for the added hazards of winter driving."



CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION — Bronze medallions marking A & P Food Stores' 100th Anniversary are presented by President Frank H. Bucher of the Central Western Division (left) to vice- president R. R. Betz of the Toledo Unit. The walnut-encased plaque was presented to the Unit, which operates the store here for its outstanding contributions to the firm.

Four Newcomers Welcomed Into Alter Society

welcomed four new members — Mrs. Ernest Peters, Mrs. Frank Reinhardt, Mrs. Terry Macklin and Mrs. Sylvant Echelberger— at last week's session.

Entertainment was provided by the three Atchinson brothers who presented Spanish selections. brothers who presented Spanish selections. Mrs. Eula Mae McWilliams was chairman of the refreshment committee.

A rummage sale is scheduled for Nov. 20 and 21 with place of sale to be announced later.

Members are reminded to bring a $1 gift for exchange at the Dec. 9 meeting.

Murph Reports

By DON MURPHY

One of the most talked and wondered about thing in Tecumseh right now is, "How is our new Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation Drive Progressing?"

At this time I don't have all figures, but I will say that it is going to surpass all of our hopes for this year's drive if people keep on donating.

We have completed the drive in industry and I would like to say that plants and employees have done a terrific job. Joe Fortunato, chairman of the industrial drive, is to be congratulated on the outstanding job he did in getting all industry to work through their supervisors, the response is terrific.

To folks who will be called on at home for your donation, I would like to say this, "If each and everyone of you contribute what you feel you can afford we will take care of all our charities and have our civic center before we anticipated."

We are not asking that you give any fixed amount, but we are asking that you give what you can afford and you will be surprised what the total will be.

TO GET BACK to the industrial drive I will say that the average given by the men and women working on the lines in our factories have averaged out at a little over $13 per person.

That is wonderful.

This is the kind of thing that can build our city, that can make it a better city, can give us facilities we need for ourselves and our kids, items that would never be built if it wasn't for this whole hearted community giving.

The terrific impact of the results can well mean much more in the future, the fact that each and every person that gives to this drive, no matter what the amount is, can look at the result and say, "I Helped."

In my short time in Tecumseh I have found that the people take pride in their city, the appearance of their homes, lawns, trees, shrubbery.

After the results of this drive, takes shape, you will also be proud of it, because you, if you gave to the drive, are responsible for its being here.

Remember, when you are called on, GIVE WHAT YOU CAN AFFORD.

Also remember, that there is a possibility that you may be missed in this drive, and if you are, just mail your contribution to the Chamber of Commerce and you will be credited with it.

Wrap 'Em Right

According to postmaster Jack G. Metcalf, 24,054,103 letters and 622,336 packages failed to reach their intended receiver in fiscal 1958.

This was because of incomplete addresses, or illegible addresses, or inadequate wrapping, or some other major fault in preparation.

"This year, as in other years, most of the cards and parcels mailed at Christmas will be delivered as intended," says Postmaster Metcalf.

"But, also as in other years, some letters and parcels will fail to accomplish their important missions. Carelessness, and guess work, and haste will doom many well-conceived pieces of mail to early death."

Most of the letters and parcels that end their careers in dead-letter offices could have been saved by application of one or more of these simple rules:

1. Address mail fully and clearly. Write legibly or print plainly, and avoid abbreviations.

2. Use the 4c letter rate on Christmas cards. Be certain a return address is printed in the upper left-hand corner of both Christmas cards and parcels.

3. Do not enclose coins or hard objects of any kind in letters. Canceling machines often damage such letters and their contents.

4. Make certain that parcels are well packed and securely wrapped in heavy paper and securely tied with substantial twine.

5. Gifts of a delicate nature, such as glass, China, electrical appliances, radios, musical instruments, should be marked "fragile". Foodstuffs should be marked "perishable" if subject to spoilage.

6. Parcels should be insured, and letters of real value should be registered. Where proof only of delivery is required for letters of no intrinsic value, certified mail should be used.

Any post office will furnish upon request and without charge a copy of the pamphlet "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels For Mailing." Answers to all questions regarding the postal service are available by calling 303-R.

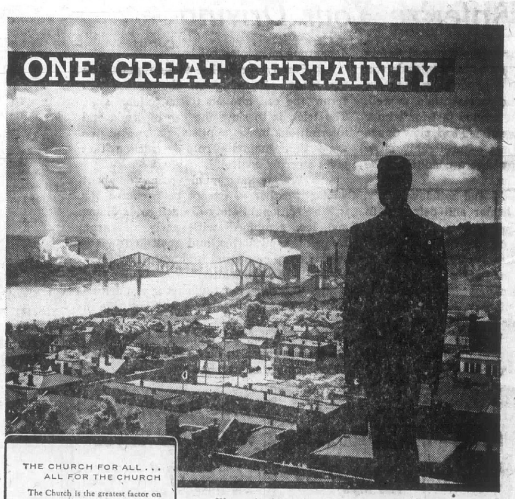
FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED
. . . ATTEND CHURCH !



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Ecclesiastes	4	1-6
Monday	Psalms	102	25-28
Tuesday	Daniel	2	20-23
Wednesday	Hebrews	1	5-12
Thursday	Hebrews	13	6-8
Friday	Psalms	115	15-18
Saturday	Psalms	1	1-6

We go back to the old homestead, the old home town. Perhaps we have long anticipated that visit, but now we find that the changes are so disillusioning that we don't care whether we ever return. We meet a friend of years gone by and hardly recognize him. He too has changed. We compare the face reflected from our mirror with old photographs and realize that, without knowing it, we have changed. We try to use a map of yester-year only to discover that it is out of date.

We shudder a little as we wonder if there is anything that remains the same.

The Church tells us that there is. Through the centuries it is the one institution which points to the unchanging God, "the same yesterday, today, and forever." Worship customs may differ, but every Christian congregation seeks to lead men to the one great Certainty, which is God. That is why you will want to start attending church regularly. Here is peace. Here is assurance.

Farmers Search for More Space To store Corn

With an estimated 1959 corn crop of 25% more than in any previous year, farmers are searching for additional storage space for their 1959 corn, which is reported to be in excellent condition.

The Lenawee County committee stated that there has been a considerable increase in the activity on the price support program and also the facility loan program where producers may finance the purchase of new grain storage.

With an estimated yield of over 138 million bushels of corn the current market has been considerably below the support price and spotlights the need for additional storage to promote more orderly marketing.

He offered the following advice to all corn producers:

If your corn is looking for a home and you are unable to locate warehouse space, consider the advantage of purchasing additional crib space for the farm. Loans are available at 4% at your local county ASC office for the building or purchasing of new farm storage.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Sizing-up" the Situation

When a lady in our town's looking for a new dress . . . her first target is Sandy Philip's Shop. The other day I finally asked Sandy how come he's been so successful.

"Well," Sandy said, "I've always treated my customers with courtesy. And my secret ingredient—which isn't really a secret—is flattery.

"Whenever a new shipment of dresses comes in, I cut off the size markers in every dress—and make them a size smaller. Size 16 becomes size 14 and so on. Course, all the ladies know I change the number—but they like it. Helps them pretend their figures are a little better than they really are."

From where I sit, we all like to think the best of ourselves—often "shrink" the truth to do it. Reminds me of people who claim they're not prejudiced then turn around and argue against a neighbor's choice of a glass of beer. Even a little intolerance is too much in a person or in a town—and that's exactly the size of it.

MARDA GENE DUNCAN'S

Thru My Window

BUT IT SEEMED SO EARLY

October 26 — truly, a blue Monday. Weather-wise, it had been a bad week end, cold and wet. Monday started out with little hope for anything better. Intermittingly a nasty misty rain fell and although by noon the rain had stopped, it remained a dull, drab and dreary day.

The gray sky had a pouty look and we had to keep checking the calendar to reassure ourselves that a snow storm wasn't in the offing. After all, it was only October 26.

Our west window picture was "absolutely nothing" until suddenly, just after lunch time, wow! business everywhere!

It was almost as if the birds and squirrels, having suffered through days and days of rain, had received inside information that for the next few hours at least there would be no storms and they were going to make the most of it.

First, a Fox Squirrel, looking fat and well fed, all bundled up snug and warm in his new fur coat, came to the feeder for a leisurely corn luncheon.

Next, we noticed much scurrying and scratching through the leaves on the ground—the Little Red Squirrels were taking turns under the walnut tree.

So busy were they at their own tasks of gathering walnuts that, for a change, their larger cousin was allowed to eat in peace.

WHILE WAITING for the big feeding tray to be vacated and thus made available to them, a large flock of Sparrows was milling about. Their attempts to hurry squirrel by chattering at him from the awning, swooping low—in, dive-bombing tactics and even becoming so bold as to light for a brief second on the feeder itself were glaringly unsuccessful.

He was not going to be rushed and they were just going to have to wait their turn—and wait they did.

Meanwhile, two Blue-jays had found the ear of corn on the fence and were busily engaged at methodically stripping it, kernel by kernel.

Downey Woodpeckers, the up-side-down Nuthatches and the part little Tufted Titmice had also come out of hiding and were quickly reducing to nothing the suet cake in the small feeder.

Therewa s so much going on that it was hard to keep track of everything. When finally the Fox Squirrel left the big feeder, the birds flocked in and, as the Sparrows had to share the scratch-feed with the other feeder regulars, it was a busy busy feeding station we watched.

Suddenly however, something new, something different caught our eye—a flash of black and white.

BUT IT JUST couldn't be. It was too early, much much to early. They couldn't possibly be around so soon.

But they were — that black critter and those unmistakeable white feathers on each side of the tail—Juncos.

As they flitted through the tall grass just outside the fence and along the creek bank, they seemed so happy and light hearted. They were utterly unaware and undoubtedly completely unconcerned at what a shock their appearance gave us.

Juncos are winter birds, snow birds, what were they doing around here now.

As the afternoon wore on, the first Juncos were joined by more and more and more until finally there was a good sized flock searching for weed seeds, we gradually began to enjoy the birds for their antics.

An active flock of Juncos is fun to watch, but it took sometime before we saw them as birds and not just forerunners of all the ice and snow and cold to come.

THE SHOCK, the unexpected reminder of winter coming, was just beginning to ease when all at once, what streaked by my window?

Oh, no, it must have been something else. It couldn't, it just couldn't have been a Chick-a-dee. We had almost convinced ourself that what we really had seen was some other bird and that the Juncos had started us on "wrong thinking."

Probably there really weren't any Chick-a-dees within 100 miles of Tecumseh, because after all, cold nasty weather would not be with us for some time—I was presenting a rather strong case to myself until there on the window ledge, contradicting me far better with actions than words ever could, perched a little Black-capped Chick-a-dee.

Since the fateful twenty-sixth we have had Juncos and Chick-a-dees almost every day. There first visit was fun, but it seemed so early.

Now however, with the fourth season racing at us in great leaps and bounds, these winter birds seem quite appropriate.

Three Seniors Sent Commendation Letters

Three seniors at Tecumseh High School have been cited for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test last spring.

Each has received a formal "Letter of Commendation" from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Principal Neville Hart announced that the seniors honored are Janet Graham, Karen Hall and Mary Seager.

The "Commended" group were among the 550,000 high school juniors from 14,500 U.S. schools who took the NMSQT last spring.

The test, a three-hour examination covering five separate areas of educational development, was the first step in the 1959-60 Merit Program to be climaxed about May 1, 1960 with the announcement of the Merit Scholars.

The annual scholarship competition offers the largest system of privately financed scholarships in the United States, and is open to all high schools in the United States and possessions.

The Merit Scholarship Program, now in its fifth year, was founded in 1955 with grants of $20 million from the Ford Foundation and $500,000 from the Carnegie Corporation.

It now has more than one hundred sponsors including business and industrial organizations, foundations and other groups.

LT. CMD. RICHARD E. WILLIAMSON

Chance To Win $10,000 Prize

A Tecumsehite, Lt. Cmd. Richard E. Williamson now in Charleston, S.C. with the navy, and his wife left Sunday on an all-expense-paid trip to Hawaii.

He was selected to be one of 25 finalists who will compete for the title of America's "cookout" champion at a spectacular, all-day barbecue.

Lt. Williamson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Williamson of 412 W. Chicago Blvd.

He was born in Tecumseh and graduated from Tecumseh High School.

He joined the Navy as an apprentice seaman in 1937 and has risen through the ranks to his present rank.

The championship cookout, designed specifically "for men only," will bring together amateur chefs from all sections of the U.S.

Their recipes won top honors in a competition sponsored by an aluminum company and supervised by a leading American judging association.

Lt. Williamson was selected as a finalist for his "Shrimp,, Oyster Kebab."

He has been cooking for about 20 years and enjoys it with the hobby of fishing. He has acquired an unusual skill in the preparation of smoked fish.

If Lt. Williamson wins the title of America's cookout champion, he will also receive a prize of $10,000.

Stan Musical, first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals and owner of a large restaurant, will be among the contest judges.

'Cow Sitters' Give Dairymen New Vacations

Most dairy farmers will tell you they like their work. Then they'll make one complaint — chores tie them down 365 days a year.

"English and Scottish farmers solve the problem very easily," says Donald Murray, extension dairyman at Michigan State University. "They just call for a relief milker when they want to take a trip. It's as easy as getting a baby sitter."

The idea is starting to catch on in this country. An Ohio artificial-breeding technician does relief milking for $1.25 per hour plus seven cents per mile he must travel to reach the farm.

He charges extra to farmers who don't use his artificial breeding service.

The Ohio "cow sitter" is looking for help in filling his orders. Some dairymen have booked him six months in advance.

Dale Brown of Tecumseh, spent the weekend with his school friend Robert Rowe.

Power Mower Care

The last fall lawn mowing is a sure sign that winter approaches. This is the time to winterize power lawn mowers.

Bob White, agricultural engineer at Michigan State University, says power mowers work for many years if they're winterized properly and stored in a dry place. He advises several steps:

1. Remove grease, dirt and grass with a putty knife or a screw driver. An old paint brush and a liquid solvent cleans sprockets and other trouble spots. Washing with a garden hose also helps.

2. Take off the air deflectors and shields. Then clean the cooling fins on the cylinder head and block.

3. Lubricate thoroughly.

4. If you have a four-stroke cycle engine, warm it up and drain the oil from the crankcase. Refill to the proper level with flushing oil. Then run the engine at a fast idle for several minutes. Finally, drain the crankcase and refill to the proper level. Your operator's manual tells the right oil viscosity and service classification.

5. Drain the fuel tank, carburetor and sediment bowl. You may have to remove the fuel tank on some models.

6. If you've used leaded gasoline in a four-stroke cycle engine, put in enough non-leaded gas to run the engine about 10 minutes. Start the engine and burn out this fuel.

7. Remove the spark plug and pour two or three tablespoons of motor oil into the combustion chamber. Then replace the spark plug. Finally, leave the ignition wire disconnected while you turn the engine over several times. This step puts an oil film over the cylinder wall, valves, piston head and other engine parts.

"Now the mower should be ready for winter storage," White explains. "Next spring, you'll have some more steps before you can give your lawn its first 1960 haircut."

First, remove the spark plug. Pour several tablespoons of a mixture of one-half motor oil and one-half fuel into the combustion chamber.

Second, ground the ignition wire and leave the spark plug out. Turn the engine over several times with a cranking cord. This throws surplus fuel and oil out the spark plug hole.

Third, clean off the surplus oil and insert the spark plug. Then your mower will be ready to roll.

St. Elizabeth NEWSETTES

By DONNA WAGNERS

The third graders are the proud possessors of weather tapes from the Lansing weather bureau.

They are making weather booklets, explaining what they have been learning during the past weeks.

Friday, Father Howard from Detroit was here to talk to the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades about the priesthood and sisterhood.

He told us that there are three signs by which one can reason that he or she has a vocation.

First — one must be healthy.

Second — one must have goodness.

Third — one must have at least average or above average mental ability.

While Father was here he showed two movies, one pertaining to the priesthood and the other to the convent life.

One statement that seemed to impress the seventh and eighth graders was that there is a parish in Detroit with approximately 3,600 children attending religious instruction classes.

In order to provide these boys and girls with every day instruction, 52 teachers would be needed.

Another interesting and amazing statement was made by Father when he quoted Saint John Basco as saying that one out of every three persons has a potential vocation to religious life.

Father suggested that each boy and girl say three Hail Marys every day for guidance in chosing our vocation.

In case you think you might be stung

Some people seem to feel that prescriptions are outrageously priced. The truth of the matter is this: Last year the average American bought about 3 prescriptions for a total cost of around $7.50. An average of less than $3.00 per prescription. Sure, some drugs cost a lot. So do television tubes—for the same reason. They're expensive to manufacture. New and improved production methods, however, bring prices down. Penicillin, for example, costs only a small fraction of what it did when it first came out. Your pharmacist has a professional knowledge of drugs and can tell you this. They are fairly priced. You get what you pay for. We are always pleased to serve you.

BOOK SHELVES

THE ROYAL SUCCESSION
Maurice Druon

While being burned at the stake in the year 1313, Jaques De Molay hurled a curse at the iron King Philip. Within a year Philip was dead. Hardly had the iron king died, when his son, Louis X, followed him to the grave.

The population could not help but see in these two deaths the finger of fate.

THE GIRLS ON THE 10TH FLOOR
Steve Allen

The Steve Allen who captivates television audiences has written a new book of short stories. These are modern in setting and mood and range from broad farce to heartbreak.

SILVER PLATTER
Ellin Berlin

In 1868 John Mackay told his wife Louise that someday soon he would be master and manager of the richest mines on earth; she would have everything he had promised—"the whole world on a silver platter." In 1873 he found his mountain of silver, the heart of the Comstock Lode. This is the story of Louise Mackay, the wife of one of the richest men in the world.

LORD, WHAT A FAMILY
Robert Leckie

This warm, delightful story of Robert Leckie's childhood tells of life with a distinctly likable family, their pranks and problems, religion and revelries. But life with the Leckies was more than uninhibited monkeyshines. Their was Foddy's deep love of books and his habit of reciting poetry aloud, even in the bathroom—between gargles. There was Foddy's insistence on worship with thought and reverence without piousness.

"HE IS BEST OF ALL MEN WHO FOLLOWS GOOD ADVICE"

It is amazing how many people are quick to offer health advice. Without any study or knowledge, they tell you what you should do or take when you are sick. Thoughtless friends are sincere but unfortunately there are many opportunists. Some door-to-door peddlers and sharp mail order promoters consider profits more important then the good their products will do.

Wise men know the only person capable of giving good advice about how to treat sickness is a physician. They also realize when they obtain medicines and health-aids from a pharmacist pledged to consider health more important than immediate great profits, they are always safer.

WON 'EM ALL BEAT ADRIAN

By JIM LINCOLN

The finest Class B football team in the state?

Some undoubtedly would dispute it, but Tecumseh fans (probably Adrian, too) believe it after the Indians soundly trounced neighboring Adrian, 6-0, here Friday night.

The close score belies the game. The Maples were supposed to test Tecumseh but failed on several counts. Fumbleitis prevented the Indians from running up a bigger score in what were the worst playing conditions ever seen here.

From three to four inches of snow covered the field Friday morning. After school officials had the field cleared of snow, a steady rain started in the morning and lasted until midway through the second quarter.

Early afternoon puddles turned into ponds by game time, and one such pond extended 20 yards in length and from five to 10 yards across.

It was apparent from the start that the weather conditions favored the slower Adrian team. Tecumseh's team, paced by a fast, charging line, completely overwhelmed the visitors.

The Indians drove for a score in the first period only to suffer from a fumble on the Adrian 12. The drive had started from Tecumseh's 34 with Mike Green and John Aho running the ends for three straight first downs.

After the Maples punted out to their 48, Tecumseh moved in for its score in nine plays.

Dave Weakly and Dennis Bryan alternated carrying the pigskin to the 15 where quarterback Steve Kruger hit Bryan with a short pass. Bryan, who turned in a terrific display of running, carried to the four.

Senior Halfback Weakly then cut in over left end on the first play to go in untouched for the TD. The attempt for extra point was messed up when the slippery pigskin sailed over place kicker Bob Koffron's head.

The Indians rolled 56 yards in the third quarter to Adrian's 24 where another fumble turned over the ball. When the Maples gained just one yard in three carries, they punted out to Tecumseh's 47.

Another drive was stymied when a wild pass was picked off on Adrian's 23. The Maples moved to their 44 on fourth down with two yards to go, they gambled and lost seven yards trying to sweep Tecumseh's left end.

Despite two consecutive penalties that nullified 12 yards gained in two rushes by Green, the Indians moved to Adrian's 20 where they fumbled away their last scoring opportunity.

Adrian's final chance to pull the game out in the waning seconds flopped with the Indians taking over on the Maples' 20.

Midway in the second quarter, Adrian pulled off its only threat through a freak play.

After taking the kickoff following Tecumseh's score, the Maples were forced to punt from their 43. Tecumseh's line broke through, blocking the punt on the 35. Punter Ed Gallup picked up the ball and ran to the Indians' 35.

Five running plays, including the old statute of liberty, carried the visitors to the 10. Two running plays lost two yards but a penalty against the Indians moved the ball to the seven. Two incomplete passes then turned the ball back to the Indians and ended Adrian's only scoring threat for the evening.

Unhearlded Bryan paced the Indians with 74 yards by rushing in 12 carries. Weakly rushed for 58 on 15 carries and Green, 54 yards on 12 rushes.

Both Green and Aho were below par for the game but played despite injuries. Aho suffered a badly sprained ankle two days before the game and Green was in Herrick Hospital for two days last week with a back injury.

The entire game was dominated by Tecumseh's line which consistently outplayed its rivals. Adrian quarterback Gary Phipps attempted eight passes, completed only two, but seldom had time to get set to throw.

The visitors' ball carriers had similar trouble, gaining only 89 yards, and just one first down in the second half.

Tecumseh's 1959 team will go down in the school's history as one of the finest ever fielded here. It had speed, size and know-how plus the best in coaching.

Coach Dunc Lectka and his assistants for the second straight year exhibited a finely coached team, one which improved rapidly as the season wore on.

DELIRIOUS WARRIORS—Seconds before the shutter snapped, Tecumseh had shutout Adrian and concluded an undefeated season. Coach Dunc Lectka was mobbed by his gridders and hoisted upon their shoulders. No one cared that the mentor's clothes were covered with mud—least of all Dunc. It was a fabulous season, first without a defeat here since 1941.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

There were several thousand delerious Tecumsehites about 9:30 Friday evening.

They had reason to be proud as punch. Their football lads had won the biggest of them all — clobbering Adrian.

As you'll see in Jim Lincoln's colorful account of the muddy contest, the Indians outclassed the Maples in every department.

A toast to Duncan Lectka for bringing us such a top-flight grid-iron group.

A toast to his warriors, who were all heart and a mile wide.

Not the least of the joyous group was the prodigal mascot-come-home, Bootin' Pusay.

He was almost as mud-caked as the football fellows, what with excitedly dashing up and down the sidelinss.

Bootin' promised he'll be back next fall, in time for the opening game.

A High School gal gave her mom a hurry-up call Monday morning.

She was wearing a nylon slip and an orlon sweater and whenever the garments rubbed together static electricity sparked all over the place.

It was about to embarass the poor gal to death, so mother hurridly got her excused for a quick change.

Moral, don't mix these new magic fabrics.

Tecumseh's last unbeaten football season goes way back to 1941.

The Indians that year won eight straight, allowed their opponents but six points and won the Lenawee county title.

The coach was just getting into the teaching game. His name? Neville Hart.

One of the interesting points brought out by last sumer's readership survey was that folks wanted more church news.

We're finally getting around tackling that project and we'd like to run some sort of church column each week.

There are 21 churches in this area and certainly each should have a good, general-interest story every now and again.

If various churchmen will send us articles, we'll start running a church column.

Some of our business forecasters say 1960 will be a boom year, best since 1955, if the steel situation rights itself.

Others aren't as optimistic.

However, one little tidbit that showed up on our desk should have its affect upon Tecumseh—and all for the good.

At a recent gathering in Atlantic City, George S. Jones, Jr. of Washington, managing director of the Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute, told a convention that sales in these fields should rise 40%.

Sounds awfully good to us.

Out of the same item from Atlantic City was this cutie:

"Among items on display at the hugh exposition was an air conditioned doghouse."

Still in the realm of the family pet, there is an interesting twist to the tropical fish found at Willis Kilbourn's hobby shop.

He buys them from a concern in Florida which flies the tiny fellows to Michigan in plastic bags, encased in cardboard cartons.

When a shipment is due to arrive, Willis rushes over to Willow Run and brings them to his tanks.

The last ones checked in at 68 degrees, just a couple off their usual temperature.

A death in the immediate family of a key Herald employee last week on press day created considerable confusion to us.

As a result, we couldn't get several important stories ready for the final run and they missed being printed.

State Police Find Body

The body of Mrs. Lyle DesErmia was found minutes after noon on Wednesday about one-quarter mile from where the family automobile had been discovered.

Death was apparently the result of overexposure, coroner Edwin Braun of Adrian said.

Mrs. DesErmia had probably abandoned her car and started walking to the west, where she could have been attracted by a light in a summer camp building, State Police theorize.

Ironically, the light had been left on accidentally and there was no one in the building.

The body was covered by several feet of water in a marshy area.

Her jewelry and purse were undisturbed. The purse contained a large amount of money, which was frozen together. She had been carrying about $600.

As of Wednesday noon, she had not yet been located. The last time she was seen was about 10 p.m. in the vicinity of her home at Wamplers Lake last Thursday night.

State police started the search Saturday night when Mr. Des Ermia reported her missing.

He told officers that he spent Friday and Saturday contacting friends and relatives to her whereabouts.

MONDAY MORNING, the 1955 white Cadillac she was driving was found mired in sand and mud, about 150 feet from the bathing beach in the state park at Wamplers Lake.

Later on Monday, police searched the lake's shore by boat. A search of a one and half-mile area by eight officers in the rolling area also was conducted.

Police said tracks in the snow Friday morning indicated the car was driven into the park either late Thursday night or early Friday morning. A caretaker at the park had remembered seeing the tire tracks.

Adrian Got This One

Last week the city purchased a used pickup truck with utility box for transportation of employees and equipment.

The vehicle cost $595 and was obtained from Mann Chevrolet agency in Adrian.

Some contradictions have arisen in the purchase.

Council was told Monday night that local bids were taken, but Schneider Bros. Garage, Inc. and E. E. Simmons, Inc., Chevrolet and Ford dealers here respectively, report that they were not contacted about submitting bids.

Public Address Tells Grid Fan His Home Burns

"Marion French, you better go home, your house is on fire," said the voice over the public address system at Recreation Field Friday night during the first half of the Tecumseh-Adrian game.

Mr. French and his son, David, were rooting for Tecumseh while Mrs. French was helping with a fish supper at the Eagle Hall when the fire trucks started out N. Evans St.

A neighbor, Mrs. George Brady, had smelled smoke and not finding anything wrong in her own home she looked out the window and the light in the French back yard revealed clouds of smoke coming from the French home.

She called the fire department and also Mrs. French.

The fire started in the basement, cause unknown, and did about $5,000 damage throughout the house.

It apparently had a good start before being discovered.

"Penny," the French's little terrier, not quite 2½-years-old, suffocated on the top step of the basement stairs.

The French family is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Guntzweiler in Herrick Park until the home has been renovated.

Edwads To Play for Holiday Ball

Ken Edwards and his orchestra have been hired to provide the music for the Holiday Ball, Dec. 5, at the Country Club.

The Hospital Auxiliary sponsors the dance and the proceeds are applied towards necessary equipment for Herrick Memorial Hospital.

A FEW GROCERIES and a newspaper were found in the car, which bogged down almost directly across the lake from the Des Ermia home, at 1875 Heights Drive.

The car had sustained some damages. A rear fender and some scraping was inflicted after striking a post in the park. Police do not know how a bumper was damaged.

An instentive foot-by-foot search of the ground from Wamplers, where the car was discovered, south to M-124, was started shortly before noon Wednesday.

A National Guard helicopter was scheduled to help.

About 12 Troopers, assisted by members of the Lenawee county's sheriff office, the conservation department and Onsted firemen, conducted the search.

The Herald Aids in Distribution of Yule Seals

The Herald office has volunteered to be the official Christmas Seal sale spot in Tecumseh.

Thousands of seals have been mailed to homes in our area, and they should have been delivered to your home by this time.

If, for some reason, you have not received your Christmas Seals, The Herald would like to give you this chance to fight the disease that attacks one American every six minutes.

Just drop in the office, and we'll be glad to see that you get your seals.

The citizens of Tecumseh are reminded that not too many years ago tuberculosis was a death sentence.

Christmas Seals have helped save 8½ million lives since they first went on sale, but TB is still the leading killer of all infectious diseases.

If discovered in time, TB can be cured today in a relatively short time — left undetected, it kills as effectively as it always has.

—o—

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS Christmas Seals provide the 'sinews of war' for what must be an unrelenting fight against tuberculosis, and

WHEREAS experience demonstrates that even a modest investment in Christmas Seals of a single purchaser pays off in happier lives and sounder health for young and old, and

WHEREAS tuberculosis remains today as the greatest public health problem in Lenawee county, threatening the health of many men, women and children, and

WHEREAS our Christmas Seal purchases will help salvage lives and reduce the ravages and high costs of this infectious disease, as Mayor of the City of Tecumseh, I do officially,

PROCLAIM the period November 16 through Christmas Day as the annual Christmas Seal Sale, during which time every family is urged to make a generous contribution toward the work of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

Signed: Hugh H. Hanna, Mayor
Date: 11-16-59

Helping Oldsters Program Theme

The Methodist Church in Manchester is the scene of an interesting and creative program this week.

The Older Adult Laboratory School is in progress there.

Directed by the Rev. Walter W. Ryan of Detroit, 16 persons with special interest in working with groups of persons in their sixties and above are being trained for this work.

Included in this group are Mrs. Jennie Temple, Mrs. Vira Bancroft, Mrs. Pearl Pocklington, Miss Vera Gilbert, Mrs. Emma Whitley, and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron.

'Education for Peace'

Mrs. Russell Allen of Adrian was the speaker for 52 members and guests of the Monday Club this week at a gathering in the Aebersold Hostess House.

The theme of her talk was "Education For Peace." She spoke of the rising feeling of nationalism in the world, the underprivileged people of the world wanting to govern themselves.

She said, "Through the United Nations we are taking a step in the right direction, we are talking things out rather than fighting them out.

"A safe world must be worked for day by day and self-denial is necessary for every member of the democracy."

Climaxing her talk she said, "When our world becomes smaller and we rub elbows with all people, we must give up some of our own rights.

It is only as we sit down as equals that we can open all minds, getting rid of the prejudices and misbeliefs about each other, that we are educated for peace."

Dr. Robert Horton will be the speaker at the next meeting, following a potluck luncheon at the Methodist Church.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

By MARY SEAGER

A summary of the recent Teen Club legislature meetings was given to this writer by the secretary, Linda Dicks.

Five new Teen Club rules, which will go into effect immediately, have been passed.

Any Teen Club member can sponsor out-of-town guests at Teen Club dances any number of times; but the guest must be accompanied by the sponsoring member.

Admission charges are: members—15c, sponsored guest—50c, and failure to have Teen Club card, an additional 15c.

Anyone leaving the Teen Club during a dance will be re-admitted only by pre-arranged permission from the adult chaperones.

Slacks, jeans, or any kind of shorts will not be allowed unless specified for a certain dance. There will be no smoking or drinking (alcohol) on the premises.

Soon the Teen Club is going to have a Parents' Night at the Teen Club so that all parents may come up and see the various activities provided for the town's teenagers.

Roger Mead and Mike Fero have been appointed to replace Jim Poley and Larry Hartsell as the senior class representatives on the legislature.

The record purchasing committee has purchased new records for the Club.

There is a correction to be made. The Halloween Dance for the Tecumseh teenagers on Saturday, both at the Senior High and the Junior High, were sponsored by the Community Fund, not the Jaycee's as previously stated.

There was a well-attended Teen Club dance Saturday at the Club.

There was a dance after the Adrian game, sponsored by the FTA.

Mid-term exams are over for another nine weeks. Hallelujah! Report cards will come out next Monday.

The student council meeting of Nov. 12 revealed the Council has at present $571.98 in the treasury with all bills paid.

The Council, members picked to sell programs at the game were Eugene Verrier, Ann Hodges, Inez Boltz, Jon Cook, Mary Ann Mead and Linda Dicks.

Jon Cook reported on the school paper. Mr. Babcock has volunteered to act as adviser and The Herald will again print the paper. Mr. Howard suggested selling subscriptions to alumni.

Tom Walters was appointed chairman of a committee to suggest fund-raising projects for the paper.

The rest of the committee is Kent Lucas, Roger Korte, Steve Kruger, and Dale Tuckey.

Jim Bashore and Helen Miller reserved Feb. 26 for a student council dance for this purpose.

Jon Cook was appointed chairman of the paper advertising committee. Jim Bashore, Mike Fero and Jim Curth are also on the committee.

A subscription committee with Pat Bartenslager as chairman and Jean Hohenstein, Inez Boltz, Audrey Le Fevre and Jim Neitling as members.

A preliminary committee for the student council Variety Show was chosen by the president. The committee is Doris Oliphant — chairman, Dale Tuckey, Steve Kruger, Jim Curth, Jean Hohenstein, and Eugene Verrier.

The sophomore class rings are on display in the show case near Mr. Hart's office. The style will be voted on by the class.

At a senior class meeting Tuesday afternoon a representative of the Teen Tours talked to the class about the different types of tours available to our class.

He discussed the various advantages of air, rail and bus travel. The rules in effect during the tour were also mentioned.

Relative prices for the different tours were discussed, too. Nothing has yet been decided except that the Class of 1960 is definitely going to Washington.

A representative from Adrian College talked to interested college prep seniors.

The senior class is having a class party — seniors only—Nov. 20 in the gym and cafeteria. It lasts from seven until one o'clock. There will be games and dancing. Refreshments can be bought.

To be eligible to attend every senior must have their dues paid as far as their senior year. Admission will be 15c.

Now that Tecumseh has ended the football season triumphant, the basketball team is pointing toward equal glory. The basketball team started practice last week. Lots of luck, boys!

The time has come around again to start thinking about The Detroit News Writing Awards Contest. The deadline for entries is January 16, 1960.

Take anything you may have written for a class assignment or in your spare time and have one of your teachers help you classify it.

You may enter only one article or story in each division, but may enter as many different divisions as you want.

In all probability, your entry will be one among roughly 10,000. It will be read by at least three judges, all of whom are educators.

The best papers will be sent to the national contest in New York where there is a possibility of cash prizes.

More definite rules can be gotten from your English teacher or Mrs. Service.

Britton Students

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bigelow entertained 18 members of the junior class of the Britton High School Saturday evening honoring the birthday anniversary of their son, Robert.

Dancing and games were the diversions of the evening.

Doctor's Wife Taken by Death at Only Age 33

Funeral services for Mrs. Archie O'Connor, 33, will be Thursday at 10 a.m. in Clinton's St. Dominic's Church.

She passed away Monday at 4:30 p.m. at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor following serious illness lasting six weeks.

The wife of Dr. O'Connor, a physician in Clinton, she was born March 17, 1926 in Portland, Ore., the daughter of Dale and Barbara Morrison.

She graduated from Portland high school and spent a year in nurses training at Vancouver, Wash.

She married Dr. O'Connor in Portland in 1946 and they lived in North Dakota, Chicago and Ann Arbor while he was obtaining his medical education.

Besides her husband she is survived by her mother; four sons, Rory, 11, John, 9, Kevin, 8, and Dennis, 5, and two daughters, Ilene, 13, and Kathleen, 6.

The Rev. Edward Kalinowski will officiate and burial will be in the parish cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Wednesday evening.

Exchange Club Hears Attorney

The Exchange Club heard a talk on wills by James C. Beardsley.

"It is necessary to first talk about the pros and cons of joint ownership, and then about wills," he said.

Beardsley answered questions at the close of his talk.

A special guest at the meeting was Roger Hewett of Lansing, state president of Exchange.

He reported on the tremendous growth in existing clubs in the state and nation, and the large number of new clubs being chartered.

Other guests at the meeting were Frank Henry of Ridgeway, a past member; and Carlos W. Jones.

Exchangeites turned in their Community Fund solicitation assignment folders at this meeting.

Rambler Sales Going 'West'

Rambler Motor Sales agency will be moved this weekend from the corner of S. Ottawa and W. Pottawatamie Sts., to the Wilson Motor Sales agency building on West Chicago Blvd.

Harvey Wilson, dealer for both agencies, says the move is to improve service facilities and to consolidate under one roof.

The move will be completed by Monday.

Annual Football Banquet for Cubs Will Be Sunday

Players on St. Elizabeth's junior high school football team will be honored at the annual gridiron banquet Sunday evening.

Coach Jack Osburn's 11 ran into a year of bad luck, not being able to turn in a win this autumn.

However, the youngsters thoroughly enjoyed themselves as they learned the fundamentals of the game—blocking and tackling.

Several of coach Osburn's St. Elizabeth gridders have gone on to play well for Tecumseh High School teams.

Carl W. Boyce, 61, of Tecumseh received a traffic summons for an unsafe start after his car collided with an automobile driven by Patrick Porter, 19, of Clinton at the Tecumseh-Macon and Billmeyer Road intersection Nov. 11. Boyce said he came to a near stop and started ahead but didn't see the Porter car.

Officers said Mr. Tilton's car was struck by another driven by Clarence Conklin, 45, also of Tecumseh. There was minor damage to both autos.

Will Sing Anthems

The Luther and Wesley Choirs will sing offertory anthems, and the Asbury Choir will sing "The Lord is Good" by Tye when Methodists gather for worship this Sunday in Tecumseh.

The sermon by the Rev. James D. Nixon will be on the theme "Thanks — Direction and Directive".

"Whom do we thank, and who says so?" are questions Mr.Nixon will be suggesting. "But do our practices live up to our professions? There's the important question for this season," said Mr. Nixon.

Watch Out for Bogus Repairmen

Ernest Robison, 307 S. Evans St., warns Tecumseh residents to beware of the "furnace men" who gain admittance to homes by announcing that they are checking all the furnaces in town for safety reasons.

They were at the Robison hame three weeks ago and told Mr. Robison that his chimney needed fixing, but he disagreed and sent them on their way.

Mr. Robison later saw an item in The Saline Reporter telling of a hoax these so-called furnacemen used to steal from their "customers."

Two men took between $2,500 and $3,000 from the home of Mrs. William Stierle and her sister, Lindsay McKinnon, at 304 N. Ann Arbor St., Saline.

Saline Police said Tuesday morning that another instance of the fake chimney repairman had been uncovered in Ypsilanti.

The officer also said that Mrs. Stierle seemed positive that one of the men was from Tecumseh and had previously done some roofing work for her.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Brows may wrinkle, hair turn gray—
But friendship never knows decay.
All the happiness that a man can know
The friends about him must bestow.
right onto the end.
If I have a friend I can worry along,
My vision may vanish,
My dreams may go wrong;
My wealth I may lose,
or my money I may spend;
But I'll worry along,
If you give me a friend.
Give me a friend,
and my youth may depart;
But still I'll be young
in the house of my heart.
Yes, I can go on laughing
right ont o the end.
Whatever the years,
If you give me a friend.

Group Wants Public To Learn of Work at Guidance Clinic

The local Christian Life and Work Comittee, an affiliation of the Michigan Council of Churches, met at the Episcopal Church, Tuesday evening.

Various items of social concern were brought to the attention of the group including race and literature.

They urge the public to become more informed and interested in the welfare and support of the Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic in Lenawee county.

The next meeting will be held at the Presbyterian Church in January.

Herb Dillon Seeks Contract, Concessions To Handle Dump

By JIM LINCOLN

Ever-changing conditions involving the city dump continued at Monday night's session of council.

Herb Dillon, owner of Tecumseh Hauling Co., announced that his partnership with Allied Disposal Company of Grand Rapids had been dissolved.

The out-of-town trash and garbage pickup company had been praised for its maintenance and supervision of the dump, but criticized for irregular service to residents.

Dillon assured councilmen that he would continue collections under his old contract, but sought several concessions along with a three-year contract.

He promised to maintain and supervise the dump in the same manner as in recent weeks. Several dump maintenance problems, including fires, have been eliminated.

It also has been registered with the state and will now receive periodic inspection.

Concessions asked:

- Rescinding of commercial stickers.
- Authorization to charge for admittance to the dump
- Turning present sticker money over to him to cover maintenance costs.

Council approved the turnover of sticker money, after city costs were deducted, and also monies amounting to $400 from two townships, which use the dump.

In his proposal to council for a three-year contract, Dillon suggested limiting the dump to a five-mile radius and exclude villages in that area.

Although his present contract does not expire until Oct. 1960, the suggested starting date for a new contract would be February 1960, on the expiration of stickers now used by residents.

No action was taken on the proposal until after Council had an opportunity to study it.

IN OTHER action Council approved city manager Ed Nelson's report on construction and the appointment of Steve Illeck as Civil Defense director here.

'We'll Stay Here' President Tells Blissfield Folks

"We've decided to stay in Blissfield."

That's what Orville Farver, president of Blissfield Manufacturing, told an audience of 400 at a dinner there Friday evening.

company in appreciation of help rendered during and following the company's recent $1-million fire.

Special guests were all firemen from eight departments who helped subdue the blaze. Their wives were also on hand.

When Mr. Farver made his opening statement, the crowd roared its approval.

The announcement prompted Blissfield Advance editor Duane DeLoach to produce an extra Saturday morning. Its bold, black headline proclaimed, "We'll Stay Here."

The special issue was distributed through much of the county.

IN TELLING of the decision to remain in Blissfield, Mr. Farver, who resides in Tecumseh at 701 Red Mill Dr., said:

"It's true we've looked around". General laughter, some of it closely akin to tears, greeted this sally. Mr. Farver referred to a variety of tempting offers he received from many other communities to relocate his plant.

"But our decision to stay in Blissfield has been motivated by many factors. In the first place, we wanted to stay in Blissfield if we could. Our employees live here, most of them own their own homes, they need the jobs that an industry like ours can provide.

"Secondly, my life-blood has gone into this plant for the last 14 years. We've made quite a name for ourselves in the refrigeration industry. I am not one who gives up easily. We've licked obstacles before.

"Some of the inducements to locate elsewhere were pretty strong.

"But we had to find out just how much the community of Blissfield really wanted us. In our conversations with the union, with your council and mayor, with other business men and with your township supervisor, we have arrived at a satisfactory understanding.

"WE HAVEN'T asked any particular favors, and we want none. We're going to need your continued cooperation. Any industry you invite to Blissfield needs that.

"I don't want to say too much about this, but I've advanced a couple of ideas to some of your village officials who came out to see me. One is that Blissfield ought to become a city. The other is to establish an equitable tax base, perhaps with the help of disinterested outside appraisers.

"For the time being, we have temporary facilities all over town. So far, all our efforts have been directed toward cleaning up after the fire, getting our production going again, and filling our customers' orders."

"That comes first with us. In two short weeks, we simply haven't had time to get contractor's estimates, know whether steel is available, or secure insurance adjustments. We've got a lot to figure out first.

"When we do, you folks will be among the first to know. And to all of you who helped us during and after the fire, this appreciation dinner was our way of saying 'Thank you.' We are glad you could come."

Wilfred Waldron Named Chairman for Township

"Powdered milk has been taken of the list of surplus commodities available to Church World Service for Overseas Relief Work," according to Albert Farmer, National Director for CROP.

"This means that powdered milk, probably the most important item in the diet of 10,000,000 refugee children around the world, will have to be purchased from CROP donations in the future."

Lenawee county CROP canvassers are seeking one carload of soybeans for the 1959 campaign, which closes November 30, 1959. Give soybeans (or other grains to be exchanged for soybeans) o reash to your local canvasser or send your contribution directly to Willis Moore, Courthouse, Adrian, Michigan.

Be sure to label it "For CROP."

Wilfred Waldron is Tecumseh township chairman.

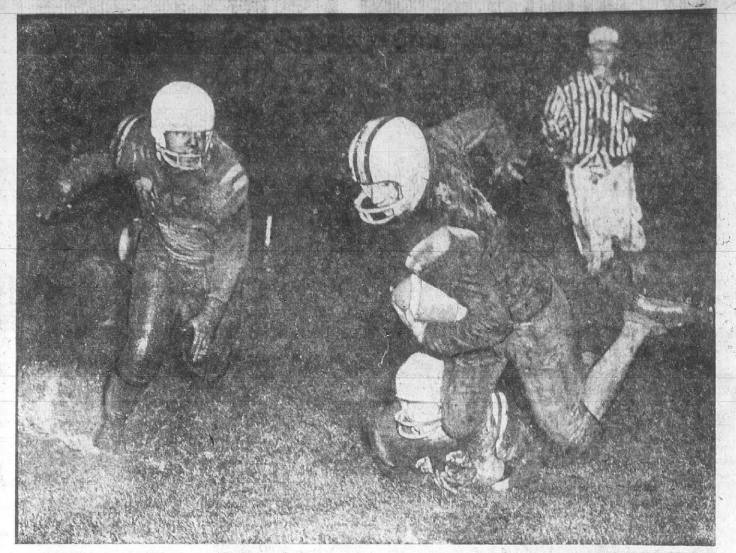
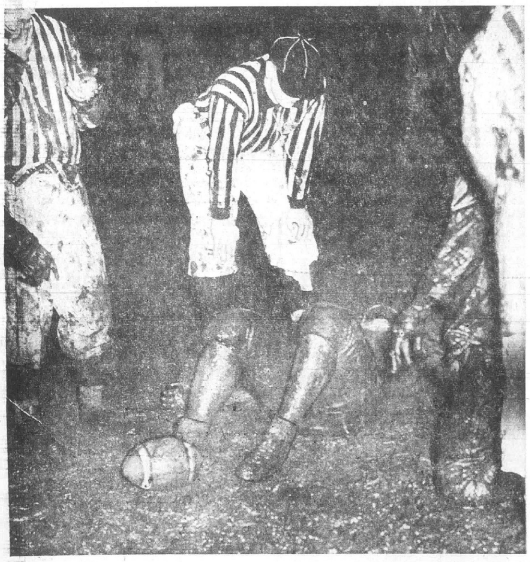
NEITHER RAIN NOR MIRE—That's the letter carrier's theme, but Tecumseh followed it to a T—in fact a TD—Friday against Adrian. Under the worst possible conditions, the Indians ran and passed as if they didn't know the field was a mess.



HE SCORED IT—Halfback Dave Weakly, who scored Tecumseh's big TD to beat Adrian, flies around end. A consistent performer all season, Dave scored 55 points in Tecumseh's nine straight wins, topping by one point team mates Mike Green and Jon Aho, who each tallied 54. This year, 12 markers were nullified by penalties—another 72 points.



I SHALL RETURN—Jarring Jim Neitling didn't exactly say that, but he could have. He was racked up late in the game (above) and had to be helped off the field (below) by Tom Simmons and Dale Tuckey. One play later, Jim was back in action. His injury was a bruised leg muscle,

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1959

Some Night!

Snow and rain, much of Thursday and Friday, turned Recreation Field into a sea of goo and icy water. Moments after the kickoff, every player on the field looked alike. Painted stripes on the Tecumseh helmets were the only distinguishing marks.

The gridmen may have looked alike in their suits of gumbo before the ball was snapped. But once the action began there was a world of difference.

The Indians were determined to win and they charged with a blazing drive, tackled so hard the thuds were heard 'round the field.

Everyone watching was pretty well soaked or had wet feet —but the fans on the Indian side grinned as though each one had held a winning ticket in the Irish Sweepstakes when the final seconds of the game ticked off the clock.

Coach Duncan Lectka was quick to praise the terrific line play.

"Tremendous" was the first word he said of Jim Neitling and Jim Curth. "Roger Korte played the best game I have ever seen him play." Charley Baird also was lauded.

Jim Poley and Tom Walter turned in their finest performances, according to the Indian mentor. Tom Simmons, an offensive guard who led blockers on many plays got an "excellent game" from his coach.

The backs, who have won applause all season, were exceptional in shutting out the Maples. Several of the key performers—both front and back—are returning next season and the coach is already thinking of 1960.

He'll have Dennis Bryan, Bob Koffron, Clarence Champanois, Jr., Mike Green, Dale Tuckey, Raymond Sweet, Larry Titley and Mike Robison to mention a few.

Look to Grid Future

What a ball game!

Through the mud and the mire, Tecumseh's football team shone bright and clear. Our whole community can be proud of its coach and gridders.

Folks who saw the Indians smash down Adrian will not soon forget it.

Now we look to the future.

The Herald wishes to make three suggestions, in order of importance:

1. Our field needs new lights. The present "open type" have been used since 1941 and offer only about 60% of standard football field illumination.

2. Permanent seating should be doubled. Present stands, which can seat 1,200 cost about $16,000. An identical seating pattern could be placed immediately to the south of present stands.

3. The entire gridiron should be fenced in, thus keeping spectators away from the sideline. With Friday's field, a serious accident could have resulted by players skidding off the field.

Up-to-date lighting has been badly needed here for at least 10 years. Poles should be removed from their positions next to the field, a dangerous situation, and placed behind the stands, well away from the gridiron.

Inadequate seating has kept the crowds down and thus the receipts. We're sure home games would have attracted twice as many fans had the field offered 2,400 good seats.

Fencing can help control crowds, for the good of spectators and players. It's not a major point, but one deserving consideration when any kind of renovation program is discussed.

Wanted: Men from 23 to 50

A security police force, to help in time of major emergencies, is being organized in Tecumseh.

Men between 23 and 50 years of age are sought to make up Civil Defense force of 100.

These men can do a tremendous amount of good for our community should there be a tornado or giant fire.

Such catastrophes often spawn vandalism and looting. The security police would be charged with the responsibility of aiding people and preventing these sad after effects.

Steve Illeck, local CD chief, will accept candidates — who'll be given a complete training course — in the city hall on Dec. 7.

If you want to join, sign up then.

Trailer Court Missionary

Mary Murray, trailer chapel missionary from the Detroit area, was speaker at the Women's Society of the First Baptist Church Monday.

Ruth Daniels, missionary for 48 years in India, said a brief "Hello" to the ladies enroute to another meeting.

She was the first missionary that Miss Murray had ever seen as a child and was the one who challenged her to give her life in mission work.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars . . . and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want . . . and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thunk of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence-on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"...a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Mark and Melissa Celebrate Birthdays Sunday Afternoon

Grandmas, aunts, uncles and cousins by the dozen were present Sunday for the joint birthday celebration of Mark and Melissa Howard at the home of their parent's, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Howard, 16301 Staib Rd.

Mark is six-years-old and Melissa is one. After a light lunch, Mark, with the help of his cousin, opened many gifts.

Family movies were shown which provided a lot of hilarious laughter due to the "talents" of the various cameramen and the antics of the best scene stealers in the world—children.

Six little school friends had helped Mark celebrate his birthday anniversary the previous day with a lollypop hunt.

They were James Hale, Greg and Joey Burns, Linda and Eddie Solarski and his sister, Kimberly.

Water Usage Tops 4-Year Average

By CAL ZORN
City Engineer

Water consumption in Tecumseh for the summer six months of 1959 increased 16% over the previous four-year average.

Of the total amount used between April and Oct. 1 industry used 66% commercial and residential usage was 22% and 12% for fire protection, water and sewer main maintenance, and losses.

Accompanying this article is a graph showing the water pumpage in millions of gallons per month for 1959, 1958 and a four-year average.

Starting in May of this year, each month shows an all time high for that month.

Meters are read every six months, in March and again in September. Billings are April 1 and Oct. 1.

Water rates are as follows:

BUD GUEST IN TECUMSEH—The members of the MEA will hear Mr. Guest at the district meeting Saturday, Nov. 21, in the High School cafeteria following dinner served at 6:30 p.m. About 200 teachers and their spouses are expected. "Bud" as he has been known since the day of his birth, likes to laugh and likes to hear other people laugh. Well known in the area as a native Detroiter, Mr. Guest will certainly be well received here.

An interesting piece of mail came through the Tecumseh post office last week, straight from the White House.

It was promptly delivered to 108 S. Union St., the residence of the Rev. and Mrs. B. O. Bashore.

Dear Mr. Bashore,

It has been brought to our attention by one of your congregation that you share a birthday with the first Lady on Nov. 14.

Mrs. Eisenhower has asked me to send you her very best wishes for your happiness on this occasion and always. May I add my own felicitations for your birthday!

Sincerely,
Mary Jane McCaffree,
secretary to Mrs. Eisenhower

In answering, Mrs. Bashore mentioned that Tecumseh is called the Refrigeration Capital of the World.

She wrote,

"From our capital to yours our very best wishes to you on your birthday, Mrs. Eisenhower, and may God grant you and our president many more years of health and happiness as you continue to serve mankind.

"Most sincerely,
"Mrs. B. O. Bashore

"P.S. My husband loves to play golf too."

HELP CHILDREN AVOID TROUBLE.
To them, a package of pills or tablets, or a colorful bottle of medicine is a fascinating toy.

MEDICINES CAN BE DANGEROUS.
If a large enough amount is absorbed, any medicine can become poisonous. Too often prescriptions, which are perfectly safe to take in their proper dosage are carelessly left where little children can get at them.

PLEASE DANGER-CHECK YOUR HOME NOW.
1. Collect all medicines and put them in a place impossible for children to reach.
2. While doing this throw away everything that is old, or with contents you do not know.
3. Then, when you finish taking a dose of any medicine, don't carelessly leave it exposed to tempt children, but immediately place it away from their reach.

ALWAYS READ THE LABEL OF ANY MEDICINE.
Never give or take any medicine without reading the label and directions to make certain it is the exact one you want.

PHARMACISTS ALWAYS CHECK LABELS.
While compounding prescriptions, we read the label of each ingredient when we take it off the shelf. We carefully read the label again before we compound the medicine. We next, for the third time, check the label and contents before we dispense the prescription. If you will be as careful, you will prevent trouble.

When Helping Needy, Clear Preparations

Do you know of someone who might need asistance?

The Tecumseh Service Club, an agency within our Community Fund, has the job of organizing and administering help to deserving people in the area.

First of all, call the club at 217-J or 118-W, so that your efforts can be coordinated with other groups.

It is possible that several clubs unknowingly might be planning to help the same family, while others receive nothing.

In the past, much more has been accomplished if the Service Club has information and all assistance has been cleared through the group.

OFFICERS ELECTED at annual meeting of the Service Club last week in the city hall.

Mrs. Frederick F. Dickinson— president.

Mrs. Ben Gillies — vice-president.

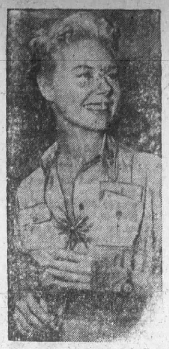
Mrs. Earl Roe—treasurer.

Mrs. Warren Puffer — secretary.

The Board was disappointed in having only one organization represented in response to an appeal for attendance at the meeting.

However, prior to the meeting calls were received from six other organizations unable to send representatives, but expressed their desire to assist in the holiday work.

The Community Fund allocates $1,200 to the group for its work.



COMING — Mitzi Gaynor, as as "Honey-bun" in this scene, will star in the movie "South Pacific", which sarts at the Strand in Tecumseh Dec. 2.

The Boy Pioneers have been making Christmas gifts for their parents.

MARDA GENE DUNCAN'S

Thru My Window

TO THE RESCUE

Well, Marda, what is this article going to be? What have you been seeing through your window? What is new — what is exciting? What? What? What?

Such was my unhappy state of mind as the deadline for this article approached.

To say that nothing had been going on outside would be a slight exaggeration of course, because in the world of nature, there is always something.

For the past week however, the "something" had been so commoplace that there was no article material about it.

I suppose we have been lucky in that most of the time "Through My Window" has been running, there have been few weeks when we weren't blessed withideas, usually there has been a backlog of events from which to pick and choose.

They say though that there is a first time for everything and, as day after day went by with only the ordinary birds coming to the feeder in the usual manner, it was beginning to look as if our "unpleasant first" had arrived.

Was my window really going to let me down?

THE ZERO HOUR was approaching fast. For so long bird-watching had been so unrewarding that as I glanced out the window it was more by way of day-dreaming than actually looking with the expectations of seeing something.

I didn't day-dream for long however, because the trees along the creek bank, especially the two nearest, were alive with birds. And glory be, it wasn't the usual flock of Sparrows.

Cedar Waxwings. What a thrill, they were more than ample reward for a slow week. We don't see Waxwings often and when they come it is always the same way.

All of a sudden, they are just here. No fuss and commotion announces the arrival, no special time schedule do they follow and their visits are always quiet and dignified.

So quiet in fact, that it is entirely posible they come around much oftener than we realize.

Even though traveling in flocks they are not fighting, noisy, arguing birds (how unlike the Sparrows) so unless one looks out and sees them, their presence could easily go unnoticed.

ONCE SPOTTED however, there is no mistaking a flock of Waxwings. For one thing, their very polite, mannerly conduct is most noticeable.

Appearance-wise, they seem at first glance dull and drab but a close look reveals a soft brown coloring accented with highlights of bright red and yellow.

The most noticeable yellow is on their tails, they look for all the world as if the birds had deliberately backed up to a can of the most vivid-yellow paint, they could find and carefully dipped just the very tip-ends of their short rather blunt tails into it. This little stripe of yellow is a good field mark.

As mentioned before, the birds seemed concentrated in the trees along the creek bank. The leaves had about all dropped so our view was unobstructed.

The Waxwings were active and apparently their most urgent business was bathing. Unfortunately they by-passed our small bird bath, the one which stands between the two feeders just outside the window, in favor of a big oversized one, complete with fresh running water and ample room for communal beathing.

The creek makes a wonderful bird bath.

THE WAXWINGS dipped and ducked and splashed and when thoroughly wet flew into the nearby trees to let the soft warm sunshine dry their feathers.

It must have been a perfect day for such things because over and over again the birds "took a swim."

We were having a great time watching them go from trees to creek and creek-to-tree and suddenly it was over.

One by one, as they took their last splash, they came out of the water, and flew, not back to the nearby trees, but into the ones further up the creek.

Before I could be pushed to the telephone to alert Marsha to what was coming their way, the Cedar Waxwings had tree hopped their way out of sight.

So it was that our bad spell of poor looking was ended and oh-so-nicely ended. Thanks to my window for coming to the rescue — just in the nick of time too.

Grange Begins Regular Series for Euchre

Fifty-six attended the first Euchre party held at the Tecumseh Grange Hall for members and friends Saturday evening.

Charles Allen and Mrs. Glen Driscoll were the high prize winners.

Mrs. Walter Wonderly assisted by Mrs. Harold Rohrback had charge of the event.

Another similar event will be held for Grangers and their friends Nov. 28 when Mrs. Rohrback will be the chairman.

As before, those attending are asked to bring doughnuts or cookies. Coffee will be furnished by the Grange.

The next regular meeting will be held Dec. 5, following a pot-luck supper at 7 p.m. The change was made since the regular date would fall on Thanksgiving Day.

City Gets $9,791

The city of Tecumseh will receive $9,791.25 of the county's $190,537.23 from the third quarter of the 1959 Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collection.

The distribution of the fund has already begun.

"TRUTH IS ALWAYS STRANGER THAN FICTION"

Stories have been written about magic potions that could cure disease. But no fiction is as true as the present fact that five or ten dollars worth of antibiotic capsules can now, almost overnight, cure a pneumonia.

The truth is almost unbelievable. Vitamins and Hormones are the fabled "Elixor of Life." They help add years to your living. The greatest miracle of all is that despite the tremendous research expense needed to discover and perfect new medicines, more than half the prescriptions we compound still cost less than $3, which is about the average charge for all prescriptions.

YOUR PHYSICIAN CAN PHONE TECUMSEH 245 WHEN YOU NEED A MEDICINE

Pick up your prescription if shopping near us, or let us deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Gridder Named to Chorale

DENNIS BRYAN WITH MUSIC "COACH" LES BENNETT

Dennis Bryan is not only an outstanding football halfback — as he displayed against Adrian — but also a fine singer.

A junior, Dennis passed a try-out and has been accepted as a member of the 1960 Michigan Chorale, which will make an eight-week singing tour of Europe next summer.

This marks the third year a Tecumseh High School student, under tutorage of Les Bennett, has become a Chorale member.

In 1958 Jackie Rucker won the honor and last summer Sharonn Muhn was selected.

Dennis transferred to Tecumseh High last year from Britton-Macon. A fleet runner in football, he was understudy to Jon Aho this year at left halfback.

When Aho was badly hobled with an injured leg Friday, Dennis took over the duties most of the game and was a standout. Bryan ran through and around Adrian, grabbed a key pass which set up Tecumseh's touchdown.

DURING THE first two years of its existence, the Chorale numbered approximately 100 singers.

This year, because of limited housing and transportation facilities in some parts of Europe, the group has been reduced to 68.

Selection of Chorale members was made by Lester McCoy, the director, after listening to outstanding eleventh- and twelfth-grade singers from high schools within a 65 mile radius of Ann Arbor.

Passing the tryout is just the first step for Dennis in a long climb of weekly rehearsals to memorize his part in choral work and personal appearances to help earn the $850 needed to pay expenses.

Finally, he will be ready to appear on the concert stages of Europe and share the living rooms of European families.

Dennis is a member of the Tecumseh High School Chorus, and also the madrigal singers, a small group of six boys and eight girls who specialize in accappella singing.

He intends to go out for basketball.

Police Win Praise

Duties of a policeman are many and varied — each is performed with tact and friendliness.

Tecumseh's department rated an "A" this month on all points, based on a letter received here from a stranger in need.

The stranger happened to be a member of the Michigan House of Representatives and here is what he wrote chief George Kilbourn:

Dear Sir:

Late in the evening of November 5th, I had the misfortune to run out of gas near the junction of M-50 and M-52. I had to hitch-hike to Tecumseh and then try to find a gas station open.

I would like you to know that I stopped at the police station for assistance and I do not believe either the officer on the desk or the officer in Car No. 8 knew that I was a Member of the Michigan Legislature. Both officers treated me with extreme courtesy and went out of their way to assist me. These two officers exemplify what is good in a police force.

The 99.9% of the police officers of this country who continually go out of their way to help people and who so often are called upon to risk their lives and endanger the livelihood of their families receive too little publicity. The one "bad cop" that occasionally sticks his head up out of the muck is the one splashed all over the newspapers.

Not knowing that I was a public official leads me to believe that any citizen would receive similar aid from the police in your City. Your department is to be congratulated

Sincerely,
HUGH SMALE

ON MY OWN
Eleanor Roosevelt

In this volume one of the greatest and best-loved women of our time shares the experiences, private and public, of her thirteen years since the death of FDR. She describes in intimate detail the problems she had to solve after her husband's death, winding up his affairs and working out a pattern for her new life. On her own, and at an age when most women take their ease, she entered upon an important new career as demanding and rewarding as any she had ever known.

THE RAW EDGE
Benjamin Appel

Unrelenting in its forceful protrayal of the New York waterfront, this is a tough and convincing novel. Vividly presented are the greed and struggle for power in this richest port in the world. The author brings to life the teeming picture behind the scenes, from longshoremen to top bosses, and the relations of both with the gangsters and thugs who infested the unions.

THE SOUTHERN CROSS
Peter French

This is the exciting story of men to whom the call of the sea was clearer than the voice of any woman; men who defied death to bring home the trade that was eventually to make America the world's richest sea power.

COCKTAIL TIME
P. G. Wodehouse

You are about to meet the usual Wodehouse zany characters. For instance, Frederick Altmount Cornwallis Twisteton, more commonly known as Uncle Fred. He is addicted to practical joking. It is therefore inevitable that the sight of a slingshot which operates with Brazil nuts should greatly inspire him.

THE MISSION
Dean Brelis

During the struggle for Asia in the Second World War, a young O.S.S. sergeant parachutes behind Japanese lines into North Burma, accompanied by the son of a headman of the Kachin tribe. Out of their work together grows a moving friendship.

BUGLE IN THE WILDERNESS
John Burress

While the bugles of the Blues and Grays sounded in the wilderness of Missouri, while brother fought brother, while families were torn apart in conflict, Billy and his father lived their lives in the shadow of what had happened to Billy's mother. How it affected their lives imperiled their happiness make for a novel that will enthrall every reader.

NORTH FROM ROME
Helen MacInnes

Intricately plotted, fastly paced, this story is enriched by its acute character portrayals, its vivid evocation of Italy, its core of meaning for our time, and the literary grace the author brings to a tale of high adventure.

MONSIEUR JANVIER
Elizabeth Linington

Ringan Monteith was the third son of the chief of the Monteith Clan. For ten years he had found living in eighteenth century Paris much to his liking. Then came the sudden, terrible news, his father, two brothers, and a sister had been betrayed and massacred by the English. Under the whiplash of his Scottish pride, Ringan swore vengeance.

DOCTOR TOM
Peter Wingate

This novel relates the adventures and often the amusing misadventures of an inexperienced young doctor in the jungles of East Africa. It is full of wonderful irrelevancies and a hard core of common sense that makes you know this is just the way it was and probably still is.

Parts Manger Wins Citation and Time Piece

Harold Hall, parts supervisor for the Hoyt E. Whelan Co. was awarded a citation and watch by the John Deere Company.

They were presented to Mr. Hall in a ceremony at the Whelan office last Wednesday afternoon by Ralph Circle, vice-president of John Deere.

The award was in recognition for excellence in management of the parts department.

It was brought about by a specially planned program of parts presentation.

This is a part of the John Deere program for rewarding unusual merit in the dealers and Mr. Hall is the eleventh in the United States to receive such a citation and watch.

The parts center at the Whelan store has long been considered an outstanding display, largely due to Mr. Hall's efforts.

The award was followed by an informal dinner at the Tecumseh Country Club, enjoyed by some members of the Whelan group and the several visitors from the John Deere home office.

4 from Tecumseh Attend Conference at Michigan State

The Michigan Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development held its annual conference at Michigan State University Nov. 5 and 6.

Attending from the Tecumseh school system were Dale Harvey, Doris Jones, Marjorie Morgan and Marguerite Garlick.

The basic theme was "Action on Fundamental Issues in Curriculum: How Do Our Practices Relate to Our Beliefs?"

Discussion groups attended by the Tecumseh district people were provisions for individual differences in the classroom, grouping practices, K-12; provisions for the gifted and talented, how can core curriculum be used effectively?

Areas under discussion were; present beliefs and practices in methodology; the need for intensive study and analysis of teaching and learning in school situations which stress the process of learning as well as the products.

Curriculum changes which would facilitate the emerging personality in achieving a more mature personality, who could acept the self-discipline essential to a free society were also discussed.

Security Police Corps Being Formed for CD Emergencies

Tecumseh is classified as the Civil Defense "Medical Reception Center" for Lenawee and Monroe counties, if a major disaster strikes in the Detroit area.

Should such disaster strike, evacuees would be directed into and through Tecumseh, to be aided during the distress period.

Unquestionably the influx will tax our united efforts in the furnishing of medical aid, further coordinating in the guiding, feeding or possible housing.

Cyclones, hurricanes and major fires may be classified in this catagory.

During such emergency, the city's safety must be safeguarded and be controlled through the assistance of an efficient organized trained corps of C D security police.

All equipment used by the corps will be furnished through CD agency by the Federal government.

On hand in Tecumseh at present is a 200-bed hospital, surgical equipment, dressings, ample serum, blood plasma. A distress and fire alarm system will be installed shortly.

Men who wish to join CD security police will receive a complete course in police work, assist with patrol duty, first aid and communications.

State police instructors will teach in their particular fields to insure well trained reserves to assist in any emergency and develop a streamlined compact reserve corps.

Those interested should register on Dec. 7 at the city hall, states Steve Illeck, Tecumseh Civilian Defense director.

A sure cure for insomnia

You've heard the joke, "The best cure for insomnia is a good night's sleep." Not funny to someone suffering "white nights," but true, nonetheless. Too-frequent use of sleeping pills can be bad. Even if they do not cause true addiction they may have a strong psychological effect. Users sometimes come to depend on them. So sleeping pills—any kind—should be taken only when a physician prescribes, and only in the amount directed.

2,850 People Examined in Clinic

So far, 2,850 Tecumseh-area people have undergone the complete physical examination at a clinic set up in Herrick Memorial Hospital as part of the current Community Health Study.

Goal of the study group: 8,500 folks examined.

That would be 100% of citizens involved in the 8 to 10-year study being conducted by the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

It's the only study of its kind ever attempted in the nation—and a dental exam (see adjoining story and pictures) has been added.

With more than one-quarter of a million dollars made available by the U. S. Department of Health and a Heart Fund grant, the effort is on firm financial grounds.

Started slightly more than two years ago, the study is a mountainous undertaking—a personal interview with every family in the entire community.

This is followed up with the clinic exam.

The population has been divided into segments of approximately 900 people. Each is concentrated upon until as close to 100% as possible has been interviewed and examined before the next group is tackled.

Dental Check Added

Two additions have been made to the Tecumseh Community Health Study, announces Dr. Robert J. Horton.

1. A dental examination will be made of 10% of persons over five-years-old during their visit to the clinic.

2. A lemon drink containing glucose will be given to help in the clinic test for diabetes.

The dental portion has been added primarily to secure research data on disease of the gums.

This examination is conducted by Dr. Homer Jamison, a dentist formerly with the state Department of Health and now a member of the University of Michigan staff.

Taking about 15 minutes, the dental check includes a series of 10 X-rays for those between 25 and 45.

People with dentures are also examined, Dr. Jamison looking for evidence of gum irriation or possible cancer.

As in the case of the medical side of the clinic, reports of the mouth exam are dispatched to each one checked.

These state either:

1. No evidence of ill health discovered.

2. No evidence, others than those troubles which person being examined had already mentioned.

3. Results should be discussed with examinee's dentist since results indicate need for additional tests and treatment.

A report is also dispatched to family dentists.

STUDY GATHERS DENTAL DATA—A new segment of the Community Health Study here is a dental examination, made as part of the visit to clinic in basement of Herrick Memorial Hospital. Dr. Homer Jamison of the University of Michigan, conducts the checks, assisted by Mrs. Willard Exelby, who records findings. Being examined here is Carolyn LaLonde, 506 N. Evans St. In photo at right, Dr. Jamison prepared to make X-rays. Ten are shot. This portion of the Health Study is primarily to acquire information about diseases of the gums. In the case of people with dentures, the dentist looks for signs of irritation and possible cancer.

Hospital Seeks Volunteer Help in Arts, Crafts

Ypsilanti State Hospital recently lost three of its occupational therapists.

The present staff totals seven therapists to handle the needs of programming for 4,100 patients. The loss of these staff members was due to acceptance of positions in neighboring states.

Because of our State's financial plight and re-establishment of the austerity program the hospital will not be able to replace these lost members, at least in the immediate future.

The reduction in staff has caused curtailment of Occupational Therapy activities arts and handcrafts in the three Women's wards of B Building. These patients are without access to the grounds and activities must be carried on within the ward.

One way in which the hospital will attempt to fill the gap is by the use of interested volunteers who can do arts and crafts work and are willing to bring this skill to the patients here.

It is believed that with such volunteer help the remaining staff could attempt to carry on a limited program.

Those interested should contact the volunteers office.

White Grub Damage Found in Wheat

White grub damage is being found in some Michigan wheat fields this fall. Leaves of damaged plants first turn yellow and later brown before they die.

When these plants are pulled up, it is found that they have been eaten off below the surface of the soil.

Generally, several adjacent plants in a row will be attacked with skips of undamaged plants between damaged sections. Spotty damage usually indicates a number of grubs at work.

Control is not practical for white grubs in wheat at this time. Most of the damage has already been done. The grubs head down to get below the frost line as the weather turns colder.

In order to control grubs, an insecticide would have to be applied and mixed into the soil before the wheat was planted.

This would only be recommended where one might expect a high grub infestation, such as when wheat follows a grass sod in the rotation.

Wheat may also yellow in the fall due to powdery mildew. This disease forms spots of powdery material on the leaves during early stages of infection. Leaves later turn yellowed may die as the infection progresses.

Yellowing of wheat in the fall seldom is due to a nitrogen deficiency. Wheat which has received an application of 10 to 15 pounds or more of elemental nitrogen in the started fertilizer will have adequate nitrogen for fall growth.

In some rotations, additional nitrogen may be needed for the spring growth and development of wheat.

WALLACE WINS HONOR

State Chamber Forming

Inaugural meeting of the newly-incorporated Michigan State Chamber of Commerce will be held Dec. 9, in Lansing's Civic Center.

Erwin D. Canham, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce and editor of The Christian Science Monitor, will be the speaker at a dinner meeting climaxing the one-day session.

In announcing the meeting, Robert P. Briggs, chairman of the State Chamber's steering committee, and executive vice-president of Consumers Power Company, said:

"This initial program is designed to give busy Michigan business and professional men a substantial profit, in the form of new ideas and fresh viewpoints, on their investment of a day's time.

"Michigan is the only great industrial state in our nation which is not already benefiting from the services of a State Chamber of Commerce — and Michigan is in trouble.

"It is ironical that our state, endowed with just about every natural advantage needed to assure prosperity, should be less well equipped than other states to handle its business problems.

"We are confident that all of us, working together in an endeavor coordinated by our own State Chamber, can do much to remedy a situation that is of great concern to every loyal citizen of our state."

Included among highlights of the December 9 program will be a talk entitled "Michigan — Which Way?" by Dr. Paul W. McCracken of the University of Michigan, former member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

The luncheon speaker will be Ralph T. McElvenny, president of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. His title will be "Michigan Forward."

Special notification of the inaugural meeting of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce has been received by Tecumseh and all other local Chambers of Commerce and business associations throughout the state.

Real Christmas Bonus — $100 To Be Given Away Each Week

There'll be a real Christmas bonus—$100 each week during December—for lucky folks who visit shops and stores in Tecumseh starting Monday.

This amount will be given away in quartet of prizes each of four straight weeks beginning Friday, Dec. 4.

Limited to people 18 and over, the contestants merely have to drop into Tecumseh stores with the large placards in the front windows. (A complete list of participating shops appears on page 3 of this section.)

With each visit—nothing to buy, no limericks—they can sign a slip, which will go into a container in the store. On the night of the drawing all slips will be picked up about 6 p.m.

At 8 o'clock, the name of the first winner—who'll get $50—will be announced in each store. The winner must claim the prize within five minutes.

Following this, $25 is to be given, then $15 and finally $10. All awards will be in the form of script, good in any store of the 29 participating merchants.

With the first week's fun complete, all chances will be destroyed and a new pattern started the following day. In addition to Dec. 3, other drawings will be held Dec. 11, 18 and 23.

Any unclaimed money will be added to the final evening's jackpot.

The Christmas Bonus give-away is a promotion by the retail division of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce. Cal Damon of Cal's Tog Shop is chairman of the event.

Banquet Honoring Undefeated Squad

Wally Weber, the University of Michigan's man of words, will speak at Tecumseh High School's football bust. Being sponsored by the Sports Boosters, the affair will be Wednesday, Dec. 2 in the gymnasium.

Handling toastmaster chores will be Edgar Hayes, sports editor of The Detroit Times. He replaces Dale McIntyre, who had originally been scheduled for the duty.

Tim Neill, safety director of Tecumseh Products, is chairman of the festivity.

Following the banquet and program, there will be dancing until midnight to a 15-piece orchestra from Jackson.

Everyone attending — tickets are $3 each — will be given a chance to win an autographed game ball.

The evening's guest is a nationally-known figure in both coaching and after-dinner speaking.

Wally carved an illustritious career as fullback for the late Fielding H. Yost.

He played on Wolverine teams of 1924, '25 and '26—the latter two being Big Ten champions.

Following graduation in '27, he tutored Benton Harbor High School for three years, two times winning state titles for that school.

HE BECAME backfield coach of the U. of M. in 1931 under Harry Kipke and assisted in the development of championship crews that fall and again in 1932 and '33.

Wally moved to head freshman coach and served in this capacity until last year.

He has spoken at more than 1,500 banquets in 450 cities from coast to coast. Radio and television also claims Wally, who does before and after game shows for WJR.

Coaches and players of the undefeated Tecumseh team will be given special awards.

$88,800 Is Given to Current Drive for Charity, Center

Donations to date: $88,800!

That's the report of the drive for gifts to the newly-organized Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Primarily set up to provide for charity needs, the Foundation also serves for community betterment in the form of needed buildings and facilities.

Of the monies collected in the last few weeks, $20,300 will be going for the 1960 charity budget. This includes donations to Red Cross, Salvation Army, Leader Dog for Blind and about 30 other state and national agencies.

It also covers community needs—Boy and Girl Scout programs, youth parties, immediate help for needy families in time of disaster.

The remainder makes up the Foundation, which will undertake the construction of a civic center, library and other community structures.

Complete report of the recent drive will be made by general chairman Don Murphy at a meeting of the Foundation's board of directors Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

This is an open gathering and all citizens are invited to attend.

Former President of Bank Here Dies

Guy E. Belding, former United Savings Bank president, died Sunday morning in Sixby Hospital at 3 a.m. where he had been admitted Saturday.

He celebrated his 87th birthday on Nov. 5 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mills Swick and was in apparent good health.

Mr. Belding was born in Leslie Nov. 5, 1872, the son of George and Mary Belding. His wife, Edna, preceded him in death in 1947.

He owned and operated the former Belding Funeral Home here for 42 years before his retirement.

He was a member of the board of directors and president of the United Savings Bank, from its re-organization in 1933 until 1957. He was on the board at the time of his death.

Mr. Belding was a member of the cemetery board for nearly 35 years and had served as president several times. He visited the cemetery almost every day.

Since some old burial records were not too accurate, his knowledge of the cemetery was of great help.

Mr. Belding was a member of the Knights of Pythias, a charter member of Rotary, a 50-year member of the Order of the Eastern Star, the Masonic Lodge and Odd Fellows.

He is survived by several cousins.

Funeral service will be held Wednesday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home with the Rev. Edward Escolme of Damascus, O. officiating.

GUY BELDING

Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Bearers will be Keith Bailey, W. D. Hite, Merlyn Downing, Harvey Carpenter, Mills Swick, James Osburn, Glen Pennington and Joseph Castglione.

Members of the board of directors of the United Savings Bank will serve as honorary pall bearers.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

A week ago, the city purchased a used $595 truck from an agency in Adrian.

City manager Ed Nelson has told me that it has always been his policy to buy everything possible in Tecumseh.

A city employee did informally check around at local agencies but, he said he was unable to come up with what was required. No formal bids were asked.

Mr. Nelson explains that in seeking bids on used equipment, it is almost impossible to state specifications.

But just the same, I feel that the city made an error on this transaction.

I don't intend to belabor a point, but would like to show what happens when business goes out of town.

While $595 might not seem to be a lot of money, it still represents more than six-week earnings of the average man.

When that check from Tecumseh is cashed by the Adrian dealer, just how much of that money do you suppose will ever find its way back to Tecumseh?

We'd say not more than 10%, if that much.

What if the check for the $595 had been given to a local dealer. Then what would the community get back?

A conservative guess would be anywhere from 50% to 100%.

The four Tecumseh dealers, along with a lot of other business people and industries and just plain citizens, are the ones who maintain our city.

Ironic as it may seem, the Tecumseh auto men helped pay for a portion of the recently-acquired truck.

They also help give this community some of the finest schools in the state, they contribute to the police and fire department, they aid in the repair of streets, they contribute to the weekly salaries of city employees.

So much for the truck—but still along the same line of thinking.

The Mr. and Mrs. Average Fellow and Gal oftentimes feel they have to drive to some far away place to do their shopping.

It's a free country and I'm only asking you to consider these facts.

First of all, the community has a lineup of fine stores, maybe not like downtown Detroit, but

'Christmas in Orbit'

"Christmas in Orbit" is the theme of a concert to be given by the Tecumseh High School Chorus Monday and Tuesday evenings, December 7 and 8.

It will be presented in the Junior High auditorium.

This production is actually a music-drama with original dialogue written for the speaking parts by chorus members.

The plot involves two space pilots in an endurance orbit around the earth in their space capsule, during the Christmas season.

They will be acting in a specially constructed missle on a separate stage.

Members of the audience will feel that they are also in space, viewing scenes back on earth on the stage. Three stages will be utilized during the performance — the regular stage, the space capsule and the balcony.

All will be used extensively throughout the performance.

The program will also feature a number of dramatized scenes, a dance routine by Suzie Snowflake and Frosty the Snowman, a shopping scene done by the "Madrigal Singers" singing as an echo choir for the rest of the chorus in the balcony.

Also included will be a living room fireplace scene entitled "Chestnuts Roasting on a Open Fire" and a story telling number.

A number of student soloists and ensemble groups will also appear.

The music will include selections from the great sacred classics, Christmas folk music representing many nations, traditional carols and many popular Christmas songs.

Leslie Bennett is directing the effort.

Cantata Open Advent Season November 29

A cantata and program of Advent anthems will be presented Sunday evening, Nov. 29, at 7 p.m. in the Methodist Church.

The entire community is invited to attend.

"The language of sacred music has slight regard for denominational lines", said the Rev. James D. Nixon in announcing this program.

"We hope that our many friends in Tecumseh's 16 churches will feel welcome to this service," he said.

Leslie M. Bennett announced some of the special features of the program which he will conduct. "Rejoice, Ye Christians", a cantata by Buxtehude, forms the principle part of the program.

Soloists include Arthur Schwartz, bass; Ardith Oberlin, alto; and Lee Bennett, soprano. Mrs. Kenton Hunt will be the organist.

The Presbyterian St. Andrew Choir and the Methodist Asbury Choir will sing the cantata.

Later in the program they will be joined by the Luther Choir singing "Infant Holy, Infant Lowly." The Methodist Wesley Choir will also sing.

"Advent is to Christmas what Lent is to Easter" said Mr. Nixon

Chamber Nears Budget Figure for Coming Year

During the past few weeks, efforts have been made to increase the membership in the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber officials were originally alarmed at the failure of some businesses to return their dues for the 1959-60 year.

In the past few days, however, several firms contacted have paid their dues and the possibilities of reaching budget figures for the year appear likely.

Members last year, and others who wish to join, are asked to contact Chamber secretary Don Murphy. He will explain the dues structure and Chamber functions.

The Chamber, now entering its second year, has worked with local businessmen in promotions, met with companies interested in coming to Tecumseh, plus other community functions and duties.

This bit was gleaned from the bulletin of the First Presbyterian Church a few weeks ago and seems worthy of some serious thought.

How wonderful 'twould be to live where people remembered to always express their gratitude and forgot to express their gripes.

Another meaty little bit of advice, gleaned from the same source, is this. To those chronic complainers of the various organizations, be it church, PTA or whatever. "If you would carry some of the responsibility on your shoulders, you wouldn't have so much room for the chips."

Presbyterian Minister Starts Here December 1

THE REV. JULIAN GRESHAM

The Rev. Julian Gresham of Hamilton, O., newly-elected minister of the Tecumseh Presbyterian Church, will assume his duties here Tuesday.

Mr. Gresham comes to the Presbyterian congregation with its unanimous approval.

The Rev. Gresham was born in Mobile, Alabama, on March 15, 1926.

He is married to the former Rebecca Walton and has three children, Susan Elizabeth, 10; Catherine Rochelle who is 5; and Gregory Paul, 4.

After high school, the Rev. Gresham spent two years in the Marine Corp.

In 1949, he received his degree from Maryville College. He was graduated from McCormick Seminary in 1952.

In June of the same year he was ordained and became the minister of the Pleasant Run Presbyterian Church in Hamilton, Ohio.

MR. GRESHAM stated in making the change to Tecumseh.

"We have helped the congregation (at Pleasant Run) realize its dream of financing and building an entirely new church plant, during our six year ministry there.

"It has been our hope to serve a larger church in a city or suburban area with a varied program of adult, youth and community activities."

Concerning the special services for which Mr. Gresham feels he is qualified, he says, "I have invested considerable time and energy in the field of youth work, not with the idea of limiting my ministry to this area of service, but in order to be better equipped to direct a church program that will give guidance to young people in that period of transition from childhood to adulthood.

"It is a critical point in church life and one that requires serious attention."

His interests are in this order: preaching, and church administration.

BEATNIKS TAKE OVER—Members of the Teen Club staged a real swinging Beatnik Ball Saturday evening, complete with goatees and poetry. (See Mary Seager's column for details.) Here Nancy Beland (left) provides the verse as Sheridan and Judy Mangrum listen. Beatniks on the pad are Eugene Verrier, Roger Fox and Bradley Bruce.

The attendance could have been better at the senior class party Friday night. The party lasted from seven until one.

Everyone played basketball, pingpong, and such games. Dancing ran from nine until one. Refreshments were available for a small price.

Like, man, it was a blast!! Like you didn't hear about the Beatnik Brawl at the Teen Club Saturday night from nine until twelve. Mobs of the coolest cats in town were there to hear impromptu poetry readings by some of the swinging members of the club.

All of the correct threads for the beat kids were on view: dark glasses, jeans, black clothes, sweat shirts, eye shadow in assorted colors for the girls, and hats pulled way down.

Like no one stirred from their pads for the whole evening except to dance. Cool Charlie Rebottaro read some poetry that he improvised on the spot.

Like why don't we do this more often?

The senior government classes under the guidance of Mr. Bronzo spent Tuesday in court in Adrian to learn the court procedures and observe trial by jury in action.

They left the school at nine o'clock and returned at three. They ate in Adrian.

Thanksgiving recess lasted from Wednesday at three until Monday at seven-fifty.

Next week Tuesday the Tecumseh Indians go into action on the basketball court against Dundee here. It begins at eight o'clock.

Let's wish them the luck that the football team had and hope that they have as successful a season.

PHOTOG GOES ALL OUT — Covering the Beatnik party was Herald lensman, Kim Dabe, who looked so sharp we had to turn the camera on him.

LONG & SHORT

still considerably more than adequate on most items.

Just as when the city spends its money in its own community and the dollars revolve here, so it is when you, Mr. Average Joe, do your buying locally.

Don't get the idea we want you to take something you don't like —that's where the merchant has a responsibility to his customers.

But that's fodder for another complete column.

Every so often you'll hear of someone driving miles to one of these auction houses— and coming back, claiming to have literally found gold on the floor.

They don't realize that some of the things they purchased might well have been factory rejects or seconds.

"You get what you pay for," is not an idle phrase here.

Of course, another item auction-buyers fail to realize is that the sale is final and no matter how quickly their "buy" falls apart or needs service, they've had it.

Picture yourself returning two months later to an auctioneer and saying, "My toaster isn't working. Will you please fix it, or give me a new one?" You know the reply.

Now flip the coin over. What if you bought from a reputible dealer in your hometown and something went wrong. You can be sure that the local man would break his neck "to make it right."

After all, his reputation and integrity as a businessman depends on this. His time in the world of business would be short lived if he failed in this regard.

On top of this, the money you spend in local stores will, for the most part, help provide for the betterment of the community in which you live.

Think about this before you rush out of town next time.

Plan Dinner

Twelve men representing four Tecumseh churches met Monday evening in the Gloria Dei Parish House to lay plans for a church laymen's meeting early in 1960.

"We would like to have one meeting this year when the men of the various churches in town get together for fellowship and inspiration," they said.

"Such an undertaking by the men of the churches themselves would be good for us, our churches, and our community," said George Burkhardt who was selected as general chairman for the event.

Churches represented in the meeting were Friends, First Baptist, Methodist and Gloria Dei Lutheran.

The meeting had been called by the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association, asking the minister and two laymen from each interested church to attend.

Representatives of St. Peter's church could not atetnd, but expressed interest in advance.

The next planning meeting is set for Monday, Dec. 7, at 8 p.m. in the primary room of the Methodist Church. Representatives of other churches will be welcome.

Tentative plans call for an evening dinner meeting with an outstanding layman as the speaker.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Real "Meaty" Subject

Today I've got a tale that really hits close to home—but it's okay, I've got the wife's permission to tell it.

My Mrs. Marsh has been cooking hams—deliciously, I might add—for years. But always, just before she pops 'em into the oven, she slices an inch off one end. Reason: she said her mother always did that to make ham tastier.

Last week, though, Grandma gave the real reason. Sure, she used to slice an inch from a ham but only when her roasting pan was an inch too short.

From where I sit, all of us do things that can't be backed up by reason or fact. Most time they're pretty silly things—particularly the petty prejudices we build. For instance, some folks may resent your preference for buttermilk at dinner, or mine for a glass of beer. If they'd stop to think "why"—they'd realize they were taking a "slice" off our friendship and for no good reason at all.

Joe Marsh

Pythias Lodge Helps Promote 'Know America'

For the ninth straight year, the Knights of Pythias join with 55 other national groups in sponsoring "Know Your America Week."

"Know Your America Week" is designed to bring the full force of an informed citizenry to bear on democracy's present-day problems.

"It is more than an occasion for flag-waving," says William Rice, KP Grand Chancellor. "It is a time for remembering and, if necessary, learning anew — what that flag represents, how it attained its glory, and what we must do to keep it waving in the clean air of freedom.

"Although not technically correct, "America" to most of us means the United States of America. And most of us think we KNOW America. But do we?

"We may have travelled its broad expanses from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, across its fruitful plains and majestic mountains. We may have lived in its peaceful hamlets or its thriving cities, in the populous East, the bustling Midwest, sprawling West, or the sunny South—but we do not know America unless we know the spirit of America.

Local Florist Prepares Holiday Centerpieces

Mrs. Harold Pickard entertained 43 members and seven guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club Monday evening at the Presbyterian Fellowship Center.

Holiday centerpieces, mantle arrangements, door swags and table decorations all came into loveliness under the deftness of the capable hands of the florist.

She used greens, pine cones, Christmas ornaments, figurines and candles.

DURING THE business session members voted to purchase more rubbish containers for the business district.

Eleven members of the group attended the United Nations Day in Adrian when Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt was the speaker.

Devotions for the evening were presented by Mrs. Cecile Smith. Hostesses were Mrs. Harold Hall, Mrs. Gerald Dunn, Mrs. Frank Laskey and Mrs. Eleanor Schultz.

The next meeting will be "Guest Nite" when each member is asked to bring a doll to display.

Prizes will be awarded for the oldest doll, most unique doll and the doll with the most unusual history.

COLLEGE MOTHER'S DAY

Not Soon To Be Forgotten

A philanthropist is one who loves and seeks to benefit mankind. Certainly Guy E. Belding, who passed away early Sunday morning, qualified on both points.

Quiet and unassuming, he did more good deeds for his fellowman than will ever be known because he wanted it that way.

Always on the alert for a worthy cause, his special love seemed to be to help the churches of the city as well as those in adjoining areas.

Though not a member of any denomination, he made generous contributions to all of them—Catholic and Protestant alike.

One of Mr. Belding's unpublicized gifts was a much-needed office building and garage at Brookside cemetery, completed some five or six years ago.

Included in the facilities of the $6,000 building are heated rest rooms.

A local grocer tells this story of Mr. Belding. Although living alone, Mr. Belding would continually buy large quantities of foodstuffs. At first, the merchant couldn't understand why.

Gradually he learned that Mr. Belding was quitely visiting unfortunate families and dropping off a variety of things, never saying it was charity, rather telling the recipients:

"I wish you'd try these brands. Let me know how you like them."

His many friends will not forget Guy Belding.

Who Would Have Guessed?

Who would have ever guessed that Tecumseh could amass more than $88,000 in a single year's community fund drive?

It's almost overwhelming.

We wonder, too, if folks realize what this is going to mean to our city in future years?

First of all, the annual chairty budget of $20,300 will be substracted. This takes care of our city, state and national obligations to worthy charities.

That leaves a balance of almost $70,000, which goes into the savings account of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

From this and other monies donated in lated years, our town will be able to build a civic center, library, recreational and other facilities.

Current needs point to the civic center, which will offer quarters for teen agers, probably have an adjoining auditorium in which commencements can be held, amateur productions staged.

Uses of such a structure are almost unlimited.

At the end of this year, there will be an election of Foundation board members. Following this, a special committee will be named to consider the civic center idea.

Welcome to Tecumseh

A six-month search has ended for the 11-man and women Presbyterian pastoral selection committee.

After considering many candidates, the board and in turn the entire congregation approved unanimously the Rev. Julian R. Gresham.

A marine during World War II, including a 21-month overseas stint with the Corps 2nd Division, Mr. Gresham is married and the father of three children.

He and his family will shortly be moving into the Presbyterian Manse at 305 W. Logan St.

Speaking for the community, we welcome our city's newest minister and wish him well.

THEY'LL DECORATE—Chairman Mrs. Bob Laidlaw (center) and her committee of Ms. Don Ketteman (left), Mrs. Fred Randall, Mrs. Jack Brown and Mrs. W. T. Claxton look over decorations which they will use at this year's Hospital Auxiliary Holiday Ball. Mrs. Tom Riordan is also on the committee. The affair is going to be Saturday, Dec. 5 at Tecumseh Country Club. Ken Edwards and his orchestra will provide the music.

Tips on Toys

Toys, toys, toys!

Peeking from beneath Christmas trees across the nation Dec. 25 will be all sorts of playthings—round toys, hard toys, soft, cuddly toys, noisy toys.

But little if any thought will be given to how safe they are.

This, the National Safety Council points out, just isn't smart.

"Fortunately," it said, "most toy manufacturers have done their best to make their products safe for youngsters. But a toy perfectly safe for an 8-year-old may be quite unsuitable for a toddler."

The Council made these recommendations about buying toys this Christmas:

1. Teach children how to use the toys.
2. Keep an eye out for possible wear or damage—broken edges or splinters, for example.
3. Perhaps most important, buy toys that suit the child's age.

THE COUNCIL gave these suggestions on what toys to buy:

For children up to two years. Buy sturdy rattles, washable squeak toys, stuffed animals and dolls, blocks with round corners, push or pull toys, and large colored balls.

Beware of small toys that can be swallowed, flammable toys, and toys with poisonous paint, sharp edges, button eyes that can pull loose, removable parts.

Age 2 to 3. Tops for tots in this, the exploring age—sandbox toys, large peg boards, tricycles, low rocking horses, bright picture books, large crayons.

Beware, again, of sharp, dough edges on toys, small removable parts, flammable toys, lead-based paint, objects that can be swallowed.

Age 3 to 4. Excellent are toy telephones, doll buggies and furniture, miniature garden tools, building blocks.

Stay away from toys that break or splinter, those too heavy for the child's strength, sharp or cutting tyos.

"Help pack safety in Santa's sack," the Council said. "Be sure children get safe toys for Christmas."

Second Linotype Doubles Capacity In Herald Plant

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

ON ITS WAY—Jim Lincoln holds a light out of the way as Tom Riordan, Mr. Hahn, Don Nettleman and Fred Nash inch The Herald's new machine along. Dick Gregory of The Herald (at right) watches. The machines doubles plant linecasting capacities.

Composition facilities at The Herald were doubled Sunday with the addition of a second Linotype machine.

Purchased from The Toledo Blade, it is another ingredient in a growth pattern established by co-owners Jim Lincoln and Tom Riordan two years ago.

The machine was on The Blade's production line until Sunday morning when it was moved out to make way for a new model.

It had to be transferred to Tecumseh at this time and by 6 p.m. that day, the linecaster was ready to go.

While Mr. Lincoln directed removal from The Blade, Mr. Riordan was in charge of "furniture" moving in the shop.

The entire plant was revamped into a more functional design, making for a straighter flow of work.

The layout now finds the two linecasting machines at one end. Behind the operators is a long stone (table on which the stories they compose into lead slugs are placed.

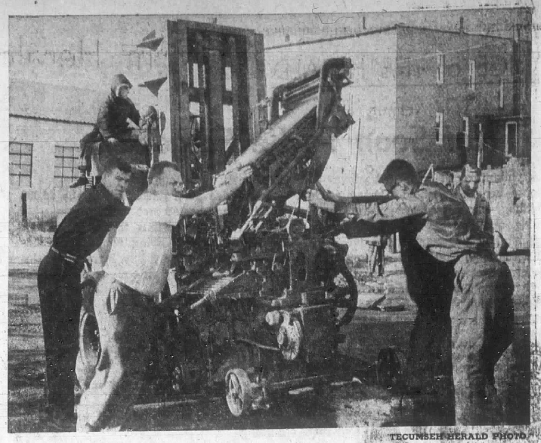
An aisle comes next and then a stone where pages are made up. The floormen, who put ads and stories into the metal page forms, operate in this aisle way.

From this point, the pages are taken on a turtle (cart) to the press.

Advertisements are put together along another wall and carried a short distance to the page chases (or forms).

Fred Nash provided the truck which brought the Linotype from Toledo and Moore Lumber Co. loaned its fork-lift truck, with Don Nettleman at the wheel, to lower the machine from the Nash vehicle when it arrived here.

Readers are welcome to visit The Herald and look over the newest addition and the remodeled shop.



TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

EASY DOES IT—Herald's new inotype machine is eased up to the paper's back door Sunday about 1:30. The Moore Lumber Co. fork-lift has it in te. Jim Lincoln, Dany Hahn of The Ann Arbor Daily News and Ernie Jeschke of The Heald are guiding the trip.

Band Director Using Flutes in Early Lessons

Song flutes have been taught in the fifth grades of the schools of Tecumseh from the starting day of school in September and will end on Dec. 18, reports band Director Don Johnson.

The purposes of giving such training has been to give fundamentals of music while playing an inexpensive instrument.

This often encourages students to want to play on a band instrument and also discourages a few. Written tests are now being given to discover the child's ability to learn in this area of music.

Each child will have an opportunity to play by himself on the song flute so the teacher may discover his apparent ability to handle an instrument.

The first week of December, apttitude tests will be given which will aid in encouraging or discouraging the child in the instrumental field.

After these tests are completed, the children who have passed favorably will be encouraged to try playing on the instrument of their choice so the teacher may be satisfied that they are physically capable of playing this instrument.

This test will be given in the evening and it is important to have the parents there so that the teacher, child and parent together can make decisions as to whether the child shall or shall not play any given instrument.

Date of such test will be announced at a later time.

By the time school resumes after Christmas vacation, classes on band instruments will begin, three days a week, one-half hour for each meeting.

Mr. Johnson will teach these classes at Tecumseh Acres and Mr. Harris will teach them at all other elementary schools.

School Menu

Monday, Nov. 30 — Chicken-Vegetable soup, peanut butter salad, peach crisp and milk.

Tuesday, Dec. 1—Ham shortcake, apple salad, tomato juice, peanut butter cookie, bread butter and milk.

Wednesday, Dec. 2 — Mashed potatoes, hamburg gravy, cabbage slaw, bread pudding with lemon sauce and milk.

Thursday, Dec. 3—Sloppy Joes on Bun, potato chips, glazed carrots, fruit cup and milk.

Pilots Must Learn Instrument Flying

A new regulation has been announced by the federal aviation agency.

By March 16, all pilots will be required to know how to fly by instruments.

This regulation will include both private and commercial pilots.

It was put into effect because there have been too many fatal accidents lately involving light planes and amateur pilots.

ABOUT WOODPECKERS!

I think everyone must enjoy Downey Woodpeckers. They are marvelous feeding station birds—always happy and even-tempered and always around when suet is available. Their black and white dress is sartorially perfect, Mr. Downey however is such a dude that he sports a perky red cap.

Cold weather never daunts them; in fact, they often rival their good friends, the Chickadees, in cheerfully accepting winter's worst.

Lately, the Downeys in the neighborhood, and as near as we can tell there are five of them, have been having a wonderful time. Maybe the ridiculously early cold weather which started us shivering, they found invigorating.

Whatever the reason, they seem almost possessed, they have been teasing, laughable, unpredictable—we are never sure what is going to happen next or why.

Last Thursday we heard a loud knocking and so quite naturally, Mom went to the front door all ready to greet guests.

No one there, but still the knocking continued. We were puzzled until we looked out of the window and saw Mrs. Downey working on the end of the redwood house-type feeder.

It is a common style feeder, scratch feed in one-half and suet in the other.

Several unfriendly Sparrows were at the scratch feed and would apparently not let her at the suet so she had 'ducked around the corner'. She could not possibly have hoped to chisel through the side of the feeder and get at the suet that way—or could she?

ANOTHER LOVELY female has also caused us to wonder. She is an especially good looking gal but has, for some reason, developed a peculiar liking for the two-by-fours upon which the bird feeders are mounted.

As up and down, and around and around these posts she works, her bill tests everything.

Tap, tap, tap—this isn't drumming in the usual Woodpecker sense nor does she seems to peck holes as would be the case were she insect hunting.

She merely bangs up and down the feeder posts and why she doesn't have the world's worst headache we will never know.

So they tease, they make us wonder and they can also startle. Bang, bang, bang— the noise was too loud and sounded too close to be anyone at the door and yet we could see nothing outside.

When finally the noise stopped, from below my window Mr. Downey flew to the feeder; in just a minute he was on the move again and back he flew to where he had come from.

Immediately the knocking started again. Now really, with so much wood around why did he pick the house to work on? Fortunately, this has happened only once but my, it is rather shocking to think of a Woodpecker banging away at the side of the house.

IN THE LAUGH department, it appears that there birds have developed a rather unbirdlike 'well, lets take it as easy as possible' attitude. In the most human sense of the words, they are all out for comfort.

Hoping for pictures of Woodpeckers and Nuthatches eating at the small feeder, we have let the suet holder on the other feeder become empty. This holder is merely a limb in which holes have been drilled but when these holes are full of suet, it makes a wonderful buffet.

It allows the birds to dine in their normal, and I suppose most comfortable, position. Well, to make a long story short, the birds are cooperating with our picture taking to the extent that they go to the large piece of suet but the Woodpeckers are not sitting on the round which front the feeder and doing much eating.

They stay there only long enough to chip off big pieces of suet and then, holding them fast in their chisel pointed bills, off they go to the other feeder.

The suet is carefully placed in one of the empty holes and the bird, clinging to the rough bark designed especially for tree-climbing feet, sits back on his stiff bristly tail feathers and preceeds with lunch.

All to clearly their actions say, that they will go along with us only so far and really, I suppose they are right. We have no quarrel with their desire to dine in comfort but we have to laugh at their resourcefulness.

And so goes our fun with the Woodpeckers.

WHAT'S COOKING IN TECUMSEH

Hungarian Pastry

Mrs. Joe Horvath is our featured cook this week and is shown surveying a sheet of crescents baking in her oven.

This is a Hungarian recipe and most delicious. Such flaky pastry! We, at the Herald office, enjoyed them with our coffee.

She graduated from the Michigan State University, where she met her husband, who is process engineer at Tecumseh Products Co.

The Horvaths have two children, Richard is a senior and played tackle on the football team this fall and Margaret, better known to her family as Mickey, is a junior in High School.

Besides watching son, Dick, through the football season Mrs. Horvath enjoys playing bridge.

She is a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church and the Altar Society ,a member of the Hospital Auxiliary and Sigma Kappa Sorority.

She likes to play golf and bowl with the Country Club League. In her spare time Mrs. Horvath enjoys sewing for her family and others.

Besides the recipe for filling printed below jam may be used in this recipe.

Stay-Green Will Make Yule Trees Resistent to Fire

Tecumseh Band Boosters, using as a slogan "A Safe Christmas is a Happy Christmas," are selling fireproofing for Christmas trees.

This is another money-making project by the group.

This is a new product to the community and is known as Stay-Green.

Keith Barron is the treasurer of the organization and chairman of the new project an which the men are working.

A safety measure, Stay-Green makes Christmas trees fire resistant; keeps them green longer, reduces needle sfalling out by 95%.

The Macon Hobby Club met with Mrs. James Thomas on Thursday afternoon. A salad luncheon was enjoyed by the ladies. Several Christmas ideas were presented. There was some discussion about more choir robes for the Junior group. The society will underwrite the expense of material for new ones, if dying of the white robes doesn't prove satisfactory. Rev. Damberg told about the Chelsea Methodist home.

The call to worship was led by Mrs. Frances Collins. The lights in the Sanctuary had been turned low. A light globe of the world was used on the worship table.

There was responsive reading by the group, followed by the hymn "O, God, Our Help In Ages Past" accompanied by Mrs. Helen Thomas.

Teen Club President Explains Activities

Dale Tuckey, Tecumseh High School junior, spoke extemporaneously to the 40 Tecumsehites gathered in the council room of the city hall Monday evening.

This was the second gathering of the Community Achievement Progress Committee sponsored by the Monday Club.

As president of the Teen Club Dale gave a fine account of the activities of the group and how it is operated.

Committees were appointed to work on the three major projects.

Mrs. Don E. Nettleman, Mrs. Stanley Kruse and Mrs. Ray Shelton will investigate the possibilities of a school nurse.

Myrtle Mattis, Raymond Morley, Fred Nash and David Oustherhout are on the committee for public rest rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Merz, Dale Tuckey and Mr. and Mrs. Harlon Boyes will work on the "aid to the Teen Club" committee.

THE REPORTS of findings will be heard at the next meeting, Jan. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the council rooms.

Mrs. Duane Service, representative from the Business and Professional Club, reported that the club has launched a campaign to clean up the litter from the downtown area. Additional trash cans will aid in this project.

Mrs. Clifford Knudson, assisted by Mrs. Truman Rentschler and Mrs. Lee Purkey, conducted the session.

It was announced that additional projects and suggestions will be welcomed at future meetings.

Two projects suggested at this time: a full-time fire department, a visiting nurse to assist the school nurse.

Mayor H. H. Hanna, Cal Zorn and Ed Nelson were all on hand.

Foundation Donations Top $91,000 Mark

A complete report of the 1959 Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive, made Tuesday at a special board of trustees meeting, showed:

Contributions and pledges	$91,216.00
Already on deposit	16,228.96
TOTAL	107,444.96

From this amount will be deducted the 1960 budget of $20,295, leaving a balance in the reserve fund of $87,149.96.

It is from this and surplus donations of future years that will provide for areas, library and other needed facilities.

Don Murphy, general drive chairman, made the report to the trustees, who in turn unanimously passed a resoultion praising Mr. Murphy and all others on the committee for the work they had done.

The resolution was offered by Ray Herrick.

Steve Hrisko of the Lenawee County United Fund thanked the Tecumseh Foundation for its contributions to the group he represents.

A general meeting was announced for Tuesday, Jan. 12. Citizens will be invited to attend and help guide the trustees when they choose a Citizens Committee, which will study community needs and later recommend what action should be taken in the way of new buildings.

At present, a nominating committee of Mayor H. H. Hanna, John Surratt, Rotary president; Bill Powell, Exchange president and Carl Lamb, Kiwanis president, and Mrs. Cecile Smith, vice-president of Business & Professional Women, are selecting a slate of 18 candidates to be named to the nine trustee posts.

According to the Foundation by-laws, the present board will cast ballots on the slate. Three will be picked for three years, three for two years and three for one.

The nominating committee is always made up of the city's mayor, presidents of the three service clubs and an official of the B&PW.

The trustees Tuesday OKed a resolution to provide a salary of $500 next year for an executive secretary, since there will be considerable correspondence and other business to be taken care of.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

A couple of hours after last week's Herald was in the mail, I received a phone call about my column.

It had touched upon several items — best summed up as "shop in your hometown, the dollars spent here can help your family because it helps the community."

The feminine voice chirped, "That's well and good, but I'd like to tell you what happened to me."

She went on to relate about purchasing an article of clothing for her child. It turned out to be a bum buy and she complained.

The salesman (not the owner of the store) said she couldn't be right. He dismissed her as a complainer.

Right then and there that store lost her business, she told me.

(In addition, fellow merchants in other lines probably lost future trade because the next time around she wouldn't even try to get such an item here, but just hustle herself out-of-town for everything.)

I agreed that a mistake in judgement had probably been made by the salesman and sincerely asked her to go back to the store and talk to the owner —who quite possibly never heard of the incident.

We chatted on about 15 minutes, the woman not giving her name, but that being unimportant as far as I was concerned.

I repeated what I had written: business folks here wish that townspeople would try Tecumseh first. But they in turn must assume a definite responsibility to their customers at all times.

They must make every deal "good" should the customer be dissatisfied. This sometimes means bending way over backwards, even when it is almost obvious that the buyer is taking advantage of the storeman.

But just as I contend 95% of our merchants will go down the line with their goods, so 95% of the customers are honest and not prone to connie.

Then my caller said something that was music to my ears.

She said she buys all her drugs and all her groceries in Tecumseh.

"Another thing, I'll say the furniture stores here are tops."

She told of one furniture dealer who had sold her a child's mattress. When her youngster lay on it, the mattress squeeked.

At first she thought it was due to the newness. So she didn't bother the dealer. Several weeks went by and it still acted up.

She called the storeman, knowing he couldn't take it back, to caution him not to buy this type of mattress.

"Within 10 minutes he was out to my home," she told me. "He scolded me for not telling him as soon as I learned of the squeek."

The caller went on to say that the local furniture man picked up the mattress, took it back to his store and half an hour later was back with a new one. No charge, of course.

As I say, this report is the sort of thing that makes your heart sing.

Personally, I think that if we went up and down business row we'd find dozens of similar stories—merchants backing up their sales to the hilt.

Only the occasional blunder upsets the cart and gives the whole town a blackeye businesswise.

It's like the football team that performs beautifully all season and then in the last game someone is kicked out for deliberate slugging.

Fans are disgusted with the entire squad and probably go on for years referring to it as "that dirty bunch." Many suffer for the thoughtless action of one or two.

I'm glad she called and I thank her in print.

CITY DECORATES — City workers were busy Friday and Saturday making downtown streets attractive with traditional Christmas decorations.

'Big and Rough'

Gosh, these study hall teachers are getting bigger and rougher looking all the time," might be the reaction of Tecumseh High School students. But really, it's not a teacher. It's a trophy bagged by school boardman Jens Touborg on a recent trip to the Aleutian Islands. The Alaskan Brown stands 14 feet high and is one of the largest ever brought down there. Mr. Touborg presented the prize as a gift to the school.

'Mail Early,' Says Metcalf

Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf, reminder to the public this is the time to start mailing parcel post and Christmas cards.

Special effort should be made to get all out-of-town packages and cards into the post office before Dec. 10, said Mr. Metcalf.

Those for nearby points should be mailed by Dec. 15.

People planning to mail out-of-town gifts will find detailed information contained in a pamphlet now available at the post office.

Also available are free labels which read "All For Local Delivery" and "All For Out Of Town Delivery".

MR. METCALF, offers these tips for mailing packages and cards.

1. Heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape should be used for packing and wrapping of Christmas gifts.

2. Purchase stamps for Christmas cards early.

3. Use only first-class four or seven cent air mail stamps on greeting cards.

This enables senders to include handwritten messages and forwarding and return mail service. Cards mailed third class with three cent stamps can contain only the sender's signature and will not be forwarded or returned.

4. POSTAGE TO CANADA OR MEXICO FOR UNSEALED CHRISTMAS CARDS REQUIRE 4c.

5. Always include your return address on packages and cards.

6. Mail out-of-town items first.

7. MAKE SURE THAT EACH ADDRESS INCLUDES FULL NAME, STREET AND NUMBER, CITY ZONE AND STATE.

Again this year this office will have bag racks with the following separations. Mail for TECUM-

Madrigal Singers Will Be Featured in 'Space Concert'

The Madrigal Singers, a versatle high school group, will make their public debut next Monday and Tuesday evenings, Dec. 7 and 8.

They'll be featured when the Tecumseh High School chorus presents on original music drama called "Christmas in Orbit" in the Junior High auditorium.

A new group this year, the Madrigal Singers follow traditions begun in the Twelfth century.

Madrigals originally meant certain poetry forms set to music.

As the singing of these madrigals spread across Europe and England, the word added meaning so that now it includes poetry and music of a light character written for a small group of fixed voices to be sung without accompaniment.

NOT TOO long ago, it was the custom in England for couples who were "courting" to sing madrigals with the parents of either one, or other couples in the living room around a table.

The music was arranged on a large sheet so they could each sing a separate part and still face each other across the table.

Eligible boy friends were often selected by their ability to sing their part in a madrigal.

Out of this grew the present custom of having madrigal singers perform, seated around a table, using music and having candles and some kind of refreshment within reach.

This kind of singing requires unusual ability and versilality.

The "singers" are featured in two dramatized scenes during the space musical, a shopping scene, and a fireplace scene featuring carols, including "accordion" music and a madrigal.

Two of the "singers" members, Brenda Hall and Janet Graham, had a large part in creating this original space musical drama.

THE PROGRAM has a plot which revolves around two space pilots who are in orbit around the earth during the Christmas season some year in the future.

Their thoughts and feelings came to life on the stage.

The public is invited to attend. Admission is students 50c adults 75c. Tickets may be purchased from chorus members or at the door.

Making up the Madrigal Singers are Mary Merritt, Meredith Morden, Ann Marks, Betty Bishop and Helen Miller, sopranos.

Miss Hall, Miss Graham and Jane Harsh, altos.

Allen Hizer, Bill Wallace and Dennis Bryan, tenor.

Mike Rohrer, Ralph Helzerman and Dave VanValkenburg, basses.

Deer Heads North

Santa's lost reindeer is on his way back north.

At least that was the direction that he took when he leaped from the back lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Herrick Tuesday just a little past the noon hour.

Children in the Patterson school first saw the yearling about 10:30 a.m. when he ran across the playground to Union St.

A few minutes later he came back across the school lawn and went north down to the creek.

Apparently bewildered and lost the animal was next seen by Mr. Herrick about 11:30 floundering in the water and trying to get on the ice of Red Mill Pond.

Volunteers in two boats and a canoe shoved through the ice to the frightened animal and were able to urge him toward shore on the Herrick property.

Hugh Walter and Robert Manchester were among the rescuers.

Thanks to these kind friends of nature the kindergarten students may be assured that Santa's deer will be back with him for the long trip on Christmas eve.

Bullet Shatters Windshield

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Helzerman were returning from their cabin at Deer Lake Monday afternoon when they were jarred by a rifle bullet which shattered the windshield.

The incident occurred 1½ miles east of Cambridge Junction on 112. Police were searching for the violator. The Helzermans were not injured.

Thanksgiving day guests of the Helzerman family at Deer Lake were her brother, Dr. R. D. MacKenzie of Libby, Montana, Mr. and Mrs. MacKenzie of Stamford Conn. and her mother, Mrs. W. S. MacKenzie of Adrian.

Church Notes

(Editor's note: All Tecumseh area churches are invited to submit current news to this column.)

+ Like Sunday School Picnic

Friday has been designated as Family Night at the Friends Church.

All families and friends of the church and Sunday School are invited to the social rooms for a pot luck supper at 6:30.

This will be similar to a Sunday School picnic and the beverage will be furnished by the committee, Mrs. Perry Hayden has announced.

The special feature of the evening will be the appearance of Waldo Hostetler of Detroit, a Christan magician, who will have many thrilling things to show.

Sunday evening the pulpit will be filled at the 7:30 hour by the Rev. Alvin Brazee who was unable to speak last Sunday evening as scheduled.

On December 9, Evangelist Billy Graham's latest motion picture "The Heart Is a Rebel" will be shown.

This picture provides a "front row" perspective of the Graham team in the Crusade setting of Madison Square Garden in New York City.

The dynamic preaching of the evangelist is augmented by the singing of George Beverly Shea and the music of a 1,500-voice Crusade Choir under the direction of Cliff Barrows.

+ Mobilization Gathering

The Huron River Valley Associational Training Union will have its annual Mobilization meeting Monday, Dec. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in Tecumseh High School.

The Tecumseh Missionary Baptist Church, of which The Rev. Edgar Owens is pastor, is sponsor of the event.

With 20 area churches participating, about 500 are expected at the gathering.

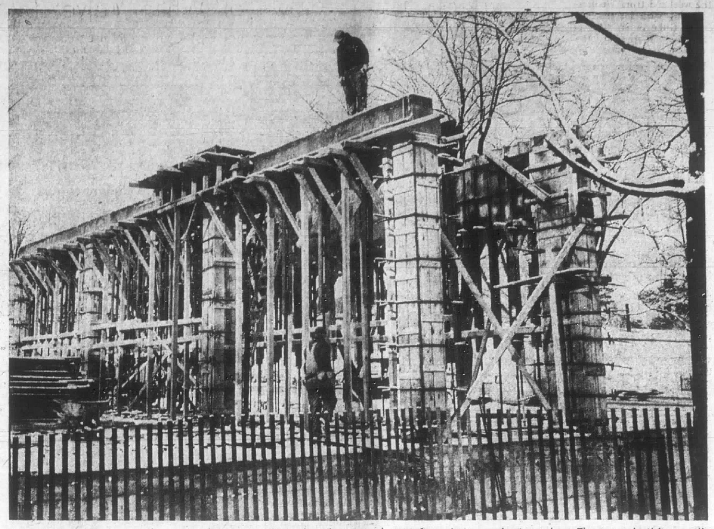
The associational choir, directed by Kenneth Rainey, will sing "Teach Me O Lord I Pray" with other numbers. There will also be singing by the congregation.

A film strip will preview the training union's goals.

The Rev. E. E. Patterson of the missionary Baptist Church in Monroe will bring the evening message.

+ Holiness

The beauty of holiness will be a theme dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator."



ON ITS WAY—Tecumseh's new $160,400 General Telephone office building is on its way up. The foundation has been poured and frames for the wall structure are being completed. The corner of E. Chicago Blvd. and Oneida St. will be the site for the new building which will house equipment for a dial system. It is scheduled to go into effect March of next year. The 1960 conversion will not only bring Tecumseh dial telephones but also real "city-like two letter, five digit numbering plan. The new building will be ready to grow with Tecumseh. It will have the special feature "knock-out" at the rear which can be removed to allow for future expansion. As a result of many years of research, planning and development, Tecumseh phone patrons will in the near future be able to dial long distance calls direct, without the aid of an operator, to millions of telephones across the nation.

Representing Tecumseh are Marilou Layton, Roger Mead, Jon Cook and Robert Dick.

Marilou and Roger are veterans, while this is Jon and Bob's first year.

Good luck, kids!

County Farm Incomes Top National Average

(Special to The Herald)

NEW YORK — Acre for acre, farms in Lenawee county returned larger incomes last year than did farms in most sections of the United States.

With bigger crops, thanks to widespread mechanization, and higher yields from marketings, most farm operators locally had a good year.

The story is told in a county-by-county study of farm incomes, conducted by the Standard Rate and Data Service. All areas of the country are included.

It shows, for Lenawee county, gross farm receipts of $34,129,000 in the year. This compares with $31,700,000 in 1957.

Expressed in terms of the local farm population, which is placed at 16,000 as of the first of this year, it amounted to $2,133 per person.

This topped the returns reported for most parts of the United States, an average of $1,804 per farm resident. It was more, also, than the East North Central States $1,927.

The figures on income, explains SRDS, take into account cash receipts from farm marketings, together with Government payments and the value of products grown and consumed on the farm.

A breakdown of the receipts from the sale of farm products shows livestock income in the estimated amount of $9,600,000 and income from crops, $16,480,000. The figures are gross returns, before deduction for expenses.

Nationally, reports the Department of Agriculture, total farm income reached an all-time high last year of $38 billion. Farm expenses also rose, it notes, but not nearly as much.

As a result, the average farmer ended up with more money available for spending. Part of it he used for farm machinery to modernize his operation and part for retiring some of his debt.

According to a Government report called "The Balance Sheet of Agriculture," the average farm owner is much better off now, financially, than he was 10 years ago. His present net worth, free of debt, comes to nearly $40,000, compared with $21,000 then.

However, much of this gain is attributable to inflation. It has boosted the dollar value of land, buildings and machinery, making the farmer much richer today, at least on paper.

Australia Calling: 'How Did Tecumseh Acquire Its Name?'

From as far away as Australia, North Carolina and Iowa, the Tecumseh Public Library has received requests regarding the name of Tecumseh.

The name was brought to these people's attention first through the Tecumseh Products, and secondly, through the Community Health Study being done here.

The name Tecumseh comes from the Shawnee words "nita ni tha'mthka," which means "I cross somebody's path."

Set against a great deal of allegorical background, it may be interpreted as "crouching panther" or "panther springing for its prey."

The transition to "celestial tiger," and hence "meteor" or "shooting star," is more difficult.

But as the whites of his own day altered his name from Tecumthe to Tecumseh, so they decreed that he should be known as the "Meteor," of "Shooting Star."

The name Tecumseh was chosen for the town by the founding fathers who had great respect for the character, intelligence, and courage of Tecumseh, Shawnee chief.

An excellent biography, "Tecumseh, Vision of Glory," by Glenn Tucker is available at your Tecumseh Public Library.

MURPHY REPORTS

Behind the scenes thats the place—

Where a great part of any business takes place.

Where meetings are attended.

Meetings organized.

Questions asked and answered.

Information volunteered.

Of course there are reasons for this. The first being that there is a great deal of secrecy connected with the moving or locating of new business of any kind.

We all know that things don't just happen to a town or city.

During the past year the industrial development committee of the Chamber has contacted many potential industries, some of them good prospects and some of them just prospects.

But when there's a tip on the moving of the forming of a new business the group goes all out because there is no way to tell if they are serious or if they are just fishing for something.

We in Tecumseh should know much better than most people the importance of going clear to the bottom in investigating new business because as some of you people will remember exactly 25 years ago Tecumseh helped a group of men with an idea.

It has meant the difference in just having just a mediocre economical standing and the high standard that we now enjoy.

The H. W. Tuttle Company located in Tecumseh in the last year and a half and although some people think the firm just came to Tecumseh, there was considerable effort by many local folks.

At present, there an industry that has great possibilities, an industry that would be a definite asset to Tecumseh.

We just can't go and say come to our city because we have nice schools, churches, stores, etc., it isn't that easy.

We are in competition with many other cities in the United States for this business and we have to be on our toes.

The Chamber of Commerce has met with the Clinton Chamber of Commerce to talk about the situation that may develop in Clinton.

The locating of the F. W. Woolworth Co. in Tecumseh is not just a chance meeting. Far from it, there is a real estate man that made many long distance calls, wrote many letters, spent much of his time working with the company, gathered facts, negotiated with the owner of the building, dug up anything that the company wanted to know.

Did he know that he would not have to pay for those calls himself? Thas his time was not being wasted?

Not by a long shot he didn't, yet he went right ahead and worked with them and the result will be a benefit to every person in Tecumseh. Behind the scenes again.

THE NEW-TYPE street lighting soon to go into our business section did not just happen, not by a long shot. The improved parking facilities, the master plan, the working agreement between the Meyers Aircraft Company and the city, the promotions the retail division sponsors.

All these things and many more are the results of many hours of work put in by people that had no guarantee whatsoever that the results would be good.

The hidden work, the reaserch, the coaxing, the talking, the money spent, these are the things done by the Chamber of Commerce that no one knows about.

Indian Five Sinks Dundee in Hoop Opener

Tecumseh opened its 1959-60 basketball campaign on a winning note Tuesday night with an easy 62-44 victory over visiting Dundee.

Jim Poley topped scorers on both teams with eight goals and five fouls for 21 points.

His scoring and floor play, especially off the boards, were highlights of the game.

Teammate Jack Sisson, another latter winner from last year's team, turned in the hottest quarter when he ripped the cords for 13 points in the third quarter. He totaled 15 points for the evening.

Coach Vic Lawson substituted often during the second half and used the entire bench. Ten players scored in the tilt which turned into a rout in the final two periods.

Sporadic play during the game was largely contributed to the recently ended football season. Twelve of 14 Tecumseh players on the varsity squad are also gridders.

Rev. Nixon Praises Merchants, Officials

Tecumseh merchants and city officials were praised by the Rev. James D. Nixon in his sermon Sunday at the Methodist Church.

The topic "Advent Anticipation", was the first in a series called "The Faces Advent Presents."

"Anticipation is a part of the Advent mood," said Mr. Nixon. "But sometimes the mood of anticipation is dulled by jealousy, strife, and resentment. There is a rising tide of resentment against misuse of the Advent and Christmas season in excessive commercialism."

"We are all grateful to Tecumseh merchants for holding off until Thanksgiving their Christmas promotion, despite early competition from other communities.

"This should be an added reason for giving our merchants a break and shopping at home.

"Moreover, we are thankful that a Friday and Saturday were used to put up decorations along the businesses blocks this year, rather than a Monday morning."

Next Sunday's sermon continues the series, on the theme "The Anguished Visage of Repentance."

Church School is at 9 and 11:15 and Nursery is provided during the worship service at 10 o'clock.

WHAT'S COOKING IN TECUMSEH

Butterscotch Bars

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Mrs. Robert Godfrey, president of the Ridgeway Area PTA, is our featured cook this week, giving us her recipe for butterscotch bars.

Mrs. Godfrey and her family moved to 8428 Clinton-Macon Rd. from Lansing almost four years ago.

She says that she and her husband and five children all enjoy country living very much.

Mr. Godfrey is a director of the Hastings Mutual Insurance Co. The oldest of the four daughters is Linda, a senior at Tecumseh High School; Lisa is a sophmore; Laurel, a seventh-grade student and little Lucy is four-years old.

The Godfreys have one son, David, who attends first grade at the Macon school.

All members of the family are Michigan State boosters and Mr. and Mrs. had season tickets for the home games.

Mrs. Godfrey has many interests besides cooking delightful things for her family.

She is affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumni Association in Adrian, the PTA, the Macon Woman's Club, a Tecumseh bridge club and a Hobby Club.

The whole family attends the Macon Church.

Here is her recipe for tempting butterscotch bars.

BUTTERSCOTCH BARS

1 stick butter or margarine
1½ cup brown sugar
2 eggs beaten
1½ cup flour
2 teaspoonsful baking powder
1 cup nut meats
1 cup chocolate chips

Melt butter in skillet on top of the stove, stir in sugar until melted. Let come to a boil, stirring all the time. Remove from burner and let cool about 1 min. Drop in eggs and stir well.

Mix in remaining ingredients, flour, baking powder, nuts and chocolate. Return to the burner for 1 min., stirring constantly.

Spread in pan, greased on the bottom only. I use a 13x9 oblong pan. Bake at 350 for 20 min. Be careful not to overbake. Cut in bars while still warm.

Hear Familiar Christmas Story

Circle 1 of the Presbyterian church held its last meeting of the year Tuesday at the Home of Mrs. M. R. Blandon.

She was assisted by Ruby Preston and Mrs. James Elliott. Dessert was served to 21 members.

The Christmas story from St. Luke was read by Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, the program chairman for the afternoon. Carols were sung by the group.

Each member brought an article from a foreign land and related the Christmas customs of that land.

Mary McWilliams concluded the program by reading "Being Nice to Others Makes for a Happier Life", by Edward McFaul.

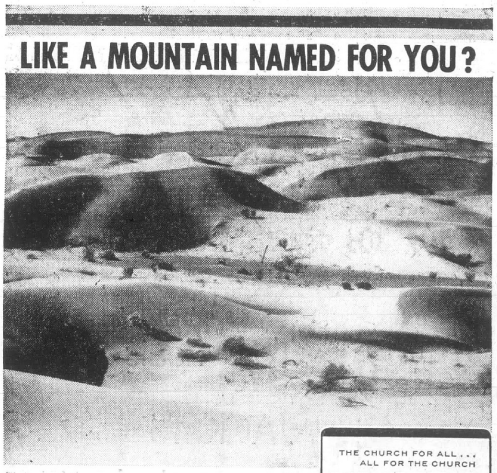
FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH!

LIKE A MOUNTAIN NAMED FOR YOU?



Not one of these, certainly! They're here today, gone tomorrow. We'd gladly lend our names to a timeless peak like Everest — not to a heap of shifting sands rolling before the desert wind.

Of course, we have to identify ourselves with many a transitory idea and institution. We are busy most of our days just trying to keep up with this ever-changing world . . .

But our deeper self gropes for the Eternal!

God understands this yearning. He breathed it into our souls.

A voice crying in the wilderness . . . across the shifting sands . . . of the TRUTH and LIFE that are ETERNAL.

And God answers it: In Christ! In Scripture! In the voice of a neighbor inviting you and your family to Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farming Is Dangerous

Farming can be more dangerous than handling dynamite.

Statistics show that farming is one of America's three most dangerous occupations, says Richard Pfister, extension agricultural engineering safety specialist at Michigan State University.

Safety-minded handlers of explosives have much lower on-the-job death and injury rates.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has proclaimed July 19-25 as National Farm Safety Week. Church and civic groups, radio and television stations, and newspapers will all try to help cut down the alarming farm accident toll, according to Pfister.

OVER 3,500 on-the-job deaths occurred on American farms last year, Pfister reports. Another 5,000 farm people died in automobile accidents. Another 3,000 had fatal home accidents.

Pfister notes that accidents have maimed and disabled tens of thousands of farm people. He feels most farm accidents can be traced to carelessness. Some recent examples in Michigan:

A farmer was fatally injured when he turned his tractor too fast and it tipped over sideways.

A young boy fell ten feet to his death from the rafters in his dad's barn.

An elderly man was crushed to death as he tried to pull a tree stump. His tractor tipped over backwards.

NEARLY ONE-HALF of all farm fatalities usually occur in summer, Pfister warns. Farmers hurry, hurry, hurry in June, July and August.

Pfister notes a 1958 survey by the Michigan Farm Bureau which showed that the average farm accident costs about 700 dollars in property alone.

Six-hundred of the 6,000 Farm Bureau members surveyed had accidents last year, the engineer observes.

Property losses were $70,000. Medical bills totalled $50,000. Injuries cost 64,000 man-hours of labor.

Tractor injuries cause about one-half of all farm deaths, Pfister reports. Falls are next most important in Michigan.

Harold Kohler and son Glen of Tecumseh and Paul Betz, Allen Graybiel and Kenneth Betz of Adrian returned Wednesday after spending three days on a deer hunting trip at Otsego Lake, Michigan.

BACKYARD DEER—Well, almost. Clark Pearson, 204 W. Pottawatamie St., shot a nine-point buck just west of Manchester last week. A second-shift man at the Products in the chemistry lab, Clark was persuaded to go hunting by Danny Dermyer, a TP toolmaker and close friend. About 30 minutes after they were in the field, Clark spied his 150-pound buck, nailed it with one shot from 25 yards. Deer may be hunted, with permission of property owners; if marksmen use shotgun slugs or 22's. The shotgun charge will carry about 100 yards.

Monoxide: Silent Killer

Three women rented a small house trailer for sleeping quarters when they registered for a religious camp meeting in Eaton county early this fall.

The evening of the first day was quite cool, and they turned up the bottled gas space heater and closed all the doors and windows before retiring for the night.

The next morning they failed to appear for breakfast, and friends found all three dead in bed inside the trailer.

Investigation by the Michigan Department of Health showed the women had died of accidental carbon monoxide poisoning.

An improperly designed and constructed venting system had allowed fumes from the space heater to remain inside the trailer instead of being drawn to the outside.

Tests made by health department engineers indicated the carbon monoxide reached a lethal concentration in about 15 minutes, the three women never had a chance.

This triple tragedy shows once again that carbon monoxide is a treacherous and versatile destroyer of human life.

It is treacherous because it can strike suddenly and without warning.

TO AVOID becoming an accidental victim of carbon monoxide, follow these precautions:

1. Have your car's exhaust system checked regularly and repaired or replaced when necessary.
2. In cold weather, always drive with a window partly open so fresh air can enter the passenger compartment.
3. Never run a car's engine inside a closed building.
4. Make sure all engines, stoves, heaters, burners, appliances and other devices that operate indoors on carbon materials have adequate air intakes, are properly adjusted, and are vented to the outside. If you don't know how to make these checks, get a trained person to make them for you.

1. If he isn't breathing, start
2. Take him immediately into fresh air.
3. If he isn't breathing, start artificial respiration, preferably by the mouth-to-mouth method.
4. Have someone call a physician and a resuscitator squad.
5. Keep the victim warm and don't give him coffee, tea, or other stimulants.

Holly, Tinsel Breakfast

A variety of delicate arrangements were provided for the tables by Mrs. Charles Allen for the Monday Club luncheon Nov. 30 at the Methodist Church.

About 35 were seated for the luncheon and 50 attended the meeting when Dr. Robert Horton of Ann Arbor spoke concerning the Health Survey being conducted in the Tecumseh area.

He answered many questions.

Mrs. Carlos Jones was program leader for the day.

The Rev. James D. Nixon pronounced the invocation.

Mrs. Vaynard Close and Mrs. Fred Rector were assisting hostesses.

Notice is drawn by Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, president, to the next event which will be held in one week, Dec. 7 at 9:30 a.m. at the Methodist Church.

It's the annual Holly and Tinsel Breakfast under the auspices of the club.

Mrs. Paul Hadsell will be in charge of the program with the Rev. K. F. Koeplin bringing the Christmas message.

County officers will be guests as well as members of clubs in the surrounding area.

The breakfast will be served by Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett and her committee.

Visit Indiana

Mrs. John Surratt and family, Phil, Paul, George and Ann spent Friday through Sunday in Indianapolis visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Keiser.

Mrs. Ida Small, Mrs. Surratt's mother, is in good health and looking forward to her nintieth birthday anniversary.

On Honor Roll

MT. PLEASANT—During the spring semester 263 Central Michigan University students had "B" averages or higher, making them eligible for the Dean's "Graduation Honors List." On the honors list from Tecumseh is sophomore student Jon Weakly.

"DISEASES ARE THE PENALTIES WE PAY FOR OUR NEGLECT OF THE MEANS OF HEALTH"

Your own body is a wonderful manufacturer of medicines for the care of disease. As soon as any invading germ or virus attacks you, your blood rushes its weapons of defense to the danger zone.

If your health and stregnth are good you win the fight and the attack is defeated. But, if your resistance is low, any disease can gain a dangerous foothold. There fore it is wise to visit your physician for regular check-ups to make certain you have enough energy to fight off sickness. He can prescribe the proper needed medication.

CHRISTMAS TRIM—At Baldwin's Hardware store, Bill Smith (on ladder) and Leo Seidel did the Yule window dressing this week. Among the materials used were 240 feet of blue and silver tinsel. Nearly every business place in town has done some decorating for the coming holiday. In next week's Herald we plan to show some of these windows as they appear at night. The city also has been busy in the Christmas decoration department and Chicago Blvd. through the business section is indeed a pretty sight.

Ag Series Begins at Britton Dec. 7

Farming is big business and becoming bigger. Lenawee farmers can be proud of their part in the complex and ever challenging science of agriculture.

Today's farmer is not only interested in the production of food and fiber but has a vital part to play in America's economy.

He must play the role of scientist, business man, husbandman, and botanist.

A cooperative effort by educational service across the nation is in progress to learn better methods of producing these essentials of the American people. In Lenawee county, a series of winter meetings on various agricultural subjects has been planned by the vocational agriculture teachers and the County Extension Service.

Up to date information on farm buildings, income tax, farm transfers, dairy, swine, and crops will be discussed during the series by Michigan State University specialists.

Farmers are encouraged to clip the following schedule of meetings and plan to attend:

Dec. 7, Monday—8 p.m.—"Materials Handling & Farm Buildings" (swine and beef). Bob Maddex, MSU Ag Eng Dept.—Britton High School.

Jan. 4, Monday—8 p.m. — "Farm Income Tax". William Reunolds, revenue dept., Lansing —Tecumseh High School.

Jan. 11, Monday — 8 p.m. — "Farm Transfers and Estate Settlements"—John Doneth and E. Ag. Econ. staff, MSU — Adrian High School.

Jan. 18, Monday — 8 p.m.— "Dairy Cattle Health and Management". George Parsons, — Dairy Dept., MSU—Onsted High School.

Feb. 8, Monday — 8 p.m. — "Swine Feeding and Management". Ed Miller, Animal Husbandry—Department, MSU—Sand Creek High School.

Feb. 15, Monday—8 p.m. — "Materials, Handling and Farm Buildings" (dairy). Bob Maddex, —Ag. Eng., MSU—Onsted High School.

Car Smashed, But Driver Escapes with Only Bruises

The Bernard Fero family finally had a thankful day Thursday.

Mrs. Fero was involved in an auto accident, which caused at least $1000 damage to her car, but she came out of it without serious injury.

As she was returning home from Mijan, she struck a patch of ice on the Ridge Rd. which caused her car to skid.

Rather than hit an oncoming car, she turned toward the ditch.

Her auto rolled completely over and righted itself again, but most of the glass was broken and it was jammed and dented on every side.

Mrs. Fero had just bought groceries, which included instant coffee.

The jar was smashed when it struck the top of the car and the brown powder completely saturated her hair and clothing.

The flying glass causing minor cuts.

Could you guess what's good about a headache?

If you happen to have one right now, probably all you need is an aspirin. But the fact is: a headache sometimes is a signal. It may be telling you something is wrong . . . perhaps something quite remote from the pain. In this event it's a symptom—valuable information for your physician. So if you have a persistent or recurring headache and don't know why, see your doctor. Don't take a chance. Your physician can probably clear up your problem in short order. Of course, he may say all you need is aspirin—but even that's worth knowing.

How Should
You Choose An INSURANCE AGENT?

With caution! Over the years you will see a lot of the person from whom you buy protection and you want to be right the first time.

- Look for experience and dependability in your agent. Be sure he is willing to work hard for your business, burn up some shoe leather and not dodge a night call.

You'll be happier if the man you choose is a local, independent agent who handles all lines, not just a few of the more popular ones. We think that we can fill the bill. Call us.

St. Elizabeth NEWSETTES

By DONNA WAGNERS

With school resuming on Monday, students have begun to get that "Christmas Spirit."

Even so early you hear talk of what everyone wants. But they should be thinking of the approaching Nativity.

The third grade classroom has an original idea for decorating their room.

They are going to make a stained-glassed window using the door as a background.

We are all waiting for the finished results.

The St. Elizabeth's Cubs basketball squad will have its first game of the season, Sunday, December 6, at the Sacred Heart School in Hudson.

The players are: David Dziachan, Joan Garcia, John Lindstrom, Tracey Oliver, Jay Osburn, Tom Velandro, Mike Wilkins, Mike Buku, Richard Duffin, David Mueller, Robert Donahue, Mike Velandra, Michael Wykes, Jim Biscupski, Joe Caterina, Jim Green, David Lips, Kenneth Peters and Eric Wilkins.

A fine turnout would boost the team's winning hopes. Remember its your team. Good Luck boys!

Individual student photos were distributed last Wednesday.

It is interesting to watch the expressions of the students as they receive their pictures.

The seventh graders sponsored a dance for the Junior High grades at S.E.S. last week.

Cynthia Roll was the general chairman of the dance, which was titled "Pilgrim Parade."

SURVIVORS MISSED

Catherine and Earlene Marsh of Toledo were omitted in the list of survivors of Earl Marsh who was killed in an auto accident recently.

Holiday or Horror Day?

Will Christmas be a holiday or a horror day for you and your family?

The National Safety Council asked that question today as it announced a campaign in December to reduce accidents on the highways and in the home.

Theme of the campaign, according to Arthur B. Langlie, chairman of the Councils National Committee of Religious Leaders for Safety, is: "For a merry Christmas—make it safe!"

"Emphasis during the month-long campaign," he said, "will be on the moral responsibility Americans have to prevent accidents.

"The person who through disregard for safety injures or kills another person has violated a commandment.

" 'Thou shalt not kill' refers just as surely to motorists on the highway and chance-takers in the home as it does to the berserk man with a loaded shotgun.

"Motorists who drink and then drive, homeowners who carelessly use matches, candles or Christmas tree lights, are morally responsible if death or injury results."

Yeggs Can Face Federal Charge

Pranksters who uprooted rural mail boxes along Rogers Hwy. last week are toying with trouble.

This could be a federal offense, warns Tecumseh postmaster Jack Metcalf.

About 10 boxes were involved.

HERALD ADS PAY OFF!

One target of the National Safety Council holiday campaign is the office party that relies on the bottle for its fun.

Langlie emphasized that the campaign will not attempt to dampen holiday gaiety.

"We're just as much in favor of office parties as the next person," he said, "but not when they spill out tipsy people to climb behind the wheel of a car and drive on the highway.

"Have your friendly office party—but without the flowing bowl, the highball hilarity."

ROLLING ALONG — Remodeling work on the United Savings Bank is speeding along, despite foul weather much of the past couple of weeks. The photo at right gives an over-all effect of what the financial institution looks like without the former second and third floors. Nice improvement, eh? AT LEFT is a closeup of the brickwork along the east side. Extra-high openings for windows and doors to offices gives a modern touch. Still to be completed is considerable refurbishing work inside.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION

During the past year or so, anyone who has been on the road much, for either pleasure or business has not, it is a safe bet, gone many miles without encountering road construction.

New thorough-fares are being built and existing highways are being improved. Long, bumpy and often hard to drive detours are all to frequent and hot dusty waits at the wrong ends of "one-way zones" are irksome and tiring.

Steam shovels, tractors, caterpillars and all sorts of heavy, earth-moving machinery are seen everywhere. They are our tools of road construction.

As happens so often, Mother Nature can sit back and laugh at our cumbersome awkward ways — she is continually expanding her highway system and she does it with little fuss or bother.

Highway system?

Certainly, up and down the creek bank there is a highly complicated network of tree roads.

The squirrels have heavily traveled main arteries as well as many many less frequently used side roads.

Now the curtain of green, which last spring was pulled down so tightly over the tree tops, has dropped away and we can see what has been going on up there.

With no fuss and bother, no inconvenience and no wear and tear on the users, Mother Nature has expanded and enlarged her highway system.

NOW THAT the view is unobstructed we can appreciate just how much went on behind the leafy curtain and the growth made by the limbs and branches is amazing.

What used to be daring leaps from one branch to another are now only exciting jumps. Last years exciting jumps are merely unchallen ging, uninteresting steps and several spots, which a year ago were almost too tame and unexciting for use, are now abandoned completely.

As the squirrels race through the trees they obviously love to jump and leap and the greater the test of skill, the greater the fun.

With so many routes available, there is little need for them to use anything which doesnt present a challenge and so as the yearly growth affects the tree roads, the squirrels select routes affording the greatest pleasure. Fortunately for us, no major changes have been made and we are anticipating a good winter of watching the squirrels at their daring-do best.

THE OTHER afternoon we noticed that although Mother Nature can beat us at many things, she has not bested us completely and some of the troubles which plague us are found in her domain too.

Litter bugs for instance.

Some of our road sides are shameful and disgraceful but the litter problem is not ours exclusively. As we watched, one of the Little Reds earned for himself the infamous title of Litter Bug.

The little squirrel had been playing on our fence and when tired of that fun, amazingly over to a pile of apples on the creek bank.

Taking his time, carefully looking to find exactly the right one, he finally, after pawing them all over, found just the apple he was looking for.

Holding it in his mouth, up the creek bank and into the big elm he headed. It was quite a mouthful and for once, Little Red didn't move like a streak of lightning. He managed to lug his prize up the tree but it was a tough job.

AS DEMONSTRATED often before Red Squirrels are all spunk and fight and true to character, this one did not settle down on the first, and therefore easiest to reach, branch but struggled on to the next highest one.

This is not to say he had much farther to go, the two limbs grow quite close together, but it did seem fitting that he did no take the easiest way — stubborness often times comes in small packages.

When the second limb was attained, we expected him to settle back and enjoy his lunch. Not so —he may have taken one or two quick bites but there was hardly time for much more til he put the apple down and scampered away.

Litter bug, litter bug, litter bug!

He very carefully placed the apple on the tree limb and there it stayed all afternoon. We saw him run by it many times, after all it was on one of the main thorough-fares and could hardly be avoided, but I am sure he did not stop for another bite.

After being so careful about selecting the apple and then working so hard to take it into the tree, why was it abandoned?

That night the wind blew the uneaten lunch of the tree—so it appears that Mother Nature's highways can become littered just like ours, but unlike ours, hers don't stay in that deplorable condition.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Wally Weber did a grand job as speaker at last week's Sports Booster banquet honoring the undefeated Tecumseh football team.

As one of the nation's top after-dinner speakers, Wally has appeared as the featured guest at more than 1,500 sports affairs. A former University of Michigan grid star and coach, he is now doing public relations for the school.

He captiviated his Tecumseh audience from his opening remarks right down to the end. ("As Lady Godiva said when she slid off her horse, now we come to the clothes.")

For the most part Wally talked sports, bringing to life the great moments of Michigan football and some of its disasters—like the time Bob Zuppke's underdog Illinois upset the Wolverines of the Tom Harmon era.

As he neared the conclusion, Wally became deadly serious.

Of the current titanic struggle between the free world and communism, he stated simply:

"It's either we or they."

Wally recounted how the great Russian hockey team which toured America last winter had knocked off a combined Michigan and MSU team.

Now, a Red basketball squad is making a similiar junket, he explained.

"They're beating us at our own skills."

"Boys, let sport be the laboratory to show we still are the greatest nation in the world," Wally urged.

Another highlight of the program was Ray Herrick's presentation of gold footballs to each varsity man.

He evoked many a chuckle from the audience as he congratulated and kidded the players. To quarterback Steve Kruger: "I told your dad (Earl Kruger, an employee of Tecumseh Products) if you didn't beat Adrian he would be fired."

Mr. Herrick said he didn't get out to the Adrian tilt, but was kept posted by telephone every few minutes.

"Some friends were over to play cards," he said, "and I got so excited I lost $2.50."

Mr. Herrick also had surprises for coach Duncan Leetka and his assistant, Charley Gross.

The guest explained that the coaches were so mud-soaked after the battle with Adrian that they needed some new clothes and he and Harold Green of Green's Clothing had gotten together about gift certificates. Each mentor received one for $150.

After making his awards, Mr. Herrick received one himself a ball used in the Adrian win, complete with scores of the season painted on it and also autographed by each boy on the squad.

The other game ball was similarly decorated and awarded as a door prize. It went to Allen Brooks, who was attending as a member of the great 1941 Tecumseh High team, last previously undefeated eleven from our school.

The '41 unit had a lot of fun and roared along with the crowd when Mr. Herrick opened his talk, greeting the '59 champions and "you derelicts of 1941."

Neville Hart, THS principal, was coach of that team and introduced those who attended. (See pictures of the '41 team,

STUDIES PLAN—Bill Wright, a town druggist, is chairman of the off-street parking committee which is moving ahead with plans to improve facilities behind business places for customer parking, based on recommendations of last year's parking survey.

City Off-Street Parking Project Being Speeded

In the past 15 years a new dimension has been added to the ingredients of retail business—off-street parking.

With the great increase of shoppers driving directly to stores in which they wish to buy, space has had to be provided for their cars.

At first, the buyer would go to a lot of trouble to find a place, even being willing to walk a block after leaving the car.

Off-street spaces, usually in an empty lot next to stores, were considered a luxury.

Now they have become a necessity.

The stores which don't have off-street spaces—and have them within a few feet of a door—are fast losing business to competitors who provide them.

This revolution by buyers, who just stop going to stores where they can't find easy parking, first started in the metropolitan areas.

IT WAS STIMULATED by the invention of the giant shopping centers, which first lay out a giant, off-street parking lot, then build stores around it.

The old-fashioned neighborhood business outlets within two to three miles of the new shopping centers began to feel the pinch. If they didn't immediately come up with off-street parking of their own, sales began to slip.

Store after store in Detroit and Toledo, without parking, slipped into oblivion.

Motorists driving through these and other large cities nowadays will almost always note rows of empty business places dotting the community.

The blow that killed? Too little parking.

SINCE ABOUT 10 YEARS ago the revolution has started to smaller towns, some less seriously than others. But always this danger is lurking in the shadows: healthy business activities can suddenly be ended if buyers have no place to leave their cars.

Tecumseh has one of the most unique and interesting off-street parking potentials in this part of the state.

It is, without a doubt, the best in Lenawee County.

But much of it is still in the "raw form". Off-street space for autos, to be sure, is there, but it's mainly unimproved, unpaved, slightly rutted in places and muddy following rains.

But the space itself is the priceless part.

And Tecumseh is doing something about making these lots into attractive, appealing places to leave a car.

TWO YEARS AGO A consulting engineering firm from Detroit, Gibson and Killeen, conducted a survey of Tecumseh's on-street and off-street parking.

The Herald reprinted the entire report, which was spread over five editions.

Gibson and Killeen made many recommendations concerning possible future planning for off-street development.

A local committee was formed with Bill Wright, one of the community's druggists, as chairman.

Its job was to work closely with the city and set a time table on off-street lot improvement.

First project was to surface the area behind the old Ford building. The area was also lined, now provides room for 125 cars, and it's free.

This was completed last summer and is a prime example of what an off-street lot should look like.

The money to do this — nearly $5,000 — was acquired from revenue of on-street parking meters over the previous year.

CHAIRMAN WRIGHT AND HIS committee still faced another 225 unimproved places, in the area behind Adrian Federal Savings and the lot due east of the fire station.

It was originally thought that these spots would have to wait for anywhere from two to three years before enough money would be amassed to tackle them.

However, last week a number of merchants agreed that the effort shouldn't be held off this long, that financing should somehow be arranged for immediately.

Chairman Wright was given a go-ahead to find every possible fact about an accelerated program and present it at a meeting of businessmen in January.

ANOTHER FACTOR which arises when A-1 off-street parking is available behind stores: what about new entrances in the rear?

Merchants will have to tackle this one individually. Many already have and in most cases they state as much business comes in through the back door as the front.

It's the whole new trend to shopping and the automobile is entirely responsible.

'Christmas in Orbit' Scores Big Success

By MARY SEAGER

"Christmas in Orbit" was a successful combination of dialogue and song. It was directed by Leslie Bennett and written by seniors Janet Graham and Brenda Hall.

Presented both Monday and Tuesday nights at the Junior High School auditorium, the show played to packed houses.

The plot line was that two rocketeers were orbiting in space on Christmas Eve. They got to talking about Christmas and what it meant.

Each thing they said recalled some carol or Christmas song, which was either sung by the Chorus as a whole, by a soloist, or a group.

The hour was filled with many beautiful numbers that were extremely well-done, whether they were traditional or popular. The sets were original and appropriate to the theme being presented.

Congratulations are in order for both the Chorus and Mr. Bennett, who combined efforts to make possible a most enjoyable evening that brought back some of the true meaning of Christmas.

The soloists were Sharon Lawhead—"White Christmas", Linda Dean — "Silver Bells", Gail DeMass (accordian)—"Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" and "Winterwonderland" and 'I Wonder as I Wander" by Dennis Bryan.

"Ah Bleak and Chill the Wintry Wind" was sung by Sharon Lawhead, Susan Day, Carol Owens, Linda Dean, and Jean Thomas.

The Madrigal Singers sang several songs, including "Good King Wenceslas".

"Oh Holy Night" was sung by Lana Bays, Bob Bonner, and Dennis Bryan, Linda Andrews, Louise Anderson, Shirley Wagoner, and Janice George sang "Song of an Indian Child."

Vickie Peterson did a tap dance to the tune of "Suzie Snowflake". Also on the stage at the same time was a dancing "Frosty the Snowman" Ralph Helzerman.

Ninty-seven students took part. Their names appear on page 3.

Blade To Tell Tecumseh Story

Sunday's Toledo Blade will carry a lengthy article about the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation. Written by one of the Blade's top reporters, Bill Day, it will be accompanied by a picture of Foundation officers and 1959 drive chairmen.

Arrangements were completed for the children Christmas party Dec. 6.

A gift exchange was held and refreshments were served by Mrs. Harold Warren and Mrs. James Felton.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 6, 1960.

The actual meeting of the group will be held in January.

Top Award in Drawing Now $150

Since no winners were on hand last week to collect the first week's $100 in Tecumseh Christmas Bonus drawings, this Friday's first prize has been swelled to $150.

In order to get the awards, the person whose name is called must be in one of the city's 31 Christmas Bonus stores at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Free chances on the cash can be obtained at any time in these stores—no purchase necessary—up until 6:30 that evening.

The drawing begins promptly at 7:30 and the winners must claim their prizes within five minutes after their names are announced.

Besides the $150 top prize, there are others of $25, $15 and $10.

Persons 18-years and older—except members of immediate families of merchants—are eligible to win.

Drawings will also be held Dec. 18 and 23, with any unclaimed money being added to the first prize the following week.

Altogether, retail members of the Chamber of Commerce have massed a jackpot of $400 for this Christmas promotion.

Santa Claus will be downtown, at his trailer, Friday from 4 until 9 p.m., again on Saturday from 2 until 5, then from 7 to 9 p.m.

Doctor Tells About Hobby at Wives Night

Annual Wives Night was held by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Guest speaker was Dr. William Hewes, Adrian pediatrician who presented an interesting discussion and display of his hobby consisting of gems and semi-precious stones.

The Auxiliary presented the JC membership with a large Junior Chamber of Commerce banner or a Christmas gift.

Annual toy drive is underway and members will repair toys that area service clubs will distribute for Christmas to needy children.

Toys will be collected prior to December 14 by phoning 7032J and 216M.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

"Rejoice, rejoice. Emmanuel will come to you, O Israel."

The program, "Christmas in Orbit" was utterly delightful Monday and Tuesday evening presented by the High School Chorus and Les Bennett.

From the first column through to the vocal benediction the numbers were well executed. The space bit came into its own as the chorus hummed from outside the auditorium as the story of Christmas was read on the stage. To this writer, "Psalm 150" and "Carol of the Drum" were outstanding numbers among the many fine ones presented.

Tecumseh people who do not go to this annual production because their children do not have a part in it, are missing one of the finest musical treats of the year.

TECUMSEH TRUMP—That's the downtown off-street parking this city has. Here's the best lot, which is black-topped and lined, offering room for 125 cars. It's located in back of the old Butler Ford building, which is rapidly being transformed into the new Woolworth's and Gambles stores. Still to be done are 225 more spaces, part of them behind Adrian Federal Savings and the rest just east of the fire house. Such off-street parking is a boon to lady drivers, who simply glide into place, have no troublesome twisting and turning, which is required for on-street parking.

Coach Dunc Lectka extended thanks to several folks at the football banquet Dec. 2.

1. Athletic director Vic Lawson, for assisting in football, even after his basketball team started practice.

2. Don Johnson, band director for his coorperation.

3. Rip VanWinkle, custodian and former coach, who scouted Indian opponents all season.

4. Dave Dick for taking movies of all games.

5. Local dentists for fitting mouth guards for players.

The Herald, Adrian Telegram and Radio station WOIA for publicity.

7. Local doctors for giving physicals.

then and now, page two of the second section.)

Mr. Hart explained that he had always thought of it was the greatest team ever assembled. He said he would amend this slightly, "You see before you, two of the greatest teams ever assembled."

Tim Neill, as vice-president of the Sports Booster, introduced the toastmaster, Edgar Hayes, sports editor of the Detroit Times.

Tim also mentioned the three major projects which the Boosters are working on:

1. Finishing the press box.

2. Getting new lights for the field (which, coincidentally, were erected the year of the last unbeaten season.)

3. Expanding seating capacity at the field.

It was an evening of enjoyment for the 200 who jammed the High School cafeteria—and a fitting conclusion to the great grid season.

In the current issue of TIME, a story under the section entitled „Adventure", tells of recent small-plane flights.

Quoting TIME:

"Another member of the small company of light-plane adventurers set a record last week. Peter Gluckmann, 33, a San Francisco watchmaker, piloted a single-engine Cessna 172 from Oakland to Honolulu in 20 hr. 29 min., thus became just about the biggest man (250 lbs.) to fly the smallest plane (145 h.p.) over the longest distance (2,400 miles) of open water."

If TIME had done a little more research, it would have discovered that Gluckmann had a short time before flown a Tecumseh-built Meyers 200 28,000 miles around the world.

Guess we can't have everything.

Author-professor Allan Seager was pleased as punch as he scurried into the office to announce:

"Staff writer Mary V. Seager has been accepted by Radcliffe College."

He didn't tell us, but we found out later, not only was Mary admitted, but also awarded a sizeable scholarship to boot.

Mary is in her third year as our "With Tecumseh Teens" column and we're just as proud of her latest accomplishment as her dad.

Radcliffe is for young ladies what nearby Harvard is for the fellows.

When Anne Carson, 509 E. Logan St., read in a recent Herald that Edgar Hayes was going to be toastmaster at the Tecumseh football banquet, she decided to write Mrs. Hayes, an old friend, to come along and visit her.

They hadn't seen one another in 10 years, were former fellow workers in Detroit's Herman Keifer Hospital.

But before Anne could get out her pen, the phone rang and it was Mrs. Hayes—with the identical idea. She had just learned from her husband of the Tecumseh assignment.

While Eddie (see cut) was banqueting, Mrs. Hayes, her sister, Lucille Nettle of Detroit and Cora Davies of Ann Arbor, another Keifer alumnae, were chatting happily with Anne.

A freak explosion at Greenwald's Laundry two weeks ago had owner Clay Greenwald in a quandry for a while.

The oil burner didn't ignite promptly and "wham" out went five windows in the back of the shop and a 6x10 piece of plate glass in the front.

It was replacing the latter which worried Clay. That was, until Merlyn Downing told Clay in demolishing the old hotel, there was a chunk of plate—just 6x10—would it fit?

Responsible for $107,000

A nine-member board of trustees will be chosen next month to guide the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Currently serving as trustees — all carry-overs from the old Community Chest — are Vern Manwaring, Merlyn Downing, Mrs. H. H. Hanna, Mrs. Barnard Fero, John Thompson, Virgil Tucker, Mrs. T. Rentschler and Owen Partridge.

According to Foundation bylaws, a five-person nominating committee will present a slate of 18 candidates for the January 12 meeting. This group includes the mayor, presidents of Rotary, Exchange and Kiwanis clubs and an official of the Business & Professional Women's Club.

Of the nine candidates for trustees elected, three will be chosen for three years, three for two years and three for one.

Who will vote on this slate of 18?

The bylaws indicate that those eligible to vote are the present members of the board.

This at first may seem like a "closed corporation," but in reality it insures proper guidance to so important an organization — one which is responsible for nearly $107,000 at the moment.

Without a close guard on each year's election, it could be possible for a pressure group to wedge its way into control of the Foundation.

With a changing nominating group (for example, service clubs pick a new president every year), there is always likely to be a variety of candidates.

In addition, those doing the nominating — all respected members of leading community organizations — have the power to eliminate trustees, whom they feel are not doing the best job possible for the Foundation, by simply dropping their names from the annual list of candidates.

To formulate the bylaws, the Foundation had one of the midwest's top legal minds, a man who is a specialist in such things. His thinking was based on years of experience in such matters.

'60 Will Be Pivotal Year

The Herald is pleased as punch that off-street parking plans for Tecumseh are going into high gear. The business district needs every hard-topped, lined space it can get.

As our feature on off-street parking points out, Tecumseh is blessed with considerable land immediately next to business places.

The improvement program, benefitting both the buyer and businessman, calls for at least 375 spaces, all of them unmetered.

When they're finished off and lighted, Tecumseh will have off-street facilities rivaling the most outstanding shopping centers.

"If we grow as much in the next 10 years as we have in the past 10," one veteran businessman said last week, "we'll need every bit of parking we can get."

The Herald feels Tecumseh's growth pattern will continue as it has since 1949 and that if parking is licked now, store beautification—front and back—will be the next job.

It would seem that the year 1960 is going to be the opening of a pivotal era. Communities that are going to be leaders in the next decade must break from the pack during '60.

Those that don't will probably ease off and start a gradual decline to oblivion. We certainly don't want this to happen to Tecumseh.

Getting our off-street parking in order is the first and most important step. As we say, we're glad this project is going into high gear now.

He Teaches More Than Music

Once again Les Bennett and his High School chorus have turned in a sparkling Christmas program. We've always felt Les to be one of the top music teachers in the area.

His skills extend way beyond that of instructing voice. Among his greatest talents are organization and inspration.

Les has his young people striving for great things. Being a member of his chorus is not a chore—it's a privilege.

When the chorus tackles the annual Yule show, everyone is in there pitching. The easy way would be to take some tried and true show. This isn't the case with Les and his youngsters. They deliberately go the hard route, writing and producing their own.

The result is always an exciting, enthusiastic effort. Those taking part love their work and the audience is equally entralled.

Les Bennett is teaching his students much more than music.

Remember Those in Uniform

Those young people around our community in military service get a little extra lonesome come Christmas time if they can't get leave to visit home.

There's one way in which we can help ease this feeling. The American Legion Auxiliary annually send a gift to each man and woman in uniform.

All the folks at home have to do is give the complete address of the serviceman or woman to Mrs. Roger Williams, 2142 Russell Rd., or phone 7144-J. From that point the Auxiliary takes over.

The gals of the Legion are to be congratulated for this thoughtfulness.

There's another way we can boost morale of the folks in service — send a note or Christmas card. And you'd better do it right away so they'll be sure to receive them before Christmas.

When Farmer s Liable

What would you do if a visitor or hired man lost a finger in your silo filler and brought suit for several thousand dollars?

This recently happened in Michigan and such an accident and law suit could happen to any farmer.

A farmer is legally responsible for injury or property loss on his land that results from his negligence. Workmen's Compensation insurance and public liability insurance give protection in such cases.

Your need for liability insurance depends on several things.

1. How many visitors do you have? Do you have any special hazards like a farm pond?

2. How many people do you hire? Several temporary workers usually present a greater risk than one-year-round hired hand.

3. What do your hired hands do? Climbing trees and working with tractor-driven machinery are especially dangerous.

Public liability insurance protects a farmer against law suits by visitors who are injured on his farm. The insurance company pays for the farmer's defense. It does not pay benefits unless a court finds the farmer guilty of negligence.

Workmen's Compensation insurance protects farmers in case of injuries through a "rider" attached to regular public liability policies.

Workmen's Compensation insurance is high — about $47 a year for every $1,000 on an employer's payroll. This insurance pays all hospital bills and long-term benefits in case of death or disability. It also pays a hired man two-thirds of his regular wage while he is unable to work.

Many companies sell liability insurance "riders" covering employees. Such coverage gives payments only if the employer's negligence is proven in court.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

5383 Macon Rd.
Tecumseh, Michigan

To the Editors:

In contrast to the complaint you received from the lady about your editorial, I would like to tell you of an experience I had with a local merchant.

About three weeks ago I bought a purse from a store downtown.

Yesterday when I closed the purse, the latch broke. It wouldn't stay closed and was useless to me in that condition.

I returned the purchase to the store and it was speedily exchanged for a new one by the owner with no questions asked.

Because of this friendly service, the quality and selection of their merchandise, I shall return to that store many times in the future.

Sincerely yours,
Barbara Damon

To the Editors:

I read with much interest one item in the With Tecumseh Teens column written by Mary Seager in the issue of December 3rd relating to the rising cost of basketball tickets in effect now.

Of course, I realize these same prices were in effect for the football season here. I am wondering, however, how many other parents are asking the reason for the price change when other events in school which are just as interesting to the public are still open to everyone at the same prices.

Two games a week in some weeks means $2 to an adult or $1 for a student should he get his ticket in advance.

Some times plans at home will change so that a student will find at the last minute it is possible to go to a game but $1 a ticket is quite steep for anyone's budget who is still in school.

What use is being made of this extra income which goes to the Athletic Department of the school?

We have a fine gymnasium at the high school which must be maintained, I know, and yet we have no auditorium in which to hold concerts or graduation exercises, etc., and these are being discussed as a part of the new Civic center which is being planned for our city in the future.

I would also like to suggest that it would be a good idea for the Student Council at school to perhaps start thinking of a Student Activity ticket which could be sold at the beginning of each year to cover all school events at a fee which could fit today's parents' budgets.

These are in use at most colleges and several high schools with much success.

Sincerely,
Majel F. Holden
(Mrs. Laine R.)

Inspired Leaders Save Legion Post

(Editor's note — This month's issue of The Michigan Legionnaire carries an inspiring story of the post in Britton, which was brought "back from the depths" in recent years. Entitled "Golden Era Dawns in Britton," this is that article.)

When the "Great Post Comeback" story is written in the second district tie fiero of the piece must certainly be post 155 of Britton.

Britton in three short years has surged back from the edge of extinction to a lofty place among the elite posts of the district.

A study of Britton's remarkable revival is a lesson in the values of harmony, teamwork, community service, and personalized membership selling.

"In 1956 our post was all but dead," confesses George Cline, last year's commander. "In eight years the membership had dropped from 36 men to a sickening 16."

Even the survivors were disillusioned, discouraged and simply fed up with the Legion, he added.

"I don't exactly know what went wrong because I wasn't a member of the post at the time. But it's generally believed that internal strife was the cause of the collapse."

FINALLY OUR plight became so bad, Cline said, that we held a meeting with Robert Stites, then the district's alternate committeeman, to decide whether or not to revoke the post charter.

"Happily a few devoted Legionnaires voted to 'try again,' the former commander said, "and they elected Carl Luegge commander for the 1956-57 year."

Cline insists that the Britton post couldn't have made a better selection. "Carl saved our post," the 1958-59 commander flatly asserts.

Luegge, a likeable determined man, personally went to work selling memberships with remarkably good results.

By the end of his year in office the Britton post membership zoomed to an all-time high of 53. The record earned the post an honor ribbon for the post flag, and a citation for meritorious service.

AWARDS TO STUDENTS—Among its activities in the community of Britton the rejuvinated Britton American Legion post presents metals to outstanding graduates of Britton-Macon High School. Here post adjutant Dean Downing makes the presentation to Robert McCrate and Judy Hawkins, members of the Class of 1959.

SURPRISINGLY, Luegge sold with an eye to the future, concentrating his efforts on vets of World War II and the Korean conflict.

Today, over 60% of the members are from the last two wars.

Succeeding commanders, taking their cues from Luegge, continued to shatter all-time post membership records in 1958 and '59.

During the command of youthful Dean Downing in 1958, membership climbed to an impressive 91.

Cline's regime pushed the figure to 103. Both years the post walked off with district membership citations.

Dick Linn, the current post commander, reported 54 paid up members on Sept. 1. But the 25-year-old Korean veteran says he won't settle for a quota post.

Like his energetic predecessors, he wants another all-time high. "And I've got a hunch we'll hit a new record again this year," Linn confidently predicts.

BUT THE Britton post isn't just a membership getting outfit. It has while on the comeback trail, become intensely community conscious.

Last year the post, in conjunction with Ridgeway county, erected a memorial in Britton park in honor of veterans of all wars. The post since 1957 has conducted Memorial services and parades for its pleasant community.

"The post is always ready to assign Legionnaires for military funerals," Cline said. "And our post home is available free of charge to any church or charitable organization."

In the last three years the post has become actively engaged in school activities, past commander Cline revealed.

"Each year we have been making a citizenship award to the outstanding boy and girl in our high school, and we're taking a more active part in the Wolverine Boys' State program."

Despite the fact that Britton does a fine job on general community service programs, members seem happiest when they are engaged in projects aimed at helping their fellow men.

THE POST has been active in the department blood bank program, and has been instrumental in establishing the program in Lenawee county.

At 10:30 p.m. last Christmas Eve, post members learned of a needy family in the county.

They immediately contacted a Legionnaire who owned a grocery, filled a basket with food and presented it to the unhappy folks as a Christmas present from the Legion.

At another time, thoughtful Britton Legionnaires held a special fund raising dance and a house-to-house canvas for the family of a 27-year-old cancer victim.

They raised over $1,000 for the widow and her young children.

When a state trooper was killed in the line of duty, the Britton post again raised money for the widow and her small children.

"BRITTON DOESN'T have any big community service plans for the future," says past commander Cline. "When our attention is called to a deserving person or program, we'll step in and help.

"I guess we would like to build a post home in the near future." "The present home was built in 1881, you know."

Current commander Dick Linn says the post officers are negotiating for a new home now. "I hope it isn't merely a dream," he says wistfully.

Legionnaires in district 2 will readily wager that the new home will be a reality in the near future. "You know in Britton these days they act, they don't dream," said one proud district officer.

HE DID IT—Man who saved the Britton post from extinction was Carl Luegee, who now is post finance officer.

Celebrate Season of Advent

The Methodist Church in Tecumseh is marking Advent with several events this week.

The Christmas Family Night Supper was announced for Wednesday of this week.

Christmas cookies were to be the specialty item on the menu for this cooperative supper.

Gerald Janousek and Mrs. Kenton Hunt were asked to lead the group in the singing of Christmas carols.

This is the third in the series "The Faces Advent Presents," Universal Bible Sunday will be observed in that service.

The third candle in the Advent wreaths will be lighted by the acolytes as the service begins.

Coffee and doughnuts were served from a lace-covered table, centered with a low bowl of red roses, flanked by glass swan vases filled with white pompons.

Dead Sea Scrolls

The Rev. Victor Gruhn of Gloria Dei United Lutheran Church will devote his sermons for the next two Sundays to "The Dead Sea Scrolls and Their Meaning."

The service begins at 10:30 a.m. each Sunday morning.

On Dec. 27, Dr. Lazlo Gero from Cleveland will be here to fill the pulpit, having accepted the call of the church.

Mrs. Fred Gillen, Mrs. Jeanette Greenfield, Mrs. Robert Godfrey and Mrs. Russell Collins accompanied the Macon School children to the Rotunda on Wednesday.

'Open My Eyes' Baptist Theme on Friday

Twenty-three attended the Baptist Day of Prayer Friday in the Youth House.

SANTA VISITS BROWNIES — Santa arrived just in time for the Christmas party in the Presbyterian Fellowship Center Monday evening of 108 first — and second-year Brownies. He chatted with the young ladies and then joined them in their Goodnight Circle before he had to dash back to the North Pole. Refreshments included sloppy joes, potato chips, hot chocolate — and appropriately, Brownies. With Santa are Linda Oberlin, Trudy Curtiss and Nancy Anderson.

The group is grateful to Twin Pines Dairy, Tony Baking Company, New Era Potato Chip Co., Sluyter Electric, Driggs Dairy Company, the Kroger Store, Van's Pastry Shop, Mrs. Quigley, Mrs. Dickinson, and Mrs. Gerald Roberts for assistance and donations, which helped to make the project possible.

Dynamite Blast May Take Eye

Emil Welti of rural Tecumseh still has the sight of his right eye, but there is some question as to whether it will return to his left.

He is still a patient at the University Medical Center in Ann Arbor where he was taken after three sticks of dynamite exploded in his face, Dec. 2.

The cuts and bruises to his face, hands and legs are healing nicely.

Mr. Welti was disposing of the dynamite, which he had left over from blowing stumps.

It is thought that the fuse which was two years old, had perhaps deteriorated and thus caused the immediate explosion.

Why are some drugs like "ecstasy sauce?"

If you read "Li'l Abner" you may recall how the Gourmet's Club plotted to make "Ecstasy Sauce" from the Yokums' pet pig, Salomey. Recipe: Boil down one hammus alabamus (Salomey) until just one single, solitary delicious drop remains—and that is "Ecstasy Sauce." In terms of food, this is humorously ridiculous, but it's actually routine in the making of drugs. Often hundreds of pounds of raw materials must be processed and reprocessed to obtain one tiny pinch of the active medication. Which helps explain why modern drugs are so potent, and why we pharmacists dispense them only when your physician writes a prescription.

If your health and stregnth are good you win the fight and the attack is defeated. But, if your resistance is low, any disease can gain a dangerous foothold. There fore it is wise to visit your physician for regular checkups to make certain you have enough energy to fight off sickness. He can prescribe the proper needed medication.

Through My Window

IN OUR WREN HOUSES TOO

How surprising to start reading the current issue of "Audubon Magazine" and find, in their letter column a note from Jackson. Neighbors! The writer told of many unusual tenants his bird houses have hosted.

We can't equal the tree frog which spent the summer in one of Mr. Ratcliff's wren houses, but still and all, our bird houses have afforded us much pleasure and fun.

Within easy view of our west-looking picture window there are two wren houses; one, smaller and newer than the other, is in a tree near the end of the fence. More about that later.

The larger house hangs in the maple tree which grows on the creek bank just outside my window. The first year that the Wrens accepted our hospitality and raised their family in this house, we were so thrilled that automatically the maple tree became the 'wren tree".

More than one person has raised a questioning eyebrow at hearing us talk about our wren tree. An elm, maple, or walnut—but wren? One trusting soul even went so far as to check a tree book.

WE THOROUGHLY enjoy wrens—having such a close look at them raising their families is always a high point of our "summer watching". Last winter however, Mrs. Downey Woodpecker remodeled the entrance to the house thus making it unsatisfactory for the happy little songsters.

Curious about just what would happen, we decided to leave it just as was. We knew we would not have wrens but could it be that we would have woodpeckers?

It took a week or so of hard work for the little Downey to refashion the doorway, but when satisfied that all was to her liking, she moved in. Snug and warm in her winter home, she "sat out" many storms.

When the snow fell and the wind howled, she looked so comfortable sitting just inside the doorway with only her head showing. She seemed contented and happy—as the weather began to moderate, we began to hope that perhaps she would raise a family.

Wouldn't a wren house full of little woodpeckers have been wonderful?

UNFORTUNATELY it didn't work out. Before Mrs. Downey got around to finding herself a mate and preparing her apartment for a family, she left the house unattended for a few weeks and, of course, sparrows took possession.

Commonplace sparrows are quite a let down after wrens and woodpeckers, but actually, in their own way, they were fun.

Busy days of carting nesting material into the house were followed by relatively quite ones as the eggs were laid and incubated but then came the hustle and bustle of trying to feed the fast growing and always hungry families.

I use the plural because all summer long, just as fast as one family was raised, another was started.

Cold weather finally brought to a halt this almost endless baby sparrow but still, the sparrows monopolized the house.

Do they, like woodpeckers, have winter homes? It would appear so and seemingly, they are even more thorough about it. Lately they again have been carrying things into the house.

IT IS NOT the dead grass and leaves used last spring. In fact, we are not quite sure what it is.

Something white — scraps of Kleenex perhaps or maybe the small, soft, downey feathers Gertie's duck has just molted.

Whatever, they keep packing it in the house so by now, it must be almost full. We had hoped that the little Downey Woodpecker would return to her last year's haunt but if she does, I am afraid she will have to fight the Sparrows for it.

The smaller house, the one out by the fence, has been most successful. It was put up last spring and happy for us, hosted the wrens who found their old house unsatisfactory.

Lately, although I believe it has no tenants, it has reached much curiosity.

ONE OF THE Little Reds find it fascinating; he can't be in that tree without crawling all over the house and looking ridiculously funny as he tries to peek into the tiny doorway.

The sparrows have long since given up trying to squeeze inside but on their last visit, One of the cedar-waxwings tried.

How we laughed as the waxwing, so big that he barely managed to secure a foothold on the entrance perch, fluttered and swayed in an all out effort to maintain his balance and tried, time after time, to stick his head in the much-to-small-for-him hole.

So it goes—no tree frogs, but there have been some fun goings on in our wren houses too.

Lamley (right) explains to Terry new lighting which will be twice as powerful as old. Art Stambaugh of Consumers seems to be getting quite a kick out of holding one of the old lamps.

Street Lights Going Up

Tecumseh's Chicago Blvd. is being transformed into a Great White Way this week.

Twenty-two new mercury vapor street lights are being installed, affording twice the illumination as the old ones.

A six-man crew from Consumers Power Co. of Adrian started the job Monday.

Foreman R. S. Lamley expected that all 22 installations will be completed by the end of the week, weather permitting.

Each of the old lights had a capacity of 10,000 lumens. The new ones are rated at 20,000 lumens.

Height of the lamp poles has been extended from 25 to 30 feet.

Fire Danger Increases

"You don't have to be near the flames to have a fire snuff out your life!"

The National Safety Council said this today to point up arrival of the season when the number of home fire deaths reaches a peak.

More than half the year's home fire deaths occur during four months—December through March.

"Smoke and combustion gases," the Council said, "often are the cause of death in home fires, rather than flames."

Fires are the leading cause of home death to everyone except infants and the very elderly, and are the No. 2 cause of home death to persons of all ages.

Home fires take more than 5,000 lives a year and cost the nation billions of dollars.

Your chance of surviving a fire depends on how well you know what to do.

According to the experts, the odds are 1 in 100 that you'll have a home fire during the next year, 1 in 20 you'll have a fire within five years.

Best way to stay safe from fire, of course, is to prevent it before it starts—don't smoke in bed, and have your heating system checked, for example.

IF YOU ARE unfortunate enough to have a fire, the Council said, your chances of coming out alive are better if you know these facts:

1. It's not necessarily the flames from a fire that kill you. Rising heat and combustion gases are just as deadly.

2. If possible, sleep with your bedroom door closed and the windows open. It will help keep out the lethal gases that can find your life while you sleep.

3. If you suspect fire in your home, be cautious, don't hurridly open the door. Check first to see if the door it hot. If it is, stay in your room. Get someone to call the fire department. Keep the door closed and get fresh air at the window till help arrives.

Health Group Still Tracking Bad Heaters

There have been eight deaths in Michigan since September as a result of the use of Thurm Bottled Gas Heaters in Travel Trailers.

The Michigan Department of Health and Local Health Departments are doing all they can to prevent further such deaths.

The Lenawee County Health Department is making an all out effort to locate present owners of trailers known to be equipped with Thurm Heaters, and warn them of the danger.

No new trailers will be allowed to be sold in Michigan, until the heaters have been checked by the State Health Department.

Speakers Says City Needs More Scouting Groups

Orville Collins of the Wolverine Council spoke to a large attendance of members of the Herrick Park PTA Thursday evening concerning the organization of more Cub packs and Scout troops in Tecumseh.

During the business meeting, parents voted to sponsor another card party in the spring with more details to be announced at a later time.

It was also decided to start another traveling basket after the holidays.

Mrs. Homer Colson's third grade won the attendance award for the period.

Mrs. Dale Carpenter and her committee served refreshments.

Two Graduate at Great Lakes

GREAT LAKES, Ill.—James L. Mangrum, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Mangrum of 820 S. Union, Tecumseh, Mich., and Gary M. Mueller, son of Mr and Mrs. Walter M. Mueller of 511 W. Kilbuck st., Tecumseh, are scheduled to graduate from recruit training Dec. 11 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of 11-weeks of "boot camp", will include a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

In 11-weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed, into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

WRIGHT'S DRUG STORE IS FESTIVE WTH ITS DECORATIONS

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

Ralph Helzerman, the vice president of the Teen Club, called the last meeting of the legislature to order.

The treasurer reported that there is now $920.95 on hand.

Getting a microphone for the Club was dicussed, but it was decided to wait for a report on the matter.

Having restrictions about bringing refreshments on the dance floor was talked about and Tim Tietsma and Ron O'Neill volunteered to see about getting some trash barrels.

It was finally decided that when the vice-president was in charge at the legislative meetings, the president would act as Parliamentarian, and at the committee meetings the president is to be in charge and the vice-president is to be Parliamentarian.

A motion that the attendance records would be left up to the vice-president who make what appointments he considered necessary, to replace those who did not attend meetings regularly, was voted on and passed.

It was agreed that the meetings would last only an hour. A new policy of roll-taking at the meetings was brought up.

It was decided that the four seniors representatives and the four officers would take turns opening and closing the Club during dances.

The Christmas project was discussed and the meeting was adjourned.

The Teen Club officers for this year are:

Dale Tuckey — president.
Ralph Helzerman — vice-president.
Linda Dicks — secretary.
Harriett Blanden — treasurer.

The members of the legislature for the twelfth grade are Ann Cameron, Sally Vincze, Mike Fero, and Roger Mead.

Eleventh graders are Judy Mangrum, Jeanie Hohenstein, Dean Eddy and Tim Tietsma.

Mary Leckta, Mary Wing, Ron O'Neill and Tom Simmons are the tenth grade representatives.

The freshman are Debbie Holden, Gail Sisson, Phil Radant and Kent Lucas.

All proceeds from last week's and this week's Teen Club dances, plus donations of money and toys, will be turned over to the Service Clubs for distribution among needy families.

John Thompson, president of the Tecumseh United Savings Bank, talked Wednesday morning during second period at the high school. His speech was the second in this year's series of vocational advice given by prominent men in the community.

The Varsity Club held its initation Monday. It was very initiation Monday. It was very obvious that the initiates were completely miserable.

The Club is sponsoring the after-game dance Friday night following the Airport-Tecumseh game here.

Tuesday afternoon the Home Economics classes went on a field trip to Ousterhout's Flower Shop to learn about flower arranging. They were gone all afternoon.

Mrs. Turney Is Chosen Nobel Grand

Mrs. George Turney was elected noble grand of the Rebekah Lodge No. 338 at the regular meeting Friday evening.

Others elected were:

Vice-grand — Mrs. Donald Escott.

Recording secretary — Mrs. Carroll Frost.

Financial secretary — Myrtle Mattis.

Treasurer — Mrs. R. C. Stauffer.

Trustee for three years — Mrs. C. C. Richard.

Trustee for one year — Mrs. Loretta Barnes.

Plans were completed for a potluck supper to precede the next meeting Dec. 19.

White elephant games were played with Mrs. Mary Allshouse and her committee in charge.

Charters Presented to 2 Scout Groups

Charters were presented to Cub Scout Pack 23 and Boy Scout Troop 23 at a special meeting held recently at Britton-Macon High School.

Andy Crutchfield accepted the charter for the pack and Douglas Fairbanks is the new Cubmaster.

Charles Studnicka accepted the charter for Troop 23. Bob Auten is the Scoutmaster.

The Odd Fellow Lodge sponsors the troop and the Methodist Church the pack.

A colored film of the Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge last year was shown, followed by the presentation of awards to Cub's and Scouts.

An impressive ceremony by the senior Scouts wearing full Indian regalia was held for the acceptance of new members into the troop.

The charter ceremony was conducted by Ralph Sherwood and Peter Laughlin of Adrian and Lester Ruhl of Tecumseh, all members of the commissioner's staff of the Wolverine Council.

Those Salesmen Will Need Coffee

One of the oddest used cars sales ever staged in Tecumseh is being held this weekend by Wilson Motor.

Harvey Wilson, who recently consolidated his two agencies — Plymouth and DeSoto with Rambler — announces that he'll be open until midnight Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Wilson's entire operation is on M-50, west of Tecumseh.

Being placed on sale are more than 70 used cars, of all types and ages.

County Residents Contribute $2,496 for Christmas Seals

Lenawee county residents have contributed $2,492.80 during the early part of the 1959 Christmas Seal Sale, according to Dr. Arthur Strom, Michigan Tuberculosis Association board of directors member.

'If you do not have TB today, you can be thankful," the TB association official said, "because before Christmas Seals, which gives everyone a chance to help in this fight, no family was without at least one victim of tuberculosis."

With some two million persons due to develop TB sometime during their lives, the year-round fight against tuberculosos is more important than ever.

This disease killed more persons than all other infectious diseases combined last year.

Indians Facing Airport

Coach Vic Lawson's Tecumseh High School basketball squad will attempt to get back on the victory trail against Airport here Friday evening.

Reserve game tipoff is at 6:30.

The Lawsonmen humbled Dundee in the year's opener, stretching to 10 straight wins this year's all-school-varsity record.

Then came Flat Rock Friday and the Indian five was rudely jolted, 57-49.

Coach Lawson saw his crew jump into a 12-9 first period lead, but the Rams quickly took charge as the half drew near, dashing ahead 28-24 by the intermission.

Flat Rock continued to roll in the second half as the Rams eased home with an eight-point difference.

Only laurel for the Indians was Jim Poley's 20 point performance, which paced both teams.

Humble Faith, Joyful Adoration

Real holly was used at the Holly and Tinsel breakfast Monday when the Rev. Burt Koeplin was the speaker.

Streamers of red were used as a background for the tinsel down the center o fthe tables and bunches of holly were placed along the streamers, with centerpieces of greens, ornaments and candles decorating each one.

The speaker's table featured a low bowl of white chrysanthemums with angels flanking each side.

The Rev. Koeplin spoke on the topic, "How Far is Bethlehem?" stating that those who only have the three T's of Christmas — toys, tinsel and turkey — will probably never get there.

Those who use humble faith, confident trust and joyful adoration have a much better chance of reaching this goal.

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, president, welcomed and introduced the guests, who included many from other clubs in the county as well as county officers.

Mrs. Robert Bonner gave the invocation. Mrs. Waldron read the familiar, "Letter to Virginia."

Mrs. Paul Hadsell presented the program, which included a solo, "Star of the East" by nine-year-old Debbie Miller, a solo, "I Wonder as I Wander" sung by Dennis Bryan and two selections at the piano by Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

Mrs. C. B. Brock read the Christmas story from St. Luke, Mrs. Arthur Schwartz and Mrs. Fred Oberlin played a piano duet and then sang a medley of Christmas songs accompanied by Mrs. Brantingham.

Mrs. Leslie Bennett sang "Birthday of A King" following the Rev. Koeplin's address.

Nearly 100 people attended the event which is held annually at the Methodist Church by the Monday Club.

80 Children and Parents Attend Party

About 80 parents and children attended the Christmas party of the Mothers of Twins Club held Sunday at the St. Elizabeth School.

A family supper was served with Mrs. Henry Carl Smith and Mrs. Carlos Knisely in charge. Hand-made decorated candles and greens decorated the tables.

A Christmas tree on the piano delighted the youngsters and Santa Claus stopped by for a visit to distribute gifts.

After a try at musical chairs, the boys played basketball and the girls enjoyed records.

Chorus Presents Musical Program at Country Club

Many door prizes are available for the Christmas party of the ladies at the Country Club luncheon Wednesday, Dec. 16.

Cards will be played after a musical program by the high school chorus under the direction of Leslie Bennett and a gift gathering for the aged at the various nursing homes.

It is necessary that the luncheon be served promptly at 1:30 p.m. and the hostesses ask that reservations be made by Tuesday.

Britton Church Giving Cantata

The choir of the Britton Methodist Church will present the third annual Christmas cantata Dec. 13, at 7:30 p.m.

"The World's Redeemer" is the name of the cantata by Fred B. Holton.

Edith Buffett is the director and Mrs. Fred Schober is the organist.

Santa Gives Card Games to the Kids

The VFW held its annual Children's Christmas party Sunday from 2 to 4 with 85 parents and children attending.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. James Felton and Mr. and Mrs. George Downard.

Santa, who arrived after the group saw some movies, had card games for all the children. He thought that their Christmas tree this year was bigger than ever before.

Christmas cookies and ice cream were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clem of Broadlands, Ill., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Thomas and family.

Two Policemen Helped Free Trapped Deer

Add to last week's story about the deer in town.

It told about a deer being sighted by Patterson school youngsters, then later he was seen trying to cross Red Mill Pond.

The ice didn't hold and the poor deer was going to drown when volunteers broke a path so the animal could swim to shore.

Among those unnamed among rescuers were two city policemen, George Kilbourn and George Kempf, who spent 30 minutes chopping ice.

When You Buy . . . Tell them why

Each issue of The Tecumseh Herald carries the advertising of reputable merchants who offer you their best values, services and products. They strive to garner your patronage and "good will."

These merchants know that their Herald advertising pays by measuring the results produced in increased sales. However, one result of their advertising is not subject to definite measurement — the intangible factor of "good will."

A friendly word from you, the reader-buyer, will assure the merchant that his advertising is appreciated and is producing the desired results.

Next time you buy — tell your merchant why — tell him you saw his "ad" in The Herald.

And if your favorite merchant is not a Tecumseh Herald advertiser, why not mention the market possibilities he is missing.

Patronizing Tecumseh Herald advertisers helps keep down the cost of your subscription.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Have you ever been run-over by an airplane?

My two children and I almost were Sunday afternoon — and I still feel a chill thinking about it.

We drove out to Meyers airport to take some pictures for this year's family Christmas cards.

I wanted a perfectly-plain background, uncluttered by wire or poles. Using the large expanse of turf, 50 yards from the concrete runway, seemed like a perfect spot.

Driving out onto the grass, we parked and started to drag out the camera.

A kind gentleman strolled over and said a student pilot was up with his instructor and making practice landing on the grass.

This seemed kind of silly to me as I thought, "why can't he use the runway?"

"Here he comes now," the man exclaimed and promptly scooted back towards the hanger.

Sure enough, the ship was gliding earthward, dropping lower and lower — straight for our car.

At first I was sort of hypnotized by the sight. Then I suddenly began waving and shouting violently at the plane.

By then, the ship was about 25 feet from the ground and closing fast with the turf and our Chevy.

Just at the last possible moment, our hapless little group was seen and the ship veered off to the side.

I rapidly made three shots, bundled the kids into the car, scooped up my camera and off we roared.

From now on all my pictures can be loaded with phone and utility wires, trees, lamp poles, tall bushes. In fact, I'll prefer it that way —sort of insurance against airplanes.

Bands Combine Under Johnson for Annual Show

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Colorful holiday dresses of the girl's and the boys' jackets, some of them Christmas red with the brightness of the band instruments, made a gay sight Tuesday evening in the High School gym.

It was the annual Junior and Senior High Christmas program.

Led by Don Johnson, the group, presented a program of appropriate music interspersed with the narration of the Christmas story from St. Luke given by Louise Stutesman.

Each of the junior high bands and the senior band presented a group of numbers and carols and then the mass band climaxed the program with the performance of "Silent Night."

Preceding the program Mr. Johnson introduced James Harris, his assistant, and thanked him for his work during the semester.

Many parents and friends on hand were happy when the busy band director said, "He has made life pleasant for me this year."

Moved from Coast

Robert Neil has been transferred from the East Coast to Detroit and is staying with his mother and husband Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sheward.

Auto Parts Firm Opening Here

Another new business is coming to Tecumseh.

This will be a branch of the Auto Parts Co., Inc. of Ann Arbor, which will have a combination retail and wholesale operation.

To be located in the old Seitz Plumbing building at Evans and Logan Sts., the business is expected to open about March 1.

At present the entire interior of the structure is being gutted in preparation for a modernization progam, explains president Harlan Yeager of Ann Arbor.

A new front will be added and an entire new interior.

The building measures 70x96. A portion of it, 20x50, has been leased to Forest Abner, who will locate his heating and air conditioning service there after Jan. 1.

Mr. Abner will also have 15x18 section for an office.

Currently the Auto Parts Co. has branches in Ypsilanti and Adrian, besides its main headquarters in Ann Arbor.

For many years Tecumseh car agencies have been customers of the firm through its Adrian store.

"Locating in Tecumseh will make it possible to better service these accounts," states Mr. Yeager.

The firm carries an inventory of 45,000 automobile, truck, tractor and small air-cooled engine parts. Most of these will be available in Tecumseh.

Although the new store will not have inventory in depth, the Ann Arbor location will provide replacements here within 48 hours after they're sold.

Also being carried here will be a variety of power equipment, including lawn mowers and tillers.

Busy Place

One of the busiest places in town these days is the post office, where this weekend the annual Christmas season climax comes. Postmaster Jack Metcalf estimates that nearly 35,000 pieces of first-class mail will be canceled on both Dec. 18 and 19. About the same will be inbound, plus tons of parcel post. Eleven part-time employees have been hired to help with the giant influx. Carriers are now spending upwards of six hours to sort their daily load, a job which usually takes about two and one-half. Temporary delivery men help by covering the routes after the regular has done the sorting.

Church Notes

+ 'The Faces of Advent'

Morning and evening events Sunday will highlight the observance of Christmas at the Methodist Church in Tecumseh.

At 10 a.m. the Luther Choir will sing Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." The Asbury Choir will also sing.

Herbert Simpson, Church School Superintendent, will open the program.

A Christmas Eve service of Holy Communion at 11:15 p.m. will offer Methodists and their guests a chance to greet the coming of Christmas Day in a service of worship.

A week later, at the same hour, Methodists will gather again for a New Year's Eve Service.

On Moday, Dec. 21, the two Methodist Youth Fellowships will meet for caroling at 7:30 p.m., and then will return to the parsonage for refreshments.

Meyer's 200 Sets Another Record in Trip to Florida

Meyers Aircraft has delivered another $27,000 model 200, the four-place executive airplane built here.

In its first flight — from Tecumseh to Miami, Fla. — the plane established a record.

Taking off last Thursday morning at exactly 10:30 a.m. with new owner W. H. Johnson at the controls, the ship touched down at 5:30 p.m.

The seven-hour flight, covering 1,200 miles, set a mark for conventional, single-engine aircraft in a non-stop junket.

Mr. Johnson was accompanied by two Tecumseh men, Meyers' sales manager Joe LeFevre and Lyle DesErmia, local furniture store owner.

Much of the way Mr. LaFevre served as pilot while Mr. Johnson navigated.

It was the first airplane ride for Mr. DesErmia, who decided "this is the only way to travel."

The Tecumseh men returned via three different commercial lines, stopping en route to visit friends and potential Meyers 200 buyers.

School's Debt Now $280,000

Delayed State Aid Causes the Plight

By JIM LINCOLN

Troubles, mostly financial, were predicted by Supt. James McDowell and reported to the school board Monday night.

Increasing enrollment probably will force the schools to open either the Macon or Sutton buildings next fall.

The following year, census figures show there will be a need for three more classrooms.

High school enrollment is expected to jump 133 for the 1950-'61 term; junior high, 28, and elementary, 57.

The teaching staff will probably increase by seven: four, high school; one, junior high, and two, grades.

Supt. McDowell also informed the board that eight busses should be considered for replacement.

The Tecumseh schools are over $280,000 in debt.

Most of the borrowing has been through the local bank. Failure to receive state aid has caused the debt.

Blissfield Game Cancelled When Official Dies

Carl Knapp, 43, president of the Blissfield board of education, was accidentally killed Wednesday morning in a farm mishap.

His death prompted cancellation of two Blissfield school events, the annual Christmas program and Friday's Blissfield-Tecumseh basketball game.

Mr. Knapp was repairing a muffler on an hydraulic-lift truck. The box of the vehicle fell on him, crushing Mr. Knapp between it and the frame.

He was found this way by his wife at 10:15 a.m.

She and their three children, Karen, a senior in high school; Keith, an eighth grader and Kirk, a third grader, are survivors.

The Knapp farm is on Bleasner Rd.

Four-year-old Steve King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert King, is recovering from a heart operation at University Hospital at Ann Arbor.

The youngster underwent the operation on Dec. 4 and last Monday was up for the first time.

His parents are hoping that he will be home by Christmas.

SCORE ANOTHER SALE—Using his two-page ad from last week's Herald as a scoreboard, Harvey Wilson checks off another deal during last week's Consolidation Sale. All told, the agency marketed 32 cars in three days. Mr. Wilson recently moved his Rambler agency to the same location as his Plymouth-DeSoto layout on M-52, west of Tecumseh.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG

Preparations are being made in the homes of the city to make them look festive for the holidays. Evergreens boughs and trees are appearing on the porches, some have already been decorated.

Wilfred Waldron has an extremely interesting bough of mistletoe which was sent to him from a cousin in San Antonio, Texas to use at his home.

This lively Christmas decoration is two feet across and the smal lsoft white berries are full and healthy.

If we know the Waldrons, Tecumseh residents, will have the opportunity to see this oddity at the meetings about town and it is a certainty that Wilfred will find some lovely lady under it on Christmas eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Ruttinger, owners of the A & W Root Beer stand, had an interesting experience last week as they were returning from a two-week Florida vacation.

Because of weather conditions the plane was grounded at Columbus, O. and they had to seek other transportation.

As they reported at the desk, Mrs. Ruttinger heard another lady passenger say "I'm from Tecumseh."

Immediately they became acquainted with Mrs. Maurice Malady and made arrangements to rent a car with her and still another passenger, a lady from Trenton, and drove to Toledo.

There the Ruttingers picked up their car and drove Mrs. Malady to her home on N. Union St.

She had been spending some time with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beach in Bradenton, Fla.

The Ruttingers drove her aunt, Olive Upton to Bradenton the day following Thanksgiving.

Police Receive More Complaints on Loose Dogs

Police Chief George Kilbourn today reminded citizens that as of December 1, the new dog ordinance is in effect.

The police department is still receiving complaints of barking dogs, stray and running dogs — all in violation.

Owners can be taken into court by one signer only. Previously three signers were required on a complaint.

All dogs must have a city license as well as a county license and both must be attached to the collar worn by the dog.

Before a city license can be obtained, the dog must be vaccinated for rabies and the owner must produce certificate for same.

Lovely Lingerie

Lingerie gifts . . . women love 'em! And the more lavish, the better. Our lovely slips, gowns and pajamas have that extra-special look of luxury . . . yet for all their frilly femininity, they have practical easy-care ways, and long-wearing qualities, too. Wise choice for the thoughtful Santa!

The Rosacrans Store IN TECUMSEH

VOICE of THE HERALD

We Should All . . . .

Christ said, "Charity is the greatest of all virtures."

Too seldom, in this world of materialism, do we think of these words and their meaning. Love of God, love of neighbors, love of family — if we'd concentrate on putting them into action how much more would we have peace of soul.

As the anniversary of Our Lord's birth draws nearer, we should all strive to make the virtue of charity come alive within us. We can help ourselves in this regard by making Christ the central figure of the coming Christmas — not tinsel and gifts.

. . . . They're Doing It

Among the folks who do things in terms of pure charity are those who operate our Service Club, the group which stands ready 12 months of the year to aid those in need.

In its 30 years of assisting others, the group has never sought to push itself forward, take bows for its accomplishments.

Instead the club works unnoticed behind the scenes, helping those who need help, spreading Christ's charity anonymously.

3 Lose Licenses

Three Lenawee motorists were among those whose operator's licenses were suspended or revoked for traffic violations according to the secretary of state's office.

They were Glenn W. Work of Tecumseh, Avelardo P. Lopez of Britton and Tom Coupland of Adrian.

POLICE BLOTTER

Mrs. Darlene M. Kirkendall, 504 Murray Dr., suffered a broken nose, back injuries and cuts when she was thrown from her car as it rolled over on M-52 at the northern edge of Tecumseh about 3 a.m. last Thursday.

Mrs. Kirkendall was approaching the city as she lost control of the car on a curve. The vehicle rolled over and then stopped on its wheels.

Mrs. Kirkendall was taken to Herrick Hospital. She received a sumons for violation of the basic speed law.

Cars driven by Sonja Ann Gibbs of Jackson and Glen Tucker of Petersburg, were damaged in a collision at 3:40 p.m. Friday on N. Wyandotte St.

City police said the Gibbs car pulled from the curbing and struck the side of the Tucker vehicle which was going around it.

A summons charging William W. Higley of Detroit, with driving on an expired operator's license was issued by city police Sunday afternoon. Higley's car struck a parked vehicle on West Chicago Blvd., owned by Donald R. Keller of Toledo.

Traffic sumons were issued this week to:

Gary A. Fairbanks, Britton, excessive noise.

Darlene Kirkendall, 504 Murray Dr., violation of basic speed law.

David L. Hunt, Clinton ,excessive speed.

William Higley, Detroit, expired operator's license.

Vernon C. Miller, 308 Occidental, unsafe parking.

Our Readers Write

To the Editors:

The total athletic program, which includes varsity, junior varsity and freshman football, varsity, junior varsity and freshman basketball, track, baseball and golf is supported through gate receipts from football and basketball games, so that tax money need not be used for these purposes.

Only coaches salaries are paid from tax money.

At the beginning of the 1959-'60 school year, the Tecumseh High School Athletic Department was nearly $3,000 in debt to the Tecumseh board of education.

It became imperative that a solution be found to take care of the ever-rising costs of operating the athletic program without use of tax money.

Equipment and supply costs, game officiating fees and transportation costs, have steadily increased during the past five years. The only alternative seemed to be an increase in the adult ticket price.

I feel that we were justified in making this decision.

Many other schools, operating similar programs, have found it necessary to raise their admission prices to athletic events because of rising costs.

To be explicit, the following schools in southeastern Michigan, and there are no doubt others, are charging $1 for adult tickets to athletic contests: Adrian, Albion, Battle Creek Lakeview, Bedford, Coldwater, East Lansing, Marshall, Milan, Monroe Catholic Central, Sturgis, Tecumseh and Three Rivers.

Schools in the Huron League, other than Milan and Tecumseh charge 75c for adult tickets, but all have indicated that they plan to raise their adult ticket price to $1 next fall.

Student prices have not been increased, if purchased in advance. Since it is impossible to distinguish students from young adults at the gate, the dollar admission at the gate is charged.

I might add that our loyal football fans were instrumental in helping to decrease our deficit.

Twenty-five cents extra and an undefeated team can work wonders at the gate. Thank you for your loyal support.

200 Attend Installation

More than 200 attended the installation for Presbyterian minister the Rev. Julian Gresham and reception following Sunday evening.

Clergymen from churches in Tecumseh and the surrounding area were present as well as the Rev. Douglas G. Trout, moderator of the Presbytery of Lansing, who presided.

Also present were the Rev. James P. Martin who presented the sermon, "God's Answer to the World," the Rev. G. Donal Wilmoth, who gave the charge to the pastor and the Rev. James G. Franz, who gave the charge to the congregation.

Mrs. F. C. Dickinson presided at the organ and the choir sang the anthem, "How Lovely are The Messengers."

A red-and-white floral centerpiece was used on the buffet table in Fellowship Center following the service.

Live holly branches were placed on the white cloth reaching from the bouquet to the silver candelabra holding white candles.

Dozens of tiny decorated open-faced sandwiches were served.

The cake was served by Mrs. Clare Rozelle and Mrs. Raymond Puffer, Jr.

Those preseding at the silver services were Mrs. Al Helzerman, Mrs. Stanley Kruse, Mrs. Fred Marsh and Mrs. William Beck.

Mrs. E. J. Aebersold and her committee had charge of the arrangements for the reception.

'Make the Best of What We Have' Is Story Theme

A potluck supper and Christmas party was held by the Mabel Lawrence Circle of the Methodist Church Dec. 14 at the home of Mrs. Robert Wood.

Twenty-three members and two guests, Mrs. Marvin Nelson and Mrs. F. Balse, were in attendance when devotions were presented by Mrs. Arthur Woodward.

Mrs. Leslie Bennett presided a program consisting of the reading of a Christmas poem and a story entitled "Candle in the Forest."

The lesson of the story was that "we should make the best of what we have."

Mrs. Bennett played the autoharp as the group sang "Silent Night." Gifts were distributed by Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Sermon Title: 'God in Stable'

Sermon title at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday is "God In a Stable" with the Rev. Julian Gresham speaking.

The service begins at 11 a.m. with church school at 9:45 a.m.

All members and friends of the Senior High Fellowship are invited to meet at the church Tuesday evening, Dec. 22 at 6:30 p.m. for the annual Christmas caroling party.

After caroling the group will return to the church for refreshments and games.

The church school department parties will be held in Fellowship Center starting with the beginners department on Dec. 21 at 3 p.m.; the nursery, Dec. 22 at 3 p.m. and the primary and junior department party will be held Dec. 23 at 7:30 p.m.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

The highlight of this week at the high school will be the annual Christmas dance, sponsored by the Senior Class.

"Noel Moderne" will be held from 9 until 12 on Saturday in the gym.

Al Blazer's Band from Ann Arbor will supply the music.

Since the theme is "Noel Moderne," the Seniors are breaking with tradition and using shocking pink and chocolate brown as the color scheme.

The gym will be decorated with abstract designs to carry out this idea. Refreshments will be included in the admission price of $2 a couple and $1.50 single.

Santa Claus will be there to hand out door prizes and gift certificates, which were donated by the Chamber of Commerce through the Community Party Fund.

In the Christmas spirit, the Chorus, directed by Les Bennett and the band, directed by Don Johnson, will present a Christmas program for the entire student body during sixth hour on Friday.

It will include vocal and instrumental selections of Christmas music.

The Spanish Club is celebrating Christmas with a Christmas party held during first hour Friday. As a part of this celebration, a pinata will be broken by members of the club.

A pinata is a papier-mache hollow container, gaily decorated with Christmas motifs. It is usually an animal's head or something similar.

It is then hung from the ceiling. Members of the group are blindfolded and given a stick. The object is to break the pinata, which is filled with small gifts, candy, etc.

Friday during fifth hour, the College Prep seniors will meet with college freshman from Tecumseh to discuss the differences between college and high school. Mr. Pobuda and Mr. Hart will lead the discussion.

Subscriptions to the school paper will be sold only until Friday. Since the paper will be sold to the people with subscriptions alone, every student should pay the dollar necessary for a year's reading in sports and school news.

This paper is being sponsored again this year by the Student Council.

During the dance which the Varsity Club sponsored after the game Friday night, the final step in the initiation was held. Each new member with a certain number of demerits had to pick a girl from the crowd and dance with her alone in the center of the floor. Bob Dick conducted the proceedings.

All of the new members were supposed to have gotten dates for this dance.

The Student Council meeting last Friday was called to order by the President, Mike Fero. The minutes and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

Inez Boltz was appointed chairman of the hatcheck committee. It was decided that the Council should retain control of it but that any student who wanted to work there could get in touch with Inez and get permission to do so.

John Cook is the new chairman of the program committee for the basketball season. These programs are sold by the Council.

The Spirit Trophy committee is headed by Jim Bashore. This year it will be presented to the class with the most members at the game. It will not be judged by the percentages of each class attending as has been done in the past.

The trophy itself will be turned over to the class winning it each week at the pep meetings. At the end of the year, the class which has won it the most times will have its year engraved on the trophy.

No report was made by the Variety Show committee. A tentative date has been set for the last week in March.

Steve Kruger reported on the Regional Student Council meeting which he attended with the officers. Among the topics discussed were sportsmanship, inter-school relations, and Student Council activities and purposes.

A Huron League Dance to be held at Monroe was discussed by the Council after they received a letter from another school on the subject. Our Council decided against the idea because there would not be enough interest in it and it would be too far to go.

The medal committee is gathering more literature from various companies before making a decision on this year's Student Council medals.

Christmas vacation will begin Friday at three o'clock and last until January 4.

Quiet and Anonymous Giving

When most organizations come into being, one of the first things done is to appoint a publicity chairman.

"Get as much as you can in the paper," is the order. "We want everyone to know what we're doing."

The exception to this rule is Tecumseh's Service Club.

Over its 30 years of existance—initially as the Tecumseh Welfare group, until 10 years ago—little has been written of it.

Quiet and anonymous giving has been the keynote.

Founders of the organization were the minister of the Friends Church here, the Rev. Ed Escolmes, and his wife. Mrs. Duane Service was also one of the early members.

Original purpose, which stays with the club to this day, is immediate aid to needy area folks, especially children, in time of disaster or in financial crisis.

Special baskets at Christmas—with emphasis on clothing — is another important function of the Service Club.

Christmas-time is usually the busiest for the group, but it is on call the year 'round to help out until county welfare can take over.

Although operating for three decades, it was not until this year that the Service Club had proper facilities to store donated clothing. The former police headquarters, in the fire barns, is now a most adequate headquarters.

At present, it's pretty well loaded with wearing apparel and toys. Much of this will go to about 50 needy families for Christmas.

Last December, the club arranged for aid to 63 families, one of its biggest years. This was mainly made possible by the excellent cooperation of nearly 15 groups in town, which through the Service Club, prepared baskets of food, clothing and toys.

In the first 11 months of 1959, the Service Club gave more than 400 pieces of clothes. This number will be greatly increased when December's total is added on.

Shoes are another important item, but most of these must be new and that's where much of the group's budget goes.

The Service Club is a member of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation and until this year has been receiving about $800 as its share of the aanual charity budget.

For 1960, the amount has been increased to $1,200, reflecting the rising cost of living.

Help is never given by the Service Club until a careful study of the situation is made. From a time standpoint, this doesn't take long and so there's no real delay in helping a genuine charity case.

But the checks will ferret out the occasional cheat, who is capable of providing for his family, but would rather try to beg first before going out and getting work.

Twelve ladies compose the board of directors of the Service Club. They have no special meeting time, gathering when the occasion demands it, which is usually about four times a year.

They never reveal what families are helped.

Mrs. John Thompson, now serving her 25th year on the board, is dean of the group.

Her fellow board members include Mrs. Fred Dickinson, Mrs. Jessie Sluyter, Mrs. Lee Purkey, Mrs. Edna Codling, Mrs. Perry Hayden, Mrs. Richard Woodcox, Mrs. Ben Gillies, Mrs. Warren Puffer, Mrs. Phil Colgrove, Mrs. Richard Preston and Mrs. Earl Dean Roe.

Gary Hizer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hizer, has been promoted to Airman first class in Frankfurt, Germany.

GETTING READY — Two of the Service Club's board of directors, Mrs. John Thompson and Mrs. Fred Dickinson, examine a recently-donated woman's coat. It will in turn be given to some needy. The women stand in front of the group's new cabinet, in which they'll store clothing. It's located in the old police station, now storage headquarters for the organization. In another week, Christmas baskets will be prepared, include toys reconditioned by Tecumseh Jaycees, who'll also assist in distribution.

You Can Help

Clean, useable clothing, shoes and overshoes are always welcome by the Service Club. Donations can be left at the Tecumseh fire station at any time. They'll be accepted by the fireman on duty.

Britton Forms Foundation

Britton is establishing its own charitable organization, patterned after the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

After viewing the success of Tecumseh's plan, citizens of Britton decided to have one too.

As in the case of Tecumseh, the Britton Foundation will conduct yearly drives for charitable purposes. Whatever is left after the budget has been taken care of will go into a special fund.

This will be used for civic improvements. One of the first projects: lights for the football field.

John Zeigler, Tecumseh attorney, is preparing bylaws and getting state and Federal approval for tax exemptions to those who donate to the new foundation.

The plan will be discussed fully at a meeting of the organizers, Jan. 13, in the village hall.

Making up the group are Charlie Patterson, chairman; Ronald Cheever, treasurer; Russell Spaulding, secretary; Mrs. Glen Gripton, Mrs. Harley Hummell, Edward Palmer, Mrs. Harold Osterhout, Bob Wallace and Mike Papp.

Mr. Cheever, who is town postmaster, states that the first year there will probably be a small drive this spring and then the regular campaign next fall because the organization didn't get formed early enough to conduct a complete 1959 campaign.

There is a possibility that nearly $1,000, which was left from the Britton Kiwanis Club treasury when it was dissolved, will be the initial entry in the Foundation's ledger.

Cost of lighting the high school football field is approximately $11,600.

Savings Stamps Are Ideal Gift

If you are searching for that ideal last-minute Christmas gift, the Tecumseh post office has the answer—an attractive gift book containing United States Savings Stamps.

"While everyone looks to us to do his Christmas mailing, few people think of us as suppliers of gifts," postmaster Jack Metcalf says.

The gift books come in two sizes. The $2.50 version contains ten 25-cent Savings Stamps; the $5 size has 20 stamps. These are the same Savings Stamps many youngsters have been buying all year on their weekly School Stamp Days.

"We not only sell the gift stamp books," Mr. Metcalf said, "we give without charge a handy album in which to keep the stamps. When you have the album full, you can take it to a bank and exchange it for an interest-bearing United States Savings Bond."

Christmas Mail Setting Record

Postal authorities in Washington estimate the current Christmas mail on a nationwide basis will be the highest on record both for greeting cards and parcels, Tecumseh postmaster Jack G. Metcalf reports.

These conclusions are based on samplings of postal receipts made in several major cities across the country, which show anticipated increases of 2 to 5% over last year.

Postmaster Metcalf called attention to the recent action of the Civil Aeronautics Board which approved Postmaster General Summerfield's plan to make use of surplus space on commercial planes to speed the movement by air of first-class mail during the Christmas rush.

Local mailing conditions, Postmaster Metcalf stated show an increase of 12%. According to this increase, mail volume will again this year set a new record.

The Post Office department once again plans to deliver all Christmas mail prior to Christmas day as it has for the past several seasons, postmaster Metcalf noted, in urging local mailers to cooperate by mailing early and often.

Kids' Letters to Santa Claus

Tecumseh, Mich.
Dec. 11, 1959

Dear Santa Claus,

I hope your reindeer are well and I hope you are well too. I am fine but how is the baby reindeer? I hope he is fine too. My mother and father are well too, so are my sisters, Debbie, Pamie and Betsy. Debbie, Mommy Mrs. Richards and I went to Hudson's store in Detroit.

They had beautiful dolls and stuffed animals in the store. I would like a doll buggy and that's all I would like for Christmas. We added on to our house and that was a nice family present for all of us.

Yours truly,
Donna Purkey

Tecumseh, Mich.
Dec. 10, 1959

Dear Santa Claus,

I hope Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Blitzen, Rudolph will be good. Santa I want clothes for my Tiny Tears doll. And Santa, I want Indians dolls too. I hope we'll have a big Christmas tree too.

Yours truly,
Gurine Schulze

—o—

Tecumseh, Mich.
Dec. 10, 1959

Dear Santa Claue,

Do you have to chase your reindeer to hook them up.

I want a sawed-off-rifle gun and a bike. My sister wants a tickle-bee game, and a Tiny Tear doll.

Your friend,

—o—

Tecumseh, Mich.
Dec. 11, 1959

Dear Santa,

Did Blitzen get back home alright?

I chased him a couple of days ago. I saw some deer tracks so I followed them.

I want a Faner-50 Gun. One other thing I want is a football suit, and a baseball mitt. I especially want a sled I want the Faner-50 to shoot bullets.

I want a portable T-V set for my room.

Yours truly,
Jimmy Pinkard

—o—

Tecumseh, Mich.
Dec. 11, 1959

How are you today I am feeling good. I want an electric football game, a football suit, a basket ball, a basket ball goal.

Your truly,
Wallace Quinn

Tecumseh, Mich.
Dec. 11, 1959

Dear Santa Claus,

I hope your reindeer are well!

Santa, I want a Tiny Tears Doll for Christmas. My brother wants a dump truck for Christmas. Did Blitzen come back. My sister wants ice skates. Is it cold at the North Pole? Our school has decorations all over the room. One is you. Does Rudolph really have a red nose?

Yours truly,
Sharon Bennett

—o—

Tecumseh, Mich.
Dec. 11, 1959

Dear Santa Claus,

I hope you're not too cold up at the North Pole.

I hope you found Blitzen. All I want for Christmas is a Tiny Tears doll, A typewriter, and I want the doll to cry real tears, and wet and have it have eyes that close slowly.

Oh, Santa, I forgot to tell you, you can go in our door and mother will leave you some cake and milk.

Your truly,
Wanda Harris

—o—

Tecumseh, Mich.
Dec. 11, 1959

Dear Santa Claus,

I hope your reindeer are well. I would like to know how Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Comet, Cupid, Donner, Blitzen, Vixen and Rudolph are. I hope you and your helpers didn't get snowed in this year. This year I would like a new bike. My brothers want a train, record player, and a game of some kind.

I do not know what my mother and father want. I got my grandmother a wallet. Oh, Santa, you can not get down our chimney but we will leave our door open for you. We'll leave some milk and warm soup for you.

Yours truly,
Sandy Miller

—o—

Tecumseh, Mich.
Dec. 10, 1959

Dear Santa Claus,

I would like a bicycle for Christmas and my brother would like some cowboys and Indians. My sister would like a bracelet. We have our Christmas tree now. My aunt, and uncle, and cousins are coming for dinner on Christmas day.

I hope everyone has a happy, happy Christmas all over the world.

Yours truly,
Belinda Gail Greene

Dec. 11, 1959

Dear Santa,

For Christmas I want a watch. I want a Lionel train. How are your reindeer Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Comet, Cupid, Donner, Blitzen and Rddolph? My sister wants a play sewing machine. She also wants a watch. How is Mrs. Santa Claus?

Our teacher said, maybe you would come in a "rockship." How are your helpers. How are you going to get down our chimney, we don't have a fireplace? For Christmas I want a lot of toys. If you run out of fuel for your rocketship don't forget to bring your reindeer. I tried to be a good boy all year long.

Yours truly,
Tommy Marine

Next Stop: Blissfield

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh boosted its basketball record to 2-1 for the season here last Friday night with a 45-33 victory over Airport.

The win upped the Indians in Huron League standings to a first place tie with Flat Rock, Blissfield, Milan and Airport.

Tecumseh goes to Blissfield Friday evening in quest of win No. 3.

For two periods against the Jets, Tecumseh floundered almost hopelessly and ended the first two quarters with a shooting average of less than 25% from the floor.

The Indians tallied only five points in the first period and only two more points in the second quarter until the 2:42 mark when they caught fire.

In the final two minutes before the half, Coach Vic Lawson's five scorched the nets of nine points and trailed by only two markers at the half.

Midway in the third stanza, Jim Poley dumped two consecutive goals to give Tecumseh the lead. The Indians dropped back briefly at the opening of the final quarter, but then pulled away from the visitors.

Foreign Students Tell of Customs to Study Club 1

Three foreign exchange students from Adrian College spoke to members of Child Study Club 1 Monday evening when the group met at the home of Mrs. Norman Bailey.

Ahamed Tousis of Damascus, Syria, Robbi Mohan of India and Ghulam Dastager of Afghanistan talked of customs in their country.

Roll call was answered by members telling "What I Want For Christmas."

Mrs. Neil Brazee presided at the meeting when members voted to send a representative each time to the Improvement Club, as well as to purchase a layette to send to the hospital to be used at their discretion.

Mrs. Proctor Pace reported on the convention held recently at Kellogg Center.

Mrs. James Quigley had charge of the program. Mrs. Douglas Murdoch and Mrs. Brazee were the co-hostesses.

Favors were provided by Mrs. Owen Partridge and Mrs. M. R. Blanden.

Mrs. Al Merz will be hostess for the Jan. 11 meeting.

Painting Work Now Completed

Painting of the Parish House Activity room has been completed by the Mens Club of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

The club met for a business session and program Tuesday evening.

Joe Rice presented moving pictures of Egypt and refreshments were served.

Poley again paced the home team with 16 points with Jack Sisson netting 13 and Tom Walter, 10. Dave Monroe was high for Airport with 12 points.

Pre-season predictions of the Indians were not too high, but the Lawson coached team could create quite a few surprises in the area.

Poley undoubtedly is one of the finest players around and is Tecumseh's best since John Elliott graduated two years ago.

Steve Kruger, outstanding guard two years ago as a sophomore, was dressed for the Airport game, but did not play. He's still hobbled by leg injuries received in football.

WHOA, NELLIE—Vernon C. Miller, 308 Occidental, chased his moving automobile across two streets and two fields before it crashed into the corner of the house of Marvin Schroeder at 110 Cairns St., Monday afternoon. Mr. Miller parked his car with the engine running in his driveway and thought the gear shift was in the "parked" position. He was wrong. The driverless car ran down the driveway, crossed Occidental Rd. into a cornfield, continued through a corner of the field into a wheat field. At the edge of the second field it bumped through a ditch at Cairns St., ran into the street and through the ditch on the other side, finally came to a stop when it hit the Schroeder residence. It missed a picture window by two feet. There was about $200 damage to the house and the same to the car, police said. Mr. Miller reecived a summons charging unsafe parking.

State Police Hope To Prevent Mishaps

State Police will again intensify patrol activities during the holiday season.

Using all available uniform officers and working 10-hour shifts, the holiday patrols will be carried on from Thursday noon December 24 to midnight Sunday, December 27, and again from Thursday noon December 31 to midnight Sunday January 3.

Fifty National Guardsmen will assist as the second man in squad cars to free additional troopers for more patrols.

Detectives will be given desk assignments to release uniform men for the same purpose.

Concentrated enforcement is scheduled for the heavier traffic periods, or from 3 p.m. until shortly after midnight on Christmas eve and from 3 p.m. until an hour after the closing time of liquor establishments New Year's eve.

Sheriffs' departments will have 46 National Guardsmen.

Pointing out that traffic violations committed in hazardous winter and holiday driving conditions lead many motorists and pedestrians into sudden death traps, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said "our patrols will be doubly alert to take action to prevent accidents before they can happen."

Christmas has the worst holiday death record of any holiday period, with an average of one person having been killed about every three hours during the last eight years.

The New Year's average is one every five hours.

Why all the red tape?

You can understand why we don't sell narcotics without a physician's prescription. But maybe you've wondered why we're so fussy about other things . . . like penicillin, sleeping pills, the new tranquilizers. These potent medications are called "legend drugs" and you have to have a prescription to get them. Reason: Uncontrolled use may do more harm than good. Only your physician knows whether you should use them or not—and, if so, just how much. So we require a prescription. It's a matter of professional ethics and the law. Always it's common sense.

WHAT'S COOKING IN TECUMSEH

Christmas Goodies

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Christmas cookies as only "Aunt Phoebe" can make them are featured in the cooking column this week.

Mrs. Floyd Bryan, known always to this writer as Aunt Phoebe, is certainly an expert with the various shaped cutters, sugers and candies.

She began delighting children with her gifts of daintily frosted and sugared confections some 45 years ago.

Remembering her own pleasure as a child, when she lived in a German community near Adrian and received cookies at holiday time, she started this interesting and pleasureable hobby.

Judging from the trays and trays of cookies often seen in December in this Mrs. Santa Claus' kitchen, it's quite possible that she has made enough bells, wreaths, stars, animals and Santa's to encircle the globe, well, at least half way round."

One special cooky is made each year in a huge size and twice as thick, this one for Uncle Floyd.

Besides the recipe printed below, Aunt Phoebe uses a molasses recipe that we do not have space to print, but will be happy to give to anyone that would like to stop in at The Herald office.

The Bryans, long-time Tecumseh residents, now live in Britton having moved there to be near their son, Fred, and family when Mr. Bryan retired from the Tecumseh Products Co. several years ago.

They have two grandchildren, Ruth Anne employed by Porter Printing Company and Dennis, popular athlete at Tecumseh High School, who recently was chosen to belong to the Michigan Chorale touring Europe next summer with Lester McCoy from Ann Arbor.

Aunt Phoebe has been a member of the First Baptist Church 50 years last February.

She taught Sunday school for 23 years, is a member of the Good Cheer Class and the Women's Society. She is also a member of the Monday Club and the WCTU.

Just lately she has been thinking that she might sell cookies to assist Dennis with his necessary funds for the Chorale trip.

To make variations in the cookies she adds fruit, coconut and nuts to the basic recipe as well as frosting them in different ways.

Mrs. Emma Day read "We Follow a Star."

Early Winter Top Dressing Can Up Yield

Early-winter nitrogen top dressing can boost next year's wheat yields and don't let a blanket of snow discourage you.

"Clay soils often won't hold up a tractor and grain drill until well into April," says James A. Porter, soil scientist at Michigan State University, "Spring- applied wheat fertilizer must go on in March or early April to get top mileage."

Frozen ground and a few inches of snow does not stop top dressing, Porter asserts. Each nitrogen-fertilizer particle thaws its way down through the snow. The fertilizer even melts into the soil surface where it can enter young wheat roots next spring.

"Sandy loam and hilly soils usually hold a tractor early enough for spring fertilizing," the specialist believes.

"We don't recommend early-winter top dressing on such fields because lenching can cause a big fertilizer loss there."

From the left they are: Mrs. Dean Peotter, Mrs. Claude LaMay, Betty Vargo, Mrs. Allison Mitchinson, Carol Sathmary, Mrs. Anthony Rebottaro and Mrs. Richard G. Butler.

DID PANTOMINE — Complete with water pistols and hula hoop, a pantomime of the popular "Chipmunk Song" was presented by Mrs. Deward Gaydosh, Mrs. Melvin Lamb, Mrs. Raymond Campbell and Mrs. William Moore. Nearly 100 attended the annual affair, which featured eats, song and laughter. Candles and greens decorated the tables for the chicken dinner served by the Grange.

Married Dec. 8 in Macon, Mathew Boyd and Melvina Doolittle, both of Macon.

1889

Rainy weather with lots of mud.

The weather prophets predicted a very severe winter. That accounts for the mild weather.

A. E. Kennedy still holds forth at the post office where he has been a fixture so long. We doubt if any establishment in Tecumseh is making more money with the same amount of capital.

John Temple is enlarging and remodeling his family residence.

A six table billiard hall is being fitted up by Keyser & Kennedy.

The frame of the new Methodist parsonage is being placed this week.

Married Dec. 10, at the M.E. parsonage in Tipton, Clarence Merritt of Dundee and Agnes Pawson of Tipton.

1899

Tecumseh Telephone Co., has extended its line west to Franklin. The company has installed 38 phones since November 1.

Bessie Winans and Carl Fisher were married Dec. 6 in Toledo.

Some call this the finest weather they ever saw for this time of year. In 1876 there was no sign of winter until Nov. 27; in 1875 there was no sleighing; in 1878 stock fed in the fields until Dec. 4, remaining out at night.

Apples and other winter supplies are not keeping well due to the warm temperature the past six weeks.

The first sleighing of the season this morning.

1919

The coal strike is over, but there is little fuel on hand.

Passenger trains will be returned to the Dundee branch of the New York Central by Dec. 22.

A government census is to be taken of all grain, machinery, stock or anything of value.

Miss Dorothy Miller of Tipton and Dwight Horn of Adrian were married Saturday in Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Larsen have moved from Chicago to the Rosacrans house on West Shawnee street.

Born, Friday, to Mr. and Mrs. John Adrion of Clinton, a daughter.

Born, Wednesday, to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sweet, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Boyd observed their 52nd wedding anniversary, Dec. 1.

Duncan Hines Book Lists Local Motel

ITHACA, N. Y., The Tecumseh Motel has received national recognition in the new 1960 edition of the Duncan Hines Travel Book "Lodging for a Night" just published.

Roy H. Park, editor-in-chief of the Duncan Hines Institute here is publisher of the travel book.

The Tecumseh Motel is one of 5,200 lodging places in North America "Recommended by Duncan Hines."

Other Hines books are the companion Travel Book "Adventures in Good Eating" also newly republished in its 25th anniversary edition, and the Duncan Hines guide to resorts and vacation spots, "Vacation Guide."

"This edition celebrates the Silver Anniversary of the first Duncan Hines travel book," Park stated.

"The 1935 edition of "Adventures in Good Eating" launched a new and unique publishing venture, one that has pioneered in upgrading the standards of service offered the American traveler."

"The establishments we list are truly a select group," Park said, "in that only 9,800 are recommended out of nearly half a million eating and lodging places in North America, representing the top 2.3%."

Park stated that the new editions have been extensively revised, have new four-color covers and a new format that provides improved readability and convenience and allows for inclusion of much more information.

The books are on sale at bookstores, department stores, newsstands, many of the places "Recommended by Duncan Hines," and may also be ordered directly from the publisher, the Duncan Hines Institute, Ithaca, N. Y.

THE DEVIL'S ADVOCATE
By Morris West

It was during World War II that the wounded stranger, Nerone, first appeared in the impoverished little town of Gemello Minore. Less than a year later he was dead, executed by the very people who were now proclaiming his sainthood. This is his absorbing story.

THE BRIDE OF PILATE
By Esther Kellner

Claudia as a child had known only impoverished exile with her mother, Julia, the divorced wife of the emperor Tiberius. The child's sudden emergence into the world of savagery, pomp and circumstance of Pagan Rome was a painful adjustment for her. In these chilling surroundings, she grew into womanhood. Only after her marriage to Pontius Pilate did she come to know real love — a love for which she had been searching since her parting with her mother.

ACT ONE
By Moss Hart

An engrossing and revealing book about the theatre. Moss Hart today is one of the most brilliant, successful and famous figures in the American theatre, both as a playwright and as a director. His boyhood and adolescent years were spent in two entirely different backgrounds, and the stories of both are fascinating. With the opening of his first Broadway play, Once in a Lifetime, his world changed abruptly. This book is his intimate and informative portrait, not only of himself but of the world of the theatre as well.

WHEN THE SHIP SANK
By James Macgregor

A thrilling sea story, a tale of unbearable suspense, and above all, a novel about ordinary and extraordinary people and their reactions to disaster.

THE SEVENTEEN WIDOWS OF SANS SOUCI
By Charlotte Armstrong

Nona Henry, suddenly widowed at an attractive and vital fifty, clutched her suitcase and entered the stucco portals of Sans Souci to begin the brave attempt to make a new life. But other women too had been drawn to this Pasadena refuge for similar reasons.

The little lady played selections on the grand piano.

Other items on the program were several readings about the origin of Christmas trees, cards and hymns or carols.

These were given by Irene Wisner and Mrs. Richard Carter.

Refreshments of date bars decorated with holly and red cherries were served by the hostesses with Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Cecile Smith pouring tea and coffee.

Through My Window

THROUGH THEIR WINDOW

An observing, teacher going for exercise books, which are kept in cupboards beneath classroom windows, and the pupils in Mrs. Albert Tonneberger's room experienced a most thrilling and exciting bird adventure.

Calling the students to the window, but warning them to be very careful, she pointed out their visitors. Goldfinches.

It was apparently a large flock, about 50 birds.

The males, having lost their bright yellow and black suits of spring and summer, were garbed in the drab olive-brown which their womenfolk wear all year long.

Although somber in color, it was not a dull gathering I understand.

The little birds whistled and called, hopped on the ground and flitted through the trees — they were at their happiest and bounciest best.

It must have been a wonderful treat for the children, I certainly hope the flock remains in the vicinity and visits them often.

MRS. TONNEBERGER'S call, reporting the Goldfinch news, started me thinking and the thoughts ran something like — Goldfinches, summer birds spending many lazy afternoons playing in the rose garden; tiny flashes of yellow scalloping by my window in that peculiar undulating, up and down, pattern of flying, and, of course, the most upsetting afternoon when we saw them ignore our clean bird bath and use instead a dirty, muddy, old mud puddle.

Another happy memory picture is of the large flocks of these golden birds, which flitted along many of the New England roadsides during our vacation last summer.

Truly beautiful. But these are Goldfinches in summer, what of them in winter? To the bird books.

Although we found not a great deal about their winter life, most of the things noted agreed with what Mrs. T. and her students saw.

A great many birds flock together; first glance identification is not as easy as it would be in summer because of seasonal color change.

THEIR DIET is almost completely vegetarian and so all day long, it is search, search, search for weed seeds.

Almost best of all, their lilting whistles and chattering sound, on a cold winter day, as sweet and happy as ever they could on the sunniest of summer afternoons.

Apparently the Goldfinches are as individualistic about migration as they are about everything else. Sometimes they do, sometimes they don't.

Actually, although it seems hard to believe because often the birds are seen but not recognized, they are more apt to remain here as year around residents than to fly south.

When they do winter in this climate, they gather together and seek shelter in wood-lots from which they can make daily seed searching forages. Sure enough, such a woods is near the school house.

One thing for the students to be alert for—a wintering flock of Goldfinches is apt to be joined by Pine Siskins and Redpolls.

All three birds are small, about five inches, and are very much alike in shape and habit.

Siskins and Redpolls, however, are more or less heavily stripped and Goldfinches never are.

THIS IS NOT much of a distinction and since the birds are seldom quiet, but seem always to be on the move, it is often quite difficult to make sure identification.

Taking pains to carefully check a flock of Goldfinches is most worthwhile though—just imagine what an extra bonus treat it would be to spot some Siskins and Redpolls hobnobbing with Goldfinches.

The book reading blasted one Goldfinch notion and I am not at all sure I'm pleased.

In late spring and early summer, when most birds are tied down with the many burdens of rearing their families, the tiny Goldfinches always seem so footloose and fancy free.

WITH HAPPY and carefree abandon they reject responsibility and give themselves up to the complete enjoyment of lovely, warm and sunny days.

How nice to be so happy-go-lucky. The books however, put forth a most logical explanation for the late nesting.

It seems that young Goldfinches are brought up almost exclusively on a diet of partially digested seeds which the parents regurgiate directly into their mouths and, of course, early in the season there just aren't enough of the right kind of seeds available.

Must we be so technically correct—they don't even leave room to speculate that maybe Mother Goldfinch waits until she can find soft thistledown with which to line her nest and thus prepare an extra soft home for her youngsters.

No doubt the books are right, but still and all, I think I will keep my own fanciful ideas about why the Goldfinch behave as they do.

Again, thanks to Mrs. Tonneberger—I do hope the Goldfinches visit the school yard often and this winter may her students enjoy much good looking "through their window."

VOL. 109 — ONE HUNDRED TENTH YEAR — NUMBER 10 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, DEC. 24, 1959 | 14 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

The proposed New York Central freight setup for the line through Tecumseh probably brings up several questions among local folks.

With just an agent operating in Adrian, what happens to Fred Nash, long-time Tecumseh NYC man?

Fred's job would be discontinued, but he then could bid on others in the system, which is the long-accepted railroad way.

It usually is referred to as "bumping". The man with the most seniority wins out. Fred has 22 years with the Central.

What will happen to the local depot?

Now, here's the good news. If the Public Utilities Commission in Michigan gives final approval to the plan, the Central would then be free to demolish unneeded structures.

I think I can safely speak for Tecumseh residents by saying, "Hurrah!"

At last week's dinner, staged by Central officials, the lines' Toledo Division head man, Bert Strohl, said that many of the NYC's off-main-line depots were erected in the Civil War era.

Mr. Strohl was being kind to Tecumseh. Actually, he'd probably be nearer to the truth if he said ours went up about the time of Chief Tecumseh.

To you loyal subscribers who check in with the Long & Short each week, I'd like to wish a particularly Merry Christmas. You're a grand group.

Our second Linotype just about paid for itself with last week's 18-page edition.

It wasn't until Tuesday afternoon that we discovered we'd have to run 18 instead of the planned 16 pages.

The work was flying from that point.

The Herald still has only one full-time Lino operator, but we're indeed lucky to have a good friend Don Blesing living just three block from the plant.

Don retired as our Linotypist two years ago, but never says no when trouble brews. I guess he's just too much Herald—well, after all, he served the paper for nearly 40 years.

Wednesday morning we phoned Don. Sure, he'd be glad to come down.

So, as Leota Smith, our regular, pounded away at one machine Don took over the other.

Between the pair—both crackerjacks—we were able to get up the necessary ad and news copy by late afternoon, something that would have been impossible under the old, one-machine setup.

So this week we salute Leota and Don for jobs well done—and The Toledo Blade for giving us the opportunity to get a second machine at a mighty reasonable price.

There are some fine new holiday songs—which I enjoy—but Bing doing White Christmas still tops them all.

In addition, the young folks donated several cartons of used toys.

Railroad Proposes New Freight Service for Tecumseh Line

A new method of rail freight service in this area, designed to give shippers and receivers faster, more efficient and more economical service is planned by New York Central.

Termed the centralized agency system, this new method of freight service presents a revolutionary departure from the "old-fashioned, horse-and-buggy method of railroad freight service.

Central officials have petitioned the Michigan Public Service Commission for permission to put the new system into operation on the Adrian segment.

Cities and communities served on are Manchester, Clinton, Tecumseh, Blissfield, Morenci, Jasper, Ida, Deerfield, Riga, Ogden, Weston, Petersburg and Napoleon.

BERT STROHL, superintendent of the Central's Toledo division, explained at a dinner for railroad patrons and civic leaders of Tecumseh last week that the railroad plans to employ Michigan's network of excellent highways, its good telephone service and the latest business methods and machines to modernize its freight service.

Among the features of the centralized system:

1. Traveling railroad representatives will operate out of headquarters at Adrian. By using automobiles, these representatives will be able to cover their territories rapidly and frequently in giving personal service to railroad customers.

2. An Enterprise telephone system which will permit shippers and receivers to contact representatives as frequently as they wish without cost or delay.

3. A truck pick-up and delivery service directly at plant locations for less than carload shipments. This truck service will end repeated trips to freight houses by customers to either pick up or deliver shipments.

SHIPPERS AND receivers who deal in carload lots will find the new service much more efficient.

By being free to move about, the railroad representatives will be able to perform necessary paper work directly at the plant sites, saving both loading and unloading time.

Past experience has shown that this more modern system of freight service permits the traveling representatives to maintain much better control over car supply. This is particularly advantageous to coustomers at peak shipping periods.

The centralized agency system already has proved highly successful in Northern Michigan, Northern Ohio and in New York State, Mr. Strohl said.

The New York Public Service Commission recently conducted a survey on the Central's Wallkill Valley Branch in New York to determine how the new service compared to the old-fashioned method it replaced.

Communities affected by the proposed change, besides Tecumseh, would be Manchester, Clinton, Blissfield, Morenci, Jasper, Ida, Deerfield, Petersburg, Ogden, Weston and Riga.

$135 Prize

It's going to be awarded Wednesday evening, Dec. 23 at 7:30 o'clock.

Besides the big award, there'll be others of $25, $15, $10.

Since this is the finale of the four-week promotion, all the money will be given—names drawn until it is all claimed.

To win, folks must be in any one of the 31 Christmas Bonus business places.

+ Methodists To Receive Communion

The Methodist Church will be the scene of a Christmas Eve Service of Holy Communion on Thursday at 11:15 p.m.

"The service will last one hour and we want to be worshipping when Christmas day arrives, hence the 11:15 time of worship," said the Rev. James D. Nixon.

The Asbury Choir will sing an anthem, "God Be in My Head". The sermon theme will be "In the Highest, AND On Earth!"

Worshippers will receive Holy Communion by candlelight. "We hope this will help people to forget everyone else present as they make their communion with God," said Mr. Nixon.

+ Candlelight Communion

Annual Christmas eve service at the First Baptist Church will be held from 11 to 12 p.m. with the senior choir presenting a cantata entitled, "The Herald Angels Sing" followed by Communion in candlelight.

The choir held a Christmas party following rehearsal Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kotts in River Acres.

Refreshments of Christmas goodies and coffee were served featuring a decorated birthday cake honoring the birthday of Mrs. Orville Bishop.

The cake was made by Mrs. Eddie Kirkland.

Members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship with their advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Buehrer, went to Maple Lane Manor Sunday evening to sing carols.

+ Manger Service Thursday Night

The children's manger service at 4 p.m. Christmas Eve opens the Christmas season at St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Members of the Church School and their parents will take part in the blessing of the manger in the Church.

At the end of the service everyone will join the procession around the Church and will go into the Parish Hall to receive a piece of the Christ Child's "Birthday cake."

The Festival Celebration of the Holy Communion at midnight will be preceeded by a preparation service of carols and prayers at 11:30 p.m.

Cagers Face Adrian

"They look pretty tough", is the way coach Vic Lawson of Tecumseh describes this year's Adrian team.

When last Friday's game with Blissfield was postponed, the Indian mentor buzzed over to Adrian to watch the Maples slice up Sturgis, 68-51.

It was Adrian's second win in Twin Valley play against one loss—all its action to date.

The Maples play host to Tecumseh Tuesday, Dec. 29 on the Maples brand new court.

It's a sure bet the host club will be thinking back to a muddy November night when the Indian football team ground out a 6-0 win over Adrian.

Big man on the Maples hardwood squad is Ed Gallup, who played end in that gridiron defeat.

In basketball things are going better for Ed.

Gallup dunked 22 against Sturgis and was a giant on the boards. At 6-3, he'll have a three-inch advantage over Jim Poley, the Indian center and leading rebounder, who'll guard him.

NO DOUBT, Gallup, who is a senior, will be anxious to do all he can to square accounts with Tecumseh on the field of sport before he graduates.

He'll be getting plenty of help from such other Adrian stars as 6-4 John Johnson, another top rebound specialist. Johnson, who is playing his first year of varsity ball, managed 16 tallies against Sturgis.

Gary Phipps, who also had 16, and Mike Marshall are other Adrian standouts.

Coach Lawson hopes his quint will jell against Adrian.

The club has run in spurts. Against Flat Rock the Indians lost the ball 32 times on mistakes—nearly three times as many as on a "good" night.

The coach figures that each bobble costs a team one-third of a point, assuming the opposition is hitting on 33% of its shots and thus will convert on one of every third "gift" from its opponent.

POLEY'S WORK has been outstanding so far.

He'll open at the pivot spot with Jack Sisson and Tom Walter at forwards, Bob Dick and Jim Curth at the guards.

Following the Adrian tilt, there will be a layoff until Jan. 8, when Tecumseh entertains Milan in a Huron League game.

Cartoon Party Attracts 475

About 475 excited youngsters—pre-school age through the sixth grade—enjoyed Saturday afternoon's free movie party.

It was the annual children's party, provided for by the Community Fund Foundation and run through the Chamber of Commerce. The Rotary Club volunteered to handle this year's party.

Youngsters were admitted to the Strand Theatre at 1 p.m., each one receiving a box of popcorn upon entering.

SANTA WAS on stage to greet them. He instructed each one to look in the top of the popcorn boxes. Four would find slips that said, "Save, you are a lucky winner, Santa."

Sure enough, Ziggy Zorn, Bobby Laidlaw, Margie DeLisle and Lorna Hensen, reported they discovered the slips in their treats.

Santa invited them on stage and said he'd meet them after the show and they'd go shopping with him.

A prize fund of $100 had been allotted and each of the four winners was taken to local stores and allowed to show Santa what they'd like. Don Murphy, Chamber secretary went along, and gave the nod when $25 was reached by each youth.

On Christmas morning, Santa said, the kids would find the items they chose under their tree.

THE SHOW itself was perfect for kids. Manager Walt Nichols had arranged for a special hour and forty minutes, which included the Three Stooges, the Little Rascals, a dozen cartoons and other shorts.

As the little guests left, Santa gave each a box of candy. He was assisted in this chore by Rotary members, who passed along the goodies.

'Doll Parade' To Highlight Gathering

A "doll parade" will highlight the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Monday evening, Dec. 28, when members celebrate guest night.

Prizes will be awarded for the oldest doll brought by the members, the most unusual doll and the one with the most unusual history.

Myrna Tingley and Karen Lytle will have charge of the program.

Devotions will be led by Mrs. James Artman.

Co-hostesses are Geraldine French, Vera Zarnow, Mrs. Wilfred Waldron and Mrs. Jennie Heilman.

Youngsters Carol Sunday for Shut-ins

Merlyn Wagner will present the sermon Christmas Day at the Grace Lutheran Evangelical church during the 9:30 a.m. worship service.

The choir will sing a sequence of Christmas carols.

On New Year's eve, a Communion service will be held at 7:30 p.m.

Thirty-one choir members and their guests went caroling Sunday night in two hay wagons pulled by tractors driven by Clarence Wagner and Russell Mitzner.

They sang Christmas carols for those at the hospital, the Parrett Nursing home and several homes.

Forty Years of Service

Forty years of service.

That's what Irving Shaw has amassed so far with the local division of Quaker Oats Co.

Mr. Shaw will be among employees honored at the plant's informal Christmas party at noon Thursday.

He'll be getting a third diamond in his service ring.

Others being cited for 1959 service anniversaries:

Mrs. Adelia Packard, 30 years, a diamond added to her service pin.

Sherman Cole, 20-year pin.

Robert Hyde and Mrs. Clanche Jewell, 18-year pins.

A buffet at noon, followed by the presentations by manager Don Nixon, will conclude the work day.

Nursery Shool

Mrs. Leslie Bennett will operate a nursery school at the Bennett home, 1251 E. Monroe Rd., with classes beginning Jan. 5 from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each Tuesday and Thursday morning.

The phone number is 7052-R.

INFORMAL LUNCHEON

An informal luncheon, featuring turkey, was held for employees of the H. W. Tuttle & Co. Tuesday noon. A grab bag of gifts was enjoyed.

Councilmen Hold Brief Session

Perhaps in the spirit of Yuletide Monday night, Council held a brief meeting and not once mentioned the often discussed city dump.

The brief meeting consisted of approving one-third payment in the difference in cost of 6-inch and 8-inch water mains on Seminole St., and recommending that the Cemetery Board fix regular meeting dates.

Councilmen also discussed replacing the 1958 police car. It was decided to check the cost in putting the cruiser in shape before taking action.

Doll Dresses Are Displayed

A display of doll clothing, made by member of the Jaycee Auxiliary, was shown at Rushia's Apparel last week.

The clothing and dolls will be given with Christmas baskets to needy little girls through the Service Club members, assisted by Jaycees.

Youths Rescue Ginger

Four Tecumseh boys rescued a 2½-year-old German Shepherd from a possible watery grave at the "Pit" Monday.

The large dog, named Ginger and owned by Mr and Mrs. Herbert Beck, 320 Adrian St., had wandered onto thin ice when it collapsed as she was about 15 feet from shore.

Ginger couldn't get footing on the ice to pull herself out and was rapidly losing her strength trying.

At this point the youths happened by.

The four—Jerry Kapnick, Greg and Bruce King and Jerry Holdridge—were making their daily check to see if the ice was ready for skating.

At first, they thought what they saw was a muskrat, but then realized it was a dog.

INITIALLY the boys tried to make a human chain, a technique they had learned as Boy Scouts, but the ice wouldn't support them.

They ran to the Bob King home and got a clothesline, returned and fashioned a lasso, which Jerry Kapnick tossed over Ginger's neck.

Firmly, but gently, the boys eased the animal into shore.

Its ears were frozen and Ginger at first refused to move once on land, but the boys knew it must get circulation started and so coaxed her to trot along behind them.

In this manner, they got Ginger to the Beck home, which is about 200 yards from the water.

Mrs. Beck was thrilled that Ginger was alive. Tuesday morning she reported her pet seemed to have suffered no ill effects.

Policemen Take Traffic Law Course

Patrolman George Kempf has received a certificate from Michigan State University in recognition of participation in a traffic law enforcement course.

He attended classes from Dec. 14-18, at Kellogg Center, as part of the Education Program of the College of Business and Public Service.

Chief of police Frank Becker of Britton also participated and received a certificate.

Officers Kempf and Becker were the only policemen from Lenawee county attending.

Cars Collide

Cars driven by Alma Adrian of Clinton and Kim Dabe of 502 Stacy collided Saturday on Chicago Blvd. No charges were issued.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC—St. Elizabeth's 57-voice choir, under direction of Sister Anne Xavier, O.P. (at right) sang at the local Catholic school's annual Christmas party Tuesday evening before a packed house in the auditorium. A Christmas playlet was also presented.

Mrs. Nora Schultz was elected vice-president and Mrs. Burlin Brees was chosen secretary, treasurer and press correspondent.

The home was beautifully decorated in keeping with the holiday theme with chimes at the door.

Music was presented for the members by the hostess, Mrs. Henry Kempf, on the new electric organ she received from her husband.

During the business session the meeting date of the group was changed to the first Monday night of each month.

The Knights of Pythias invited the ladies to a family night supper to be held Jan. 9 at 6:30 p.m.

Secret pals were revealed and gifts exchanged. The next meeting will be held Jan. 4 at the Pythian Home.

Eleven Taylor grads read the Russ Smith translation of "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife."

Coffee and Christmas cakes were served.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

Signs of Christmas began to show at Tecumseh High School when a brightly decorated Christmas tree was put up in the cafeteria.

The Spanish Club began the festivities with a party during first hour Friday.

Each member answered roll call with a Christmas poem in Spanish. Then the club sang "Venid, Fieles Todos" ("Oh, Come All Ye Faithful") together.

A Christmas poem in Spanish was recited by several of the members in parts.

After this, the long awaited pinata was broken. Lots were drawn to determine who would have the first, second and third strikes at the gaily-decorated bird.

Once it was broken, there was a mad scramble for the tiny and amusing gifts placed inside it.

The hymn "Silent Night, Holy Night" was sung in Spanish by the club and the meeting was adjourned with everyone saying, "Felices Navidades and Feliz Ano Nuevo" to each other.

During fifth hour, the College Prep seniors, Mr. Hart and Mr. Pobuda talked with eight college freshmen who were home for the holidays.

The six who were there and are attending Michigan State are Dave Holden, Nan Walper, Sharon Burleson, Donna Roe and her roomate, and Donna Parrett.

Ron Johnson and Carolyn Denz of Eastern Michigan were the other two present.

They discussed their most valuable high school courses, the courses they are now taking in college, and some of the problems they have had.

Mr. Hart and Mr. Pobuda acted as moderators.

The Chorus and band presented a moving Christmas assembly during sixth hour on Friday.

The band played a series of variations on "Jingle Bells" and was followed by the madrigal group singing "Good King Wenceslas".

Members of the madrigal group are Carol Owens, Dennis Bryan, Ralph Helzerman, Dave Van Valkenburg, Mary Merritt, Brenda Hall, Jane Harsh and Mike Rohrer.

Louise Stutesman began the narration of the Christmas story from the Bible.

To follow the traditional story's idea, the Chorus sang "O Come All Ye Faithful", "Joy to the World", Hark the Herald Angels", and "Carol of the Drum".

The Band played "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee". Louise Stutesman continued the Bible narration.

"Angels We Have Heard on High" and "The Westminster Carol" were sung by the madrigal group.

The Chorus as a whole sung the "One Hundred and Fiftieth Psalm". The narration was continued.

Lana Bays, Bob Bonner and Dennis Bryan sung "O Holy Night" in parts with the whole Chorus singing the choruses.

After Louise continued the narration, the Band played "Fairest Lord Jesus". The Christmas story was finished. The Chorus sang "Caroling, Caroling", "Carol of the Bells", and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" to complete the program.

Since the basketball game was called off due to the death of the president of their school board, the Teen Club held a dance Friday evening.

By the looks of things at nine o'clock shortly after refreshments went on sale, the Junior High Christmas Dance Saturday night was a huge success. There seemed to be several hundred students milling around in the lower hall.

The gym was decorated in traditional red and green with Christmas scenes on the walls.

There was a game room supplied upstairs for those who did not want to dance.

The dance band led by Mr. Johnson of the high school faculty provided the music for the dance. A truly good time was had by all.

The Senior High Christmas Dance, sponsored by the Senior Class and called "Noel Moderne", was also well-attended.

The gym was beautifully decorated with original abstract designs. Silver hoops with glitter covered bells hanging from them seemed to float above the dance floor.

Two brightly lite Christmas trees were hung upside down at each end of the floor.

In the center, there was an abstract tree made of the previously mentioned bells strung over evergreen boughs and pink satin. A multi-colored spotlight whirled above it.

Tiny trees decorated with snow and tinsel separated the dance floor from the tables which were trimmed in white with pink crepe paper. Small centerpieces of the silver bells and evergreens were placed on the tabls.

Behind the bandstand was a sign proclaiming the theme of the dance decorated with pink crepe paper and hung with evergreens.

Two small pink trees topped with three dimensional glitter covered stars were placed at either end of the bandstand. Glitter sparkled over the entire dance floor.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served at eleven o'clock. Gift certificates and door prizes were given out at intervals during the evening. These were donated through the Community Party Fund.

Al Blazer's Band from Ann Arbor provided the music.

Don't forget the basketball game at Adrian Dec. 29. The varsity game begins at seven o'clock.

A sure cure for insomnia
You've heard the joke, "The best cure for insomnia is a good night's sleep." Not funny to someone suffering "white nights," but true, nonetheless. Too-frequent use of sleeping pills can be bad. Even if they do not cause true addiction they may have a strong psychological effect. Users sometimes come to depend on them. So sleeping pills—any kind—should be taken only when a physician prescribes, and only in the amount directed.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

We Thank Thee, O God, for the return of the wondrous spell of this Christmas season that brings its own sweet joy into our jaded and troubled hearts.

Forbid it, Lord, that we should celebrate without understanding what we celebrate, or, like our counterparts so long ago, fail to see the star or to hear the song of glorious promise.

May we not spend Christmas but keep it, that we may be kept in its hope, through Him who emptied Himself in coming to us that we might be filled with peace and joy in returning to God. Amen.

The above Christmas prayer was given by the late Dr. Peter Marshall, a chaplain of the US Senate, in 1947. Its simple eloquence echoes across the widening years with the beauty that can belong alone to everlasting truth.

Certainly its message can bring inspiration to Tecumseh residents during this glad Christmas season and throughout the coming year.

May It Grow and Prosper

Tecumseh's Chamber of Commerce, well into its second year of existance, held a general meeting last week. Object: bring members up to date on what has been done in past months, but more important begin plans for 1960.

As we mentioned in an editorial last week, the coming year is going to open a whole new era — what well could be the most dynamic decade in the Twentieth Century.

Tecumseh is indeed fortunate to have a functioning Chamber as we enter the Sixties. Other communities look upon our city's Chamber with just a little envy.

Oh, sure, we know our setup isn't perfect. In fact, members can easily point out faults here and there. But being so close, they don't often look at the over-all picture —the one seen by folks in other communities.

That shows that Tecumseh is moving forward with a purpose—to make our community bigger, better and more a focal point in this section of the state.

Here are two, ready examples of progress due to Chamber effort:

1. New downtown street lights. They've doubled the illumination along the two main blocks of our town and made driving and walking safer and easier.

Installing the lights was city business. A major reason this wasn't done earlier was the increased operating cost—about $1,200 a year. The Chamber arranged to pick up the tab for this difference the first year so that the lights could go in immediately.

2. Off-street parking is another example. An off-street parking committee had been working with the city planning commission before the Chamber was reorganized in Tecumseh two years ago, but the Chamber has since helped this work by arranging that on-street parking meter revenue would go into a special fund which would improve free off-street facilities.

By this financing arrangement, the 125-space lot behind the new Gambles and Woolworth's stores was hardtopped and lined last summer. Costing about $5,000, the sum was amassed in a year's time from the pennies and nickles slipped into city parking meters.

One of the most interesting items brought out of last week's gathering was that the Chamber now has seven industrial members and that a division for industry is being formed.

Much like the retail division, this group will operate with representatives of each plant, make suggestions to the general membership of what can be helpful to industries in town, work out items the committee feels are needed.

Often times Mr. Average Citizen will think that a Chamber of Commerce is just a group of merchants who stage sales and promotions. In reality, this is just one segment of a Chamber's job—there are lots of others, many of which we seldom hear about.

In its Chamber of Commerce, Tecumseh has a fine thing going for it. Let's hope it grows and prospers in future years.

It's Really Up to You

Do you want to be alive for Christmas? Do you want your friends and neighbors to enjoy the beauty and solemnity of this blessed holiday season?

Many persons alive today are not going to be alive for Christmas this year. One of those persons could be members of your family, a relative, a neighbor, a friend. It could be YOU! Pretty grim though, isn't it?

Recently, 15 state leaders, shocked by the forecast Michigan was threatened with reverting to an increasing trend in traffic accidents, met hurridly in Lansing to pre? vent, if possible, this grim eventuality.

They were shocked by public apathy over the vicious increase in traffic deaths and injuries this year in Michigan.

Here we were, facing the most deadly month on the traffic death calendar, with 51 more deaths for the first 11 months of 1959 than we had the same period in 1958.

TRAFFIC DEATHS HAVE TO BE 91 IN DECEMBER IF WE ARE TO END THE YEAR JUST EVEN WITH 1958. Last year there were 1,375 deaths in Michigan.

Could this be done? This is what the 15 broadcasters, publishers, editors and writers asked when they met in Lansing last week to try to find some way to shock the conscience of the State to greater driving safety — in effort, to save their own lives.

Law enforcement officals agreed to cooperate — to save people from themselves, their apathy and their selfishness — they agreed to try to increase contacts for moving volations by 50% during the next three weeks.

Editors and broadcasters agreed to a saturation educational campaign to apprise drivers of the dangers of December driving.

Everyone is working in concert to save lives — to keep us all alive for Christmas.

But—in the final analysis, there is only one person who can prevent accidents — you, the driver—everyone of you.

You who hold your hands on the wheel, hold the power in your hands to keep the red stain of blood off the highways and streets.

Won't you drive unselfishly this month to save a life—the life that might be yours?

Fortunately Only a Few

Every year Tecumseh merchants go out of their way to please shoppers during the Christmas season.

They load their counters and show windows with gift items, hoping to fulfill all the needs and requests of their customers.

However, some guests in local stores take advantage of the busy season, the congested stores and over-worked clerks by seeing how much that they can steal.

Several local merchants have reported thefts, one in particular reports a $300 item stolen from his store. It's doubtful that he will ever see the item again, nor will other merchants view their shoplifted merchandise.

Fortunately, only a few steal. We hope that someday they are caught in the act, punished and their names made known publicly.

We feel that the culprits' identities should not be kept from the public and the guilty protected—as they often are.

Shop lifting is a nemesis to retail stores, often incurring such losses that result in pronounced hardships on store owners. We urge honest shoppers to help merchants here in prevention of shoplifting by reporting such thefts to the stores and police.

Those who are guilty could free their conscience by returning stolen items to the merchants from whom they were taken.

JOY AT CHRISTMAS

Through the silence of a Holy Night, the shining wonder of Christmas dawns once more upon the world. In Christmas hymns and stories...in the sacred words of the Bible...the miracle of His birth lives again, as awesome, as exalting, as full of hope and promise as on that night when shepherds watched their flocks, and Wise Men followed a Star. Across the ages, His message of Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men comes to bring us joy. At this glorious season, we wish for you and your family a blessed Christmas, rich in spiritual rewards, in happiness and peace.

Farm Costs Will Be on Increase in '60

Farm production costs will continue moving up in 1960, but the increase will be less than it was from 1958 to 1959.

Suppliers of farm production items are aiming at holding the line on prices in 1960, according to a report made by farm economists at Michigan State University.

The economists summed up the outlook on a number of production items. Covered in the report were:

● FARM LABOR—wage rates will go up for farm hired labor, following the upward trend in industry wage rates.

● TRACTOR AND MACHINERY — prices won't be much higher than they were on 1959 models, unless steel prices go up.

● MOTOR SUPPLIES — gasoline and oil prices shouldn't change much from late 1959 levels. But the 1960 gasoline price will average about 1 cent higher because of the new Federal tax imposed in October, 1959. But farmers can get rebates on gas used in farm production.

● LIVESTOCK — Feeder cattle and feeder pig prices will average lower next year than this year. Milk cow prices will likely move down as slaughter cattle and calf prices go down. Baby chick prices may be up slightly in the first half of 1960 over first half of 1959.

● INTEREST RATES — Rates will continue high next year after the sharp rise in 1959. The "tight" money policy will continue in effect. Not only will interest rates be high, but lending policies will be firmer.

● TAXES — local property taxes will be up to 7 to 8% in many areas, many times to finance increased school costs. The business activities tax, affecting farmers who gross $20,000 or more, has higher rates but also an increased exemption.

● SEED — Alfalfa seed will cost about the same or slightly more than a year ago. Red clover will be about the same or slightly lower. Bromegrass will be considerably higher than last year while timothy, ryegrass and sundergrass will be about the same. Seed wheat will likely be a little lower. Seed corn, oats, and barley will be about the same.

● FERTILIZER—Mixed fertilizer prices are expected to hold about the same in the first half of 1960 as they were in 1959. But look for a little higher price tag on raw materials for direct application. No change is in sight for lime prices.

● BUILDING MATERIALS — Prices on dimension lumber and fir plywood may drop 2 to 3% as new housing eases off. Cement and concrete block prices will hold about the same. Polyothylane plastic for silage covers will be about the same.

Only slightly higher prices are in sight for wire fencing, galvanized sheets, balk tanks and other metal products. Aluminum will be about the same.

Snowflakes, Snowmen, Candles

Snow flakes, snowmen, candles, Christmas balls and evergreen made Tecumseh Country Club a lovely setting for the luncheon Wednesday when the ladies gathered for their annual Christmas party.

Huge, lighted candles flanked the fire place, tiny carolers were placed on the mantle and other winter scenes bordered with tinsel were hung about the rooms.

Preceding the luncheon, Mrs. Yale Kerby welcomed the guests and introduced the new president, Mrs. Harold Easton, and other officers for the coming year.

During the luncheon Mrs. Neville Hart presented Leslie Bennett and the High School Chorus.

The Christmas music sung by this group was inspiring and eagerly received.

FOLLOWING THEIR presentation members of the ladies organization voted to give a $10 gift to the Chorus to be used at the discretion of Mr. Bennett.

Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Allen Russell, Mrs. C. F. Sage, Mrs. Yale Kerby, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Heizerman, Mrs. J. F. Furry, Mrs. Charles Elliott, Mrs. M. W. Wilson, Mrs. Fred Dickinson, Mrs. Bess Livingston, Mrs. F. C. Hanna and Mrs. Floyd Carpenter.

Gifts for the patients in nursing homes were brought by those attending to be distributed before Christmas.

Mrs. Hart was assisted by a committee made up of Mrs. R. H. Moore, Mrs. C .O. Butler, Mrs. Clarence Champanois and Mrs. M. R. Blanden.

Eleven tables of cards were arranged following the program.

Table prizes were awarded to Mrs. Floyd Carpenter, Mrs. Charles Stevenson, Mrs. Wilbur Rumpf, Mrs. Herbert Newman, Mrs. Frank Purcell, Mrs. Hugh Andrews, Mrs. Richard Eggleston, Mrs. James Pratt, Mrs. Fred Hadley, Mrs. Yale Kerby, Sr. and Mrs. Fred Dickinson.

Santa Staying 'Til Wednesday

Santa is going to stay in Tecumseh, right until the last possible moment, before his annual trip from the North Pole Christmas eve.

He'll be downtown in his trailer from 2 until 9 p.m. Wednesday, then off for the far north to load up his sleigh.

Each child chatting with Santa will receive a box of candy.

Baptist Young People Hold 9-Part Program

"Children Tell of Christmas" was the theme of the Christmas program given by the primary children of the First Baptist Church School in the Youth House Sunday afternoon.

The program was cordinated by the superintendent, Mrs. Anna Grigg; the music directed by Mrs. Thomas Brooks with Mrs. Sevedus Maples, pianist.

Ushers were David Sebring, Dean Kirkland, Billy Bishop and Brian Packard.

As all present sang, "O Come All Ye Faithful," the children took their places on each side of the stage, facing the audience.

The pastor, the Rev. B. O. Bashore, gave a short talk, then the program opened with a prayer by all the children.

MRS. BASHORE, standing by the Christmas tree, was Narrator.

Taking individual speaking parts in the program were Anne Curran, Linda Lask, Frances Carpenter, Marsha Gray, Tracie Lynn Brooks, Patti Aebersold, Diana Dauber of Primary III.

Guy Manwaring of Primary I.

Kevin Kirkland, Laura Downard, Lynn Sebring and Michael Murphy of Kindergarten I.

Ronald Rutherford, Patricia Eyler, Sammy Whitney and Susan Prettyman of Kindergarten II.

THE PROGRAM was in nine parts:

Part 1—The Christmas Tree by Kindergarten I, Mrs. Glen Griewahn and Mrs. Bernard Fero, teachers. The children wore green capes and silver stars and formed a tree.

Part 2—Christmas Candles by Primary I, Phyllis Honeycutt, teacher.

Part 3—Christmas Carols by Primary II, Mrs. Harold Davidson, teacher.

Part 4—Christmas Angels by Nursery, Mrs. Calvin Rickard and Mrs. Vern Eyler, teachers. These children were little angels in their white costumes with tinsel trimmed wings and halos and were reason for a lot of flash camera activity.

Part 5—The Christmas Bells by Kindergarten II, Mrs. Claude Sebring, teacher.

Part 6—The Manger by Primary III, Mrs. Francis Packard and Barry Packard, teachers. Mary was portrayed by Deborah Lavender; Joseph, James Whitney; Kings, Steven Kring, Sammy Brooks, Jack Pence; Shepherds, Stephen Cook, Gary Radar, Mark Schroeder.

Part 7—Telling the Good News by Kindergarten II. In this part the class told who loved Jesus, then pointed at the audience and asked "Do YOU love Him?"

Part 8—Christmas Stars—Primary 1.

Part 9—Christmas Gifts—Primary III.

Finale—with all on stage singing "Two Little Eyes" and "Silent Night" followed by prayer of all children.

During the singing of "Joy to the World" the children returned to their rooms where each received a gift and treat from the Church School.

Treat To Get His Herald

The Herald office personnel received a boost in morale this week in the form of a Christmas greeting from Dave McCoy, a former Tecumeh resident who now lives in Baltimore, Md.

At the bottom of his greeting he added this message, "Miss you all and Tecumseh so much. Its a real 'treat to get my Herald every Saturday. Keep 'em coming."

Christmas, wonderful Christmas! We wish that it may bring to you and yours a bountiful blessing of enduring joy.

Christian Christmas Cards

Mrs. H. Lee Prettyman challenged ladies of the Women's Society of the First Baptist Church to choose Christian Christmas cards with themes of the Christ Child.

"Cards are truly a vital channel of evangelism," she said.

Mrs. Prettyman conducted devotions for the ladies meeting Monday evening and Mrs. Blair Bashore led in prayer.

Forty attended the meeting when a huge decorated tree added to the festive atmosphere of the gathering.

During the business session Mrs. Charles Beland reported on the many White Cross articles sent at home and abroad and of the needed clothing sent to Mather school.

MRS. E. H. McCONNELL read a thank you letter from an "adopted" Baptist missionary student and other thank you letters were read from Mrs. Marion Morse, Mrs. Ira Ashley and Jesse Arnold.

Mrs. Max Elliott, Christian family life chairman, spoke concerning sending boxes to each of the service men.

It was announced that Mrs. McConnell, Mrs. Floyd Bryan and Mrs. Floyd Barrett are in charge of the United Council Church Women's May Fellowship luncheon.

An invitation was read inviting the group to attend the showing of a full length movie of the life and many careers of Albert Schweitzer at the Methodist church January 13 at 7:30 p.m.

MRS. LILLIAN HOAGLAND reported on the association interpreters and speakers.

As the Love Gift was presented, Mrs. Ben Antrobus, president, gave each lady a miniature Christmas decoration with Christmas phrase to hang on a tiny green tree. Received and dedicated was $26.25.

Mrs. Eddie Kirkland skillfully conducted an auction of lovely gifts, baked goods and Christmas candies which netted $62 for Mather school.

Dainty refreshments were served from a lace covered table centered with an attractive tiered Christmas center piece flanked by crystal candelabra holding sage green candles provided by the chairman, Mrs. Charles Stevenson.

Mrs. Warren Puffer and Mrs. George Miller presided at the silver service. Those on the committee were Mrs. Lillian Owen, Mrs. C. O. Baily, Mrs. Duaine Murphy, Mary Snedecor and Mrs. J. D. Cook.

The January 11 meeting will include a presentation of the play, "Curtain Time" with Mrs. Vern Manwaring in charge and Mrs. John Surratt as hostess chairman. Mrs. Richard Coak will have devotions.

Through My Window

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Christmas time again—isn't it wonderful. All the fun, all the hustle and bustle, all the excitement. The oh-so-nice-to-receive Christmas cards are pouring in.

Mysterious whisperings are heard and strange boxes are appearing, only to be tucked quickly into closets and drawers.

Delightful, delicious, delectable baking smells are wafting from the kitchen.

And on the Christmas tree is placed a special star which, quietly dominating all the sparkle and glitter, reminds us of the true meaning of this blessed season.

Faith of course, is not something to be turned on and off according to the calendar, but once in awhile, it is good to pause a bit and take stock.

During this wonderous Christmas season it seems fitting that we all re-examine and reaffirm our beliefs. So, if I may be forgiven for getting personal, let us continue.

WHENEVER THERE are doubts, discouragements or the like, a look outside brings reassurance.

Just outside my window the world of Nature is continually testifying to the existence to an all powerful Father, a Supreme Being, God.

The beauty of a bird, the perfection of a single feather; the always fascinating parade of clouds across the sky; the miracle of growing things, trees, grass and flowers.

The fury of a strong wind; the flash and crash of a thunder storm, the soft quietness of a gentle snow fall. The bright warmth of sunshine, the muted stillness of a heavy fog.

The glory of a sunrise and the splendor of a sunset. These are a few of the things that make us believe.

MOST OF MY time is spent in bed—a hospital bed the head of which elevates so that some part of each day I can spend sitting up.

When in an upright position I look out through lovely big picture windows at well-landscaped yards, always busy bird feeders and a picturesque stretch of twisting and turning Evans Creek.

When laying flat and looking up, the world outside still attracts my attention. Birds, tree tops and the vast expanse of heaven, whether it be blue or gray is always inspiring.

Yes, no matter where we look there is a constant reminder of Tim, whose Son's birthday we are celebrating this week.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT phase of the Holidays is the sharpened appreciation of just how many blessings we truly have.

It seems unnecessary to make a personal list of "I-am-thankfulfores" and besides, such lists are apt to sound glib and Pollyannaish.

Howere, were I to make a list, it would be a long one and at the top would be family and friends.

My life is full and rich thanks to the most marvelous family a person could ever wish for and friends who are considerate, thoughtful and kind. I am most grateful that with the aid of full-length body braces I can sit comfortably in a wheelchair or the car.

But I wasn't going to make a list, was I?

AND NOW, just two more things before closing. First may I take a few lines to say thank you.

Thank you for all the nice letters, notes, telephone calls and words-of-mouth messages (often given to Mom at the Bank).

It is always exciting to hear about a new bird and, of course, the old favorites are continually coming up with something different and these are great fun, too.

Your thoughtfulness in sharing such experiences and the many kind words about this series are greatly appreciated.

It has not always been possible to acknowledge all your wonderful messages but here and now, to each and every one, a big, heartfelt, all encompassing THANK YOU!

Lastly, may I wish you all the Merriest of Christmases and Happiest of New Years. May you find lots of presents beneath your Christmas tree and a full measure of peace and joy in your heart.

Next Week
What Will The New Year Bring?

Ice Fishermen Should Always Be Cautious

Fishermen might do well to heed a few tips and warnings offered by the Conservation Department before making their outings on the ice this winter.

All shanties must be identified on the outside by the owner's name and adress. Letters must be of insoluble material and not less than two inches high.

Last winter's deep snow and freezing rains left many shanties firmly anchored in the ice.

To avoid the problem this year, it is suggested that fishermen elevate their shanties with blocks of some type. Items used to do this must also be removed when the season ends.

Persons driving their car on the ice are urged to use extreme caution since they may endanger other fishermen as well as themselves and their riders.

Ice should not be taken at "face value", especially when it is to be subjected to the load of an automobile.

Fishermen are advised to be wary of thin ice near shorelines. Discolored ice is one reliable sign of wear areas.

Tree branches or other suitable markers should be placed at large, freshly-frozen holes and other danger spots.

Fishermen are warned not to dump debris on the ice. Cans and broken glass left on the ice are washed upon shores during spring breakup, posing a hazard to bathers and causing unnecessary clean-up chores.

Persons caught dumping litter on lakes face a $100 fine and/or 90 days in jail.

As a reminder to avoid trespassing on private property, public fishing sites or other public access points should be used.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

"I just wanted to phone The Herald to say how much I enjoyed Marda Gene's column this week," said the voice on the phone the day before Christmas.

Calling was Mrs. Earl Scott, 419 W. Cummins St.

She referred to the Christmas contribution of our "Thru My Window" columnist, Marda Gene Duncan.

Naturally, it was a great pleasure to hear from Mrs. Scott about one of our writers.

I heartily agreed that Marda's work was beautifully done, far surpassing any of the Christmas columns I saw this year (my own included.)

To folks who joined us in the past few months, I'd like to tell you a bit about Miss Duncan.

She's a grand gal and always cheerful and full of the zest for living.

She started her "Thru My Window" series more than a year ago and it has been a popular part of every Herald since.

Marda Gene writes about the things she sees through the large picture window of her bedroom. She has become an expert on birds and squirrels — her most constant friends — who happily perform for her from dawn until dusk.

She has her color slide camera set and ready to go most of the time, capturing some really exciting pictures of animal life in her yard.

Marda had planned to become a physical education teacher, but an auto accident 10 years ago, while she was a college freshman, changed this.

The lower half of her body was paralyzed and she has been bedridden ever since.

But this setback scarcely phased the busy Miss Duncan, who has found a whole new world in nature study and newspapering.

Marine Pfc. Charles Spreeman, based at Camp Pendleton, Calif., wrote his folks in November that he could use $10 to buy some Christmas presents.

His entire paycheck had gone for clothing.

So his mother, Mrs. Elmer Spreeman of rural Tecumseh, sent along a $10 money order with a long letter and a newspaper clipping about a former friend in Deerfield who was getting married.

She mailed it Nov. 23.

Several weeks went by and the Spreemans got another note from Charles: "How about that money?"

While Mr. and Mrs. Spreeman wondered what had happened, they decided to wire him the $10.

Last week, they got the answer on the first letter.

It came in an official envelope from the Chicago post office.

Inside was the letter, charred about the edges, but still intact — with the money order and clipping included.

A covering slip read:

"Chicago post office. Enclosure recovered from plane wreck 11/24/59."

Harvey Wilson, owner of the local Plymouth-DeSoto agency, and his wife, were invited to a rather unique party by an Ohio friend.

"Be at the Toledo airport the day after Christmas," the Wilsons were told.

At Toledo they joined their host and hostess, flying from there to Las Vagas for a few tries at the gaming tables.

They're next due in Pasadena, Calif. for the Rose Bowl festivities and will be back home sometime after New Year's day.

Some party!

You can bet that this is one social engagement the Wilsons will never forget.

A chap named A. C. Gilbert built a dynasty with a toy he invented back in the Thirties.

He named it the Erector Set and there's probably not a kid from 7 to 70 in the U.S. who hasn't heard of it. Many of them have owned one.

Success of the Erector Set helped bring into being the Gilbert Halls of Science in New York, Chicago and Miami.

I write of the Erector because Santa brought my son one for Christmas.

He and I played with it much of Christmas day and he has been at it ever since. By far, it has been his most fascinating toy.

Mr. Gilbert conceived something so simple a first grader can build a variety of things — at the same time, a much older child can do the more complicated. (And this includes the dads.)

FIRST-SHIFT MEN PASS THROUGH TURKEY LINE.

3,250 Choose Turkey

It's 21st Annual Gift to TP Workers

For the 21st straight year, Tecumseh Products Co. gave every employee a turkey or ham the day before Christmas.

Employees had their choice and the birds were by far the most sought after.

Turkeys went to 3,250.

Hams were chosen by 185.

Giant Kroger vans pulled into the Products main yard next to gate one in mid-morning.

They were lined up so that first-shift workers, punching out four hours early at 11 a.m., could file past and receive their gifts.

Coordinated by personnel director Red Wilson, teams of Products men handed out the fare, which about 24 hours later would be key figure of the family meal.

Moving pictures of this annual Products activity were to be made for showing on the WTOL-TV newscast Christmas eve.

However, the murky weather cancelled a flight from Toledo of film technicians at the last moment and the plan had to be dropped.

Adrian Clobbers Indians

Mistakes coupled with inability to hit from the floor, including the layup variety, are responsible for Tecumseh's 60-35 trouncing from Adrian Tuesday night in the Maples new gymnasium.

Although the victors rang up a 25-point margin, neither team was impressive. Tecumseh's poor shooting, especially in the initial quarter, provided Adrian with a comfortable margin which widened rapidly in the final quarter.

Brightest spot for Tecumsehites was the winning Jayvee team which won handily, 37-27.

The Jayvees outscored their opponents in each quarter. John Britton paced Tecumseh scorers with 10 points. Tim Whitney and Brad McCombs each collected seven points.

In the varsity game, 6-4 center, John Johnson led the winners with 25 points. He was easily the outstanding player on the floor but had little competition, even from his teammates, in winning such an honor.

Adrian's top scorer, Ed Gallup, incurred three early fouls, picked up his fourth in the third period and tallied just three foul shots for the evening. His average per game was over 20.

Sparking the Indians attack was Bob French. Up from the Jayvees and getting his first real shot on the varsity, the little scrappy guard rebounded well with his taller opponents and gathered in nine points, second to center Jim Poley in the scoring column.

Poley netted eight points in the first half and then had to wait until late in the fourth quarter for his next and final two points.

Until the final period, Coach Vic Lawson's team was within striking distance of Adrian. Most of the game was played with the Maples boasting a 12 to 15-point lead.

The Indians failure to score on several opportunities prevented a tight game when the two clubs entered the final period.

Shortly after the start of the last stanza, Adrian conected on 11 straight points to win going away.

Both coaches cleared the bench in the final minutes, although Coach Lawson substituted frequently throughout the game in a futile attempt to floor a winning combination.

The Indians next game is at home on Jan. 8 against Milan.

Teacher Injured in Wreck

Janet Stark, librarian at Tecumseh High School, was injured in an automobile accident Dec. 21 near Hillsboro, O.

Her marriage to Charles Scheer, shop teacher and coach at Hudson High School, took place at the Southfield Presbyterian Church in Detroit on Dec. 19.

The couple were on their honeymoon going south when the accident occurred between Cincinnati and Columbus. Their car was almost completely demolished. Mr. Scheer was not hurt.

Mrs. Scheer is hospitalized with a fractured spine at the fifth vertabrae but physicians agree that her condition is good and prospects for her complete recovery is assured.

After her release from the Highland Community Hospital at Hillsboro the newly married couple will make their home at 301 N. Pearl St. here.

Members of the MEA honored the bride-elect with a wedding gift at a meeting preceding the school vacation and a shower for her was held by the women teachers at the High School the last day of school.

Herald Editors Speaking

An all-day Winter Workshop sponsored by the Wayne State University Press Club will be held on Friday, Jan. 8.

"Circulation and How to Build It," is the theme for the annual program to be held at McGregor Memorial Conference Cnter.

Tom Riordan and James Lincoln, co-publishers of The Tecumseh Herald will be featured in the morning session. They will tell how they built up the Herald's circulation in their first year of ownership.

James LeRoy, advertising manager of Kroger Company, will be luncheon speaker. His topic will be "What Kroger's Look for in Respect to Circulation When Choosing Media."

Speakers on the afternoon panel, starting at 2 p.m. will be Arthur Sansteadt, Highland Parker; Ed Rose, Herald Newspapers; William Averill, Birmingham Eccentric; Robert Smith, Dearborn Independent and Dearborn Press; and Ben Nathanson, East Side Newspapers.

The afternoon panel subject will be "How Can Weeklies Build Circulation?" Moderator of this panel will be John Prescott, business manager of the South Macomb News and Tri-City Progress. A question and answer period will follow.

WSU's Press Club, now in its second year, grew out of a series of annual newspaper workshops, beginning in 1951.

Newspaper men and women from the entire state of Michigan are invited to attend.

All Was Not Lost

All, however, was not lost at Adrian.

Tecumseh's junior varsity squad scored a resounding 37-27 win over the junior Maples.

The little Indians stepped right out, 10-7, at the first quarter and were ahead 22-18 by intermission.

The final period was the lower scoring quarter—four points—for coach Doug Murdock's crew. But the Adrian JVs could only garner three and never threatened.

John Britton paced individual scorers with 10 points.

Both Tim Whitney and Brad McCombs picked up seven and Tim Sisson netted six.

Others breaking into the tally column for Tecumseh were Bob Koffron, three; Jerry Breitenwisher, two and Wayne Davis, two.

G.I. Hurt Christmas in 'Show'

Christmas eve in Bad Kreuznach, Germany proved to be anything but pleasant for Pvt. Donald Partridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Partridge. His attempt to place a call home had been unsuccessful so he went to bed early.

During the night his room buddies came in, roused him, and the group put on their own talent show.

Don was performing his "Soupy Sales" act for the boys which includes the familiar clicking of heels. He slipped and fell striking his jaw on a foot locker.

Now Don is to spend the next six weeks in the hospital with a fractured jaw.

Certainly he would appreciate some cards from his friends. His address is:

Pvt. Don Partridge US 55660847
Admin. Co., Hq. Sec. 8th Inf. Div. (Dr)
A.P.O. 111 New York, New York

Roger Partridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Partridge, is stationed at Geising, Germany about 100 miles from Bad Kreuznach so it is hoped that he will be able to visit Don some time during the hospitalization.

Charles Bigelow returned home Christmas Eve from Ridgewood Hospital.

"Suppressed Desire" was the theme of a unique party for college students and some from high school held by Astride Roberts and Anne Preston at the Roberts home in River Acres Monday evening.

Beachcombers, hunters, bubble dancers, doctors, nurses, a termite exterminator and many other occupations were represented, when the group of 21 were all assembled.

Ribbons were awarded by the judges, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Preston, to those young men costumed as a Fuller Brush man, a Chinaman and Dracula.

Ribbons went to the girls who came as a skin diver, an old-fashioned bathing beauty and one young lady — who revealed that her suppressed desire was to become a mother.

Refreshments were served including a surprise birthday cake for Anne Preston whose birthday occurred on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Van Vleet and Mrs. Dale Tingley and son, Dale, spent Christmas and the weekend in Gaylord with Mrs. Tingley's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Baird.

+ Tipton Service Is Composed of Three Parts

Tipton Community Church held a candlelight-Communion service Dec. 24.

It consisted of three parts: first was a short, thought-packed play dealing with the Innkeeper, his wife, and a certain thief who had been sleeping in the stable until the crying of the Babe woke him and his life was changed by the encounter.

The second part was the Sacrament of the Holy Communion, when each person had a chance to rededicate himself to God.

The third portion was the candlelight service, which helped to impress on each one present the necessity of not hiding our lives under a bushel basket.

On Sunday, three college youth took part in the first of annual Student Recognition Sundays.

Jerry Munger of Michigan State University and Cathy Cornell of the University of Michigan, took charge of the service.

Leon Hunt gave a message on the life at a small college. Leon is currently at Adrian College.

The whole church, as well as many relatives, enjoyed this chance to hear and see its college students in action and to welcome them home for vacation.

+ 17 Students in Spotlight

Student Recognition Sunday was held last week at the Methodist Church.

Tuesday evening college students were entertained at the parsonage.

Following the supper, an hour was spent in sharing experiences, goals and impressions of the past year's studies.

+ Watch-Night Service Is New Year's Eve

New Year's Eve at 11:15 p.m. is the time Methodists in Tecumseh will gather for a special and historic service. They will follow a service written by Methodism's founder, John Wesley.

His "Covenant Service," used in Methodist Watch-Night Services the world over, was first written and used in England in 1755 by members of the Methodist Societies, who continued as members of the Church of England.

When members of these Societies came to the new world and moved with the frontier, they desired the sacraments from an ordained clergy.

It was in response to this need that the Christmas Conference was called in Baltimore in 1784, lasting from Dec. 26 through Jan. 2.

The Convenant Service was used in this conference, which elected bishops and founded The Methodist Church in the new world.

+ 175 Attend Communion

About 175 attended the candlelight service and Communion held Christmas eve at the First Baptist Church.

The choir, under the direction of Leslie Bennett, with Mrs. Veregene Smith at the organ, sang the cantata, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

Altar flowers were given by Mr. and Mrs. John Westgate in memory of Mrs. Westgate's mother, Mrs. Irene Perry.

As the old year fades into the past we hope the New Year will bring happiness and success to all our friends.

WHAT'S COOKING IN TECUMSEH

Red and Green Cookies

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Mrs. Wilbur Andrews, 141 W. Brown St., is our featured cook this week.

She is pictured with her nine-year-old son, Donnie, who seems to be enjoying mom's cookies.

They are a chewy type of cookie, which so many people like more than the regular cake type. Donnie is a fourth grade student at Patterson school.

Besides Donnie, the Andrews have another son, Jay, 17 years who leaves for the army on Jan. 3. He will be stationed at Fort Leonard Wood for a time.

Jay was among the top six in the group taking aptitude and physical tests just before Christmas.

Mrs. Andrews is a member of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, the Lyster League, Altar Society and the Little Garden Club.

Mr. Andrews is a process engineer at Ford's in Ypsilanti, where he has been employed for the past 10 years.

The Andrews family came to Manchester from Detroit in 1949 and upon visiting Tecumseh found the people here so friendly that they decided to move here.

Mrs. Andrews likes sewing both for herself and things to be used about the house. She also enjoyed making Christmas ornaments for the tree and centerpieces.

Donnie completed one semester of Spanish studying with Mrs. Leslie Calhoun last year and Mrs. Andrews completed one semester this year.

HERE IS the recipe for Red and Green cookies:

¾ cup oleo
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup flour
1 egg, separated
1/8 tsp. salt
1 3 oz. jar candied cherries, chopped
1 green and 1 red candied pineapple ring, diced
1 cup walnuts, chopped

Cream oleo and sugar and add egg yolk, mix thoroughly, blend in chopped fruit and nuts, add flour and salt gradually. Work in well.

Add beaten egg white and fold into mixture. Drop from teaspoon 2 inches apart on aluminum foil lined cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Leave on sheet until cool when they will peel off easily.

Camp Sequoia Is Now Trying Winter Sessions

A heavy snow and freezing temperatures would delight Mr. and Mrs. Bob Welke of Adrian.

Bob and Judy operate Camp Sequoia, which is on a lake just three miles south and west of Tecumseh.

About 30 community youngsters enjoyed day sessions at Sequoia last summer.

Now the Welkes are trying something new — Saturdays of fun at winter sports.

What they want most right now is some real January weather.

The Welkes are currently bussing about 45 young people from Southgate, which is a new city by Trenton and where Mr. Welke teaches the seventh grade, the first and third Saturdays of each month until March.

Tax Guide Can Help Farmers

Farmers, another year has passed and it is just about income tax filing time again.

To find out when your income tax return is due, answer the following two questions:

1—Is at least two-thirds of your gross income from farming?

2—Does your taxable year begin on Jan. 1?

If the answer to both these questions is YES, you have two choices:

1—File your return and pay the tax by February 15th, or

2—File an estimate of the tax due and pay it by Jan. 15, then wait until April 15, to file the tax return itself.

So, if you file the estimate and pay the tax by Jan. 15, you have an additional three months to file your income tax return. If not, both the tax return and tax are due Feb. 15.

Read about special filing dates in the "Farmers Tax Guide" which can be obtained from your county agricultural agent or the local Internal Revenue service office.

Church News

+ 175th Anniversary Service

"John Wesley's Covenant Service" will be the order followed when Methodists gather for worship at 11:15 p.m. on New Year's Eve," reports the Rev. James D. Nixon, pastor in Tecumseh.

"This order will be used in many such services this year as it has been used in years past," he said.

Mr. Nixon's brief sermon will be on the question, "What Will Our Prayer Be?"

In announcing this service Mr. Nixon pointed out its appropriateness. The Christmas Conference of 1784 which established the Methodist Church as a denomination in America lasted from Christmas Eve until January 2nd.

Marking the 175th anniversary of Methodism a conference of young Methodist ministers will again meet in Baltimore and will be using this same order, as used in the 1784 Christmas Conference, while we observe it in Tecumseh."

On Jan. 3 Methodists will have a special 175th Anniversary Service. They will also mark the beginning of their 133rd year in Tecumseh, since the founding of their church here in January of 1828.

+ Holding Service New Year's Eve

New Year's Eve services at the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church will be held at 7:30 p.m.

The choir will sing the anthem, "O That I Had a Thousand Tongues" by A. G. Walker.

Holy Communion will be celebrated.

There will be no service on New Year's Day.

+ One, Infinite

The thought that acknowledgement of one, infinite God, and obedience to His commands, is essential for the spiritualization and salvation of mankind, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday .

Headline Theme Chosen for 1960 Farmer's Week

"The Farmer's Contribution to America" is the headline theme for the 1960 Farmers' Week at Michigan State University, announces Byron Good, professor of animal husbandry and general chairman.

Dates for the event are Feb. 1-5 on the campus at East Lansing.

Departments in at least five colleges are preparing programs of interest to farmers and their wives as they visit Farmers' Week.

Special speakers will appear with members of the various departments on the campus.

Both talks and exhibits will center around the main theme, according to chairman Good.

Programs outlining the week's activities will soon be available from the College of Agriculture.

Good indicates that both rural and urban people will find several programs arranged for their benefit during the five-day event.

$750 on $73,554 Gross - If

Malcolm Mohr, secretary of the Lenawee County Fair, has reported that the Fair will show a profit of about $850 on a gross of $73,554 for last August's event.

However, this profit depends on state payment of $22,975 on premiums and race purses.

County Fair associations all over the state are left in the lurch as the state solves its financial problems.

The Fair board borrowed $18,300 to meet the race purses and premiums. Members hope to repay this when the state pays its share of the costs.

A new system of electing directors to the Fair board of directors was inaugurated this year.

Previously, the directors had been named all at once for the term of one year.

Now the group of the 36 directors is elected to staggered terms of one, two, and three years to assume more experienced members.

Seven new directors are on the board. Two are men from the Tecumseh area, Arthur Easton of Tecumseh Township and John Ziegler of Tecumseh.

Others are Clair Gillespie of Clinton Township, William Muckenstrum Jr. of Franklin Township, William Juckins of Ridgeway Township, Ellery Soncrant of Rollin Township and Donald Vogel of Adrian.

T. O. Brittain, Fair president, said that a nine man executive board will be named which will choose the other officers.

Beating Blissfield Holds Tie for First

Tecumseh Indians held on to a first-place tie in the Huron League with an easy 43 to 27 victory over Blissfield last week.

Coach Vic Lawson's five completely dominated the game, especially in the opening two quarters, when the local team spurted to a 25-10 halftime lead.

Bob Dick took over the game scoring honors with 14 points, mostly on fast breaks which the Indians relied on to outscored the host team.

Jim Poley, top Tecumseh scorer, flipped in eight points as did Jack Sisson and Tom Walters.

Tecumseh is tied for first place along with Airport and Milan.

The Indians have yet to face Milan, but turned back the Jets easily earlier this month.

Too Much Lime Creates Minor Element Problem

Although a high percentage of farm soils in Michigan still need lime, the time has come when many fields have had enough.

Putting lime on these fields is a waste of time and money says an extensosils specialist at Michigan State University.

In fact, too much lime can be harmful. Too much lime lowers the availability of phosphorus and may create minor element problems.

By sight or by guess is not the best way to decide whether fields need lime or not.

There are indicators of lime need, like heavy growth of sorrel and poor growth or failure of alfalfa, red clover or sweet clover seedings.

Even so, these indicators don't tell how much lime is needed. A soil test, correlated with soil texture and type, is the surest way. This gives information about whether lime is needed plus how much per acre should be applied.

Lime can be put on any time that spreading equipment can be operated on the fields, without damaging the soil or the growing crop. If the show cover is light and the ground is frozen, lime can be put on in the winter.

Boysville '5' Proves To Be Determined

Boysville's Flighting Knights proved themselves a determined band of basketball players last Friday.

Down by 16 points, Boysville fought back to dump Whiteford, 59-55.

A full-court press by Whiteford jittered the Knights much of the first half, but they kept plugging away and won.

John McGeshick clicked for 15 points to top the inners. Jim Stewart's 19 tallies paced Whiteford.

The Knights were slated to meet Ypsilanti St. John's Tuesday before recessing for the holidays.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Royal Neighbors and the Past Oracle Club will enjoy a joint potluck dinner at 6 p.m. Monday, Dec. 28. Election of officers will be held and 50c gifts exchanged.

An Interesting Decade

Much has been predicted about 1960. From all indications, so far, it should be a good year, opening on interesting decade.

Here are some facts, helping us to base our optimistic approach to 1960.

1. Business, in general, is good. With a settlement of the steel strike, it could shift into a higher gear and the general economy bound forward.

2. Employment in our immediate area is in much better shape than last year at this time.

3. The St. Lawrence Seaway will begin its first full year this spring, after several months of "shake-down" operations in 1959.

We'd like to expand on this last point a bit.

A lot of wonderful things have been predicted in recent years about effects the Seaway will bring to all areas adjoining it. Probably, most will come true.

But, we'll hasten to recall what the Toledo port director said while visiting Tecumseh last winter to be guest speaker at a Jaycee meeting.

"These things aren't going to happen overnight. They'll take time," he told the audience.

One of his predictions was that an area 200 miles from the ports of Toledo, Monroe and Detroit would be immediately affected during the Sixties by the Seaway. You can see where Tecumseh lies in this pattern.

He said strip cities will gradually be built out from these centers in the next few years.

Thus we must figure in the Seaway when we talk about the future of our community.

Community 'Burial Grounds'

In writing his story of last week's city council meeting, Jim Lincoln noted, "... and not once (had council) mentioned the often discussed city dump."

This, in itself, was news.

The poor old dump has been a hefty woe to city officials for several months now. Its operation occupied considerable time at every meeting since summer.

How do other cities, the size of Tecumseh, resolve this problem of a community burial ground for tin cans, old papers and cardboard cartoons?

The Herald is conducting a little survey to find out. A short questionnaire has been dispatched to mayors of 10 Michigan cities, all with between 5,000 and 10,000 population.

Among them are Alma, Grand Haven, Big Rapids, Center Line, Dowagiac, Charlotte, East Grand Rapids, Harper Woods, Hastings and Ionia.

Here's what we asked:

1. Does your city have a dump? If so, how big?
2. Who can use it?
3. How many hours per week is it open?
4. Is there any charge to enter the dump? If so, how much?
5. How much does the city pay to maintain the dump?

There is also a space for general comments.

Is should be interesting to see what other municipal governments do to keep everybody happy about the operation of their dumps.

Late — or Are We Early?

Sometimes ideas will filter through a little late. None the less, they often still have value.

It's past due to suggest a contest for the most outstandingly decorated home in Tecumseh for Christmas, but maybe we should begin thinking of next year.

One of our friends bemoaned the fact that there were so few homes really spiffed up in honor of the holiday season, as compared with other cities. And we're forced to agree.

A lot of citizens here do go to considerable trouble to fix their places and they look beautiful—but they're too few and far between.

Wouldn't it look grand if house after house were ablaze with Christmas lights and festive decorations?

So, we'll get this idea off the ground right now—let's have a community contest Christmas, 1960.

All organizations who would like to take over its promotion and judging, please step forward.

Starting 133rd Year

Jan. 3 will mark a special day for Methodists of Tecumseh. That's the date the local congregation celebrates the start of its 133rd year here.

Their church was formed in Tecumseh in 1828, making it one of our community's oldest.

Tecumseh can look with a great deal of pride upon its Methodist congregation and we're pleased to wish it a happy anniversary.

TEENS

By MARY SEAGER

In this time of the New Year, which will introduce a new decade to the world, the prevalent feeling is one of hope.

This week and the past one have been filled with celebrations; Christmas and New Year's for the Christians and for the last time in this century, Hanukkah, the Jewish New Year fell on Christmas.

Perhaps it is significant that this week in Tecumseh at the Strand Theatre, one of the most hopeful pictures produced, was shown.

It is the story of a young girl who maintains her faith in the basic goodness of Man, even during the persecution of her people by the Germans.

This girl was Anne Frank, who through her moving diary, presented to the world one of the greatest expressions of hope for the future of humankind.

While the storyy itself is infinitely sad, the audience surely must leave the theatre feeling that there is some chance after all for goodness to conquer.

The 20th Century Fox production follows Anne's diary quite closely in chronicling the events in the secret annex from the time the Frank family went into hiding, until the time that the German police came for them.

It tells the story of a young girl growing up amid prejudice and strained conditions and yet remaining unscathed in her philosophy of life.

Joseph Schildkraut as Otto Frank (the role he created on the Broadway stage) added the touch of religious conviction and faith that was needed to hold the badly demoralized families in a semblance of calm daily life.

Many of the film's most moving scenes were centered around the sky-light of the loft. It was intended to symbolize the hope left to the hidden families as it opened on the outside world which they longed for.

One of the best sequences in the movie is the Hanukkah party, where Anne first shows her maturing attitudes.

The party is at its height after a joke played by Peter on Dussel when they hear a noise in the warehouse below. A burglar enters and begins to rob the safe, but Mouschi makes a noise and Peter stumbles against a pail, making a huge racket.

This scares the thug away and the open street door brings the night watchman and the German sentries. The whole building is carefully searched.

Mouschi again makes several noises, which convince the police that there is no one hiding in the building.

After this close call, the Van Daans panic, saying that the police have come for them. Mr. Frank tells Anne to sing the Hanukkah song and soon the whole group is lustily singing, their fears momentarily forgotten.

With good direction and acting and a moving message of hope, "The Diary of Anne Frank" is an excellent movie to begin the new year and the new decade with.

WHAT WILL THE NEW YEAR BRING

In many ways, I almost hate to see the old year end. Fifty-nine has been a good year — nothing tremendous, nothing earth-shattering, just good. In every respect — but here let us confine ourselves to birds and the like.

It has been a fine 12 months at the bird feeders and in the yard. All the old regulars have visited frequently, performed admirably well and free-loaded expertly.

The thrill of seeing something new happened often—the Evening Grosbecks (wonder if they will be back this year, our fingers are crossed for it), Indigo Buntings, Baltimore Orioles and to mention just one more, Cedar Waxwings.

Yes, our window pictures have been busy every day.

Although it is a bit sad to be saying goodbye to the old year who has done so well by us and who, even though it almost seems impossible to believe, really has been with us long enough to be worn out, there is very reason to believe that '60 will be as good, perhaps even better, than ever.

Again I am speaking bird-wise. As if knowing our reluctance to part with that which is tried and proven, Mother Nature has, for the past few weeks, been hinting and teasing.

OH, SHE HAS been subtle but with just two incidents, the excitement of "something new" has been built. If it isn't all bluff, the new year may bring the solution to a bird behavior mystery that has puzzled us for years.

It concerns the Brown Creeper. For years, each winter there have been Creepers in the back yard.

Supposedly the birds are in this area all year long but somehow, they visit us primarily during the cold winter months. There is an elm tree which grows by the back steps and the Brownies love to work up-and-down its trunk.

According to the books these birds only creep up a tree. Maybe ours can't read because although they never come down head first as the Nuthatches do, they creep down as well as up our elm.

The tree is in perfect view from the breakfast nook and many a lunch and late breakfast have been enlivened by the antics of these little birds.

THE CREEPERS, like Woodpeckers and Nuthatches, are insect eaters and are therefore attracted to suet. They make regular visits to the jar tops filled with melted suet which Dad fastens to the backyard elm.

We have an always available supply of suet on the feeders just outside my window but never have we noticed a Brown Creeper at either one. Why? Nuthatches come, Woodpeckers come, but no Creepers.

Until recently we have never even seen a Creeper from my west window. Note the word "until"—this is what we hope is a preview of things to come.

Twice now I have seen a tiny bird on the big elm in Marsh's yard. Although, for ordinary purposes, I never think of this tree as being far away, the distance becomes quite great when a little speck of a bird, whose all-over brownish color almost perfectly matches the surface upon which it is climbing, is involved.

I am sure however, that the little brown spot I saw moving on the trunk was a Brown Creeper. What else could it have been?

TWO GLIMPSE are not much, but it means a start has been made. A Brown Creeper has entered my window picture so is it not proper to hope that it may, one of these days, come closer?

After so many years of hearing about Creepers in the back yard, what a thrill it will be to see one again.

Of course, the complete mystery may not be solved — we probably won't know why they have waited so long but who is going to quibble. I just hope they come.

So it seems that maybe Brown Creepers are one of the things in store for us in 1960. I wonder what else Mother Nature will cook up—I will keep you posted.

Registration Time Boosts Naturalizations

The Immigration and Naturlization Service states that the annual alien address report program usually causes a sharp rise in the number of applications for naturalization.

The law requires all aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, to report their address each January.

Throughout the United States, almost 30% more applications for naturalization are received during the months of January, February and March than are received during other months.

Aliens not required to make this report are diplomats, those accredited to certain international organizations and those who have entered temporarily as agricultural laborers.

Forms for making the reports will be available to aliens at all post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January.

Tecumseh Will Be District Tourney Site

Tecumseh has again been chosen as a site for Michigan Class B and C district basketball tournament play.

Announcement was recently made by Chrales S. Forsythe, state director of athletics.

March 1 and 5 are district dates.

Regional games will be March 8 and 12 with the quarterfinals March 1 and the semi-finals and finals March 18 and 19.

Tecumseh had been the district site since the erection of the new gymnasium until last winter when Blissfield was picked for the tourney.

"IGNORANCE IS THE ROOT OF MISFORTUNE"

by Plato (427-347 B.C.)

Your body is a machine with complicated parts. A physician has to devote how to keep it functioning properly. It is important that medicines be safely potent. That is why pharmacists are now required to attend college of pharmacy for five years, before being licensed to practice pharmacy.

To obtain medicines from people ignorant of this necessary knowledge can lead to misfortune. You are safer when you consult a physician for guidance and secure all medicines and health-aids from a pharmacy.

Police Remind of Road Dangers New Year's Eve

State Police remind Michigan motorists and pedestrians that the approaching hazardous New Year's holiday calls for increased caution to escape the death column.

To help them get through the final weekend of the year safely, the officers will work 10-hour shifts from Thursday noon, Dec. 31 to midnight Sunday, Jan. 3.

Fifty National Guardsmen will assist as the second man in patrol cars to relieve additional troopers for more patrol coverage.

Detectives will work desk assignments to free uniformed officers for the same purpose.

Concentrated enforcement is scheduled for the heavier traffic periods from 3 p.m. Thursday until an hour after closing time of liquor establishments New Year's Eve.

Sheriffs will have 46 Guardsmen assisting them.

Last year the New Year's period claimed 15 lives in 12 fatal accidents, or one every seven hours as compared to the eight year average of one every five hours.

Veterans, Not VA Responsible at Premium Time

Veterans — not the Veterans Administration—are responsible for paying their insurance premiums on time, Lloyd H. Jameson, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Detroit, warned today.

However, Mr. Jameson explained that the VA does try to assist the policyholders paying monthly premiums by sending them a packet of 12 cards annually.

Veterans paying quarterly or semi-annually also receive notices which should be submitted with their payments.

Changes of address should be reported to the VA but even then, it is the veteran's responsibility to make any payment which is due, Mr. Jameson said.

Likewise, if the veteran fails to receive his premium notice, he should make any payment which is due, furnishing his name, address and policy number.

VA said that many veterans mark their calendars a year ahead to remind them to make payments on time.

Membership Of Legion Reaches 252

Don Woods, membership chairman of the Underwood-Orr post of the American Legion, reported Thursday evening at the regular meeting.

He said that the paid up membership is now 252.

It was also reported that there are 14 pints of blood in the post blood bank.

Any member wishing to donate blood is asked to contact Don Maves, chrman.

Plans for the New Year's eve party were discussed. Tickets are available from any member.

Donations were appropriated for the Veteran's Hospital in Ann Arbor, the American Legion Hospital, Battle Creek and the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

Norman Sisty was welcomed as a new member.

"Who takes all those pills?"

This is often the question when a customer sees the shelves in our pharmacy. Row on row on row of bottles, boxes, canisters, tubes, vials, jars . . . about 2,000 items in all. Good question. Who are they for? The answer, of course, is you. Say you go to a physician and he writes a prescription which you bring to us to be filled. We can't tell what the ailment will be—there are thousands, and we don't know what medication the doctor will prescribe. To provide prompt pharmaceutical service we have to be ready for just about anything. Which we are.
